1930 Board Holds Its First Meeting

Has Short Session Following Inaugural Exercises

Following the inaugural exercises at the High School auditorium the members of the Board of Aldermen met at City Hall to hold the first meeting of 1930. The resignation of Mayor Sinclair Weeks as Alderman-at-large from Ward 3 having been received, it was voted that the Board would elect his successor at the meeting on January 20. The name of William F. Chase of 34 Temple street, West Newton, is being mentioned for this office. Mr. Chase has been a life long resident of this city and is one of its most respected citizens. He is associated with R. L. Day & Company of Boston.

The standing committees of the Aldermen for 1930 appointed by President Collins are as follows:—Finance: Ball, chairman; Bowen, Gallagher, Gordon, Jamieson, Worth, President Collins. Public Works: Murray, chairman; Chandler, Floyd, Harte, Grebenstein, Powers, vacancy. Licenses: Hawkins, chairman; Holden, Mansfield, Prior, Smith, Temperley, Woodcock. Claims and Rules: Grebenstein, chairman; Chandler, Harte, Murray, Powers, Prior, Smith. Public Buildings: Gallagher, chairman; Bowen, Floyd, Hawkins, Holden, Temperley, Woodcock. Education: Floyd, chairman; Holden, Prior, Kendrick, Fend, Smith, chairman; Harte, vacancy. Legislation: Worth, chairman; Gordon, Grebenstein, Jamieson, Mansfield, Prior, Temperley.

The lists of the Select Committees will be printed in next week's GRAPHIC.

Francis Newhall was again unanimously elected by the Board as City Treasurer and Collector.

The Board voted to adopt the same rules as in force during 1929 and to refer to appropriate committees all unfinished business received from the 1929 Board.

Petitions received included the following: John McDonald, offer to purchase small strip of land near Cabot Park, adjoining East Side Parkway; E. H. Eggleston, laying out Holden road, Ward 3 under the Betterment Law. Common Victualer Licenses: Charles Mitchell, 2101 Commonwealth avenue; Ralph Morrison, 299 Water town street; Alice Ward, 30 Lincoln street; L. E. Huston, 5 car garage at 103 Court street; Reuben Kilgman, 19 car public garage and gasoline filling station at 456 Watertown street.

Kiwianians Honor Weeks At Banquet

Mayor Childs and Other Speakers Heard

About 125 members and guests of the Newton Kiwanis Club attended the complimentary luncheon tendered to Sinclair Weeks Mayor Elect of Newton by the Club at the Newton Centre Women's Clubhouse on Tuesday, December 31st. The meeting was called to order by President Walter A. Whalin at 12:15 and following the luncheon James P. Gallagher was presented as Toastmaster.

Speaker Leverett Saltonstall of the Massachusetts House of Representatives was the first speaker and dwelt on his experiences as a member of Newton's City Government and his association with Mayor Childs and Mayor Elect Weeks. He complimented the former on his fine service as Mayor and extended to Mr. Weeks his best wishes for a successful administration.

Honorable Arthur W. Hollis, member of the clerk contain many tributes to individual workers and many expressions of gratitude for special gifts. In mentioning a list of these at one of the annual meetings, a member included in his motion these words, "All others who in any way have shown their love for the House of the Lord whether it be in its inward or outward adornings."

Another lesson drawn from the life of the church was that of individual growth in church work. Names at first mentioned merely in connection with some small committee gradually become the center of large and responsible tasks in the work of the organization. Among some of the most prominent of the laymen now gone were D. C. Sanger, Mrs. Mary L. Bacon, Luther E. Leland, Samuel Putnam, Henry K. Burrison, and Alfred L. Barbour.

In concluding the morning sermon Mr. Franklin stated that the church has always suffered loss whenever pride or intolerance of opinion has come between folks instead of the cement of true Christian love. At the evening hour the pastor outlined a suggested program for the church during the coming years and emphasized the fact that the future holds for the church just what its members are willing to put into it.

At the close of the meeting Ex-Mayors Bothfield and Hatfield were photographed with Mayor Childs and Mayor Elect Weeks.

Among those present were Hon. Thomas W. White, Collector Internal Revenue, Judge Frederic A. Crafts of Weston, Max Hutchins, State Fire Warden, Representatives William B. Baker and Rupert C. Thompson and Aldermen Edward H. Powers, Charles B. Floyd, Henry W. Ball, Walter C. Murray, Sydney B. Holden, Joseph J. Murray, Building Commissioner Cecil C. Chadwick, Secretary of the School Committee George Kellar and James Dempsey.

At the meeting of the Club on January 7th, President Clem Hernandez and the new officers for 1930 will be installed.

RECENT ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. J. F. Bothfield of Harvard, Mass., has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Frances Ray Bothfield, to Gordon Clark King, formerly of Westfield, Mass. Miss Bothfield daughter of the late Dr. J. Francis Bothfield and granddaughter of the late Judge W. Smith of the New Hampshire Supreme Court, is a graduate of Smith College, Class of 1925. Mr. King is a graduate of Wesleyan University 1923, is a teaching Fellow at Harvard Medical School and a member of the faculty of the Sargent School in Cambridge.

MRS. J. W. WEEKS SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. Martha Sinclair Weeks, widow of John W. Weeks and mother of Mayor Sinclair Weeks is very ill at her home, 68 Beacon street, Boston. Mrs. Weeks was taken seriously ill the Sunday preceding Christmas.

76th Anniversary Of Church Is Celebrated

Lincoln Park Church Passes Another Milestone

Sunday, Dec. 29, 1929, the Lincoln Park Baptist Church of West Newton, celebrated the seventy-sixth anniversary of its organization. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. John Shade Franklin, spoke of the past and the lessons that it has given the people of the present-day church. Among these were the following:

Pastors should have a longer tenure of office. It was pointed out that the average length of the pastorates was just under four years and that seven years was spent "on supply," that is, with no settled pastor, during the total life of the church. Statistics and the testimony of the older members prove that the longest pastorate was also the most successful.

The thankful attitude of the church during all the years has given joy and zeal to many workers. The records of the clerk contain many tributes to individual workers and many expressions of gratitude for special gifts. In mentioning a list of these at one of the annual meetings, a member included in his motion these words, "All others who in any way have shown their love for the House of the Lord whether it be in its inward or outward adornings."

Another lesson drawn from the life of the church was that of individual growth in church work. Names at first mentioned merely in connection with some small committee gradually become the center of large and responsible tasks in the work of the organization. Among some of the most prominent of the laymen now gone were D. C. Sanger, Mrs. Mary L. Bacon, Luther E. Leland, Samuel Putnam, Henry K. Burrison, and Alfred L. Barbour.

In concluding the morning sermon Mr. Franklin stated that the church has always suffered loss whenever pride or intolerance of opinion has come between folks instead of the cement of true Christian love. At the evening hour the pastor outlined a suggested program for the church during the coming years and emphasized the fact that the future holds for the church just what its members are willing to put into it.

ANOTHER TRAFFIC SIGNAL DESTROYED

Another street traffic signal was destroyed Monday afternoon when the beacon at the intersection of Washington and Grove streets at Newton Lower Falls was hit by a large power shovel owned by the Watertown Excavating Company which was being moved from Grove street to Washington street. A number of traffic signals have been destroyed in this city during the past several months and have not been replaced at dangerous intersections. One of these was at Oak and Needham streets, Newton Upper Falls; another was at Lowell and Highland avenues, Newtonville. At the latter place an automobile accident occurred several days ago. When it is known who was responsible for the destruction of the signals, measures should be taken without delay to compel payment for damages done and the signals should be replaced without allowing months to intervene.

The next regular meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be held next Monday evening, January 6, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Carl Enholm, 2054 Beacon street, Newton Lower Falls. Come and help us prepare for our anniversary.

Winners Announced In Lighting Contest

Many Homes Have Unusual Xmas Decorations

The winners in the Christmas decorative lighting contest conducted by the Boston Edison Company were announced this week. The aim of the judges was to select the display showing the most originality, best artistic effect and best expression of the Christmas spirit rather than the most lavish or fancy display. A first and second prize was awarded in each community with more than ten entrants with honorable mention to several others. These prizes were merchandise certificates for $30 and $10 which may be exchanged for or applied towards the purchase of any electrical appliance. Within a few days of the contest the grand prize will be made to the contestant having the best decorated home among all the first prize winners in the various cities and towns served by the Edison Company.

In Newton the prize winners were Mrs. Edward E. Dally of 577 Commonwealth avenue and Walter E. Bakes of 132 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville. Honorable mention was given to J. J. Donovan of Alban road, Waban, and William L. Jarvis of 633 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre. Among the other prominent displays in Newton that were entered in the contest were those of Richard Feakes and Francis X. Hess, of Park avenue, Newton; Mrs. Edward J. Murphy of Algonquin road, and Thomas F. Malone of College road, Chestnut Hill; Donald E. Walsh of Commonwealth Park, and Nettie A. Loud of 869 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre; Mrs. Geo. F. Duffy of 217 Mill street, and E. L. Munday of Bolton road, Newtonville; Palmer York of Otis street and A. M. Ellis of 86 Cherry street, West Newton; and George M. Watson of Upland road, Waban.

MAYOR CHILDS' FINAL COMMUNICATION

The final communication from Mayor Edwin O. Childs to the Board of Aldermen was read on Wednesday afternoon to the members of the 1929 Board who had assembled at City Hall at 2 p. m. to conduct routine business at a short session which was presided over by Vice President Ball. The communication was as follows:

"To the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton:
Gentlemen: "As the days of my administration draw to a close, I wish to thank each and every member of your Honorable Board for your co-operation in the conduct of our City Government. I wish for each of you a very Happy New Year."
"I hope that during the coming year street and drainage work will continue, that Laundry Brook at its easterly end will be covered, that our fire alarm system will be completed, that the sidewalk widening on Watertown street between Pearl and Cook streets will be finished, that additional land will be taken at the Emerson School and that the school program will be continued as planned."

Very truly yours,
EDWIN O. CHILDS.

New Rector Coming To Grace Church

Rev. R. G. Preston To Succeed Dr. MacLure

The Reverend Richard G. Preston has accepted a call to the rectorship of Grace Church, Newton, as successor to Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, who becomes Rector Emeritus after having served the parish for the past twenty-three years. Rev. Preston will be the third rector in the past fifty years, Dr. MacLure's predecessor having served twenty-seven years.

Mr. Preston was born in Arlington in 1895 and was graduated from Lexington high school in 1913 and Andover Academy in 1914. He entered Princeton University with the class of 1918. Shortly before America entered the World War he enrolled in the British Y. M. C. A. and sailed overseas in May of 1917. Later he was commissioned a First Lieutenant in the Sanitary Corps of the 11th Division and served in France for twenty-seven months. After the Armistice he studied at the Sorbonne for four months and returned to Princeton where he was given the degree of A.B. in February of 1920.

Mr. Preston took up the work of industrial management in a steel foundry near Philadelphia, working as a laborer in different departments, for over a year. He decided to enter the ministry in the Spring of 1921 and the following Summer motored to North Dakota to take charge of two missions. In the fall of 1921 he entered the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge and graduated in June of 1924. He became assistant minister at St. Stephen's Church of Lynn, remaining there until called to Christ Church in Needham, his present rectory. He married Miss Marjorie Brush of Brookline and they have two sons, Richard Greeley Preston, Jr., and Robert Elwyn Preston.

Mr. Preston will assume his duties at Grace Church on March first next.

CITY EMPLOYEES MEET NEW MAYOR

An informal reception was tendered to Mayor-Elect Weeks by Mayor Childs at City Hall on Tuesday afternoon. The affair was arranged by Mayor Childs to afford an opportunity to his successor to meet the employees at City Hall, members of the police and fire departments and other departments. It was held in the aldermanic chamber from which the chairs had been removed. The chamber was decorated with ferns and palms and an orchestra composed of Louis Hafermahl and the Misses Forte and Pucciarelli played. Young ladies from the offices at City Hall assisted in serving refreshments to the guests. Mayor Childs introduced the employees to his successor.

100 CITY LABORERS LAID OFF

Tuesday afternoon 100 employees in the Newton Street Department were notified that their services will not be required until further notice. Unless heavy snowfalls necessitate the employment of these men it is probable that the city will have no work for them during the remainder of the winter. A large percentage of those laid off were laborers hired during the past year. The many public improvements such as new streets and sewers caused many additional men to be hired during 1929 by the Street Department. In accordance with Civil Service rules seniority must be recognized when city employees are laid off so those made idle are men who have entered the employ of the city within the past few years.

Unless the City Government authorizes work on public projects and appropriates money therefore within the next months, the 100 laborers will continue idle unless they succeed in finding work elsewhere—and work is not plentiful at the present time. Building operations have taken a decided slump and thousands of men engaged in building trades are loafing.

Inaugural Of Mayor Weeks At High School Attended By Many Citizens

Aldermen Take Oath of Office And Elect Collins President, Gallagher Vice-President

The auditorium at Newton High School proved none too large for the number of people who gathered on Wednesday afternoon, January 1st, to witness the inauguration of Mayor Sinclair Weeks and the 1930 Board of Aldermen. Shortly after 3 o'clock the Board of Aldermen assembled on the stage of the auditorium, which had been attractively decorated with plants, and was called to order by City Clerk Frank M. Grant. Alderman Henry W. Ball of Ward 5 was chosen temporary presiding officer and the roll call of members and members-elect showed that all twenty-one aldermen were present. Members-elect of the School Committee present included Elliott B. Church, Ward 1; Walter R. Amesbury, Ward 4; F. Marsena Butts, Ward 7.

The presiding officer appointed Alderman Floyd to read the Preamble and a committee to inform Mayor Childs and Mayor-elect Weeks that the Board awaited their presence. This committee escorted onto the stage, Mayor Childs, Mayor-elect Weeks, Judge Elias Bishop, Rev. Paul S. Phalen and former Mayor Hon. Henry E. Bothfield, Judge Alton R. Weed and Hon. Charles E. Hatfield. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Phalen, following which the oath of office was administered to Mr. Weeks by Judge Bishop and by Mayor Weeks to the members-elect of the Aldermen and School Committee. Mayor Weeks then delivered his inaugural address which is printed in this issue of the GRAPHIC on page 6.

At the conclusion of the inaugural address, Alderman Ball placed in nomination the name of Alderman Roy V. Collins of Ward 2 for President of the Board. There being no other nominations, Mr. Collins was unanimously elected to the office. Alderman Murray then nominated Alderman Thomas M. Gallagher of Ward 1 for Vice President, and Mr. Gallagher was also unanimously elected. Mr. Collins made a brief address, saying: "I wish to thank the members of the Board for the honor which they have conferred upon me by electing me President of the Board of Aldermen for the year 1930. It is an honor which I deeply appreciate but I can only promise that I will serve you to the best of my ability."

"I want, at this time, to extend to the new members of the Board the right hand of fellowship and to welcome them to our midst. This is my ninth year upon the Board and in that time I have seen a large number of Aldermen come and go and, in practically every instance, it has been with real regret that we have seen the older members leave. We have been peculiarly fortunate, however, in the type of new men that have been coming into the Board, for the citizens of Newton have continued to send to us the type of men that we enjoy forming friendships with and that make our work a pleasure. From my observations, I am sure that the citizens of Newton have made no exception this year and so I welcome you and trust that you will find the work interesting and that you will enjoy your association with us as much as I am sure that we shall enjoy our association with you."

"I wish to say just one word in reply to what his Honor the Mayor said in his inaugural address and that is that we will be glad to confer with him upon the city's problems at any and all times that he desires to confer with us and I am sure that I am speaking for every member of the Board of Aldermen in saying to him that we will co-operate with him in every way and do every thing in our power to make his administration the success which the citizens of Newton look forward to so confidently."

At the conclusion of Mr. Collins' remarks the inaugural concluded. The exercises were followed by a reception in the gymnasium of the High School where Mayor Weeks and Aldermen Collins received the many hundreds who had witnessed the inauguration. In the receiving line also were Mrs. Roy Collins and Miss Frances Lee Weeks, the attractive thirteen year old daughter of the Mayor.

Mrs. Weeks was unable to stand in the receiving line because of an injured foot and little Miss Weeks, substituting for her mother, performed charmingly the duty thrust upon her.

Past commanders of Newton Post American Legion acted as ushers at the auditorium and a number of Mayor Weeks' former comrades of the 26th Division were present in uniform. Music was provided by members of the High School Orchestra.

WEEK OF PRAYER AT UPPER FALLS CHURCH

A week of prayer will be held at the First M. E. Church as per the following program beginning Tuesday, Jan. 7. Union Service leader of the evening the Rev. Arthur Wilde of the Baptist Church.

Wednesday, Jan. 8, Ladies' Night. Leader Rev. G. Vaughn Shedd.

Thursday night, Young People's night. Leader Rev. Guy H. Wayne of the Copley Methodist Church of Boston and secretary of the life work of the Epworth League Institute at Lasell.

Friday night Men's night. Mr. H. E. Locke, Instructor of the Wesley Bible class of the First M. E. Church will be the leader.

EX-MAYOR CHILDS GIVEN WATCH

Ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs was given a handsome gold watch and chain last evening at a complimentary dinner tendered him by the members and friends of the Nonantum Athletic Association. The gift was inscribed with the name of the organization in which Mr. Childs has long been an interested worker. The presentation was made by President Charles Chaisson. Mr. Joseph Lambert was the toastmaster. Mr. J. W. Murphy, chairman of the Board of Assessors was a speaker. Special singers on the program, all members of the association, were: Monica Howley, Bernard Lyman, Romeo Roy; Geo. Terrio, and John Lennon. The evening concluded with dancing.

WETHERBEE—EDMONDS

On Tuesday evening, December 31, at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tyler Wetherbee of 21 Orchard street, Newton, Miss Elizabeth Atkins Wetherbee was married to Mr. Frederic James Edmonds of West Newton and Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock by the Rev. Charles S. Otto. The bride wore a gown of white moire with tulle veil held by a spray of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride roses and mignonette. Mrs. Henry Vuilleumier of Cohasset, sister of the groom was matron of honor. She was crowned in peach taffeta and carried taidman roses. Wilfred A. Wetherbee, 2nd, brother of the bride was best man. A reception followed the ceremony and was attended by relatives only. Mr. and Mrs. Edmonds left for a wedding trip to Washington and the South and upon their return will make their home at Drexel Hill, Pennsylvania.

TRACY TO HEAD SCHOOL COMMITTEE

George H. Tracy of Lowell avenue, Newtonville, was chosen chairman of the School Committee by his fellow members on Wednesday. He appointed Joseph Lockett, Elliott Church and Mrs. Helen Hutchinson as members of the joint committee on school buildings.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

WINTER SPORT SEASON OPENS

With the turn of the New Year and the reopening of school following the Christmas vacation period the Newton high school winter sport schedules will open. The hockey team planned a practice game with the many alumni home from college on New Year's day but lack of ice prevented the contest. The alumni, with Harold Andres, Henry Johnson and Dick Fisher of Dartmouth, Frank Stubbs, Jr., and Guy Holbrook of Harvard; Stuart Stone, captain of Bowdoin, Hoyt, captain of Williams, and several others would have presented a formidable outfit for the schoolboys to combat. The league hockey schedule was to open yesterday at Bullough's Pond with a game between Newton and Belmont High but the continued mild weather prevented the opening and it is also doubtful whether it will be played today.

The indoor track team not confronted with the weather problem, will open its 1930 season tomorrow afternoon in the old gymnasium, against the Watertown high track team. While Coach Enoch lost many of the experienced performers of the 1929 team he is hopeful of the outcome. One of the largest squads in years has been practicing faithfully under his direction and a little competitive experience should bring out the best in the lads. In addition to Captain Charles Hall, the only letterman on the team this year, there are a few other experienced runners, including the Signore brothers in the 1000 yard run and Quinlan, a dash man.

The work of James Colligan will be watched with interest as he is the man who may give the orange and black team the necessary balance. He has been tossing the shot consistently well and is a fast man in the dash. He needs considerable practice at starting off with the rest of the team in order to place. The most pleasing thing about this year's squad is the fact that all but a very few will be eligible next year and although this year may be a "lean" one, the outlook for 1931 is of the best. The experience gained this year, even though it may be in defeat, will give the succeeding team a living start.

In basketball the season opens next Tuesday afternoon at Natick with Coach Green making no predictions as to the season's prospects. Two weeks ago a team of faculty members outscored the schoolboys and the Newton coach can only hope that the boys will find their eyes for the basket as the season progresses. As in hockey and track the basketball team has its captain as the only letter man on the squad and until the squad gains experience it is likely to be an unknown quantity.

K. OF C.

The mothers and daughters of members of Newton Council, K. of C., will be their guests Tuesday night at Elks' Hall, Centre street with an entertainment program arranged that will appeal to young daughters of eight to mothers of eighty. Mothers and Daughters' Night replaces the ordinary Ladies' Night on the Knights' program. The innovation was the thought of a nine year old daughter of a member who wondered why "Fathers and Sons' Night" with the Commandant of West Point as the guest and speaker should have any greater prominence than the mothers and daughters. "If you have Fathers and Sons' Night," she said, "why can't you have Mothers and Daughters' Night. I think you should have something for them." Then and there Grand Knight Charles E. Coyne and Lecturer Edward Heine went to work on the little daughter's idea.

Newton Knights are invited to bring their mothers, wives and daughters Tuesday night. The program will appeal to young and old, Eddie Welch's Ramblers six pieces, featuring the saxophone sextet who have just returned from a tour of the New England Public theatres will play for dancing together with a musical entertainment of their own. Eddie Welch's team is fast developing a reputation throughout New England.

Lucille Perry Hall Dancing School will feature a program for the youngsters in reading, pantomimes or dances. This feature of the program is being especially planned for the children ranging from 8 to 14. Military, Spanish, Acrobatic, Bunny, Chicken, Pony and Toe Dancers.

Scott and Douglas, New York society dancers, now being featured at the Club Rendezvous, will have a prominent place on the program. They have just returned from a nation-wide tour of night clubs and theatres. Their specialties will be interpretative dances in costume and ball room dancing in evening clothes.

The Belmont duo, in "harmony as you like it," are rated among New England's premier vocalists. An indication of their popularity is their booking for five different shows on New Year's eve in and about Boston.

Joseph Dwyer, Holy Cross tenor, member of Pastors' Council, Northbridge will be the soloist, in popular numbers.

Refreshments will be served during the evening.

XMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN LAGS

The Committee on the Sale of Xmas Seals wish to say that Newton is far behind last year's sale and much more money is needed to reach our quota. We wonder if many of the seals with accompanying appeal have not been hidden from view in your desk during this Christmas season. It is not too late to send your gift for this humanitarian cause to the treasurer Mr. Frank L. Richardson and mail to the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, 12 Austin street, Newtonville, Mass.

SPORT NOTES

Alumni Using Track

During the holiday vacation just ended several alumni of the Newton High School have been using the indoor track in their preparation for the 1930 track season at their respective colleges and prep schools. Among those practicing have been Harold Ham of the Harvard freshmen, Gilbert Adams of Huntington school, James McCruden of Northeastern University, Romaine Cole of Tufts, Wallace Fullerton of Penn State, Carl Pescosolido of Deerfield Academy and Donald MacIntyre of Tabor Academy.

Newton Claims Four Titles

In a recent list of 1929 state school, public, private, preparatory, city of Boston, and league sport titles printed in the Boston Transcript it is noted that four Newton teams are winners. Newton High school has three and the Country Day school one. Newton high won the Suburban league baseball title for the second successive year, annexed the public school tennis title and won the state relay track championship. Country Day won the Private Day School league title in football.

At Roxbury School

Joe Gilligan, younger of the three brothers of that name who have had a prominent part in Newton high school athletic history, is at Roxbury School in Cheshire, Conn. Gilligan is now playing hockey on the varsity team and hopes to have a good season as at football. He was one of the outstanding backfield players on the Connecticut team.

Newton Invited To Meet

As in the past the Newton high school track team has been invited to meet the University club players at a school track meet which comes this year on Saturday, Feb. 15th.

Joins High School Faculty

Andrew Steinhope, athletic coach at Bay Path Institute of Springfield, Mass., has joined the faculty of the Newton High School. He is to assume his duties as a teacher in the Commercial course at once, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Warren W. Oliver who has entered the banking business. Mr. Steinhope was not accepted by the Newton officials for his athletic training although in time may handle some of the junior varsity teams.

In Lake Placid Series

The Country Day School of Newton has been invited to compete in the annual Lake Placid round robin private school hockey series on Feb. 14 and 15. It is the third successive year the local school has been thus recognized.

Middlesex Bowl Tourney

The annual Middlesex Bowl championship squash racquets tourney has reached play in the quarter final round. Local survivors are William H. Rice, Jr., title defender and present holder of the Bowl, Ralph E. Stuart, Arthur Holt and A. O. Wellman, all of Newton Centre. Wellman has a third round match to be played.

Dartmouth Wins First

The Dartmouth varsity hockey team finally broke into the win column on New Year's night at New York by shutting out Princeton, 4 to 0. The Green had previously been beaten by Yale, University Club and Toronto. In the University Club game last week Friday night at Boston the graduates scored their first goal before Henry Johnson, Jr., of Waban found the cage with a line shot from a slight angle. After that the University club players pressed constantly and soon swept in to a 6 to 1 lead. For Dartmouth all four of the local youths, Andres, Johnson, Fisher and Wentworth, were in the game with the first two named in the starting line-up. Monday night the Dartmouth six tackled the strong Toronto Varsity team and were on the short end of an 11 to 3 count. None of the local youths scored but Andres figured in the scoring of two on passes to his teammates. In the Green victory over the Tiger it was Henry Johnson who was the outstanding player. He counted two of the four goals and Andres counted another. The other Dartmouth goal was by Guilfoyle who took Andres' rebound. Andres' goal began the scoring.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

The Norumbega Union officers regret to announce a change in the meeting place of its Annual Pastors' Night. This meeting will be held at the Beth Eden Baptist Church, Maple near Moody street, Waltham, on Tuesday January 14th. The young people look forward to this opportunity for fellowship with and help from the pastors.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Colby, officers of the Norumbega C. E. Union, led the meeting last Sunday at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton. Next Sunday's meeting will be the officers of the Norumbega C. E. Union. A Christmas social was held last Friday night at that church for the Endeavorers and their friends.

A most varied and interesting program has been planned by the members of the Newton North Congregational Church for the coming year. A series of meetings led by officers of the Norumbega C. E. Union. A Christmas social was held last Friday night at that church for the Endeavorers and their friends.

The first conference for Scout Junior Leaders, the boys themselves will be held on Saturday afternoon, Jan.

New Council Office

The Headquarters of Norumbega Council is now installed in a new office at 259 Walnut street, Newtonville. This office has been laid out and arranged by an office management expert, gratis, and will prove much more efficient and enable the organization to accomplish even more work than at present in giving service to the ever growing number of men and boys in the city active in the Boy Scout movement. The needed change was brought about by the great increase in Scouting—about 350% increase, or more, in the number of men in two and one-half years and about 175% increase in the number of boys—since the Council re-organized early in 1927.

For the office itself The Council is indebted to Horace W. Orr, for other service as follows—Mr. M. Frank Lucas for lumber for counter and shelves and finishing; for carpentry for ripping down old partitions to Thomas Goodwin, who has a boy in Troop 4B, Highlands; for painting and kalsomining to Mr. George Young, representative of the Newton Rotary Club on the Scout Executive Board and father of three Scouts in Troop 18, Center; and for floral decorations to Mr. Matthew Ruane. All these men are members of the Newton Rotary Club and it is through that organization that they made these substantial gifts of material, money and labor.

Jamboree Long House In Use In England

Scout William Dillaway, of Troop 4A, Highlands, who is Patrol Leader of the Flying Eagle Patrol of the Newton Jamboree Troop, recently communicated with Mr. Donald K. Weston, Scoutmaster of the Birkenhead, England, Scout Troop to whom the Newton Troop gave the Long House at the close of the Jamboree. Mr. Weston replied that the Long House had been taken down in sections and transported to the Birkenhead Boy Scout Association's campground and that it is being used at the present time by the Troop.

On Monday afternoon, December 30th, the Jamboree Troop went to the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children and gave their Indian story with the dances and ceremonies. The children there, about thirty or forty in number, were very much thrilled with the war-painted Indians and watched their dances enthralled. After the dances the Indians mingled with the children all over the Home and answered questions, let the youngsters finger the jenkins and head-dresses and play with the war-clubs.

Scout Traffic Police

The Newton Boy Scout Traffic Police have had their good name and work noised afar. Recently an efficiency magazine of the Middle West wrote to the Newton Police Department, asking for an article on the Boy Scout traffic police of this city. The editor saving little heard that far west of the fine job the Scouts were doing on traffic duty in Newton, Massachusetts.

Robert Lavery, of Troop 11, Newton, Chief of the Squad, has written the article and it will be published at an early date.

Very soon after the opening of the New Year, the Scout Traffic Squad will appear in new white cross belts, which Chief Burke of the Police Department has ordered for them and with badges signifying various ranks in the Squad.

Boy Scout Calendars Ready

Through the courtesy of the Newton Trust Company, Norumbega Council each year is enabled to give each Scoutmaster a copy of the calendar of the National Council's approved Boy Scout calendars. This year the calendar depicts Commander Byrd accepting Eagle Scout and Seascout Paul Siple of Pennsylvania as a member of his Antarctic crew and the background shows the nature of the area about the South Pole. Council Headquarters, 259 Walnut street, Newtonville, has some larger size calendars for general distribution and first comers are welcome to them as long as they last.

Troop Activities

Troop 11, Newton, recently had an outdoor meeting with camp-fire and stories and "eats," in Cabot Woods, instead of its usual indoor meeting. Dr. L. O. Cummings was an active co-operator with Scoutmaster Earl Stevenson in planning the meeting and Patrol Leader Lawrence Jump was Master of Ceremonies.

Troops 4A, Highlands and 10, Waban, just before Christmas co-operated with the Newton Welfare Bureau in their work for this happy season of the year. On Monday, December 30, Troop 4B, Highlands, instead of its usual indoor meeting, had a "Pioneers' Game" during the morning. One side was under Patrol Leader John Nichols and the other under Patrol Leader Philip Trowbridge. The former, with yellow arm bands had to reach an objective, the Newton Centre Play-ground house, starting at the far bounds of Highlands and the latter with red arm bands and three times as numerous, had to prevent them from getting there. But two of "Napoleon Nichols" group got through safely, so they lost. But all were happy for Scoutmaster Dana Sylvester turned the meeting to Brigham's and all readers of this know what followed.

Y. M. C. A.

The winter bowling tournament at The Newton Y. M. C. A. starts Monday, January 6th with fourteen teams enrolled.

The Board of Directors of The Newton Y. M. C. A. will hold their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, January 7th at eight o'clock.

The Camp Frank A. Day Reunion dinner held last Friday evening, brought out 150 boys, their parents, and many of the leaders who were home from college on vacation.

Mr. C. D. Kepner, Chairman of the Camp Committee, was toastmaster. There were some very fine singing by the boys, led by Mr. Hess with Mr. Boormeester of Dartmouth at the piano.

Mr. Kepner called upon Mr. Hess to outline the program for the 1930 season at Camp and then called upon Mr. Smith of Auburndale, President of the newly organized Dads' Club to tell what the Dads' proposed to do this year to help out the camp. They are planning for Dads' Week to be held during the camping season when the Dads and their boys can work together for the good of the camp.

Holly Vernon read the log which was an account of the circus held uary 4th at the Newton High School. The program has been planned by the Eagle Circle of the Council, composed of Eagle Scouts, and will be carried out by them. Following papers on various subjects of interest and help to Junior Officers and discussion groups to confer on them, there will be a dinner served and following that will be Scout movies.

Leaders' Group Meetings

Mr. James R. Warren, Chairman of the Leadership and Training Committee of the Council, has held the first small group meeting of Scoutmasters to talk over Troop problems and the Patrol system. Present at his home was 100% representation of the Troops in Highlands, Upper Falls and Waban. Present were Messrs. Herbert Kestle of Troop 14 and Robert McLaughlin of Troop 16, Upper Falls; Frank E. Lichtenthaler of Troop 4B, Highlands; George Graham Ross of Troop 9 and Wilson P. Harris of Troop 10, Waban.

The next meeting is at the home of Assistant Deputy Commissioner Charles H. Center, of the Newton Center section, on Friday evening, January 10th.

A meeting of the Scoutmasters on the north side of the city will be arranged shortly.

at camp last season, and an entertainment was given by Mr. Madden which closed the evening with everybody happily entertained.

During vacation week the boys, under the direction of John Andrew, Jr., have had skating parties and trips to places of interest. Among the places visited were: The Watertown Arsenal, The Boston Airport, Ward's Baking Company, and The Charlestown Navy Yard.

Sport Notes
Newton Y. M. C. A. Junior and Senior basketball teams defeated Somerville "Y" at Newton Saturday evening, the Seniors winning 54 to 12, and the Junior team 43 to 16. Joe Purcell was high scorer for the Seniors with twenty points to his credit, with Don Marschner scoring fourteen and Art Kohler twelve. "Bussy" Earle, acting captain of the Juniors, dropped eight baskets from the floor and one from a foul scoring seventeen points, Joe Benson and Charley Gallagher followed with eight points apiece in the Junior game.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Wrestling team won one first place and four seconds at the open meet held last Saturday evening at the Brockton Y. M. C. A. In the 135 pound Novice Class, Wilbur Storer won first place. The second places were won by Sarkis Bazarian in 126 pound class, Leonard Morrison in the 160 pound novice class, Henry Vachon in the 147 pound class, and Murdock Weathers in the heavyweight class. Boston Y. M. C. U. was first in points with a total of twenty-one points, and Newton came second with seventeen. Following were: Boston Y. M. C. A., Providence Y. M. C. A., Attleboro Y. M. C. A., and Brockton Y. M. C. A. The next dual meet for Newton will be Wednesday, January 8th, when it meets Salem Y. M. C. A. at Newton.

The next scheduled match for the Newton "Y" Squash Racquets team in the D League of the Massachusetts Association will be Saturday with the Harvard Club team at the Harvard Club. Harvard Club is in first place, while Newton "Y" is tied for fourth place.

The Newton Centre School Association will hold its meeting on Wednesday afternoon, January 8th at 3 o'clock in the Mason School Hall. Miss Lucy Wheelock of the Wheelock School of Kindergarten will speak on "Children First."

There will be music and the usual social hour.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

There is an office building in Boston that I visit frequently because it is necessary in the course of my work that I do so. It is not so ancient, this structure, and not so new. The street floor corridor is long and narrow, affording ample room for the sweeping of the Winter's wind. I have never known a brisk wind that didn't sweep whenever opportunity offered.

Good strong doors often prevent cold blasts from getting in where they are not welcome and the building to which I refer has two sets of doors all the year round. They are about eight feet apart. Now to thwart the howling wind and blizzards as much as possible a third set of doors is installed for the Winter. Therefore, when you enter from the street you must pass through three sets of swinging doors to get to the elevator.

I suppose that other buildings are similarly equipped. In fact I know of several where there are at least two sets of doors. Some, yes, many to other places possess outside and inside doors, which in Winter are appreciated.

Now what I am getting at is this. Should one open the door for himself and after entering, let the old door bang regardless of the presence of somebody a few steps behind? Or should one wait and hold the door until overtaken by the next in line? In other words, how far should one show consideration for another? Or should it be each man for himself and the banging door take the hindmost—in the head or the shins or wherever it may land? If you go about it in a gentlemanly way you are certainly doing something for your fellow man. It may take more time, you may have to wait, but at least you have tried to be helpful. However, I am still uncertain as to how far this business of being polite should be carried. As I observe there are a lot of people who are willing you should hold doors for them as much as you wish, providing you do not expect any door holding of them. They never once seem to think that they might be obliging, too, and save the door from swinging back. No, sir, they prance right along just as if you were a paid doorkeeper and were receiving a large salary for opening doors for them. When I encounter such people—and it is not infrequently—I want to hand them something and it is with difficulty that I refrain from so doing.

Be that as it may, the only trouble with politeness is that once you start it you've got to go through with it and that means you're going to be busy as long as there are doors to be opened.

Way back in 1916 the voters of Massachusetts decided at the polls that New Year's Day should be a legal holiday in this State. It was celebrated as such in 1917. As far in the past as that may be Massachusetts doesn't seem to have caught up with New York. I do not wish to be understood as chiding my fellow citizens for failure to conduct themselves like New Yorkers. Neither do I think the less of my New York friends. I was just thinking that they still make a great deal more of the day in the big city than we in this State.

It doesn't seem so long ago now, I recall it so clearly, that a young man who came from New York to engage in business in Boston underwent a strange experience. It was some time before we had made New Year's a legal holiday in Massachusetts. In fact about the only attention it was receiving in those days was a ceremonial celebration the night before. If you know what I mean. But this young man supposed that Boston was to treat the day like New York so, instead of going to business, he dressed himself up in his best and went about making calls. He soon found that he was in Boston and not New York and that young men were supposed to be at their offices and not seated in drawing-rooms. Not but what this person worked hard and had determined to make a name for himself. He was simply picking one holiday that wasn't a holiday and learned his mistake.

As far as I am able to observe New Year's Day offers an opportunity to rest up from whatever midnight obligation one has engaged in before, during and after the clock in the tower has boomed the magic hour of twelve. If I am not very much mistaken New Year's Day as a legal holiday is really the result of pressure brought by those who just think we ought to have more celebration for one reason or another. "The rest of the cities celebrate and on the other side they have big doings, so why not we?" That was the spirit in which the legislation calling for a referendum was put across and as far as the referendum itself was concerned I ask you if you can expect a majority of voters to do anything different from voting themselves a 24-hours' rest whenever they have the chance.

Two gifts that came to me, or were brought, I should say, to my door on Christmas now lie before me. One is a book in which I am to write appointments or engagements during 1930. The other is a diary. Now both are neatly bound and present each an attractive appearance. One should be tickled to receive them. And I am. I can put the appointment book to good use, for it will remind me of this or that I have promised or planned to do. The other should be put to good use but it is up to me to make that decision.

Just how far should one go in making a daily record of his doings of each day? And what doings should he record in black and white? Should he merely set down the nice things that have happened or should he write with flowing pen his disappointments, perplexities and even his mistakes? I am wondering about this thing. Shall I make no distinction between the good and the bad? If I lose my temper and do or say something of which I ashamed shall I set that down as faithfully as I would the fact that some friends had invited me to a house party or a dinner and made me very happy by their entertainment? It won't read so well in 1931 or afterwards to have stated that I did some mean thing to somebody or failed to return a favor or refused to give some slight assistance to another when I had the opportunity.

It seems to me that a diary is something of a challenge, providing one keeps it accurately or without prejudice. If it is to be a record of the pleasant things, why then it will be easy enough to keep. But if I am to sit in judgment on myself each time I transcribe my day's experiences I question whether I will be so proud of myself. Of course we are engaged in a struggle and when we strive to do the best we are able that is something. Meanwhile I suppose that the most that may be expected of one is to keep the pages of his diary as clean as possible and by that I don't mean blank.

Last week I found myself among those who rode around Newton to see the holiday illuminations in the residences of our city. A seat was provided for me in a friend's car and I must say that I got a lot of real enjoyment out of that excursion. Many readers, I am sure, did the very same thing with as great a degree of delight. Until you have made this jaunt you don't appreciate how well and nicely Newton folks do such things. There were arrangements of lights that were amazing. Some people went in for the idea with all their ingenuity and without sparing expense.

But do you know what caught my eye? Those humbler homes where the item of cost is something to be seriously considered. They made no pretense to compete with their more affluent fellow townsmen, but set up a few electric candles or a light here or there that beamed with the same spirit and shed in a smaller way the same radiance of the Yuletide. This making the demonstration general is the very best part of it. If we didn't have large and extended displays we wouldn't find any reason for riding around to look at the show. The skill of decorating revealed and the generous amount expended gave spectators something to look at. Nevertheless I could see there were those who had done what they could with the meagre resources at hand and that made it not only unanimous, so to speak, but revealed the true feeling that possesses all hearts at this time of the year.

Still another incident of which it may be said, "It happened in Newton" and which, by the way, it gives me satisfaction to write. In these days of the go-getter, the super-wise man and the high-pressure gentleman it is pleasant to find a rational, though thoroughly business-like individual. It isn't that I favor the calm and placid, for they are a trifle borish. When you see a man who is just and fair it proves that strict integrity is not among the lost or out-of-date virtues. One of those trifling but dangerous blazes that seem unavoidable did damage to a man's property. The prompt and active Newton firemen kept the destruction down to a total of a few hundred dollars. Less than that, in fact. However, the insurance adjuster arrived and asked the owner, "How much will you settle for?"

"Wait until I find how much it costs to have repairs made," came the reply. This was agreeable to the insurance man.

The repairs were made and again the adjuster appeared. "Will you settle for $250?" he asked, after viewing the carpenter's bill," replied the housekeeper.

"I'll settle for $142.50, the exact amount of the carpenter's bill," replied the housekeeper.

"Might as well make it an even $150 and we'll be satisfied," said the claim agent.

"No, sir," the other replied. "I'm paying out $142.50, so why should I take any more from the insurance company?"

There was no answer to that except the check for the said $142.50. Yet it is good to know there are men who believe in the square deal even when doing business with a liberal insurance company adjuster.

TERCENTENARY NEWS

Plans for Newton's observance of the Tercentenary in 1930 are rapidly being formed. All over the state on January 1, at noon bells and chimes and carillons ushered in the 300th year since John Winthrop landed from the ship Arbella at Salem. The year will be a memorable one in our state and city. It is hoped that the minds of the school children will be impressed with the richness of their state's history and that prize essays may be submitted by Elementary and High School pupils.

The following committees in Newton are soon to be appointed:

To Mark Entrance to City
To Mark Historical Places
To Put in Order Village Centers
For Observance of Tercentenary in Churches June 1
For Outdoor Concert and Community Singing

For Art Exhibit To Conduct Prize Essay
On Civic and Military Parade
Newton's Business Men for Program on Athletic Events.

The week of June 1 has been selected for Newton's celebration although certain events may follow that time. "1930 News" a publication of the Massachusetts Bay Tercentenary, Inc. says in its last number, "An Old Home Week or Day for each town or city as a special time when former residents may return for formal reception and welcome" should be arranged and all established holidays should be incorporated into the Tercentenary year program: Harvest Festivals, Labor Day, Columbus Day, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas" and adds in parentheses, perhaps with a chuckle, "The worthy Puritans of 1630 would shudder at such an observance of Christmas. We shall show how far we have advanced as well as how few are indebted to those pioneers."

The Tercentenary Conference, No. 9 Park street, Boston is compiling a list of 300 Leading Attractions of Massachusetts. A main purpose is to ascertain what others think are the state's attractions.

If you are interested, send along your list as many as you wish to the above address. How many Newton attractions can you name? A list of those would be interesting.

Let us all get right back of Newton's celebration and make it worthy of the city's history and standing.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. Harry E. Moore and Mrs. Estelle E. Workman are managing the Matinee Auction Bridge party which is to be given at the Commonwealth Country Club Monday afternoon, January 6. Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Workman will be assisted by Misses Raymond L. Royce, Lester R. Smith and James L. Willard of Brookline; Frank C. Shepherd of Chestnut Hill; Mr. R. Watts of Allston and George L. Wehrle of Cambridge.

This club function is in continuance of a long established custom to benefit the Disabled Veterans and the Fatherless Children of France.

HENRY MURRAY CO.

IN NEW QUARTERS

The Henry Murray Company, manufacturers of memorials and monuments, has moved its studio and salesroom to 57 St. James avenue, in the Park Square Building, Boston. The new quarters afford ample room for the attractive display of Memorial pieces in Vesterly granite, Knoxville and Carrara marbles, and slate, and on the same floor is a comfortable and restful office for the special benefit of customers. The clerical and drafting departments are in a balcony; there are display windows on both the street and arcade.

Interesting as an illustration of the possibilities of skilled workmanship in stone, is a slate plaque of about 2½ by 3½ feet in size, picturing Mount Chocorua and Lake Chocorua with great faithfulness of detail and appropriate treatment.

The Henry Murray Company of the downtown monumental workers, early took advantage of the trend of retail buying towards the Boylston Street district, and moved to the vicinity fifteen years ago. The company has been in business since 1870 and maintains a plant on North Beacon street, Brighton.

Savings can be made on infants' and children's underwear and hosiery at the retail store of Thomas Dalby Company, Chase Building, Pleasant street, Watertown. Values on quality garments in samples and irregulars will help the home budget. Advertisement.

RETIRED TO PRIVATE LIFE

With the advent of the new municipal year, Mayor Childs, Aldermen Earle, Holbrook, and Pratt, and Messrs. Hutchins and Calkins of the school committee retire to private life. While the editor has frequently criticised the manner in which Mr. Childs administered his office for the sixteen years he has been the mayor of this city, we have never questioned his honesty, his faithfulness to his oath of office nor his devotion to the interests of the city. He retires on his own initiative and there is little doubt but what he could have continued to hold the office of mayor for years to come had he so desired. With this record we regret that Mr. Childs used the language he did in announcing his declination to continue in office. Mayor Childs has been highly honored many times by the voters of this city and could and should have retired with dignity and courtesy.

Alderman Earle has served eight years in the city government and has given most faithful service as an alderman. He chose to retire in order to be a candidate for mayor and believed that his devotion to Mayor Childs' administration would be a political asset. The election proved that the heavy vote always given to Mr. Childs was a personal matter and could not be delivered by Mr. Childs to any one else.

We have never come in contact with Alderman Holbrook but have been assured that he has fully measured up to the high standard which Waban has always demanded of its representatives at City Hall.

Alderman Pratt has been in office for seven and a half years and has rendered the city valuable service and has well earned the high regard in which he is held by his colleagues.

The same is true of the service given by Mr. Maxwell C. Hutchins as a member of the school committee from Auburn-dale for the past six years, one year of which he was chairman of the board.

We regret the retirement of Mr. Grosvenor Calkins from the school committee. Both as an alderman some years ago and as a member of the school committee for the past three years Mr. Calkins has always been free from conventionalities and routine. He has always demanded to be shown all the facts and has never hesitated to oppose what he did not believe was the best policy for the city to follow. The city needs men like Mr. Calkins in high office.

THE INAUGURAL

On New Year's Day a new Mayor was inaugurated in the city of Newton. More citizens than ever before were interested enough to attend the ceremonies held in the high school auditorium and tax the seating facilities there to near capacity. The induction into the office of Mayor was probably one of the proudest moments in the life of Sinclair Weeks. Surely it would have been one of the happiest but for one fact, unknown to many there, that marred the occasion. While her son was taking the oath of office Mrs. Martha S. Weeks lay very ill at her home in Boston. For sometime previously she had not been in the best of health but the Sunday before Christmas her illness became serious. The sympathy of the entire city is with Mayor Weeks.

Editorial comment on the Mayor's address is of necessity postponed until our next issue.

We predict a most successful and noteworthy administration by Mayor Weeks.

MISS ETHEL HUTCHINSON

Miss Ethel Hutchinson, well known concert pianist of Boston and who has a large following throughout the Newtons, will be the assisting artist at a concert to be given by the Newton Symphony Orchestra on Thursday evening, January 9th at the Newton High School Auditorium. She will play the List Eb major concerto for piano and orchestra.

Miss Hutchinson has been for several years an artist pupil and assistant teacher of Heinrich Gebhard, Boston's eminent composer-pianist. She has also studied in London with Tobias Matthay, and is a former winner in one of the young artists contests conducted by the National Federation of Music Clubs.

The orchestra will be led by their very able conductor, Mr. Ralph D. Maclean of Newton Centre in a program which includes, in addition to the piano concerto, the following numbers: Overture, "Magic Flute," Mozart; Reverie (for strings and harp); Harris; Two Movements from the "Wedding Music," Symphony, Goldmark; Overture, "Egmont," Beethoven.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Coincident with the opening of the Legislature last Wednesday came the announced effort of President Gaspar C. Bacon of the Massachusetts Senate to lead a decisive move toward cutting down the annual avalanche of special legislation. To this end he has filed nine bills of his own to provide changes in the general laws that will tend toward doing away with the necessity of devoting a large part of the time and attention of every session to measures applying solely to particular localities.

It will be remembered by Newton people that the editor of the Graphic, both as a member of the Legislature for several years and through the columns of this paper has advocated, many times, action by the General Court to reduce the number of special bills.

Announcement from the office of President Bacon says: "The President Bacon has taken this drastic step, on the day preceding the opening of the 1930 session, after careful consideration of the problem of too much legislation. Probably it is the first instance in which a presiding officer of the General Court has thus made himself the petitioner for enactments on such a wholesale scale."

"No small part of the Bacon program has to do with a greater degree of home rule for cities and towns, to relieve them of the everlasting necessity of beating a path to the State House for the right to do this, that and the other thing—not to mention the relief with which the Legislature would thereby be blessed, and to keep off the books some of the yearly clutter of special acts."

"Six of the Bacon bills come under this classification. Summarized, they are: To authorize municipalities to borrow in excess of the present limits of indebtedness when approved on a referendum; relative to the satisfaction of claims against municipalities; authorizing municipalities to make appropriations for public entertainments in connection with annual conventions of veterans' organizations; to permit municipalities to use park and playground land for other purposes; to provide for reserve police forces in towns; for the submission of questions to voters in certain towns."

"Of the three other bills included in the Senate President's schedule, one has an important bearing on corporations such as charitable, religious, educational, etc., raising from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 the limit on the value of real and personal estate that they may hold and clarifying other provisions of the law. Another takes out of the Legislature the revival of corporations, delegating that power to the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation. Finally, there is a bill to require the counsel to the Legislature and officials and department heads to make annual recommendations for changes that will avoid special legislation by the enactment of general legislation."

The opening of the 1930 General Court was marked by an address of unusual interest by Gov. Allen. His firm stand against the proposed repeal of the State liquor enforcement law, his advocacy of jury service by women and his belief that the automobile excise law, passed last year, is ambiguous and should be clarified were outstanding points that were given much thought and consideration. The crowd of spectators was not large, due probably to the fact that it was a holiday.

Although there were some changes in the committee no Newton members were affected either in the Senate or the House.

Sessions were held yesterday and this morning by both branches but they were brief. The afternoon sessions will begin Monday at 2 p. m.

Recent Weddings

LAYCOCK—BEAMISH

A wedding of interest to many was that of Miss Tamar Beamish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Beamish of 44 Elliot street, Watertown, and Mr. Robert Laycock of Watertown street, Newton, at the North Congregational Church, Newton, last Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert L. Rae, pastor of the church.

The matron of honor was Mrs. William S. Beamish of Auburndale, sister-in-law of the bride and the best man was Mr. Robert Shirley of Somerville. The bride's gown was of burnt orange chiffon and she wore a brown felt hat and brown shoes and stockings.

The matron of honor wore a gown of electric blue chiffon and a hat of black felt and straw. A reception was held in the church parlor from 3 to 4 o'clock and in the receiving line the bride and groom were assisted by the matron of honor. After a wedding trip by auto Mr. and Mrs. Beamish will reside on Watertown street, Newton, where they will be at home after January 15.

HARPER—CARPENTER

Miss Anna Carpenter and Charles Wellington Harper were married at high noon, Christmas Day, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carpenter of Turner, Maine. Rev. Frank H. Hall, pastor of the High Street Methodist Church, Auburn, Me., officiated. The double ring service was used. The bride was beautifully gowned in dark blue georgette. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter, were best man and matron of honor. It is especially interesting to note that the day was their 30th wedding anniversary and that they were married by the same clergyman, Mr. Hall.

The house was attractively decorated with fir, pine and other Christmas greens. Artificial snow and crystal were used with most artistic effect. Only the relatives and intimate friends of the young couple were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper left immediately for West Newton, Mass., where they will reside. Mr. Harper is a native son of Newton, having lived in this town since his birth until a few years ago, when he moved to Boston. He is employed with Hartel Brothers & Co., of Boston who engage in the steel business. Mrs. Harper was one of Turner's popular young ladies, receiving her education in the schools of that town and graduating from Leavitt Institute in 1924.

ANDREWS—DOREY

Miss Margaret Banks Dorey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Asbury Dorey of Newark, Ohio was married to Sidney Warren Andrews of New York City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Andrews of Waban on Saturday evening, December twenty-eighth at six o'clock in Trinity Episcopal Church, Newark. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lane Barton, rector of the church.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Elsie Dorey as maid of honor. The other attendants were Miss Helen Andrews of Waban, sister of the groom, Miss Florence Parrish of New York City, Mrs. Wilson Rosebraugh of Newark and Mrs. Talcott Powell of Brooklyn. The best man was Earl L. Canfield of Elizabeth, New Jersey and the ushers were John T. Andrews of Waban, brothers of the groom, Wilson Rosebraugh, Talcott Powell and Robert Richardson, the latter formerly of Waban and now of East Liverpool, Ohio. Following the ceremony a reception

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

A local paper in printing a list of past Mayors of Newton last week gave the "information" that Hon. Charles E. Hatfield had died on September 10, 1924. Charlie's spirit has certainly been quite active the past five years.

Next Sunday, January 5, the showroom of the Newton Garage & Automobile Company at the corner of Washington and Hovey streets, Newton, will be open from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. to afford residents of Newton an opportunity to examine the dynamic new ERSKINE car. This wonderful automobile value priced at but $895 has a wheel-base of 113 inches, a motor that delivers 70 horsepower and in appearance and appointments has amazed those who have seen it.

The thaw this week again proves two things. That the City of Newton must spend considerable sums of money to provide its main streets with surfaces that will withstand the ravages of heavy automobile traffic; that the Massachusetts Legislature should enact a law forbidding the use of heavy cross-chains on trucks. The last Legislature certainly did not help keeping public highways in good condition or save persons from having their homes badly damaged by vibration when it passed the bill which permitted larger and heavier automobile trucks on public streets.

Next Monday, January 6 the Newton Buick Company will open its branch at 720 Beacon street, Newton Centre, where complete sales and service facilities will be afforded. This branch is under the same ownership and management as the Newton Buick Company, which, under the direction of Richard F. Dwyer stands at the top of the 18 suburban branches of the Noyes Buick Company in point of efficiency and service.

—Mrs. Alma Hovland and daughter Helen of Staten Island, New York, New York, are the guests of Mrs. Hovland's parents Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Hemen of Concord street.

—Miss Anna Gleason of Walnut street recently entertained the Ladies' Auxiliary at her home. The entertainment was in the form of a Christmas party, each member was pleasantly presented with a gift, while a musical program was rendered. A buffet lunch concluded the evening.

The Entre Neus Whist Club held their regular Christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. Luther McIntyre of Cornell street. Whist was enjoyed, and presents were distributed to the members while a very enjoyable Christmas program was rendered. The whist prizes were first, Mrs. Harold Trefrey, and the second Mrs. Albert Allen.

was held at an inn in the nearby town of Grantville, the seat of Dennison University of which the bride is an alumna. Mr. Andrews is a graduate of Amherst College, class of 1922 and M. I. T. class of 1925. He is connected with the American Gas and Electric Company in New York in which city he and his bride will make their home.

Full Text of Mayor Weeks' Inaugural Address

Gentlemen of The Board of Aldermen:

Newton begins today its 57th year as a city of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and, in accordance with law and custom, we have assembled here to inaugurate the government under which the affairs of our city shall be administered during the year 1930.

New governments invariably create new viewpoints. There is in Newton a backward view to a civic history that is replete with splendid achievement unusually favorable in comparison with other cities of the state and there is the view forward which indicates such excellent prospects for the still greater development of the city and the advancement of its citizens' interests.

For the first time in our history, the inaugural exercises are not being held in City Hall. Interest in Newton and its government is increasing. That is a healthy condition and an omen of good government. More and more men and women are expressing the desire to meet and know those whom they have elected to represent them, to know more about the problems confronting us and to learn more about the processes by which the affairs of our city are carried on. Our assembly in this auditorium of the high school because of its capacity and comfort is in appreciation of that increasing interest in the city's business.

You who are here, and those to whom you talk, will establish a good foundation for discussion of our municipal problems, if you keep in mind a picture of the city as a whole—a comprehensive view of Newton. Its people and the agencies at work to provide the ordinary comforts and conveniences of modern community life.

Our city has an area of 18 square miles—larger than Cambridge, Somerville and Brookline combined. Mark that great area off in your mind into 10 villages. Dot those villages with 27 schools. Then put in 44 churches, 12 railroad stations, 10 fire stations and 12,000 dwelling houses, besides sundry other city buildings and a few manufacturing establishments.

Add 327 acres of parks and playgrounds to your mental picture. Then run 255 miles of streets criss-cross through the land and 170 miles of sewers and 202 miles of water mains the past three years, assume as much responsibility as anyone else. There has been, in my judgment, a growing tendency of late years to more and more crowd the work of the Board into the one evening on which it regularly meets every two weeks. Nearly every committee meets that evening either before the Board assemblies or during a recess, and as a result many matters are recommended and acted upon without real opportunity for adequate investigation and study. This tendency, in my opinion, is unquestionably in error. Committees should meet regularly the week previous to stated Board meetings. This not only gives the committees themselves better opportunity to function but will allow their reports to be printed on the docket and give members not on a particular committee an opportunity to become better acquainted with matters that are to be acted upon. I believe the Board will agree with me that this tendency exists and that it should be corrected. For my part I want to say that I shall endeavor to co-operate to the extent of having my recommendations, insofar as it is humanly possible in the hands of the Board early in the week preceding its regular meeting. If we can work together in this respect it seems to me that the results will be more satisfactory and the work better done.

My service on the Board has given me, I believe, a thorough general knowledge of the workings of our various city departments, but the thorough detailed knowledge which the Executive should have must come from a more complete study of these departments' operations and their requirements.

I do not, therefore, at this time propose to dwell at any great length on the operations of these departments or the results which they have achieved during the past year, primarily because these results will be set up in detail in the reports submitted by the various departments, to which I wish to call your careful attention and consideration. Let me, instead, turn at once to a brief survey of the City's financial condition which, of course, from sheer necessity, must occupy a position of primary importance in our minds.

Our financial condition on December 31, 1929, indicated a net debt of $5,127,569.00 divided as follows:

Outside the debt limit $2,895,000.00

Within the debt limit $3,124,000.00

The debt limit, which is two and one-half percent of the average valuation for the past three years, roughly $150,000,000, gives us a total borrowing capacity of $3,750,000. Deducting the net debt within the debt limit as of December 31, 1929, from this figure, gives us, as of January 1, 1930, a present borrowing capacity of approximately $630,000. I want to call your special attention to these figures because they point out a situation which has, and probably will for some time to come, handicap us in carrying forward much of the program of building and other general improvements with which our City Government is faced.

Current expenditures are met from the tax levy. Capital expenditures are ordinarily covered by the proceeds received from the sale of bonds. During the past ten years, capital expenditures have included the erection of 191 school houses at a cost of $3,510,171, including land and furniture, of other city buildings, the purchase of land, etc., at an estimated cost of $707,000, and these developments have not only kept us close to our debt limit, but have, because of the application of that limit, necessitated the raising during the same period of approximately $690,000 from the tax levy, which money has been applied directly towards the completion of the program outlined above. The problem has been further complicated by the inclusion within the debt limit as of January 1, 1929, through act of the Legislature, of what are commonly known as Sewer Bonds.

The situation, therefore, which I have attempted to briefly sum up, leaves us faced with a borrowing capacity in all probability inadequate to care for the program of expansion which I believe we have before us. Of course there is always the possibility of reference to the tax levy for additional funds to care for our program of permanent improvements, but I would call your attention to the fact while Newton's tax rate of $27.20 for 1929 is among the lowest in the State, our valuation per capita is the greatest of any city in Massachusetts. A comparison of one, of course, involves the comparison of the other. I would also point out the fact that in ten years the city budget has risen from

Highlights of Inaugural Address

Urges abolition of Preferential voting system now used only in Newton and suggests the so-called "Boston plan."

Points out that Wards 5 and 6, comprising half the area of the city, 30 per cent of the population and 43 per cent of the city's wealth, is not, with two members at large out of seven, represented sufficiently in the Board of Aldermen.

Asks for complete cooperation between Legislative and Executive branches of city government.

Decries the tendency of the Board of Aldermen to crowd all work into the one night of the regular meeting. Tells Board committees should meet during the week preceding scheduled session.

Promises business administration for Newton. Declares he will expect department heads to eliminate waste and to operate their departments efficiently, economically and along lines calculated to produce best results.

Recommends that Zoning Act be amended to provide safeguards against possibility of any apartment house development. Newton is a City of Homes, he declared, and people do not want any material extension of apartment house construction.

Urged speedy consideration—within 30 days—of the proposal to erect a new Junior High School in Newton Centre.

Favored the immediate erection of War Memorial on the triangle at Commonwealth Avenue, Walnut and Homer streets.

Pointed out the imperative need for a new City Hall, urged the subject be kept constantly in mind but made no recommendation because "financial position will not allow present construction unless it seems wise to request and is possible to secure permission from the Legislature to borrow outside the debt limit."

Announced plans to recommend expenditure of $150,000 to complete Fire Alarm Headquarters and Signal System which will, when completed, give Newton the "most modern, up-to-date and completely equipped" system existing anywhere, and will mean money in pocket for Newton citizens through reduction in insurance premiums on fire insurance.

Advocated the laying down of a street improvement program, building new and better highways, opening up North side of Commonwealth Avenue for one-way traffic going west and re-surfacing it. Announced hope that State Highway Department will put down new road in Boylston Street as part of new through artery to Worcester.

Referred to need of Edmunds Valley sewer to serve 150 houses in Newton Centre and another sewer across the "triangle" to receive greatly increased flow of sewage from Cold Spring Brook section of Waban district.

Hopes to adjust financial program so that Laundry Brook running through Boyd Park playground may be covered at once.

Displayed school building record which has caused the construction of nine schools in 10 years at a cost of $3,510,000.

Urges support of the Tercentenary Committee work for the observance of the 300th anniversary of the founding of Newton and expressed willingness to recommend further appropriation for this work.

Coupled an expression of Happy New Year with the admonition to "get down to work" and do things in the next 12 months to "produce definite and tangible results."

$1,852,295 in 1919 to $4,276,791 in 1929, an increase of one hundred and thirty percent. During this same period, the City's State tax has actually decreased twenty-three percent, and the Metropolitan District Commission and the Middlesex County Warrants have only increased respectively 61% and 88%.

Municipal expenditures generally have shown an inordinate increase during this period, and it behooves those charged with the administration of this, or any other city, to guard carefully against the situation getting out of hand. I say this with the full knowledge and appreciation of the fact that our citizens generally want and expect the best, and are willing to pay for it, provided they are assured of their money's worth, and with this sentiment I am, of course, in hearty accord.

Carrying this thought just a little farther, I want to make it plain that it is going to be my endeavor to run this city as nearly as possible along business lines. I shall expect heads of departments to eliminate waste and to operate their departments efficiently, economically and along lines calculated to produce the best results, and above all to live within their allotted budget unless unforeseen emergency prevents. Only in this manner do I feel that I shall be properly discharging the trust which has been imposed on me.

May I now discuss briefly the immediate future, and make reference to some of the projects which the new city government has before it, together with my recommendations covering these matters.

In the first place, let me say that I believe the division of our city by wards, carrying with it representation in our Board of Aldermen should be reviewed carefully with this thought in mind, that Wards 5 and 6 are not, in proportion to population and valuation, at the present time adequately represented at City Hall. Of a total population of over 59,000 and a valuation of $162,000,000, these two out of a total of seven wards contain roughly 36 percent of all the population and 43 percent of the valuation, in addition to which the map of the city indicates that they occupy well over half of our total area.

These figures, and the probable future growth in the two wards indicate that the situation may very well be reviewed with a view to providing a more equitable allotment of representation for that section of Newton which extends on the South side of the city from the Boston line on the East clear through to the Charles River on the West. I accordingly recommend that a study be made of this matter, and I feel sure that from such a study, fair and equitable action will result.

I also recommend that a study be made of that system known as Preferential Voting, with a view in mind of substituting for it a system which will be less confusing to our voters and more thoroughly responsive to what I believe to be the wishes of our people as a whole. I hesitate to make any definite recommendation without more mature study, but from my present knowledge of various alternatives open to us, the Boston plan, which provides for a non-partisan election without primary or caucus, but which limits the field by requiring a prospective candidate to secure a substantial number of signatures on his nomination papers, appeals the most. Such a plan, with the proviso that in Newton probably from 1000 to 1500 signatures would be adequate, it seems to me would give our citizens more nearly what they want, and produce, in general, infinitely better results.

Under the head of zoning, I recommend that further study be given by your board with a view to the elimination of the possibility of any considerable apartment house development. The future of undeveloped tracts of land in our city should be safeguarded against the cutting up of such tracts into parcels so small as to bring about the development of crowded housing conditions. Proper setbacks and use of area should be taken care of. Whether or not the plan recently outlined by your Board, upon which public hearings have been held, accomplishes these results, and if so, whether or not it accomplishes the desired results with minimum injustice to property owners affected, I am not entirely prepared to say. Newton, above everything, however, is a City of Homes, and our people do not want to see any material extension of apartment house construction. I therefore recommend that this matter be taken from the table, so to speak, and that the Zoning Act be amended to provide us with these safeguards.

Some years ago the city purchased the triangle bounded by Commonwealth Avenue, Walnut and Homer streets for City Hall and War Memorial purposes. The erection of a War Memorial has been under discussion for many years. Newton is without a War Memorial, and it is my belief that one should be constructed without delay to commemorate the heroic dead of all wars in which members of this city have participated. A committee is already at work on this subject, and I believe that it is the desire of our people that the project be pushed forward as rapidly as is consistent with wise and sound judgment.

I do not propose at this time to make any definite recommendation with respect to our much discussed new City Hall for the simple reason that our financial position will not allow of its present construction, unless it seems wise to request and is possible to secure permission from the Legislature to borrow outside of the debt limit for the purpose. I may say, however, that in my judgment a new City Hall is necessary; in fact from many standpoints is imperative, and I believe that the subject should be kept constantly fresh in our minds with a view to securing action as soon as practicable.

Recently a new Fire Alarm Headquarters building has been constructed in Newton Centre. It constitutes the initial portion of a program which, when completed, will give Newton the most modern, up-to-date and completely equipped fire alarm headquarters and signal system existing anywhere.

It will not only produce this result, but will, we are told, enable us to secure a better plan for the Fire Insurance Underwriters, and thus directly bring to our citizens substantial savings in fire insurance premiums paid. The completion of this program will involve an expenditure of approximately $150,000 which I am prepared to recommend at the earliest practical moment.

Under the heading "Newton Free Library" I should like to call your attention to the new branch libraries at Newton Centre, West Newton and Auburndale, which have been erected and turned over to the city through the generosity of the residents of these communities, and also to the new library now under construction in Waban, which is also to be the gift to the city from the people of that section. The addition of these branches to our library system is tending towards making it constantly more efficient, and I am hopeful that it may be finally rounded out in the not distant future by the construction, through the generosity of our citizens, of additional branches in those of our villages where only rented quarters are now available. Too much in the way of thanks and appreciation can not be extended to those communities which have so recently proven their generosity and public spiritedness in this direction.

The increase from $33,133 to $93,461 during the last ten years in our Playground Department budget indicates without further discussion that our City Government has not been inattentive to the requirements of this all important work. Only as recently as last year did we appropriate $20,788 for the purchase of a playground in the Thompsonville section, which acquisition gives us a grand total of 22 playgrounds, comprising 168 acres. Of this total a substantial portion over a period of years has been given to the city in the same manner and spirit as have been the branch libraries referred to above. I can only add that the general extension of our playground system has not only been desirable, but necessary, and I am hopeful that, as time goes on, it may proceed still further either through purchase or as a result of the generosity of our citizens.

There remain two suggestions of primary importance which I want to touch upon. Our street department has charge of our street improvement program, the construction and acceptance of private ways under the Betterment Act, and the construction of drains and sewers. Without casting reflection on any individual, or group of individuals, it seems to me perfectly apparent that our streets are not, generally speaking, in as satisfactory condition as we should like to see them. Re-surfacing or the reconstruction of public streets is carried on through money appropriated from the tax levy by the Board of Aldermen. During the past few years this appropriation has been increased gradually until 1929 it reached the high total of $125,000. I recommend, and propose on my own account to make, a careful study of the condition of our streets, with a view to laying down a program of street improvement which, if properly conceived and carried out, should place us, five or ten years from now, in a much stronger position in this regard. In this connection it is well to point out that trolley lines in this city are rapidly becoming a thing of the past. The tracks on lines already given up by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company have to a large extent been taken up, and the necessary re-surfacing of the streets completed. Only recently has the line on Commonwealth Avenue been given up and it is not improbable that the Boston and Worcester Street Railway Company will discontinue the operation of the Boylston street line in the near future. Commonwealth Avenue and Boylston street constitute two of our three important thoroughfares, and therefore their reconstruction to take care of heavier traffic will be an important factor in the program I have referred to above. Fortunately we have reason to believe that the State will reconstruct Boylston street in 1931 as a part of its new through artery to Worcester, but the relinquishment of trolleys on Commonwealth Avenue brings to a head, in my judgment, the matter of opening up the North side of the avenue to one way traffic going West, which, in turn, will involve an expensive re-surfacing operation. It has seemed to me advisable to refer particularly to the situation relating to these two thoroughfares, because they do promise to play such an important part in our program of street improvement.

I also want to say a word about the construction and acceptance of private ways under the Betterment Act. Over the past 10 years we have constructed in this manner an average of 12 streets, totalling 1.7 miles per year. Today there are pending petitions for the construction and acceptance of 55 streets totalling six and one-half miles, and with the conclusion of this program, we shall still have approximately 70 miles of private ways in the city. Bonds issued for the construction of streets under the Betterment Act must come from within the debt limit, and this fact, as the figures on our borrowing capacity above indicate, will very probably handicap the development of the program as far as the immediate future is concerned. During 1929 we made much better progress than during any other year, at least since 1919, but we must, if it is at all possible, find ways and means to make still better progress, and to give to those people who come into this city, build attractive homes and establish themselves here, something better than a mud hole over which to approach their residences.

Perhaps it is fair to say that nothing is more important in the administration of our city than the construction of sanitary sewers. There are several sewer projects of major importance before us which must have attention during the coming year. I refer particularly to the Edmunds Valley sewer to serve about 150 houses in Newton Centre; to a sewer across the

A Recipe for Newton

Sinclair Weeks, Mayor of Newton, verbally served a delectable New Year's dinner in recipe form in his inaugural address. Here it is: "Take an area of 18 square miles—larger than Cambridge, Somerville and Brookline combined. Mark that great area off in your mind into 10 villages. Dot those villages with 27 schools. Then put in 44 churches, 12 railroad stations, 10 fire stations and 12,000 dwelling houses, besides sundry other city buildings and a few manufacturing establishments. "Add 327 acres of parks and playgrounds. Then run 255 miles of streets criss-cross through the land and 170 miles of sewers and 202 miles of water mains under ground and when you have bordered the whole picture on three sides by a beautiful river you have a pretty fair idea of Newton as it is today, where 60,000 persons live."

triangle from Homer street to Walnut street, needed at the earliest possible moment to receive the greatly increased flow of sewage from the Cold Spring Brook section of the Waban district; and to several other sewer projects of lesser importance, as far as expenditure is concerned, but of considerable importance to the districts they will be intended to serve.

For a number of years we have been providing for the covering of brooks throughout the city. There are a number of these projects ahead of us, one of the most important in my judgment being the covering of Laundry Brook within the confines of the Boyd Park playground. I am hopeful of being able to adjust our financial program during 1930 to care for this much needed improvement and therefore recommend that it be given the earliest possible consideration.

In discussing the financial situation of the city, I laid emphasis on the school building program which we have been confronted with during the past 10 years. A record of real and tangible accomplishment in caring for that program should not leave us complacently indifferent to the further development of our school system here in Newton. The school population, totalling as of Dec. 1, 1929, 11,137, shows this year alone an increase of 434 the largest increase which has been recorded in any single year, at least since 1917.

Under present arrangements overcrowded conditions exist in several schools in the South side of the city, notably at the Mason school in Newton Centre and the Emerson School in Newton Upper Falls. The Junior High School system has within the past 10 years been developed in the North side of the city by the construction of the Day and Warren Junior High Schools and the remodeling of the Bigelow School to serve partially for this purpose, but up to date this development has not been extended to the other side of our city.

It is a matter of common knowledge that we have, within the past few years, purchased land South of Centre street in Newton Centre for Junior High School development and conditions indicate that we should proceed to take action along these lines without delay. I trust that final judgment on this matter may be reached within the next 30 days so that, if it appears necessary, we may proceed to build and develop plans for the building which cannot, in any event, be ready for occupancy prior to Sept. 1, 1931.

We must, of course, provide adequate housing facilities for our school children, but, unless the necessity for further immediate construction is perfectly apparent, I do not want to see our already very limited borrowing capacity allocated, in its entirety, to the development to the exclusion of many other very necessary improvements.

There are of course innumerable matters of lesser relative importance which I might well touch upon and covering which I might well make recommendations now, if space and time permitted. It will be necessary, however, to leave them on the table to be taken up in detail as we proceed with the administration of our new City Government.

There is just one more matter, however, on which I would like to say a word at this time. 1930 marks the 300th anniversary of the founding of this city—as it does the founding of other cities and towns within the metropolitan area. In collaboration with them, our local committee is arranging a program to mark this anniversary and $5000 has already been appropriated to enable it to commence its work. I stand ready to recommend a further appropriation and feel sure your board will co-operate by placing in the committee's hands funds necessary to make its program as effective as possible. Surely we should take note of this anniversary and do so in the most appropriate manner possible.

In conclusion, let me urge once again that co-operation between the Legislative and Executive branches, without which no definite progress can be made. Let me also express the hope that our citizens, when called upon individually or collectively, may also give their co-operation in helping us to solve the many problems before us.

We have in Newton a city which all should be proud of—a city with a notable past and a most promising future. There is much to be done, however, to bring to its citizens that full measure of service to which they are entitled, and I therefore close these remarks with the hope that all of these present, as well as the remaining 60,000 residents of our city, may enjoy a very Prosperous and a very Happy New Year and with the admonition that we now get down to work and do our best in the next 12 months to produce definite and tangible results.

POLICE NEWS

John Tocci of 127 Linwood Avenue, Newtonville was given a suspended fine of $20 in the Newton court on Friday and ordered to pay $3.50 for expenses incurred in the treatment of a dog owned by Motorcycle Officer Lawrence O'Donnell. According to testimony Tocci has a German shepherd dog, otherwise known as a police dog. This big dog went out of his class and "bit up" O'Donnell's Peke, breaking the indoor dog's shoulder and otherwise roughing it so that the Peke had to be sent to the Angell Memorial Hospital for treatment. O'Donnell also accused Tocci's hound of tearing clothing that was parked on a clothes line at the policeman's yard on Woodrow Avenue. Tocci was charged with keeping a barking, biting, unlicensed dog. He was found guilty on the first charge and not guilty on the last as he produced a Waltham license for the dog and explained that he had recently obtained the animal from a friend in Waltham who had licensed it in that city. Tocci was warned either to restrain the shepherd dog or get rid of it.

A large number of transfers went into effect in the police department on New Year's. Patrolman Thomas Burke was assigned to special duty as partner to Special Officer Feeley. Patrolman Frank O'Donnell who has been doing traffic duty at Newtonville square for several years is transferred to a night route on West Newton hill. Alfred Hammill of the traffic squad will operate the motorcycle with the side-car outrigger attachment the rest of this winter on the night shifts. "Larry" O'Donnell will drive the patrol on the second night platoon. Transfers of patrolmen are—Gargan from night duty to days at West Newton; Ed Hanlon from Auburndale to Waban days; McMahon from West Newton to Newton Highlands; Dan Murphy to day relief duty; Manter to traffic duty at Newtonville; M. Sullivan to traffic duty nights at Newton Centre; J. J. Murphy to patrol duty at Nonantum; Walsh from Lower Falls to West Newton; John Foley from Newton to Auburndale; W. Jenkins from West Newton to Lower Falls; Smith from special duty to Thompsonville; Charlton from Nonantum to Newton.

The Newton police have been requested to assist in finding the whereabouts of two young women who were employed as domestics in this city and who disappeared on December 26. The girls are sisters, Edna Champagne, 20, and Doris Champagne, 17. The former was employed by a family on Morton street, Newton Centre and the younger girl was a maid with a family on Elmwood park, Newtonville. Their parents reside at Springfield. The girls had been warned by the women employing them against accepting automobile rides from strangers. The Newton police have asked the assistance of the Boston police in the attempt to discover where the sisters are.

Judge Charles Brown of East Boston, presiding at the inquest on the death of Edward T. O'Neil of Walnut Grove, Newtonville, who was killed on the night of December 10 when he was hit on Waltham street, West Newton, by an automobile driven by Daniel Heskari of Needham, has given the finding that the fatal accident was caused by criminal conduct of the driver. Heskari was arrested after the accident and charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried in the Newton court next Wednesday.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Cars driven by Florence Stone of 25 Elmwood street, Newton Centre, and Francis Finney of 101 Taylor street, Waltham, collided Friday at Commonwealth Avenue and Kenwood street, Newton Centre. Marjorie Stone, 16, received slight injuries.

A truck driven by John Constantine of Somerville and owned by the Newton Public Market hit two women crossing Nonantum square on Friday night. The two, who received slight injuries, were Mrs. M. C. Rinehart and Mrs. Amelia Welch of 15 Baldwin street, Newton.

Cars driven by Gorham Harris of 185 Highland Avenue, Newtonville, and Ernest Bates of 51 Olcott street, Watertown, collided Sunday night at Lowell Avenue and Highland Avenue, Newtonville. Harris received slight injuries.

Alex Nestrovich, 35, proprietor of a grocery store at Upper Falls, on Highland Avenue across the Charles River on the Needham side, was killed Tuesday night as he was fleeing from Patrolman Haddock of the Needham police. As he darted across the street with automobiles moving in both directions he ran in front of a car operated by Helen Duval of Shawmut park, Newton Upper Falls. He was hurled by this car in front of a car driven by Dr. Chester Mills of Needham. A passing bakery wagon was commandeered to carry Nestrovich's body to the Glover Hospital at Newton, where it was found that a fractured skull had caused his death. According to the police, Nestrovich was carrying a bottle of liquor in his hand when he was struck. His store had been raided several times. The man was not married and is survived by his mother, who resides in New Haven.

Mirrors Resilvered

Every home has at least one or two mirrors that need resilvering. Our process assures you of the very best. The old silver is stripped off, glass repolished, two coats of silver applied, a coat of the purest shellac is applied, then painted with a waterproof paint. If the glass is in good condition the result is just like a new mirror. We call for and deliver and our prices are right.

We also reframe old mirrors.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

COMING EVENTS

Waban Woman's Club

January holds many interesting events for members of the Waban Woman's Club, in its regular meetings and in activities arranged by committee chairmen.

Mrs. Alice Foote MacDougall will speak on "The Woman in Business, as seen by a woman who has succeeded" at the Club meeting on Monday afternoon, January 6th. Mrs. MacDougall is the originator of the New York Coffee Shops, and her phenomenal success in this career should prove an inspiration, as well as the statements she will make from her wide experience as to success whether in public or private life.

On Tuesday, January 14th, at 10:30 a. m. there will be a most interesting lecture under the auspices of the Education committee; on January 15th comes the Open Meeting, sponsored by this same enterprising committee; and also on the 15th there will be the trip to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, arranged by the Art committee. Details of these activities will be given as the dates approach.

Newton Mothers Club

The Newton Mothers Club will meet with Mrs. John N. Eaton, at 35 Lenox street, on Monday, January 6th, at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Charles F. D. Belden will speak on "The Extension Service of the Boston Public Library." Mr. Belden is librarian of the Boston Public Library, and will no doubt be most interesting. Mrs. Eaton will be assisted by Mrs. Pitt F. Drew and Mrs. Joseph T. Eddy.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

At the close of the business meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on Monday evening, January 6th, Mrs. Walter R. Evans, as hostess for the evening, presents Mr. George Lombard a lecturer and cartoonist. Mr. Lombard is a Cheer-up-dist, who preaches the Gospel of the Merry Heart; his subject will be "Funnyness, Jawbone, Backbone." This is Young People's Night, when Club members have as guests the younger folk, and as special guests the young ladies who served as models at the Fashion Show.

Auburndale Review Club

On January 7th, the Auburndale Review Club will meet at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. James G. Patterson, of 338 Central street, and will hear papers by Mrs. Charles D. Pickard on "Columbia and the Panama Canal"; by Mrs. Patterson on "New Caribbean Policies"; and by Miss Ellen Williams on "Our Brown Filipino Neighbors."

Newtonville Woman's Club

Miss Heloise E. Hersey, a well-known reviewer and lecturer on English Literature, will speak before the Newtonville Woman's Club at its regular meeting on Tuesday, January 7th. "Thomas Hardy" will be the subject of her discussion. The Glee Club will sing, and tea will be served by the Hospitality committee.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The Woman's Club of Newton Highlands will open the New Year with the regular meeting on January 7th, at the Congregational Parish House at 2:30 p. m. Some of the members of the Gym Class will present a short "Skit" preceding the lecture. Marguerite E. Lichtenhauer, M.D., will be the speaker for the afternoon. Her subject will be "Preventive Medicine and its Relation to the Psychology of Right Living." A question period will follow, and it is hoped many will avail themselves of this opportunity.

The Club Chorus will resume their rehearsals on Friday, January 3rd, at 10 o'clock, at the Workshop, and will continue the meetings every Friday morning. Any Club members who are interested will be cordially welcomed and now is an excellent time to join as the Chorus will begin rehearsing new selections.

An Astronomy Talk will be given by Mrs. Elizabeth P. Newton, on the Hyde school grounds, on January 8th, at 7 o'clock. If the evening is not fair the talk will take place on the following evening. Everybody is welcome.

Club members and friends who enjoy a Luncheon Bridge should be sure to reserve the date January 20th, when the Philanthropic committee will give one. Tickets may be obtained now from the members of this committee.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet Wednesday morning, January 8th, at 10 o'clock, at the Hunnewell Club. After the business meeting, Miss Florence H. Luscomb will speak on "The Kellogg Pact and After." Mrs. Arthur Kendrick and Miss Margaret H. Aubin will be the hostesses.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club is looking forward with much interest to the program provided for its next meeting on Thursday, January 9th, at the Club House. The Juniors and the Program committee have the affair in charge, and are divulging no details of their Surprise Program.

Newton Community Club

Three interesting events are coming shortly for the Newton Community Club: enjoyment of pictures of an always fascinating country—California; a get-together hike that makes for sociability and better acquaintance; and that always delightful entertainment, amateur dramatics.

On January 9th, at 2:30 p. m., the regular meeting will be held at the Underwood School Hall, when Mr. Henry Warren Poor, who is a world traveler, artist and photographer, will give an illustrated lecture on "California and the Southwest." There will be music and refreshments will be served following the program. The foreign-born women of Newton and friends of the Stone Institute will be guests.

On the evening of January 6th, in the Stearns School Hall, "The Nephew in the House" will be repeated by the Newton Community Club Cast. This meeting will be open to members of various Clubs and to English Classes.

The prospect of a trip to Wayside Inn at a convenient date when the weather is pleasant, should prove a most attractive affair.

Among Group Activities planned there will be a hike by Newton Community Club members on January 16th. All wishing to go are to meet at Underwood School, Vernon street, at 10 a. m., riding to Weston, where the hike will be on the Weston side of the Charles River. If there is snow the plans will be changed. All desiring to go should phone the leader, Mrs. Frank Scofield, or the Public Health Committee chairman, Mrs. Kendall Woodrough.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Literature committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, with Mrs. Elvay Spears as chairman, is offering the third in a series of lectures, to be held in the parlor of the Club House, on Friday, January 10th, at 3:00 p. m. Professor Robert E. Emmons Rogers, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will be the speaker, and he has chosen for his subject "New Fiction in the Light of Old." Tickets at $1.50 a single ticket may be obtained for this lecture from any member of the Literature committee for 75 cents.

Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, chairman of the Music Committee, announces that a director has been obtained, and that if all Club members interested will give their names to any member of the committee, a Club Chorus will be started immediately.

Mrs. Charles Allen Riley, chairman of the American Home committee, would appreciate an early enrollment for the Course in Cooking, to be given by Mrs. Margaret Welmer Hayward, the well-known cooking teacher. These lessons are to be given in the Club House on the first three Wednesday mornings in March, the price for the full Course being $1.50 to a Club member, and $2.00 to anyone outside the Club who may be interested in joining the classes.

The International committee, of which Miss Louise Walworth is chairman, is offering the first of a series of Round Table Discussions to be held on January 15th, at 10:30 a. m. The speaker will be Mr. Elwyn E. Alken, Jr., a graduate of Yale, who has followed carefully the progress of the League of Nations for ten years, and he will lead this particular discussion which is to be on "World Affairs and the League of Nations." The price of a single ticket is 50 cents, or $1.00 for the Course of three discussions.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

"Life in the Colonial Home" will be the subject of an address given by Rev. Lawrence L. Barber at the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Friday, January 10th, at the Unitarian Parish House. The program is sponsored by the American Home committee, Mrs. Ernest F. Robinson, chairman.

Miss Edith Milner, Violinist, from the Perkins Institution of the Blind, will provide the music. Tea and a social hour follow the program.

STATE FEDERATION

CONTRUNDUM TEA. New Year will be most happily celebrated by a novel hospitality on the part of Miss Marion C. Nichols, chairman of the Civil Service Department of the State Federation, in a Tea at her home, 55 Mount Vernon street, Beacon Hill, to which all interested Clubwomen, as well as chairmen of committees allied in interest are invited—from 3 o'clock onward. Those who plan to attend are asked to notify the chairman that they will partake of her hospitality. It is understood that they will then receive from her material which will aid them to pass with glory in the contest of contrundums on the "merit system", for which prizes will be given to winners. The assimilation of tea and information are sure to make a most exhilarating combination of imbibing—a real Boston Tea Party, possibly, should difference of opinion be awakened.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP COURSE. On the other three Mondays of this month, Miss Nichols also opens her home, at 10:30 a. m. for a series of study classes of Good Citizenship Work and the Application of the Merit System to the Public Service. Chairmen of Civil Service, Legislative, or similar committees, and, in fact, all interested Clubwomen are cordially invited to attend these lectures; the first coming on January 13th.

MIDWINTER MEETING. The Midwinter meeting of the State Federation comes on Wednesday, January 22nd, at the Hotel Statler, with one of our own Newton Clubs—the West Newton Women's Educational Club—as hostess. The morning session will open at 9:30 o'clock. One of the speakers will be Hon. Sinclair Weeks, Mayor of Newton, and the address of welcome, will, of course, be given by the hostess Club president, Mrs. Joseph Otis. Full particulars of the program will be given later this month, but Clubwomen are urged to save this date, and are further asked to order luncheon tickets are once—January 15th being the last date they will be received. Checks for $1.50 and a self-addressed, stamped envelope should be sent to Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, 244 Austin street, West Newton. Luncheon will be served at 12:45 in the Georgian Room, and in Parlors A, B, and C. The Georgian Room will accommodate 400 and will be filled first, green tickets being issued for these first comers, and tan tickets for the parlors.

JUNIOR ADVISERS CONFERENCE. A Junior Advisers Conference has been called by Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., chairman of Junior Membership, for Wednesday, January 15th, at 2 o'clock at Federation Headquarters, 687 Boylston street, Boston. All interested Clubwomen are invited. There will be discussion of Junior activities and plans, and tea will be served.

EDUCATION CONFERENCE. An all-day Conference on affairs educational will be held at the Hotel Brunswick, Boston, on Tuesday, the 28th, opening at 10:15 a. m. Tickets for buffet luncheon at $1.25 must be ordered from Mrs. William Brown, Ayer, Mass.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CONFERENCE. On the next day, the 29th, another Conference is planned by the International Relations Department, to be held at the University Club, 40 Trinity place, Boston, in the afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock. Tea tickets should be ordered early, as the number to be issued is limited, from Mrs. Herbert B. Brown, 6 Strathmore road, Wakefield, price 55 cents.

CHORAL CONCERT. All who enjoy the Federation Choral Concerts will be glad of the announcements of this annual affair, coming Saturday evening, February 1st, at 8:15 o'clock, at the Copley Plaza, Boston, when the Society will present as artist singer, the Japanese prima donna soprano, Hizi Koyke. Tickets at $1.50 may be secured from Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman, of East Weymouth.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE
OF REAL ESTATE

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by John Grandman to the Lawyers Title Insurance Company and dated March 18, 1929, and recorded with Mendocino South District Deeds, Book 53, Page 261, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage I do hereby give notice that a public sale for the purpose of foreclosing the said mortgage will be held at public auction at ten minutes past nine o'clock on the 10th day of Tuesday, January 14, 1930, on the premises hereinafter described, all at Mendocino, the premises to be sold by said mortgagee and therein described as follows, to wit:

The land with the buildings thereon situated at the intersection of the highway entitled "Plan of Land in Newton Township" was sold by the Farrow Hill Land Trust made by E. S. Smille, dated June 19, 1870, as shown by the original tract Deeds, at the end of Record Book 4740, and described as follows:

Southerly by Kenrick Street in the City of New York, one hundred feet; easterly by lot eight (8) feet and eight-tenths (.83) feet;

Westerly by land now or late of Farrow Hill Land Trust one hundred feet; southerly by lot four (4) feet;

Northeasterly in two (2) lines by the Farrow Hill Land Trust ninety-two (92) and 35/100 (35.25) feet and a line of twenty-seven (27)-seven (7) and 65/100 (47.65) feet; and Easterly by land of Farrow Hill Land Trust one hundred and eleven (111) feet.

59/100 (59.5%)

Said premises are subject to a dr easement of the City of Newton shown on said plan and on plan dated Decembe r 3, 1909, made by Edw. H. Roger s, City Engineer, recorded with said Dece mber 3, 1909, plan and to restriction s of Book 531, page 498, and to restriction s of record so far as the same may be i n force and applicable."

MORTGAGEE'S SALE
OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale in a certain mortgage given by John H. Roth to Lille P. Brant dated November 20, 1936 and recorded with Middlesex County District Deeds, Book 5034, Page 223, of which mortgage I am undersigned is the present holder, I hereby give notice that on the 1st day of breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction on Thursday, 6 o'clock P. M., on the Thirtieth day of January, A. D. 1930, on the premises hereinbefore described, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, therein described as follows, To wit:

"A certain parcel of land with all the buildings thereon, including all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric light fixtures, and all other fixtures of whatever kind and nature contained in said buildings, situated in Newton, Massachusetts, and the same are shown as lot numbered seven (7) in the following plan of the said Millington, Mass., dated October 16, 1919, by Henry P. Bryant, Engineer, duly sworn to and filed and described as follows:

SOUTHEASTERLY by Proposed Road shown on said plan, 100 (90) feet;

SOUTHWESTERLY by lot 8 on said plan, one hundred one (101) feet;

NORTHWESTERLY by lot 5 on said plan, one hundred one (101) feet;

NORTHEASTERLY by lot 6 on said plan, one hundred eleven (111) feet.

Considered that the area of the above square feet of land, be any or all said contents or measurements more or less.

The premises are conveyed subject to the said easements and to the easements of record so far as the same may now be in force and applicable. This deed is subject to the same as may be recorded herewith."

Finger-Marks Wash Right Off!

It usually happens when Sonny decides to raise the shade to look out of the window, he leaves his finger-marks. No harm is done, however, if the window shades are of du Pont TONTINE for finger-marks, smudges, dust and soil wash right off with soap, hot water and a brush, and their original beauty is restored. TONTINE shades are also waterproof, sun-proof and will not crack, "pin-hole" or fray. With a beautiful, smooth surface to which dust and dirt will not cling, and heavy in weight, they will last for years. A number of your neighbors have recently installed these truly washable window shades because they are so practical, so beautiful and so lasting.

Phone us today and we will gladly send a man to show you samples of the New and Improved du Pont TONTINE.

POLICE NEWS

Wells D. Nourse of Newport, New Hampshire was fined $50 in the Newton court on Friday for driving while under the influence of liquor. Charges against him of passing worthless checks in this city were placed on file when it was learned that he had made restitution for four such checks. But more trouble awaited Nourse. Before he had a chance to leave the courtroom he was arrested by Detective Driscoll of the Boston police on a warrant charging him with the larceny of a $1400 automobile in Holyoke.

In the Newton court on Friday Judge Bacon reduced the bail on John Farina of 215 Adams street, Newton from $50.00 to $50.00. The latter amount was assumed by relatives of Farina and he was released from the jail at Cambridge. Farina is held for the Grand Jury on the charges of attempted breaking and entering and assault with attempt to murder Special Officer Frank Feeley when the latter was pursuing him on Dolphin road, Chestnut Hill.

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday, December 30th, at the Woodland Golf Club at 12:15, President Charles D. Ainsley presiding.

The Honorable Leverett Saltonstall, Speaker of the House, was the guest and speaker of the day. He was introduced to the Club by Frank J. Perry.

Mr. Saltonstall's experience in the House for the last seven years, as well as his services on the Committee on Taxation, furnished plenty of information which was intensely interesting as well as instructive. Over fourteen hundred bills are introduced to the House annually for action, which gives us a little idea of the work done by that body.

He further stated that the "Pay As You Go" plan has been carried out through the last four administrations, under Governors Coolidge, Cox, Fuller, and Allen. In the last ten years the net State debt has been reduced from forty million dollars to eleven million dollars at the present time. Of the total amount derived from taxes in this State, sixty-nine per cent of the amount comes from taxes on real estate, eleven per cent on personal property and intangibles, the remaining twenty per cent from all other sources.

This meeting being a joint meeting of the Rotary Club of Waltham, as guest of the Newton Rotary Club, gave Mr. Saltonstall a much larger audience than the regular Club meeting. The Attendance Contest between the Watertown Rotary Club and the Newton Club starts the first of the year. The Club showing the best attendance during the period of the contest will be the guest of the losing Club at a dinner. The place cannot be decided until the end of the contest when the winner is determined.

Karl W. Switzer, who has been confined to his home by illness for the past two weeks, is much improved according to the report last Monday.

Bill To Extend Subway To Newton Is Filed

Legislature Probably Will Not Pass Extensive Measure

A bill filed by Representative Martin Hays of Brighton would extend the Boylston street subway from Governor Square through Commonwealth avenue to Brookline and through Commonwealth and Brighton avenues, Cambridge and Tremont streets, Brighton, and Tremont street, Newton, to Nonantum Square. This is one of the most pretentious of all the schemes to relieve the transportation difficulties and improve the service west of Boston. It has stronger backing than many of the bills filed in previous years on the same subject, but it is doubtful if so gigantic a scheme is received with favor this year at least.

"AN IDEAL HUSBAND"

The four-act play, "An Ideal Husband," was given last Friday evening by C. Edmund Nell as the third number on the Reading Course which the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church is putting on this winter.

Mr. Nell's ability to assume the characters of the English lords and ladies in the play, which takes place in London, was amazing. The change from the short, stout, crotchety old gentleman, Lord Goring, to the tall, monocled English duke was nothing less than magic while the transformation, in a second with no additional make up, from the tall genial Sir Robert Chilton to the square shouldered stolid butler, Nelson, was as great a surprise. Mr. Nell showed equal skill in portraying the female characters in the play. He was equally good in the role of Mrs. Cheeverly who attempted to blackmail Sir Robert Chilton and in that of Lady Chilton who was a loyal wife. Mr. Nell made his characters so real that one half expected to see them actually appear on the stage.

Mr. Nell's popularity as a teacher was shown by the presence in the audience of a number of his pupils from both the Boston University School of Theology and from the Newton Theological Seminary, where he is an instructor in voice.

The Misses Janice Stange, Martha Olcott, Grace Taylor, and Mary Jane Rallsback acted as ushers and the candy vendors were the Misses Florence Grethe, Maxine Ellis, and Marian Hicks, who were assisted by the Church School teacher, Mrs. W. H. Timbie.

The committee in charge is pleased with the growing popularity of the course, which is shown by the increasingly large numbers who attend each succeeding play.

The next play will be given in the assembly room of the church, Friday evening, January 24, at 8.00 p. m. The reader will be Elizabeth Pooler Rice, who will present A. A. Milne's play "Mr. Pim Passes By."

MRS. WENONA OSBORNE PINKHAM

Mrs. Wenona Osborne Pinkham of 175 Warren street, Newton Centre, died on Wednesday, January 8. She had a shock on December 27 and was taken to the Newton Hospital. Mrs. Pinkham was born in Longmont, Colorado 47 years ago and when she was 10 years old removed to Denver, Colorado with her parents. She graduated from High School in that city at the age of 15 and entered the normal school. Forced by the death of her father to assist in the support of five younger brothers and sisters, she began teaching at the age of eighteen and taught in the Denver public schools for eight years, studying in the meantime at the University of Denver and obtaining the degree of A. B. She taught in the Denver High School for two years and then married Rev. Henry W. Pinkham.

Coming east to reside she offered her services to the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage Association and served as state chairman of organization. After women had won the right to vote, Mrs. Pinkham became the secretary of the League of Women Voters and seven years ago she became executive secretary of the Massachusetts Civic League. She was a member of the State conference on Social Work, the advisory council on Crime Prevention and the National Economic League. She was unusually well informed on legislative matters and was one of those responsible for the law providing wages for prisoners and the Padlock Law.

She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Miss Louisa Pinkham. Her funeral service will be held Sunday afternoon at 3:15 at the Newton Centre Unitarian Church.

City Employees Hold Annual Installation

A. L. Moriarty President for Fourteenth Term

The annual installation of the officers of the Newton local, State Federation of City Employees was held Friday evening, December 10 at Bay State Hall, Newton. President A. L. Moriarty presided and the installing officer was Keiran Mulvey of Brookline, Vice President of the State Federation, assisted by M. J. McCarthy of Cambridge. The following officers were installed: President, for the fourteenth consecutive term, A. L. Moriarty; Vice president, Maurice Quinn; financial secretary, Daniel F. Roche; recording secretary, William J. McCarthy; treasurer, Jeremiah Herlihy; conductor, John Shannon; inside sentinel, John Wolfe; trustees, B. Flaherty, William F. McGrath, and James Milford; finance committee, Albert B. Morse, John Russo and Patrick Campbell; delegates to the convention, A. L. Moriarty, William J. McCarthy, Daniel F. Roche, Maurice O. Quinn, and J. Herlihy.

Mayor Sinclair Weeks telephoned his regrets at being unable to attend because of the serious illness of his mother. Members of the Board of Aldermen who were present and addressed the members of the local included Aldermen Bail, Floyd, Hawkins, Holden, Gordon, Grebenstein, Mansfield, Powers, Prior, Smith, Temperley and Woodcock. Among the matters discussed were the laying off of 100 laborers from the Street Department on December 31. It was explained that because of the unusual amount of work done during 1929 many extra employees had been hired and that most of those laid off are men who have entered the city's employ recently. During the past week work has been found for a number of these, but unless heavy snow falls during the next couple of weeks the prospect of employment for all of those made idle is not very favorable. In accordance with civil service regulations seniority is supposed to be observed when city employees are laid off.

Mr. Mulvey told of the conditions enjoyed by the employees of the Town of Brookline where laborers are accorded vacations the same as other classes of town employees. A collation was served.

LILLIAN M. SHERIDEN

Mrs. Lillian M. (Dawson) Sheriden wife of Hugh B. Sheriden died at the Newton Hospital on January 5 of a two weeks' illness of lobar pneumonia. She was in her 28th year. She leaves two sons Philip age 7 years, Hugh B. Jr. age 5 months and five sisters, Mrs. Edward Douglas and Mrs. E. A. Rousseau of North Adams, Mrs. Geo. Mooney and Mrs. Wm. H. Pitts of Boston and Mrs. Joseph Osborne of Salem and two brothers, Mr. John Dawson and Mr. George Dawson of Boston.

Funeral services were held from her late home at 1084 Chestnut street, Upper Falls at 8:15 followed by a requiem mass at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church at 9 o'clock. Interment was at Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

FORESTERS INSTALL OFFICERS

Court Crystal Lake, No. 236, of the Foresters of America, held their annual installation of officers in Forester's Hall, Pettee street, Upper Falls, Monday, January 6, at 7 p. m. The following officers were installed by Worthy Deputy Grand Jr. Beadel, Roland P. Kemp and staff.

Chief Ranger, Reginald Cooper; Senior chief ranger, John R. Young; financial secretary, F. L. Pitts; treasurer, Percy L. Marden; recording secretary, Charles G. Marden; senior warden, Elmer Phelps; junior warden, Thomas Lynch; senior beadle, John E. Byrne; junior beadle, Daniel Kerr; lecturer, Geo. Simons; trustee for the 3 years, Geo. Simonds; 2 years, Lawrence Duette; and one year, James Lacy.

At the close of the lodge a short address by Chief Ranger Geo. Simons outlining the benefits of membership in the order. An interesting program was provided with refreshments for 100 guests. The entertainment consisted of boxing bouts and Capt. J. L. Theronin of the General Electric Co. and team showed their skill at fencing. Fred Mosley, instructor of the G. E. Feney Club, gave an exhibition of club swinging, followed by character dancing by Martin Silver of Waltham. Songs were rendered by Mr. Thos. Lynch and Mr. Patrick Hughes accompanied by Mr. William MacKenzie.

Mrs. J. W. Weeks Dies At Her Home In Boston

Interment In Arlington Cemetery At Washington

Interment services for Martha Sinclair Weeks, widow of Secretary of War John W. Weeks and mother of Mayor Sinclair Weeks of Newton, took place Thursday, January 9th, in the National Cemetery at Arlington, Va. Col. John T. Axton, Retired, former Chief Chaplain of the United States Army, officiated. Members of the Weeks family, relatives and intimate friends attended.

Mrs. Weeks, who before her marriage was Martha A. Sinclair, daughter of Attorney John E. Sinclair of Littleton, N. H., died in her home, 68 Beacon street, Boston, last Sunday evening. She had been in ill health for a number of years, but was taken seriously ill the Sunday preceding Christmas. Her daughter, Mrs. John Washington Daxter, a long living Democrat of New Hampshire had been candidate for Governor and United States Senator and her brother, Charles A. Sinclair of Portsmouth, N. H., was likewise active. Mrs. Weeks met Mr. Weeks at the Sinclair home in Florida and was married later in the same year. They had four children, four years after his graduation from the U. S. Naval Academy. A short time after their marriage, Mr. Weeks left his employment as a surveyor in Florida and returned to Boston to become a partner in the brokerage firm of Hornblower & Page, now Hornblower & Weeks.

The political career of John W. Weeks began soon after and was continuous for more than 20 years, including service in the city government of Newton, in the House of Representatives and in the Senate in Washington. He was a member of the cabinet of Presidents Harding and Coolidge as Secretary of War. During her many years in the capital city, Mrs. Weeks was one of the most attractive and cultivated women of the official society there. She was less known, however, to many of the women in the city's society life because of her great aversion to the limelight. While her husband was serving in the House and Senate she never gave an interview or allowed her photograph to be published.

Mr. Weeks had often attributed much of his success to his wife and declared her to be a woman of unusual mental poise and judgment, with a grasp on public questions and business affairs that brought him to her frequently with his problems. They had two children, Katherine Sinclair Weeks, now Mrs. J. W. Daxter of Washington, D. C., and Daniel Weeks, the new Mayor of Newton. She also has a sister, Mrs. C. J. Fowler of West Newton.

Mrs. Helen Knowlton Gibson of 326 Highland street, West Newton, died on Wednesday, January 8. She was born at Rockford, Illinois, in 1861 and graduated from Bradford Academy and in 1886 married Charles E. Gibson. In 1889 Mr. and Mrs. Gibson moved to West Newton and for 40 years she was active in the social life of that community. She was a member of the Congregational Church, Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., a director of the Stoughton School Centre and formerly a director of the Pomeroy Home. She is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Arthur Jacks of Great Neck, New York, and three sons—Charles E. Gibson of Alamosa, Colorado, Stuart K. and James W. Gibson of West Newton. Her funeral services will be held this afternoon at her late home, Rev. Boynton Merrill officiating.

The Xmas decorative lighting display of John J. Donovan of Alban road, Waban, has been awarded a first place tie in the recent contest for prizes conducted by the Edison Company.

At a meeting of the Garden City Mutual Aid Association held Wednesday evening, January 8, at the home of James J. Kivlehan, 313 Lexington street, Auburndale, the officers elected for the ensuing year were A. L. Moriarty, President; W. U. Fogwill, Vice-President; F. H. Burbank, secretary and James J. Kivlehan, Treasurer. Messrs. W. U. Fogwill, William Hazlett and William Connors were appointed members of the Finance committee.

MARY L. WHITCOMB

Mary L. Whitcomb of 45 Pelham street, Newton Centre, died on January 7. She was born 68 years ago in East Randolph, the daughter of Sumner and Harmony Noyes Whitcomb and had resided in this city for 60 years. Her funeral service is being held this afternoon from the funeral home of E. T. and N. W. Sampson in Brookton. Burial will be in Union Cemetery in that city.

JEFFERSON CLUB WHIST

The Jefferson Club of Newton will hold a Whist, Bridge and 45 Party in Dennison Hall, Newtonville tonight, January 10 at 8 o'clock.

THOMAS W. SHAPLEIGH

Thomas W. Shapleigh, who was for many years connected with the American Sugar Refinery Company until his retirement about twenty years ago, died Thursday, January 9, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George W. Barker, 31 Dunklee street, Newton Highlands.

Mr. Shapleigh, who was in his 90th year, was born at Portland, Maine. He was a member of Co. A, 45th Massachusetts Infantry during the Civil War. He was a member of Charles Ward Post 62, G. A. R., and was one of the two surviving charter members of the Joseph Webb Lodge of Masons of Boston. He had been active in Masonry up until a few years ago.

Masonic funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at Mount Auburn Chapel. Mr. Shapleigh is survived by his daughter, Mrs. George W. Barker and a son, Bertram Shapleigh of Chicago.

Local Realtors Form Real Estate Board

James W. Gibson Head of New Organization

After a series of discussions and meetings during the past several weeks a number of prominent realtors of the city met in the office of James W. Gibson in Newton Centre on January 2nd and organized a Newton Board of the Boston Real Estate Exchange. The Boston Real Estate Exchange authorizes such subordinate boards in localities outside of Boston under such regulations as may be prescribed. The Newton Board adopted a set of by-laws which has been approved by the directors of the Boston Exchange.

The object of the organization is to stabilize and standardize the methods of practice and procedure in the real estate business in Newton through official meetings of the board. It is looked upon as a long forward step in real estate interests of Metropolitan Boston and Newton in particular. Under a provision of the by-laws of the Boston Exchange the chairman of the local board becomes a director of the parent organization.

The organization of the local board is as follows: James W. Gibson, chairman; Paul R. Tucker, vice-chairman; Lincoln Alvord, secretary-treasurer. The committees named are R. M. Patterson, publicity; Paul R. Tucker, A. G. Campion and Thomas H. Burns, membership; Mahlon W. Hill, activities.

Offices represented at the organization meeting were Alvord Bros., John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., Walter Channing, Inc., George Dill, Edmunds and Byfield, James W. Gibson, Mahlon W. Hill, Chas. E. Howe Co., R. M. Patterson, and Henry W. Savage, Inc.

Dr. C. N. Arbuckle To Speak At Newtonville

Newtonville Council of Religious Education To Meet

Dr. Charles N. Arbuckle, Pastor of the Newton Centre Baptist Church, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Newtonville Council of Religious Education which will be held in the Methodist Church Chapel on Tuesday evening, January 14th, at eight o'clock. Dr. Arbuckle will speak on "The Necessity of Religious Education," stressing particularly the need for co-operative movement for week-day religious instruction in Newtonville.

This subject is one which is claiming the attention of parents in many communities, not only in this state but throughout the country.

All parents in Newtonville are cordially invited to hear Dr. Arbuckle who is now doing outstanding work in religious education in his own church and in the Newton Seminary where he is a professor in the Department of Homiletics.

Professor J. Mace Andrews of the Central Congregational Church is the chairman of the Newtonville Council of Religious Education and will preside at this meeting.

The co-operating churches in the Council are: The Central Congregational Church; The Church of the New Jerusalem; The Methodist Episcopal Church; St. John's Episcopal Church, and The Unitarian Church.

NEWTON KIWANIS CLUB

The regular monthly business meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held Tuesday at the Newton Centre Woman's Club Building. Past President James P. Gallagher installed Clement Hernandez as President of the club for the ensuing year. The report of the treasurer was read by George White and the names of several proposed new members were announced. The retiring president, Walter Whalin was praised for the excellent work he had performed during the past year in building up the club.

A letter of sympathy was sent to Mayor Weeks on the death of his mother.

Rev. Maurice Bullock invited the members to attend a reception to be held next Sunday night at the Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, Auburndale, to Rev. Earl Harper, formerly a prominent member of Newton Kiwanis Club and now President of a college at Evansville, Indiana.

President Hernandez announced the numerous committees for the ensuing year.

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

On Sunday, Jan. 12, at the Lincoln Park Baptist church, West Newton, at 7:45 p. m., there will be an anniversary prohibition service under the auspices of the West Newton W. C. T. U., with Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton, president of Middlesex W. C. T. U. as guest.

On January 15 there will be a supper at the Lincoln Park Baptist church under the auspices of the West Newton W. C. T. U., followed by a special public meeting to celebrate the tenth anniversary of national prohibition with Mrs. Emma Gleason, president of Massachusetts W. C. T. U. as guest.

INCREASE OF MILLION

At the annual meeting of the Trustees of the Newton Savings Bank held on Tuesday, the Treasurer reported that the deposits amounted to more than $13,000,000, an increase of almost exactly $1,000,000 since the last annual meeting. The Trustees voted to pay a dividend of 5 1/2% on the tenth instant, being at the same rate as the last previous dividend.

All officers were re-elected for the year 1930.

RESIGNS AS TRUSTEE

Mr. Grosvenor Calkins of Newton has submitted his resignation as a member of the Board of Read Fund and Eliot Memorial Trustees to Mayor Weeks. He has been a member of these boards for twelve years.

Newton Central Council Holds Lengthy Discussion On Cancer

Doctors Tell of Work in Cancer Clinic and Need of Educating The Public Regarding Disease

The members of the Conference on Welfare Problems and the Health Division held a joint meeting at the Newton Hospital on Wednesday, January 8. An enjoyable luncheon was served by the hospital to 84 guests.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Marshall, chairman, turned the conference over to the presiding officer for the day, Dr. George L. West, Chairman of the Cancer Committee in Newton. Dr. West, after extending a welcome to the Conference from the Board of Trustees and from the Staff of the Newton Hospital, introduced in turn the speakers of the day, Dr. Leonard, head of the Cancer Clinic at the Newton Hospital; Dr. Grantley W. Taylor, Assistant Surgeon, Massachusetts General Hospital, and Resident Surgeon, Collis P. Huntington Hospital; Mr. U. G. Wheeler, Superintendent of Schools in Newton; and Dr. George H. Bigelow, Public Health Commissioner of Massachusetts.

Dr. Leonard gave a short report of the Cancer Clinic at the Newton Hospital, which for the past year he considers has been on the down grade. In 1928 there were 31 patients receiving treatment at the clinic, while during the past year there have been only 4. In 1928 there were 72 deaths in Newton due to cancer, in 1929, 63 deaths. Outstanding in his mind are the cases of two patients, both women, one of whom had been carrying a lump in her breast for 20 years before coming for treatment, the other's symptom, excessive flow at the time of menopause, was of 10 years' duration. He emphasized the fact that cancer taken early can be cured, later it cannot, and stressed the necessity for more education.

Dr. Taylor began by emphasizing Dr. Leonard's final remark, that education is the keynote in bringing about early recognition of cancer—education of the public, of the general practitioner, and finally of the surgeon who will have ultimate charge of the case. Periodic health examinations for everyone can do much to help in recognizing disease, but here again doctors and nurses must help by thorough and intelligent co-operation. There is a general attitude of pessimism in regard to cancer which is not entirely justified. Even though one in every seven persons die of cancer, the other six are still going to die of something sooner or later, and we should be encouraged by the thought that the disease can be cured in its early stages, that it is not contagious, that there is no stigma attached and finally that a patient, even in an incurable stage, can be made more comfortable by x-ray and various operations. Dr. Taylor urged that the Cancer Clinic be made active in Newton once more.

Mr. Wheeler began by contrasting the physician of 60 years ago with the medical profession of today. 60 years ago the family doctor drove many miles with a trunk full of medicine for the relief of his patients, and was paid for the medicine, but not one cent for his time or services. In this respect times have certainly changed! Although Mr. Wheeler's early ambition was to be a physician, fate turned him toward the field of education. However, his interest in health has always been great and at the present time the Newton schools have a system of health education which is unique. Eventually doctors are going to come to the schools for help in stamping out cancer; and if, at the present time anything teachable can be placed in the hands of teachers and pupils about cancer, so that it may reach the parents, the school department stands ready to co-operate in any way.

Dr. Bigelow, who was introduced by Dr. West as a pioneer in cancer work, again urged education and more education. He feels that the schools are helping by periodic examinations which are accustoming children to the idea of seeing a physician regularly when they are well.

The first health clinic for cancer was started in Newton, and while it may have been on the down grade for the past year as Dr. Leonard says, still it should be given a fair trial before it is condemned. If ever two patients come to the clinic as result of education, and even one of these is cured, the clinic has been most worthwhile.

The resources in Massachusetts are plenty. The big question is how to fully utilize them. The hospital at Pondville, has 1000 patients each year, and twice that number in its clinic. There are 17 clinics in the state, more than ever before. A study of the resources of every city and town should be made to determine where people with cancer are getting help, and where the resources are. This is being done already in many cities. For example, Springfield, Lowell, Worcester, Cambridge. And the people of Newton should not feel that such a study is not necessary just because they are a wealthy city. Cancer is no respecter of economics and the people who attend the clinics are not paupers. Anyone may obtain information, which is then reported to the patient's family physician.

There are many ways in which publicity may be given: through the newspapers; through literature; through speakers at women's clubs; through films; two of which are for free distribution by the state.

Even after the disease has been reported there is often a shocking delay before there is any treatment. The average delay is now six and one-half months, and has increased since the clinic was started three years ago. The reason for the delay is lack of pain in early stages of the disease, and lack of faith in doctors. What is needed is the support of intelligent, informed public opinion.

RECENT ENGAGEMENTS

NEWTON BEATS MEDFORD 43-33

The Newton high school track team captured its tenth consecutive dual track meet yesterday afternoon by defeating Medford High 43 to 33 on the Huntington School track at the Boston Y. M. C. A. The experience and confidence which the untested orange and black team gained last Saturday in the meet with Watertown was sufficient to enable the Newton team to keep up under the pressure. The outcome of the meet was not determined until Newton won the final event, the relay. Medford was trailing by five points going into the final event and had they won the relay would have tied Newton.

Walter Holmes of Newton was the surprise of the meet. He did not report to the Newton squad until Monday afternoon and to the surprise of many, including the Newton coach, Donald Enoch, he won the dash. This gave Newton the right start. Captain Charles Hall of Newton was the individual star of the meet, capturing two first places. He turned in first in the hurdles and the 600-yard run. The latter was a thrilling event with the leading changing twice. Miller of Medford, who won the 300-yard run, gave Hall a battle but the Newton runner had the stuff to win out, proving that he will be one of the foremost 600-yard runners in the coming interscholastic meets. Fred Mouser of Newton took second in the 300 which was run against time. Mouser and Miller were in the same heat but Mouser's time was better than that of Hersey of Medford who won his heat.

The 1000-yard run was another spectacular race with Jackson of Medford taking an early lead and keeping in front until the gun lap. Vincent Signore of Newton, who was on Jackson's heels all the way, jumped into the lead on the final lap and broke the tape a winner by nine yards. Gus Signore, brother of Vincent, was a close third.

In the shot put A. DeBenedictis of Medford was the favorite to win but he was closely pressed by James Colligen of Newton. The Medford weight man took first with a toss of 44 feet 3 inches and Colligen second almost a foot behind. The winning toss was a few inches shy of Colligen's best heave last Saturday so some interesting battles are assured between these two athletes in coming interscholastic meets.

Irwin and Guzzi gave Newton a lead on the first two legs of the relay race but Roundtree of Medford passed Robert Bell of Medford did not hold the advantage long as Fred Mouser jumped Jackson of Medford and broke the tape a winner.

The summary:
45-yd. Dash—Won by Holmes (N); Pushard (M) 2nd; Higgins (M) 3rd. 5-25s.

45-yd. Hurdles—Won by Hall (N); Pushard (M) 2nd; Panzai (M) 3rd. 6-15s.

300-yd. Run—Won by Miller (M); Mouser (N) 2nd; Hersey (M) 3rd. 37-35s.

600-yd. Run—Won by Hall (N); Miller (M) 2nd; Roundtree (M) 3rd. 1m. 23-55s.

1000-yd. Run—Won by V. Signore (N); Jackson (M) 2nd; A. Signore (N) 3rd. 2m. 35-25s.

High Jump—Won by Green (N) 5ft. 5in.; Packard (M) 2nd; McCarthy (M) 3rd.

Broad Jump—Won by Offutt (N) 8 ft. 11 1/4 in.; Wilson (M) 2nd; Pushard (M) 3rd.

Shotput (12-lb.)—Won by DeBenedictis (M) 44ft. 3in.; Colligen (N) 2nd; Taylor (N) 3rd.

Relay—Won by Newton (Irwin, Guzzi, R. Bell, Mouser); Medford (Miller, Sprout, Roundtree, Jackson) 2m. 24s.

TRACK TEAM WINS FROM WATERTOWN

The Newton high school indoor track team successfully opened the 1930 season last Saturday on its own track defeating the Watertown runners, 51 1/2 to 25 1/2. It was Newton's ninth consecutive dual meet victory. The orange and black showed a well-balanced aggregation in winning six of the eight first places. Watertown won the relay easily after Quinlan, Newton's first runner, fell and lost his baton on the second lap. Milton Green was the outstanding performer with first places in both the high jump and broad jump. Keeley and Van Curen performed well for Watertown the former winning the dash, placing third in the 300 and the hurdles, and running anchor on the relay. Van Curen won the hurdles and placed third in the 600-yard run.

The visitors went into a lead of 11 to 7 in the first two events, the dash and hurdles. Captain Charles Hall took second in the hurdles and third in the 300 and the hurdles, and running anchor on the relay. Van Curen won the hurdles and placed third in the 600-yard run.

OPEN CATHOLIC BASKET LEAGUE

Opening games in the Greater Boston Catholic High School basketball league were played Wednesday afternoon. Our Lady of the Sacred Heart won its opening game with St. Mary's of Brookline, 41 to 10 while Mission High of Roxbury and Immaculate Conception of Revere were defeating their respective opponents, Cathedral High of South Boston and St. Clement's of Somerville.

Our Lady and St. Mary teams played at the Brookline gymnasium with Newton taking a commanding lead in the first half. At half time Our Lady's High was leading 19 to 4. The feature play of the Newton five was contributed by Gallagher and Lamsed. They scored 18 of the 41 points.

Next Wednesday the Our Lady High team will play Cathedral High on the Newton court.

SPORT NOTES

Coach Houghton Returns

Donald Houghton of Waban, coach of athletics at the St. Charles High School of Waltham, has returned from a six weeks' trip to San Francisco.

Wales Lost To Centre

Edward F. Wales, one of Newton Centre's outstanding squash tennis players, has been lost to his club team for the remainder of the State inter-club series. Newton Centre has set a fast pace from the start of the series and the loss of Wales may mean an important bearing on the final outcome of the race in Class A. Wales has gone to Maine on business. His place has been taken by Dr. John W. Cooke, brother of Richard, the Union Boat Club player. Newton Centre entertains the Tennis & Racquet Club team tomorrow night and hopes to protect its lead which has been reduced to one point over the Union Boat Club group. The latter play Harvard at Cambridge tomorrow which may simplify the local team's task.

"Y" Junior Mermen Win

The Newton "Y" Junior swimming team defeated the Somerville "Y" juniors last Saturday in the Newton tank, 38 to 13, taking first places in all six events. McNamara of Newton was the individual star with three first places, the 20-yard breaststroke, 100-yard freestyle and the dive. Anderson of Newton totalled 13 points taking the 20-yard freestyle and the 20-yard backstroke and second in the 100. The Newton relay team, composed of Guthrie, Kasper, Wittens and Batstone, were the victors. Batstone won thirds in both the 20 and 100 yard freestyle backstroke while other Newton points were scored by Cann, third in the breaststroke and Wittens third in the dive.

"Y" Five Wins

Last Saturday night the Newton "Y" basketball team easily defeated the Universalist B. A. C. at the North Junior High School floor in Waltham, 51 to 13. Joe Purcell, Newton forward, practically defeated the Watch City team single handed scoring 25 of the Newton points.

Newton Centre Leads

Although idle last Saturday the Newton Centre team continues to lead the Class A division of the State inter-club squash racquets series. Harvard drew up on the heels of the South side team by taking three out of five from the Tennis & Racquet club. In Class B the Newton Centre team is in third place but one point behind the individual star with three first places, the 20-yard breaststroke, 100-yard freestyle and the dive. Anderson of Newton totalled 13 points taking the 20-yard freestyle and the 20-yard backstroke and second in the 100. The Newton relay team, composed of Guthrie, Kasper, Wittens and Batstone, were the victors. Batstone won thirds in both the 20 and 100 yard freestyle backstroke while other Newton points were scored by Cann, third in the breaststroke and Wittens third in the dive.

In Class C matches the Harvard freshmen defeated Country Day, 4 to 1, with M. D. Clark of Country Day scoring the only point for the local private school. Newton Centre defeated the Tennis & Racquet Club team 3 to 2 with LeBaron, Arnold and Hayden winning. The Union B. C. allowed Newton Centre but one point which was won by T. Shirley.

In Class D the Newton "Y" team continues to press the leaders. The local team defeated the Harvard Club, division leaders, 3 to 2 last Saturday. Roberts, Millard and Sullivan captured points for the "Y" in four game matches. The Union Boat Club team blanked the Newton Club team at Newtonville while Weston allowed Country Day but one point on the latter's courts. Thorndike of Country Day saved a shutout.

Wanderers Whipped

The Auburndale Wanderers were defeated on Bullough's pond last Sunday by the West Roxbury Whippets who captured their first straight victory. Sullivan saved Auburndale a shut out, the final score being 7 to 1.

HOCKEY TEAM TO OPEN AT ARENA

The Newton High School hockey team will open its 1930 season tomorrow afternoon at the Boston Arena as part of a triple-header in the Greater Boston Interscholastic league preliminary round games. The season was scheduled to open last week Wednesday with the alumni but the mild weather forced the calling off of that game as well as those of Thursday, Saturday, Monday and Wednesday. In tomorrow's game Newton will face Belmont. The orange and black was to meet Arlington on Monday. This game will probably be played in the Arena at a future date. The games with the M. I. T. freshman and Boston English High School will probably not be played off as the local schedule is filled up when there is available ice.

Dr. Martin has had little opportunity to test out the various members of this year's squad with the exception of a practice scrimmage last Saturday morning with some of the alumni, Jimmy Brown, Joe Gilligan, Harold Andres, and Albie Fletcher composed the nucleus of the alumni group.

Newton has lost a promising wing in Bill Donnelly, star junior golfer, who has become ineligible but hopes to raise his scholastic marks in order to get back on the squad before the end of the season. Richard Kelley and George Hildreth are the probable starting wings. Both were members of last year's junior varsity team. Captain Fred Schipper, the only letter man on the squad will start at centre. On the defence will be Gordon Lindberg and Walter Billings. The former is a transfer from Illinois and the latter a 1928 junior varsity player.

The net problem is the biggest from the point of view of the Newton coach. Not in years has the outlook been so discouraging but one of the three leading candidates for the position may blossom out into a real find with a little experience. Edgar Moore, the 185-lb. football guard, Edward Smith, a former intermediate varsity goalie, and Alling Woodruff, a newcomer, are staging a close race for the starting call.

As a second forward line Dr. Martin is grooming Warren Colby, Phil Layton and Kosros Kosoroff. Francis Chase and Norman Appleyard have also earned ratings as varsity forwards while Charles Butler and Natosle Sostilio are spare defense players.

The Belmont six, which offers Newton its first scholastic competition of the season, will be composed of inexperienced players also. Coach Edgar Burkhardt, well-known Newton man who was a star on the high school six here some years ago, is again handling the Belmont squad. He has Edward King as the only experienced hockey player on the squad.

Garrison at Centre

Johnny Garrison of West Newton, who learned his hockey at Country Day school, has been shifted back to the forward line by Coach Joe Stubbs of the Harvard varsity. In the early season games Garrison has been playing defence but the Crimson was not going any too well and the local victory is now back at the centre position. In Monday night's games with M. I. T. which Harvard won, 8 to 1, Garrison scored the first goal. Later he figured in another point on a pass to Everett.

Kelley in Boxing Tourney

Charles Kelley of Newton won his way to the semi-finals of the 147-lb. class in the Golden Rule tourney at Mechanics Building on Monday night but lost to DeRosa of East Boston in a three round decision. Kelley was the top favorite to win the class title which eventually went to Merlin of Rosindale. De Rosa had the better of the first two rounds but in the third was nearly out from Kelley's punches to the jaw. Had the bout gone another round Kelley might well have had his man.

Colburn at New Hampshire

George C. Colburn, Jr., of Newton is among the veteran defence players on the New Hampshire University hockey team which was to have opened its season with Northeastern last Saturday.

Newton "Y" Wrestlers Win

The Newton "Y" wrestlers pinned a 20 to 10 defeat on the Salem wrestlers Wednesday night on the Newton mats. The summary:
118-Pound Class—Bazarian (N) beat Brosque (S), decision, 9m.
126-Pound Class—Cassidy (S) beat Ledger (N), fall, inside crotch, 14m.
135-Pound Class—Sporer (N) beat Muzzi (S), decision, 9m.
147-Pound Class—Evans (N) beat McCarthy (S), fall, half nelson and body hold, 5m.; Vachon (N) beat Deauserau (S), decision, 9m.
160-Pound Class—Arsenault (N) beat Welsh (S), decision, 9m.; Childs (N) beat Welsh (S), decision, 9m.
175-Pound Class—Monahan (S) beat Scott (N), fall, inside crotch and arm bar, 8m.

Rice Vs. Cooke in Final

At 5:30 this afternoon William H. Rice, Jr., of the Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club and Richard C. Cooke of the Union Boat Club will meet on the Newton Centre courts in the final round of the Middlesex Bowl tourney. Rice is defending the title which he won last year and will seek to gain his second leg on the trophy. Both Rice and Cooke gained the final round Wednesday afternoon. Rice defeated Wm. Howe, teammate of Cooke's on the Union B. C. team in three straight games, 15-10, 15-4, 15-11. Cooke had a hard battle on his hands in eliminating Paul B. Watson, Jr., of the Harvard Club, holder of two legs on the bowl. This match went to five games with Cooke finally pulling out the victory, 5-15, 15-6, 15-11, 15-16, 18-16.

Harvard Swamps Michigan

Wednesday night at the Garden rink the Harvard varsity hockey team met with but little opposition from Michigan Tech with the Crimson blanking their Western opponents, 11 to 0. Johnny Garrison, West Newton youth, tallied three counters. Frank Stubbs, Jr., younger brother of the Harvard coach, got into the game. In the game with Toronto a week or more previous Stubbs took a nasty fall which resulted in what was first thought to have produced a serious injury. Such was not the case and Stubbs may soon gain back his starting berth.

Hub Team Wins

The University Club hockey team defeated the St. John's Beavers at the Arena Wednesday night, 6 to 2. Former local players took a prominent part in the Hub team's victory. Clark Hodder, who recently returned from New York, and who was playing his first game of the year with the Club sextet, scored one goal on a pass from Blaney, a Waban and former Williams man. Later this pair teamed up again with Blaney caging the disc on a pass from Hodder.

Fourth Captain from Newton
Stuart Stone of West Newton is the fourth consecutive captain of Bowdoin hockey teams to come from Newton.

Newton League Bowling

The Newton league bowlers rolled their first matches in the interclub Boston pin tourney Wednesday night. Two additional teams have been admitted to the league. They are Weston and the University Club. The former celebrated its first match with a clean sweep over Waban. Waban made their visitors roll, however, with Weston hitting 1635 and Waban 1603. Weston had the high team single with 579 while Tyson of Waban had the high single with 151 and Bloomfield of Waban high had high three string at 886-135, 107, 144. In Weston's high team single the scores were 123, 114, 121, 110, 111. Hunnewell took three out of four from Commercial of Brockton while Loring leading the match with 106, 103, 134. Middlesex blanked the Newton Club while Manguis and University split even.

OPENING OF DANCING CLASSES IN NEWTONVILLE

Miss Ina Mae Bentley announces the opening of dancing classes to be held in the Newton Club, Newtonville. Miss Bentley is a pupil of Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn.
There will be a class for high school girls, consisting of bar and floor work, Oriental and Greek dances, and Denishawn Plastiques. There will also be a class in tap and clog routines. This same course is open to the young married women; they will have their own separate hour.
Another class will be devoted to women who are desirous of reducing in an altogether pleasing and not too strenuous manner. Miss Bentley has studied the German dancing method—a delightful and vigorous form of the dance. The movements are big—dramatic, thoroughly beautiful and have proved most effective in reducing the weight. The German work will be presented in conjunction with the Denishawn work.
For further information, write Miss Bentley at 1800 Beacon Street, Waban. Advertisement.

HUDSON-ESSEX

This year two entirely new cars are offered in the 1930 models of the Hudson and the Essex. The Hudson is a fine, fast, powerful Eight with a powerful motor; in riding ease and roadability it is not excelled by any car at any price. From front end to tail light it is a new design that in appearance and finish is commandingly beautiful. And the price for which it sells questions the wisdom of ever paying more for any car. The prices range from $1050 for the coach to $1650 for the 7 passenger sedan.

The Essex has a larger and smoother motor, larger bodies, greater power, faster speed, added economy. The bodies are longer, wider, lower.

It challenges your interest with big car comfort and spaciousness. The prices, F. O. B. Detroit are $735 for the coupe, $765 for the coach, $825 for the standard Sedan and $895 for the Brougham. The 1930 Essex is a thoroughbred automobile. Buy your 1930 Hudson or Essex from F. W. Lane, 399 Washington street, Newton. Get the advantage of local service.

CHRYSLER Dealers for Newton.

CHRYSLER

Leaders are born—not made! If the stuff is not there to start with, leadership at best will be transitory. Six years ago a new word was written boldly across the automobile horizon. It was CHRYSLER. Each succeeding day, each succeeding year since that word flashed into prominence it has continued to mount higher and higher in motordom's firmament. Chrysler sprang into leadership overnight naturally, inevitably—because Chrysler was a potential leader—a leader at heart—a leader in ideas, ideals and visible accomplishment. Having a Chrysler you know you have the best. And it is this conviction that causes those who own Chryslers to express their pride of ownership at every opportunity. Chrysler has a multi-range to fit all purses: the "66" sells from $995 to $1095; the "70" is priced from $1295 to $1545; the "77" is priced from $1625 to $1825; the Imperial from $2995 to $3575. Each and every Chrysler is a leader in its price class. Buy your Chrysler from the Elbery Motor Company of 294 Washington street, Newton. You will be assured of satisfaction.

One of the first cars to be manufactured in this country was the air-cooled Franklin. It was a leader over a quarter-century ago. It is a leader today. Most of the cars which were prominent in the pioneer days of the motor car industry in this country have ceased to be manufactured. But, through the years the Franklin air-cooled car has maintained its preeminence, adding to its reputation as an aristocrat among automobiles. The 1930 Franklin has a truly remarkable innovation. It is powered by a motor that is of the airplane type not only in name but in fact. A "Moth" airplane equipped with a standard 1930 Franklin motor will be flown from Syracuse to Boston airport some time in the near future. It will be flown back to Syracuse after the motors have been exchanged.

Persons in the Newtons owning Franklin cars now have the advantage of obtaining Franklin service right here in this city. The FRANKLIN NEWTON MOTOR COMPANY announces the opening of their Sales Room and Service Station at 405-407 Washington street, Newton Corner. Here you can examine the 1930 Franklin models and have your Franklin car serviced by expert Franklin repair men.

To make room for cars offered in exchange for the New 1930 Chevrolets, the greatest CHEVROLET in CHEVROLET history, we will sacrifice all our present stock of used cars at unheard of prices. Terms to suit responsible buyers.

CHEVROLET

The new Chevrolet presents the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History—a smoother, faster, better Six—with new bodies by Fisher.

Basically, it is the same sturdy, substantial Six which won such tremendous popularity in 1929. But it is a greater car in every way—for it embodies every worth while advancement that a year of engineering research has developed. There are scores of vital improvements which contribute to every phase of comfort, performance, endurance and safety!

But most impressive of all from the standpoint of the motor car buyer, is the sensational dollar for dollar value which this new car provides. For, in spite of its finer quality—this smoother, faster, better Six has been made available. The Stuart Chevrolet Company, 429-437 Washington street, Newton, are authorized agents for the Chevrolet car.

NEWTON BUILDING BOOM DECLINES

The building boom which has been prevalent in Newton for the past eight years continued during 1929 but there was a big decline from the two preceding years. Last year 1401 permits were granted, the estimated cost of the work totalling $6,865,796; in 1928 the permits totalled 1686 and the value $10,807,643; in 1927 there were 1634 permits with an estimated valuation of $10,140,456. ### POLICE NEWS

Frank Castano of Lill avenue, West Newton, was in the Newton court last Friday charged with keeping and exposing liquor for sale and with making an illegal sale of liquor. Castano was charged with having sold a bottle of "home brew" to Patrolman John Greene on the night of December 4. Following this alleged sale a squad of police raided Castano's home and seized about 500 quarts of supposed beer. The raid was made on the night of December 10. On this night Green again attempted to buy some of Castano's beer but was refused it. Castano claimed in court that he had given, not sold Green the beer on December 4 and that he had refused to give the policeman any beer on the second night because he considered that Green already had enough. Inspector Goode, who was conducting the prosecution, asked Castano if his reason for refusing to sell Greene the liquor on December 10 was because he had been tipped off by another policeman that his house was to be raided? Castano denied this allegation.

The case was continued until Monday. On that day Castano was found guilty on all three charges by Judge Bacon. He was fined $50 and given a three months' suspended jail sentence for making an illegal sale, fined $50 and given a three months' suspended jail sentence for keeping and exposing liquor for sale, fined $200 and given a suspended sentence of six months for maintaining a liquor nuisance.

Three young New York magazine solicitors arrested at Waban last week charged with collecting subscription money for magazines, but with not having the periodicals delivered, had the charges against them placed on file in the Newton court on Monday when their employer, H. E. Ledner of New York told Judge Bacon that he will guarantee the delivery of the magazines.

Raymond Nason of Overbrook drive, Wellesley, was fined $10 in the Newton court last Friday for violating a traffic ordinance.

Considerable excitement was caused in the vicinity of a small pond, known as Dresser's pond, between Waban and the Upper Falls yesterday morning when a dog owned by Mrs. George Pierce of Radcliff road, Waban, broke through thin ice and fell into the water there. Persons seeing the dog struggling vainly to get out of the water telephoned the Fire Department.

In turn the Police Department, through some misunderstanding, the police rescue squad, consisting of Patrolmen Kilmain, Hamill and Charlton, went to Randolph street, Newton Highlands. They could find no drowning dog. In fact, they were unable to find even a small pond at Randolph street. Learning they had been misinformed, they got on the right track and arrived at the pond on Radcliff road to find that the distressed animal had been rescued from his predicament by persons residing nearby.

Members of the Boy Scouts who are performing traffic duty will be equipped with white belts and badges by the Police Department.

The Newton Police Benefit Association has elected as its officers for the ensuing year: President, Serg. Nicholas Vedecko; Secretary, John Monaghan; Treasurer, Serg. Thomas Lee; Directors, George Kilmain, Patrick King, Henry Loughlin, John J. Murphy.

It was reported that the recent hall of the association added nearly $4000 to the relief funds, bringing the total to $51,000.

BUICK—1930

For 1930 the BUICK is exhibited in three new series, three new wheel-bases and three new price ranges. The Greatest BUICK of them all again proves BUICK's right to supreme public preference in the fine car field. It is a remarkable tribute to BUICK quality that over 80% again choose BUICKS when they buy a new automobile. BUICK owners year after year come back and buy over 100,000 new BUICKS. This steady and consistent volume from BUICK owners is greater than that obtained by any other company from all classes of buyers. BUICK alone gets one-fourth of all the business in the fine car field. The new BUICK for 1930 will continue to make this loyalty increasingly great and will add to BUICK'S list of friends many additional new names.

The Newton Buick Company has for a number of years built up an excellent reputation for courtesy and service at its Newton quarters, 371 Washington street, Newton. It now can cater even better to patrons residing in Newton Centre, Waban, Newton Highlands and Chestnut Hill with its newly established branch at 714 Beacon street, Newton Centre.

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS

The inaugural address of Mayor Weeks provides the citizens of Newton with plenty of material for thought. The new Mayor promises a business administration and his address proved to be an excellent start. We will comment on the matters of major importance individually but we are in hearty accord with his Honor's views upon the amending of the zoning laws to keep down any considerable apartment house development; the extension of the Junior High School system to the South Side of the city; the immediate erection of a War Memorial; the installation of a new fire-alarm signal system; and the covering of Laundry Brook through Boyd Park.

NEW WARD LINES

In the inaugural address of Mayor Weeks reference was made to the inadequate representation of Wards 5 and 6 in the Board of Aldermen. These two wards now contain about 36 per cent of the city's population, about 43 per cent of its valuation and over half of the total area. The rapid growth of the city has undoubtedly brought about the unbalanced conditions in population and valuation and it will continue to become more unbalanced as time goes on unless a change is made. The northerly side of the city, Wards 1, 2, 3, and 7 in particular, will not grow as rapidly in the future as Wards 5 and 6—in fact there are but a very few tracts of land where an extensive development can be made on the north side while on the south side there is considerable territory available. Extensive study will reveal the necessity of the establishment of a new ward or the relocation of the present ward lines. Eventually the former step will probably be advisable and it is just as well to consider it now. At present Wards 5 and 6 have four precincts each, Ward 2 has five precincts, Wards 3 and 4 have three precincts each and Wards 1 and 7 are divided into two precincts each. A plan is easily conceivable whereby another Ward might be established on the south side of the city containing two precincts, but with allowance for a third precinct as the increase of population requires and the other existing ward and precinct lines relocated to give each ward three precincts. An even representation from each ward of the city would then be assured.

New wards cannot be established or changes in existing ward lines made except under the general law. New precincts are required by present law when the number of registered votes in the old precinct passes a certain figure. Permission from the legislature to make the advisable changes in the ward lines all at the same time could be more readily obtainable than a number of requests, each as necessary demanded.

A STREET IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

A portion of the Mayor's address was devoted to streets and his plans for a careful study of their condition with a view to laying down a street improvement program. We have long advocated the adoption of a program which will permit of the construction of a few miles of permanent concrete roadway each year. In the course of ten or twelve years the main arteries of the city would be in shape to meet the inroads of modern traffic conditions. The main arteries of the city are Commonwealth avenue, Beacon, Boylston and Washington streets in a general East-West direction and Centre, Walnut and Chestnut streets in a North-South direction. Commonwealth avenue is in an acceptable condition. The necessity for the opening of the southern side of the avenue to traffic is not far removed. The roadway must first be re-surfaced practically its entire length. Boylston street is part of the new through artery to Worcester that the state highway department is planning and it is hoped that the state will reconstruct it in 1931. Beacon and Washington streets are, in many places, far from satisfactory. The city can well afford to begin its improvement program with these two major thoroughfares. The removal of the car tracks on Washington street and the construction of a concrete roadway would mean a considerable sum of money but it would relieve the city of the necessity of constant and expensive patching after every winter thaw and in addition would make a highway adequate for increasing traffic for years to come.

cellent condition when re-surfaced by Simpson Brothers' vulcanized pavement process. From Sargent street south which is guaranteed for some years. From Sargent street south improvement will be needed before many years with the ever-increasing travel over it. Walnut street and Chestnut street will require later attention. All three carry sufficient traffic to warrant the expenditure necessary for the construction of concrete roadbeds.

A RIDICULOUS FENCE

Frequently the erection of certain fences has provoked considerable discussion between the parties involved but this week we chanced to notice a fence that as such is about as ridiculous as could be erected. We refer to the new fence erected on two sides of the high school baseball diamond at Clafin Field, Newtonville. Intended to be a barrier to prevent the active youth of today from eluding the ticket taker at the gate it serves only as an invitation to get in without detection. It hardly seems right that the city should provide a modern athletic plant such as is under way at this location and then surround it with such an absurdity. In the first place the lower edge of the wire is about nine inches from the ground giving plenty of opportunity to slip underneath it. Furthermore the top of the wire is less than five feet from the ground and the posts at eight or ten foot intervals, extending upward two feet higher, offer an easy method of climbing over or standing on top of the fence. Apparently the posts are of a height calculated to provide support for a canvas but the prongs along the top edge of the wire will soon tear the canvas to shreds, especially on a windy day. Some time ago there was a controversy between the school committee and the playground department as to the specifications of this fence and a compromise was effected. It is a fact that the school officials, who know the most about conditions on the field were given no opportunity to give their opinion on the subject. A six or seven foot wire fence, topped with barbed wire could not offer an objectionable appearance to nearby residents. Here is a good place for the administration to begin its program of efficiency, co-operation and elimination of waste.

GREATER BOSTON

Once again the question of the annexation of the cities and towns surrounding Boston has been brought to the front in the inaugural address of Mayor James M. Curley. As could be expected the proposal is not received outside of Boston with enthusiasm. Periodic or spasmodic discussion may in time cause the eventual absorption of some of the neighboring localities by the Hub city but it is certain that that time is far removed. There are several reasons that enter into the problem with which the Mayor of Boston is confronted in seeking to create a bigger Boston. In the development of other large cities there has been little or no individuality in the surrounding localities. Around Boston most of the cities and towns are as old as Boston itself and in 300 years have built up an almost solid barrier of tradition and sentiment unto themselves. In years past the surrounding towns and cities have differed materially in political complexion from Boston. Most of the cities have been Republican with Newton among the consistent in this respect. But a factor which will aid in the fulfillment of the idea of an enlarged Boston is the modification of Republican control and the tendency of many of the cities and towns to go Democratic, Somerville being an example in the recent city elections. Street conditions, collection of ashes, and garage permit methods are a few minor reasons why Newton has little enthusiasm for the plan. While the idea of a larger Boston has its merits we believe that it will be a long time before the people of Newton are ready for such a step. And Newton will not be a part of Boston until the people here say it shall.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Within a week's time the Legislature has held committee hearings and disposed of several matters. This shows that the efforts of the presiding officers to have measures promptly attended to has already accomplished results.

The time for filing bills does not expire until tomorrow at 5 p. m. so that there is still great activity among legislators and others who are planning to offer various important matters for consideration.

One of the first bills favorably reported was that for suitable memorial in the State House for Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, U. S. A., who was a Massachusetts man.

Among the petitions filed this session few thus far have important relation to Newton except in a general way. There may be some important Newton measures but only a few have appeared thus far. Newton people will be interested in a report of the Division of Metropolitan Planning and the State Department of Public Works "relative to the cost of constructing a way for motor vehicles and other traffic in Newton and Weston." The study was made as the result of the passage of a resolve by the 1929 Legislature. The report recommends that the matter be put over. However, it is worth reading and is given here with:

"The resolve referred to a proposal for the construction of a highway leading from Commonwealth Avenue at a point approximately 2,000 feet north of the Norumbega bridge over the Charles River, and thence extending in a general northerly direction across the Charles River to the public ways and private lands to River Street in Weston, one of the main thoroughfares between Boston, Worcester and New York, and thence still further northerly to Kendall Green, where a connection would be made with the main thoroughfare from Boston to Fitchburg, Greenfield and North Adams.

"Undoubtedly this thoroughfare would be of great value if constructed, but, since its plans were made, the Department of Public Works has determined to reconstruct the old turnpike between Boston and Worcester as a most modern and up-to-date motorway. This new route will undoubtedly lessen the traffic over River Street, which is now the main road to Worcester. The town of Weston is also planning, in co-operation with the State and the county, to construct Newton Street between Norumbega and Weston Center, thus giving a good connection between Commonwealth Avenue and the present highway to Worcester.

"In view of the large expenditures required for these projects, it is the feeling of the Division of Metropolitan Planning and the Department of Public Works that the construction of the highway referred to in Chapter 19 of the Resolves of 1929 (the Newton-Weston scheme) may well be deferred, and that no action should be taken at the present time."

Another bill in which everybody has deep interest is that filed by Representative Luitwiler on petition of the Automobile Legal Association that regulations be established for the movement of pedestrians at intersections of highways, on crosswalks and through motor traffic. It has the following provisions:

"On highways where traffic at intersections is controlled by a police or traffic officer or by traffic signals, drivers and operators of vehicles and pedestrians shall obey the directions of such officer or signals.

"Operators and drivers of vehicles shall yield the right of way to pedestrians properly crossing a way at a crosswalk. No pedestrian shall pass through a moving line of traffic which is directed by a traffic signal or the signal of a police or traffic officer. On ways where intersections are not more than five hundred feet apart pedestrians shall cross such ways only at an intersection.

"On ways provided with a sidewalk or other area for the use of pedestrians it shall be unlawful for pedestrians to travel on other than such sidewalk or area excepting when crossing the way as provided in the preceding sections. On ways that are not provided with such sidewalks or areas, pedestrians shall walk on the left side of such way and as near the left of the way as possible and then only in single file.

"Any person violating any of the provisions of the three preceding sections shall be liable to a fine of not more than twenty dollars."

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., will hold its annual card party on the afternoon of Friday, January 17, in the Workshop of the Woman's Club, Newton Highlands. Mrs. Albion H. Brown, 9 Saxon Terrace, Newton Highlands, has charge of arrangements.

Recent Deaths

BEATRICE M. WHITING

Miss Beatrice May Whiting, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Whiting of 21 Francis street, Newton Centre, died at the home of her parents on Sunday, January fifth.

Miss Whiting, who was in her twenty-ninth year, was born in Newton Centre where she has always made her home. She was a graduate of Newton High School, Class of 1920 and had been employed by the firm of John Fredrickson of Commonwealth avenue of Newton Centre for the past five years as private secretary. She was a young lady of unusual artistic ability and of a generous and loving nature, who was loved by her friends and fellow workers.

Funeral services were held at the First Congregational Church, Newton Centre, of which she was a member, on Tuesday, Jan. 7th.

Highland Rebekah Lodge No. 82 of Newton Highlands, of which lodge she held the office of inside guardian, conducted the Rebekah service, about 40 members assisting. Scripture and prayers were rendered by the pastor, Rev. Dwight Bradley, D.D.

Interment was in the Newton Cemetery.

PATRICK NOLAN

Patrick Nolan of 234 Adams street, Newton, died on Tuesday, January 7, following a long illness. He was born 64 years ago in Galway, Ireland, and had resided in this city for 40 years. He is survived by his widow, a daughter and one son. His funeral service was held this morning at the Church of Our Lady. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

POLICE NEWS

During the past six weeks about eight houses in the neighborhood of Tremont street and Playstead road, Newton, have been entered and articles of jewelry stolen. For over a week a number of Newton policemen have been patrolling this section each night in plain clothes endeavoring to catch the burglar. The suspense under which the district and the police have been laboring is believed to have been cleared up last night with the arrest of Paul Crowde, 17, of Gardner street, Newton. Young Crowde was arrested by the Watertown police on the charge of having entered the home of Charles Jones at 74 Morse street, Watertown and stealing a ring. The Jones home was entered about a month ago. Wednesday night Mrs. Ethel Jones returned to her home to encounter a youth in a bedroom there. He made his escape but from a description furnished by the woman the Newton youth was arrested. Special Officer Feeley of the Newton police questioned the boy regarding the breaks in the Tremont street section, and according to the police he admitted having made some of them. Feeley then went to the home of the youth and recovered articles reported as stolen from the Newton houses. Indictments will be sought from the Grand Jury against the boy. Thomas Dezotell of 70 Allison street, Nonantum, was in the Newton court on Tuesday charged with having hit a Nonantum woman with a flashlight. He was given a suspended sentence of one month in the House of Correction. In court the same day Frederic Lochiatto of Waltham was fined $10 for speeding. A charge of driving without proper lights was placed on file and he was found not guilty of using profanity.
Carl Smith of 59 Westchester road, Newton, was arrested Monday evening by Inspectors Goode and King charged with non-support of two minor children. The complaint was made by Smith's divorced wife who resides in Newtonville. He will be in court January 13 for trial.

Welsh Anthracite

Is Highest in Heat Units

JUST as we measure distance by standard units, inches, feet and miles, etc., so, too, we measure heat by British Thermal Units. B.T.U.—is the "foot rule" for measuring the heat value of coal. We can tell definitely and accurately the Heat value of a certain coal by determining the number of B.T.U.'s in it. No guess work. It is a scientific calculation used the world over.

READ THIS:

Repeated tests by chemists show that Welsh is highest in heat value, highest in B. T. U.'s of any anthracite on the market. Ordinary coal gives 12,500 to 13,500 B.T.U.'s per ton. Welsh gives 14,500 to 15,000 B.T.U.'s—a substantial margin of superiority.

The Mather Class

The Mather Class met as usual last Sunday morning at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. There were no meetings December 22 and 29 because of the many Christmas activities in the different churches. From now on until the last of May the Class will meet every Sunday morning.

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather was on hand to greet the class after the Christmas holidays. His subject last Sunday was: "Turning the Searchlight on the New Testament." This was the fourth lecture in the series on Biblical Scholarship.

Along about the fourth century it had become definitely decided what should go into the Bible, so that subject was a closed issue for the scholars of that time. Through the fourth, fifth, and sixth centuries the head of the church held authority by claiming to be the mouthpiece of God. The authority of the Church and the Bible was unquestioned. It had been established by legal vote and by doctrinal conclusions. No one thought of any conflict between the human authority and the written word. The source was the same, the canons were satisfactory, and so the output must be in harmony.

In the latter days of the Middle Ages came the Renaissance. The fall of Constantinople changed the current of European history. The invention of the printing press made possible the spread of printed knowledge. Before that, a book was a rare and costly thing. In the 14th century one monastery wrote six years to get out one copy of the Bible. The monks were efficient and their drafts-ship was splendid, but the time element added enormously to the value of any book produced that way. The printing press can run off 60,000 copies of a book in a few days. With the advent of printing, the attitude toward written knowledge changed. The discovery of what Columbus thought was a new world changed people's ideas. A new spirit pervaded Europe. Erasmus began his work, and Luther completed it.

There was a protest against the authority of the church because of the discovery of the error in the church and the Bible. A problem arose when the church did something that was contrary to the Bible. It became necessary to accept as the final authority either one of the other. Thus the Reformation arose and Protestantism placed the Bible in the finality of the authority of the Bible.

No one at first thought of the infallibility of the Bible as of particular or necessary significance. Luther recognized the composite structure of the Bible, different parts of which had different values and different infallibility. The authority and infallibility of the Bible were not linked up in any special way. They selected from the Bible particular portions which for them had special and final authority. The important thing was that the Bible was the final authority.

Next it became necessary to find out what the Bible had to say on any given subject. In comparing manuscripts, no two copies were discovered that were exactly and entirely identical. In the 15th century there were between 1,500 and 1,600 known copies of the Bible in existence in many places. There was nothing critical about the discrepancies, for very few people could read the Bible or anything else for that matter. Few people even had access to the Bible. For 150 years it was against the law to read the Bible. It was banned by the church in many places. In one city in Europe you could be put to death if you were caught with the Bible in your home. Of course the reason for all this was that there were plenty of authorities who did not want people quoting the Bible to authorize their position on various subjects. The Bible was dangerous because it could be used against the authorities. Accordingly the Bible was secretly circulated, and very actively circulated, considering the difficulties involved.

Finally King James immortalized his name by gathering together a committee of scholars, who collected all the written available information about the Bible and prepared and translated the Authorized Version, also known as the King James Version of the Bible.

What was the original Bible like? John Stuart Mill wrote about the discrepancies. The uncials are the earliest manuscripts. These are 150 in number. All of them were written entirely in capital letters, and all of them were written between the fourth and seventh centuries. They are the nearest to original documents that we possess. We have no autograph copy. We do not possess Paul's original letter to the Corinthians. The oldest manuscript yet discovered was written about 300 years after the crucifixion, and it is a copy of a copy. It is not a copy of the original. From the seventh to the fourteenth centuries the rest of the 1,500 copies of the Bible were made, but these are all in large and small letters. They are not all in capitals.

About 60 years ago the Sinaitic uncial, the oldest manuscript of the Bible in existence, was discovered on the peninsula of Sinai. The investigator found 44 pages in a wastebasket. He was so excited that the monks would not let him take them. Later he returned with authority from the monks of the Sinai to search further. After weeks of wasted effort, he was rewarded by being shown the very thing he wanted. This was a most valuable discovery, and the Czar made him a hereditary noble in Russia.

Some curious things have happened to the text of the Bible through the ages, as shown by the various additions. The original texts of the twenty oldest manuscripts out of the 150 uncials agree in mentioning the Spirit, water, and blood in 1 John 5:8. These three aspects of nature form the trilogy of body, mind, and spirit. All three parts of humanity bear witness to a knowledge of God. The physical is represented by the body, the social by the emotions, and the spiritual by the intuitions. A bishop of Spain, in the latter part of the fourth century, added something about the Father, Word, and Holy Ghost. There was a big argument

Y. M. C. A.

A large number of young men were out to hear Mr. Maxwell N. Halsey, of the Department of Public Works, speak on "Street Traffic Control," last Monday evening. The talk provoked a good deal of discussion and many interesting things were brought out by Mr. Halsey and those who had questions that they wished to ask.

The speaker next week will be Rev. Robert L. Rae, Pastor of the North Village Church.

Physical Department Notes

LASELL SEMINARY

Dr. Leon H. Vincent will lecture on Friday evening, January 10, at Brandon Hall. Dr. Vincent's subject will be "Dr. Johnson and the Literary Club."

Professor Irving H. Cowdrey of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology will give an illustrated travel talk, "Driving Southward," Saturday evening, January 11, for the benefit of the Senior Endowment Fund.

Dr. Boynton Merrill, pastor of the Second Church of Newton, will be the speaker at the vesper service Sunday, January 12, at 6:15 o'clock.

going on at that time about the Trinity, and this bishop thought that he might help himself win the debate by adding that much to the Scripture. He found no definite reference to the Trinity elsewhere in the New Testament, so he proceeded to make a helpful reference.

The thirty oldest documents omit the reference to the Kingdom at the end of the Lord's Prayer. That was put in to help out the claim of the church to dominion over the earth. This happened in the early part of the fifth century.

The closing chapter of Mark ended in the middle of the ninth verse. All the rest of the chapter was added during the fourth or sixth century. It looks as if what was there originally did not suit somebody. There may have been some statement about the Resurrection which was displeasing to some persons in the sixth century, so the passage was rewritten in a more satisfactory form.

We wanted to know what was the teaching of Jesus and the response of His contemporaries. The later additions are ear marked. They were put in because of a doctrinal significance, to back up somebody's idea on church doctrine.

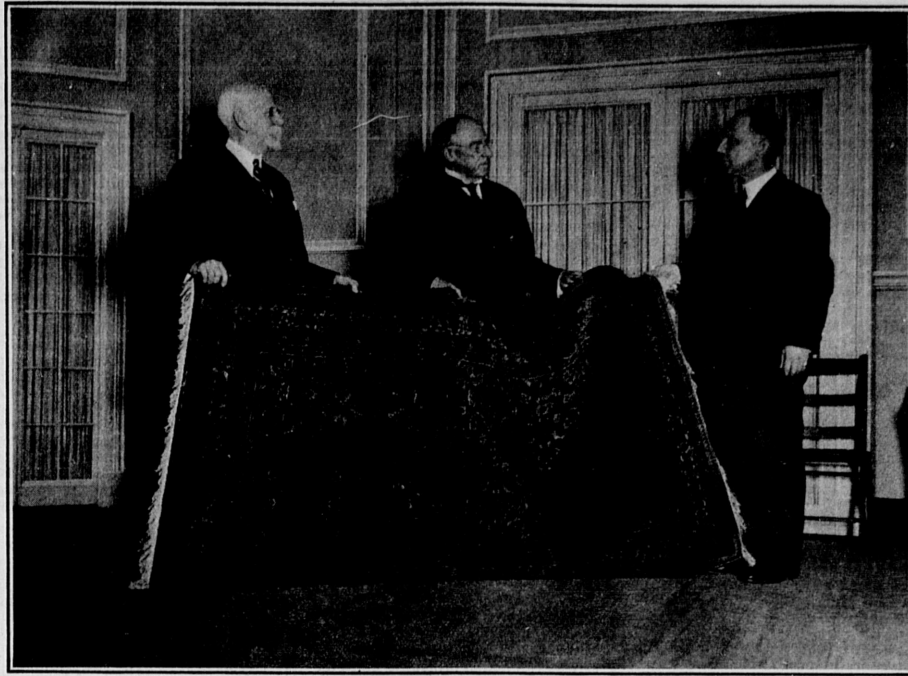

The next lecture on Biblical Scholarship will be by Dr. Arbuckle, Feb. 2, and will continue the thread of thought from this point.

Next Sunday Prof. Mather will lecture on "The Thinking Machine," the fourth lecture in the series on "The Trend in Science."

On January 15 the Mather Class will hold its next party.

GEORGE DEXTER FROST.

Newton's Golden Rule Rug

The above picture shows the Golden Rule Rug presented Newton recently for the work done here for the Near East Relief campaigns of the past two years.

Dr. James L. Barton, National chairman and Hon. Augustus P. Loring, New England chairman, are pictured presenting the rug to Ex-Mayor Childs. The rug is now at the Newton Centre Library. In regard to a more representative location for this memorial to Newton's work Mrs. Chas. W. Bond of Newton Centre, local chairman, has written a letter to Mayor Weeks, as follows:

"On December 12 at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, was presented to the city of Newton the Golden Rule rug for Newton's fine work on the Near East Relief during the past two years. You know somewhat of this work through the Golden Rule dinner, given about a year ago.

"I would call to your attention, though, the question that presents itself to my mind with the placement of this rug in the Newton Centre Library. Is it the best and most fitting place for this memorial rug for Newton's Near East work? Is there no locality which is a representative one for the whole town, where such memorials could be exhibited? The rug represents the higher and finer qualities of the representatives of Newton, those that are of a larger social bearing. Its obliteration from the observation of any but the possible few who may discover it in the library seems a queer finale to the work done during the past twelve years for the Near East Relief.

"One other thing I would speak to you about, since the Near East Relief benefited by the importance and value of such an organization, and that is the Newton Centre Council. It gave a machinery through which the work done was simplified and assisted beyond power of measuring. The tendency in the present day to think the amount of assistance given by such an organization is small, to my mind, means a lessening of the forces in Newton for organized social work, a falling back to each group working for itself, an increase in the village prom-inences. These all mean a splitting of Newton's strength and development of the personal, the individual interests, one of the weakening tendencies of the present day. Social work is a necessary growth of the present hour. If you find in political fields that organization is valuable, is the same not true of social work through an organization that unites the multiplicity of varied social interests?

"My work with the Newton Centre Council has extended over a number of years, part of the time as secretary of the welfare group. I would ask that you look into the conditions and find out the history and breadth of the organization. You may remember that much of its work has been done by Mrs. Irving Palmer, whose ideals for the growth of it will bear investigation.

"With appreciation of the possibilities before you as mayor of Newton, with also the deep desire to see a continued advancement—broader, bigger, and more important to the welfare of the community than the political alone would be."

NEWTON HOSPITAL

The regular monthly meeting of the School of Nursing Committee was held at the Hospital on Monday, January 6th, at 4 p. m.

On Monday evening, January 6th, the Know More Kook Club met in the Doctors' Assembly room. Dr. L. H. Jack of West Newton, and Dr. W. D. Reid of Newton were the doctors who presented the cases for discussion.

On Monday and Tuesday, January 6 and 7, the sectional meeting of the American College of Surgeons for the New England States was held at the Hotel Bancroft in Worcester. The Newton Hospital was represented at this meeting by Miss Bertha W. Allen, Supt., Miss Vera A. Houston, Asst. Supt., and Dr. Will G. Wilcox, Surgeon and member of the Executive Committee of the Staff. The session on Monday morning was conducted by Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, Director of the Hospital Activities of the American College of Surgeons, assisted by Dr. Robert Jolly, Supt. of the Baptist Hospital in Houston, Texas. The chief purpose of the meeting was the discussion of questions and problems most frequently encountered in the hospital field. Some of the topics for round table conferences and general discussions were: Hospital Trustees, Medical Staff Organization, Nursing Service, Case Records, Diagnostic and Therapeutic Departments, Dietary Service, Social Service, Hospital Financing, and other subjects.

On Wednesday, January 8, the Newton Central Council Luncheon Conference was held at the Hospital at 12:15 p. m. The subject for discussion was the Cancer Situation, and Dr. George L. West presided. The speakers were Dr. George H. Bigelow, Public Health Commissioner of Massachusetts, Dr. Grantley W. Taylor, Assistant Surgeon at the Mass. General Hospital, and President, at the C. P. Huntington Memorial Hospital, Dr. Edward D. Leonard, Head of the Cancer Clinic at the Newton Hospital, and Mr. Ulysses G. Wheeler, Supt. of Schools, who spoke on the advisability of presenting the subject of cancer prevention to children of high school age. About sixty were present.

The Executive Committee of the Staff held their regular monthly meeting at Dr. West's house, 860 Beacon street, Newton Centre, on Wednesday, January 8, at 8:30 p. m. On Wednesday afternoon the Alumnae met at the hospital for their annual meeting and election of officers for the year 1930. The new officers were: President, Myra P. Dority; First Vice President, Miss Margaret Grant; Second Vice President, Miss Jessie Fulton; Secretary, K. C. Welch; Treasurer, Ruth I. Humphrys, and Councillor, Hughelan McAfee.

On Friday evening, January 10th there was a special meeting of the Staff. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss some current matters pertaining to the hospital. During the month of December 316 patients were admitted to the regular wards of the hospital, and 97 for x-ray only, and 121 as out-patients in the general hospital. 320 patients were discharged, leaving 123 in the hospital on the first of January. The daily average for the month was 125.93. The largest number for any one day was 140, the smallest 98. Two patients were ad-

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. has voted to adopt the following resolution:

Whereas the repeal of our State Prohibition Enforcement Law cannot fail to increase lawlessness and set back the cause of temperance, and it is resolved that we go on record against the repeal of our State Prohibition Enforcement Law.

Be it further resolved: that we request our State Senator and Representatives to vote "NO" on this petition.

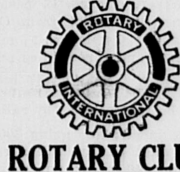

M. MILLIE BEARDSLEY, President.

HELEN M. MERRIAM, Secretary.

mitted to the contagious department. Of the 316 patients admitted, 194 were private, and 122 ward. 28 patients were treated free of charge, using 246 free days. 55 babies were born during the month, 24 girls and 31 boys.

During the week ending January 4th there were 137 patients in the hospital. Of this number 51 paid as much as cost of care, or more, 48 paid less than cost of care, and 38, including babies were treated free of charge. 10 emergency cases were admitted to the accident ward. One call was made by the social worker, and 4 patients were transported by the social service car.

Of the ten accident cases admitted during the week were automobile accident cases: one a man with lacerations of his face and head, and the other a woman with fractured ribs. Three men were admitted: one with a fractured leg received when he fell on the ice, one with a dislocated thumb received when he fell, and the other a man with concussion and a question of a fractured skull received when his head was struck by a heavy swinging block while he was working on telephone wires. Two boys were admitted: one with a fractured arm caused when he fell from a chair, and the other with shock from exposure caused when he fell into a pond remaining there ten minutes before he was rescued. One woman was admitted suffering from a fractured arm received when she fell while skating.

ROTARY CLUB

There was a large attendance of members and guests at the Newton Rotary Club meeting on Monday night, January 6th, at the Woodland Golf Club.

Two motion picture reels entitled, "Putting the Wind in Windows," by the Dennison Manufacturing Co., of Framingham, and "Reporting the World," featuring the Boston Traveler, were shown through the courtesy of the Industrial Film Company of Boston.

Don Hyde of the Program Committee was in charge. The attendance contest between the Newton and Watertown Clubs was inaugurated at this meeting.

THE FENTON MYSTERY

"The Fenton Mystery" was successfully given December 30th in the Newton Centre Club House before a large and enthusiastic audience. The Junior Dramatic Club not only gave an excellent evening of drama and dancing to its patrons but netted a considerable sum to promote its future enterprises. The cast succeeded in throwing the clue of the mystery about till the audience guessed every solution but the correct one. The detective's part, taken by David MacKillop, was well portrayed and excellent work was done by Jane Nickerson and Stephen Bailey as the negro servant and the butler. Carolyn Raye as assistant and detective was clear cut and business like and Ellen Weston interpreted a very realistic widow's part. Fred Hammond, the president of the club, was stage manager. Jean Lotz had charge of the candy sale.

The ushers were Vincent Maloney, Robert Ohler, John Weldon, Ted Mather, Charles Daniels and John Perry.

PARAMOUNT-NEWTON

The Paramount Theatre, Newton, has a very interesting program arranged for the coming week beginning Sunday, January 12th. The first four days, Joan Crawford in "Untamed" with a very high class cast supporting, including Robert Montgomery, Ernest Torrence, Holmes Herbert and others will be shown. On the same program will be Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Lorena Young in "Forward Pass," one of the best romances of college life on the screen.

The Ziegfeld Success "Glorifying the American Girl" will be the main feature for the last half of the week. Mary Eaton, famous for her stellar performances in many a Ziegfeld stage show, and more recently seen in "The Cocoanuts" with the Four Marx Brothers, is the little girl from the tank town who makes good on Broadway. The picture is filled with lavish stage scenes and scintillating performances by many girls in gorgeous dances and revues. On the same program will be Evelyn Brent in "Darkened Rooms," another thrilling picture.

K. OF C.

Tuesday night, Elks Hall, Centre street, was taxed to capacity at the first Mother's and Daughter's Night of Newton Council, K. of C. It was another one of those nights that is making Newton Council an outstanding Council in the state because of the excellence of their programs at meetings, the interest of the members and their attendants. Approximately 350 members, mothers and daughters attended the social success and enjoyed the many novelty dance numbers staged by the pupils of the Louise Perry Hall dancing school. Prancing ponies, a tiny hatching chicken, a black cat, danced in costume. Military toe dancing, acrobatic dancing, acrobatic dancing, tap dancing were also contributed by the youngsters. Tremendous applause greeted their efforts.

Scott and Douglas, society dancers, who have toured from Boston to Miami and from New York to Chicago, thrilled the audience with their intricate steps and whirlwind dancing. The Belmont Duo entertained with harmony as you like it. Eddie Welch's Ramblers, eight pieces, played for general dancing and interspersed novelty saxophone numbers. Lecturer Edwin C. Heislein had charge of the program. Refreshments were served during the evening.

New Mayor's Night of Newton Council, K. of C. will be held Tuesday night, Jan. 21 at Elks Hall with ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs as Master of ceremonies. The guests will be Mayor and Mrs. Childs, Mayor and Mrs. James M. Curley of Boston, Mayor Patrick Duane of Waltham, Mayor John Whalen of Chelsea, Mayor Philip Gallagher of Woburn, Mayor Michael O'Neill of Everett, Mayor John Murphy of Somerville, Mayor Richard M. Russell of Cambridge. Grand Knight Charles E. Coyne is planning on one of the largest crowds of the year and an enthusiastic reception will be given to both ex-Mayor Childs and Mayor Weeks. A program of entertainment is also being arranged.

At Tuesday night's meeting Newton Council authorized Grand Knight Charles E. Coyne to appoint the following committees: Banquet, Laymen's Retreat, Golf, Finance and Major Degree. The Council is planning their banquet for April or May and will be a contribution of Newton Council to the tercentenary celebration of Newton. Chancellor Atty. James Akins will head the committee. The laymen's retreat which will be conducted on a week-end in March. Plans are in the making for a golf team to represent Newton Council this year to challenge Councils throughout the state and to conduct a tournament for the members.

Newton Council has reserved six boxes at the Boston Garden for the William C. Frost Memorial. The Knights of Columbus athletic meet which will be held Saturday night, Jan. 25. Members of Newton Council, their families and friends are invited to attend and occupy these boxes. The tickets are $2 each and arrangements may be made for reservation by committee with Grand Knight Coyne, 11 Newtonville avenue, Newton. Mr. Coyne is also a member of the meet committee. Three boxes have already been reserved, meaning 36 members have made reservations. Thirty-six more tickets are now available. The K. of C. meet in March will have keener competition, more invitation entries which will make it the outstanding indoor athletic meet for New England.

The Membership Committee of Newton Council met Monday night to discuss and formulate plans for increasing the membership. It is expected that 25 candidates will take the first, second and major degrees of the order by Feb. 1. A second class is now being formed. Arrangements have been tentatively made for the use of Waltham Council, K. of C. rooms for the major degree on Jan. 30.

John Mullen is chairman of the Membership Committee assisted by the following: Paul Thomas, Kerrins Conroy, Paul J. Keane, Leonard O'Loughlin, Walter J. Connor, Daniel F. Quinn, Patrick Greulich, John H. Gordon, John J. Fitzpatrick, Thomas Noone, Atty. Dennis Cronin, Joseph Valente, John J. Nolan, Frank P. Levi, Louis J. Mullen, Paul M. Fitzgerald, John Curley, Joseph Barry, Leo Vahey. The committee will meet at the office of Atty. James P. Akins, Monday night, Jan. 20.

Railroad Night, one of the most enthusiastic and successful nights on the calendar for Newton Council, will be held Feb. 4 at Elks Hall. A committee of Council members, also railroad men on the B. & A., B. & M. and N. Y. N. H. and H. railroads will arrange the program with Lecturer Heislein, Past Grand Knight John Dutton will be Chairman of the committee. Officials of the railroads will be guests and the entire program will be contributed by talent from the various railroads.

Newton Council will sponsor the fourth annual Holy Cross-Boston College intercollegiate debate in May. Boston College have two legs on the large silver trophy awarded by Newton Council. Holy Cross has the cup in their possession this year by virtue of their first victory last year. The record of Boston College in winning three intercollegiate debates this year, the last from Johns Hopkins University, would indicate a strong team for the Fulton Debating Society this year and a possible permanent possession of the cup.

The vote of the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus at their directors meeting this week in St. Louis awarding the supreme convention to Boston for August, has created much interest among Newton Council members. The last supreme convention was held in Boston in 1913. As a greater Boston Council, Newton will undoubtedly have an important share in the arrangements for the convention. It will also be a contribution of the Knights of Columbus toward the success of the tercentennial celebration of Massachusetts. Supreme Director and State Deputy John E. Swift of Milford, presented the case for the Massachusetts State Council, and the vote was unanimous for Boston.

Do You Know?

THAT—in Newton we have an assistant superintendent of schools who is nationally and internationally known for her work in directing child health programs? That official is Miss Mabel C. Bragg, a woman of magnetic and energetic personality. Miss Bragg first came to Newton at the request of Superintendent Wheeler fifteen years ago, having already made for herself an enviable record as a teacher of teachers in the Lowell Normal School and the Providence Normal School and as a demonstrator of the then revolutionary system of teaching reading—known as the Alldine system. From small beginnings the Newton Health Education program grew during the last decade to be the splendid system it now is. Miss Bragg has been the personality back of this growth. Her energy, enthusiasm, and work made the health program succeed. She has been the expert teacher who coached others how to use this system to the advantage of the children of Newton. While throughout the country the average for defects in grade school children is forty-five per cent, the average for Newton children has been brought down to ten per cent. The number of contagious disease patients in the Newton Hospital has grown so small as to provide little training in that line for the student nurses. It was for the reason of her ability to convince her hearers of the worth of the system and her ability to teach them to use it that Miss Bragg was chosen by the Commission for the Relief of Belgium of which President Hoover was the head, to go to Belgium in 1923 to teach fifty representative Belgian teachers our Newton Health program. Miss Bragg serves on the Advisory Educational Council of the School Health Bureau of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Another honor has recently been conferred upon her by President Hoover in his appointment of her to be on the White House Commission on the Committee of Child Health and Development under the chairmanship of Dr. Kenneth Blackman. During several summers Miss Bragg has taught at the University of Michigan and at Boston University. As a speaker on health education she is in demand throughout the country. Her knowledge of her position in the Newton schools as that of coordinator, and modestly says that her work is to help wherever she is needed. She insists that but for the help of the Board of Health, nurses, teachers, parents and children she could do nothing. Her admirers feel that all these without Miss Bragg, the coordinator, could also have done little.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

On Saturday afternoon, at three o'clock, at the Children's Museum, Professor Frederick K. Morris of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and member of the Roy Chapman Andrews expedition to Mongolia in search of Ancient Man, will conduct the first of a series of discussion meetings based on the origin and development of man on this earth. Admission is free, and adults as well as young people are cordially invited to attend.

Other Saturday events at the Museum include a ten o'clock meeting of the History of Boston Club, which is studying the historical background of Boston in preparation for the Tercentenary, a Girl Scout conference at two o'clock on land animals and their habits, and a meeting of "Our Hobbies," the nature magazine group, at four o'clock.

Among daily illustrated talks being given for school classes of Greater Boston at the Museum, "The Romance of Coal" appears to be one of the most popular. Following the preliminary survey of the history of coal, comes a motion picture showing the production of coal in one of the huge anthracite mines of western Pennsylvania, as modern machinery is doing it today.

Other talks being given daily for school classes this month include Winter Tree Enemies; Greece, Yesterday and Today; "Winning Land" (Holland); Some Sleeping Winter Animals, and At Home in an Igloo. Casual visitors are always welcome.

REAL ESTATE

R. M. Patterson, Newton Corner Realtor, reports that business in three important transactions in which he was the broker. The estate at 133 Forest avenue, West Newton, consisting of 20,000 sq. ft. land and a new brick English type dwelling, has passed to the ownership of Ira B. Ames of Waltham, who has taken occupancy. The structure contains 9 rooms, 3 baths, and a 2-car garage. Assessors rate this property at $23,000, of which amount $5,000 represents the beautifully landscaped grounds. Title was given by Maurice E. and Florence M. Temple of Wat-tick. A parcel of land in Waltham was transferred as part of the sale.

For Oscar S. Larson of Arlington, R. M. Patterson has sold 73 Sheffield road, Newtonville. There are 22,000 sq. ft. tree-shaded land, and a new brick structure of English design containing 9 rooms, 3 baths, and a 2-car garage. This property has not yet been assessed. The buyer, who has taken occupancy, is Warren Ames of Waltham. In part payment the estate at 96 Main street, Waltham, was deeded to Oscar S. Larson.

A Newton sale by R. M. Patterson involves the well known Waitt estate, 60 Vernon street, corner of Park street. This property was developed by the founder of the firm of Waitt and Bond and was for many years his residence. It covers 47,000 sq. ft. land, a remarkable mansion containing 14 rooms and 5 baths, and a large stable-garage. For tax purpose it has a value of $28,500, $15,000 of which represents the land. Maurice E. Temple, the purchaser, intends to demolish existing buildings and build six up-to-date houses for the market. Title came from Newton Trust Co. through Raymond F. Heislein.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The time is approaching for the opening of the Norumbega District School of Religious Education, on Tuesday evening, Jan. 21, at 7:30 p. m. —the Newton section being as usual at the Newtonville M. E. Church. This opening is one week later than originally announced.

Prof. Warmingham, instructor in the Bible course, needs no introduction to Newton audiences. His course entitled "Jesus the Way of Life" will be inspiring and presented in a unique as well as challenging manner. This class will start at 8:40 p. m. and will be the only course offered in the second period of the school.

In the first period a new course, "Use of Art in Religious Education," will be of general interest to many who may not be Sunday School teachers, and yet will supply material of use in the Church School. It will give historical backgrounds for the appreciation of religious art and also consider the subject of how to use pictures in teaching Christian virtues. The instructor is Mr. Frank H. Grebe, of Second Church, West Newton, who has specialized on this subject in college and by means of travel in Europe.

The Norumbega District Board of Education holds its January meeting this week Thursday evening at the home of Mr. E. A. Greene, president. Dean Myers and Prof. LeSourd of Boston University School of Religious Education are the guests of the Board at this meeting.

The Girls' Basketball League will play its first games on Monday, January 13, at 7:30 p. m., in the Newtonville M. E. Church gymnasium; teams to play are Upper Falls Methodist vs. Newton Highlands Methodist, and Newton Centre Baptist vs. Immanuel Baptist.

GIRL SCOUTS

The New Year finds Newton Scouts busier than ever. Troops are beginning work on new Merit Badges and planning the projects which are to keep them occupied until the Spring Rally.

On January 8th, the last meeting of the Leaders' Course, conducted at Headquarters by Miss Davis in Freeburg, and Miss Mildred Moore, was held. The chief event of the morning was the Investiture Ceremony, at which Miss Freeman presented the Tenderfoot pin to those who had passed the test during the course. They were Mrs. MacNaught, of Auburn; Miss Davis of Newton; Mrs. Cawley of Waban, and Mrs. Wheeler of Newtonville. Mrs. Dunker of Newtonville, also passed her test as a result of this course, but she received her pin at Troop 23, Newtonville, where she is Lieutenant to Captain Wabab.

The Swimming Course held at the pool at the Walnut Park School for Boys was brought to a successful close just before vacation, when members of the class met the Girl Scouts of Cambridge in a Swimming Meet. The boys were very close indeed and the teams were evenly matched. Newton was victorious, the final score standing, 31-30. Alice Jack, a Scout of Troop 15, did the plunge for Newton and is to be congratulated; she went the length of the pool, and without this victory the meet would have gone to Cambridge. The green and gold banner for the Meet hangs in the Newton office, and we hope to keep it there!

Miss Molly Longley, Folk Dancing instructor for Massachusetts Girl Scouts, is giving a course in Folk Dancing at the Unitarian Church, West Newton, on Thursday evenings at 7:30 p. m. The course began January 2, and all those who attended were most enthusiastic. It will continue for ten weeks, and all those interested are invited to attend.

Gay New Year Eve.
200 Miles An Hour.
What Business, Mr. Edison?
The Wonderful Automobile.

THE learned Professor James MacKay, of Dartmouth, brings forth a new theory of the universe, pushing Einstein and relativity into the background.

The universe possesses a radiation of super-frequency and super-penetration, pervading all space.

The ether, which Einstein eliminated, returns but it is a dynamic, not a static ether.

That deep news interests a few. Secretary Mellon says 1930 will be a super-year, money abundant, interest rates low, business good.

That interests everybody, violently. Infinite time, space and ether will take care of themselves; 1930 and business must be attended to at once.

Not fewer than a million good resolutions have been broken already, more breakage will come later. But enough resolutions will be kept to provide the usual annual improvement.

New Year's Eve throughout the country shed the usual light on prohibition, many prohibition raids, many arrests, unlimited whiskey, gin, etc.

Henry Ford welcomes the New Year by spending millions in one advertising campaign telling about his latest new car. His motto is: "Have what people want; then let them know you have it."

A great system of street car and interurban lines, driven into a receiver in New York State, is another reminder that the motor bus came to stay.

Railroads that ignored and despised the motor bus, first, are now running buses of their own, in many States.

Some roads, looking farther ahead, have started their own flying lines.

A telegram from the "Stout Air Line" of Detroit tells of air rates from Detroit to Chicago reduced to only a little more than railroad fare, plus Pullman charge.

Another telegram from the "Universal Air Lines System" of Chicago, says: "Pilot Ray Fortner, in a tri-motor Fokker, carried 12 passengers and an assistant pilot from Chicago to Cleveland, 326 miles, in 97 minutes, two hundred and three miles an hour. That trip is one leg on the proposed New York, Los Angeles route. The fare will be the same as by rail.

Against an airplane going 200 miles an hour, what chance will a railroad have, going 40 miles an hour, with fares the same? Americans are in a hurry.

Intelligent railroad men will take charge of passenger flying and control it. Others will fade away, like the old stage coach drivers.

Thomas A. Edison tells President Hoover, through the "Illinois Manufacturing News," that "one of the highest duties of the President is to keep the Government out of business."

That depends on the kind of business, on the honesty and efficiency of government.

Mr. Edison wouldn't have the Government abandon the postoffice and turn it over to Wall Street promoters. The postoffice is a business. It carries a letter from the southern tip of Florida to the northern tip of Alaska for two cents.

And carries it safely.

New York explodes gasoline in a big way. In the first six months of 1929, the State taxed 774,701.746 gallons of gasoline, not including gasoline used by farmers.

It would have taken 968 freight trains, of eighty cars each, to carry that gasoline. Who would have believed that, when Senator Couzens was investing less than $2,000 in the little Ford car, he would take out, within a short time, $30,000,000 as his share?

India seeks absolute self government, suggesting refusal to pay taxes, a situation that worries Britain's Labor government, in charge of India among other imperial details.

If the well-meaning Mahatma Gandhi has his way, India will learn a lesson.

Taxes collected by rajahs, or over-nice dictators, would not be used to supply pure water, or fight plague and famine.

There is a fertile field for sowing Russian propaganda, only more than 299,000,000 of the 300,000,000 inhabitants of India wouldn't know what the Russians were talking about.

In Germany Mennonite refugees from Russia, encamped with their children, are stricken with a strange disease. Forty children died in a few hours. Many were sacrificed because their mothers hid them from doctors, following a Mennonite custom of substituting prayer for medical attention.

That method no longer works. "Know the truth, and the truth shall make you free," includes scientific medical truth.

NEWTON HOSPITAL AID ASS'N.

The annual meeting of the Newton Hospital Aid Assn. will be held at the Hospital on Tuesday, Jan. 14th, at 1:30. The meeting will be in the auditorium and guests are asked to use the old entrance.

Dr. Sara M. Jordan, head of the Gastro-Enterology department of the Lahey Clinic in Boston will speak on "The relations of the gastro-intestinal tract to health." It is an unusual treat to hear Dr. Jordan and her high place in the profession is well known. After the lecture she will give a period to questions. All who are interested in availing themselves of this privilege of listening to Dr. Jordan will be welcome.

At one o'clock luncheon will be served in the new hospital, when the suite of dining rooms equipped by the donation of the Hospital Aid Association may be inspected.

The following committee is in charge: Mrs. C. P. Hall, West Newton; Mrs. Geo. St. Amant, Auburdale; Miss Florence Tower, Auburdale; Mrs. Ernest Weaver, Newton Highlands; Mrs. John Coward, Newton Upper Falls; Mrs. Howard North, Waban; Miss Rose Loring, Newton; Mrs. H. W. Bliss, Chestnut Hill; Mrs. E. H. Wiswall, Wellesley; Mrs. Pitt Drew, Newtonville; Mrs. Frank Anderson, and Mrs. Francis Williams, Newton Centre.

AN APPEAL

The Newton Choral Society has just closed ten years of useful existence. It has been strictly a community chorus open to all who found pleasure in singing. It is quite an expense to run such a society. If we continue in 1930 we face a deficit of $500. This is comparatively a small sum and we believe that an appeal to the people of Newton will secure this amount.

We therefore ask that contributions large or small be sent to our treasurer Mr. Edward L. Bacon, 13 Jewett street, Newton, which contributions will be promptly acknowledged.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY.

Junior Officers' Conference

A most successful new venture of the Norumbega Council, under the direction and management of the Eagle Scout Circle, was carried through last Saturday. It was a Conference for the Junior Officers' group, which includes all the boy officers of Troops in the Council.

The program was planned by the Eagle Scouts and the speakers on various subjects secured by them. The session in the afternoon was opened at 3:20, five minutes ahead of schedule, by a brief introductory talk by the Scout Executive, L. A. Bruce, Jr., followed by a brief welcome and explanation of the purpose of the Conference by Mr. James R. Warren, Chairman of the Council Leadership and Training Committee, who inspired the idea.

At this opening session 95% of the Troops of the Council were represented by about 85 Scouts, who are boy leaders in Troops.

Chief Eagle Presides

The session was presided over by Eagle Scout Harry Colony, Chief of the Circle. The program, with the Scouts who spoke and their subjects, are listed below. This was a 100% boy-operated affair and the boys prepared their own talks and spoke their minds, in a most inspiring, sane and constructive manner. The essence of the Conference was to inspire the boy leaders and to show them ways in which they could be of greater help to their respective Scoutmasters. Following each two papers there were small discussion groups presided over by Eagle Scouts. The organizing of these groups and the registration method was worked out by the Eagle Scouts themselves and was most effectively and efficiently handled.

In visiting the discussion groups, the one officer who was present through the session, simply to be on hand to answer questions that might arise, regarding Council policy and procedure, reported he was most impressed with the mature, sensible handling of these discussion groups and the intense seriousness of the Scouts in talking over points raised in the papers presented.

At the close of the afternoon session, dinner was served to the Conference by Paxton's, at which Commissioner Bierer was present for a short time, having previously spoken to the Junior Officers of the importance and essentials of their respective jobs.

Big Evening Program

The evening program was started off by a report of the Findings Committee of which Charles Frary, Jr., Troop 7, was Secretary. The discussion on the Findings was led by Eagle Scout Clay Lewis of Troop 11, Newton and it was most constructively handled.

First Showing of Jamboree Pictures

Following this discussion the story of the Newton Jamboree Troop was told by the Scout Executive, who was the Scoutmaster of that Troop. This was followed by the first showing of the motion pictures taken by the Newton Troop men of the Jamboree, which really amounted to a pre-viewing as the pictures were the result of first cutting. Apparently the Scouts were most keen for them.

Scout Executive Williams Speaks

Then came the high spot of the evening—the inspiring address of Scout Executive J. Harold Williams of Providence, Rhode Island. His talk, holding men and boys, for the men were especially invited to hear him in the evening) for nearly an hour, right on their toes,

COMING EVENTS

State Federation

MID-WINTER MEETING. Clubwomen are asked to note that orders for luncheon tickets for the day of the Mid-Winter Meeting, the 22nd, at Hotel Statler must positively be ordered before the 15th. Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, of 244 Austin street, West Newton has charge of these.

CITIZENSHIP COURSE. At 10:30 o'clock, on Monday, January 13th, Miss Marion C. Nichols, chairman of the Civil Service Department of the State Federation, opens her home at 55 Mt. Vernon street, Beacon Hill, Boston, for the first in a series of three Monday morning lectures, in January, on matters pertaining to her subject. All interested Clubwomen, and especially chairmen of affiliated Clubs who are in charge of allied topics, such as Civic, Legislative, and Community Service, are invited to attend. Miss Nichols would appreciate notice of this intention.

RADIO. It is safe to say that radio sets in Newton will be busy next Wednesday morning, the 15th, at 11:57 o'clock, and especially all sets owned by members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, for the popular president of this Club, Mrs. Joseph Otis, is to speak on their outstanding event this year—an outstanding one for all Newton Clubwomen who are proud of their oldest Club and its foundation and achievements—the 50th anniversary. The regular broadcast over WNAC opens at 11:30 with greeting from Mrs. John H. Kimball, fourth vice-president of the State Federation, followed by music from the West Roxbury Club Chorus, under the leadership of Erdine Tredebeck Oedel at 11:35. Mrs. George E. Gomley, director, will speak on "Second District Gleanings", at 11:50 and then will come the feature of the morning with Mrs. Otis speaking.

JUNIOR ADVISERS CONFERENCE. Advisers from the Senior Clubs to the Juniors have been invited to attend a Conference and Tea to be held at Federation Headquarters, 687 Boylston street, Boston, corner of Exeter street, on Wednesday afternoon, the 15th, at 2 o'clock, by Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., chairman of Junior Membership.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet with Mrs. Gilbert R. Jones, 27 Eddy street, on Monday, January 13th. A paper on "Syria, the Mixing Place of the Nations", will be given by Mrs. John Shade Franklin; also one on "A brief History of the Turks", by Mrs. Alvah L. Jordan. The hostess will be assisted by Mrs. Joseph A. Otis.

Monday Club

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands will meet on the afternoon of the 13th at the home of Mrs. C. G. Wetherbee, 47 Terrace avenue. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Emma A. Proctor and Mrs. F. S. Fairchild, and will be a presentation of "Our Western Writers", this being the next of the various sub-divisions of the general study topic of American Literature, which the Club is enjoying this year.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

Mrs. Mark Ward opens her home, 20 Oak terrace, for the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands on Monday afternoon, the 13th. Mrs. Hiram A. Miller presents the program, which is a discussion of J. H. Randall, Jr.'s book entitled "Our Changing Civilization". This program is in continuation of the consideration of many outstanding books written upon philosophical, sociological, intellectual, biographical, and such other subjects.

Waban Woman's Club

On Tuesday, January 14th "Living with other people's children" a lecture by Miss Dorothy Waldo, Principal of Dana Hall School for Girls, will be given for members of the Waban Woman's Club in Union Church, West Newton, at 10:30 a. m., under the auspices of the Education committee of which Mrs. Alexander S. MacMillan is chairman.

On January 15th, an open meeting so-called, arranged by the same committee will be held at the home of Mrs. Samuel T. Douglas, 91 Avalon road, and will include "Discussion of Parents' Problems."

Also on January 15th, there will be a trip to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts at 2 p. m., to visit the Series of French Rooms, which will be open. This is under the auspices of Mrs. Austin G. Bourne, chairman of the Art committee. The hostess for the afternoon is Mrs. George L. Reynolds.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On the evenings of January 22nd and 23rd at 8:00 p. m., the Dramatic committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, with Mrs. Montague Ford as Chairman, will present its annual play. This will be a great attraction for the Club members and their guests, for these two evenings mark the Club's Annual Guest Nights. This year, the play is to be one of Mrs. Fiske's sparkling comedies, "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh", and is produced by arrangement with Samuel French, of New York. Mrs. Frederick Sears will play the title role, and those in the cast are: Mr. W. H. Macurda, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Francis, Mr. Charles Pierce, Mr. Roderick Clifford, Mr. H. C. Gibson, Mrs. Harold Keller, Mrs. Kenneth Crafts, Mr. Norman Mitchell, Mrs. Paul Macurda and Mrs. Montague Ford. The play will be coached by Mr. H. A. Tomlinson, to whom the Club is indebted for many excellent productions in the past.

On Friday, January 17th, at 10:15 a. m., the Education committee will present its third "Informal Talk", and current news will be presented in Art, by Mrs. William Noetzel; in Drama, by Mrs. Montague Ford; in Literature, by Mrs. E. Raye Speare; and in Music, by Mrs. Mosse H. Gulesian.

Mrs. Seth M. Fitchett, of the American Home committee, is now receiving applications for a visit on January 29th, at 2:30 p. m., to the Priscilla Proving Plant. This opportunity is open to a limited number of Club members. Mrs. Della T. Lutz, a writer on Home Economics, will be the hostess, and during the visit she will lead a discussion on matters of interest to the housewife.

The first Class in First Aid should not be forgotten by those interested, coming on January 13th, at 10 o'clock. The Public Health committee which has this Class in charge is also offering another in Indian Clubs and Callisthenics, including dancing and reducing exercises. This Class is not limited to members. Application for the former Class should be made to Mrs. L. Rowley, C. N. 0316-W; and for the latter to Mrs. W. R. Waldo, C. N. 2502.

On Tuesday, January 14th, at 10:30 a. m., will be held the second in a series of Classes explaining the A. B. C. of Legislation. The lecture will be on "How Bills Begin and Grow. Why many come to an untimely end. How the surviving few win through." Following this, a discussion will be led by Mrs. Sara G. Ehrmann on the "Abolition of Capital Punishment". Arrangements for these Classes and speakers are being made by the leadership of Mrs. Wenona Osborne Pinkham, League of Nations chairman, and authority on legislative matters, who was stricken with paralysis while lecturing at the meeting on December 27th. These lectures are free to members and Clubwomen of all the Newtons are invited to attend.

On Wednesday, January 15th, at 10:30 a. m., the International Committee, with Miss Louise Walworth as chairman, will hold its first Round Table Discussion, the subject being "World Affairs and The League of Nations". The speaker will be Mr. Edwin Aiken, Jr., who is a graduate of Yale, and for ten years has been curating the following the activities of the League of Nations. Single discussions are 50 cents and the series of three is $1.00.

On Thursday, January 2nd, Mrs. Robert Hayden, representing the Social Service committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, was hostess at the annual party given in the Bowen School for the Americanization Class. And, finally, a most welcome announcement, is the Mid-winter Show once again to be put on for the Club by that master of artistic productions, Mr. C. Hassler Capron, for February 7th and 8th—"The Color Box"—an altogether delightful title, promising a blaze of beauty in color and music, with Newton Centre talent assisting. Tickets for this go on sale January 13th and 14th at the Clubhouse from 9 to 12, where a floor chart will be shown, or tickets may be ordered by mail or telephone after the 14th, from Mrs. J. F. Capron, C. N. 1098, for tables; or from Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., for one or two tickets at a table with hostess, C. N. 1297.

Auburndale Review Club

The annual business meeting of the Review Club, to which only members are invited, will be held at the home of Mrs. Stephen Wright of 47 Hancock street, on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. The main purpose of this meeting is to present and discuss suggestions for the next year's course of study. All are urged to come laden with new and interesting ideas. The food sale and bridge, originally planned for that same afternoon, has been postponed to January 28th. Further notice of this will appear later.

After the business meeting, all members will enjoy an informal box luncheon, together, the hostess providing coffee and tea.

Cause and Cure of War

CONFERENCE AT WASHINGTON. The fifth Conference on the Cause and Cure of War will be held in the Hall of Nations of the Washington Hotel, in Washington, D. C., January 14th to 17th. Many Clubwomen will attend this vital conference, and a report of it will be made for the many others who would like to attend but cannot, at the Midwinter Meeting of the State Federation on the afternoon of January 22nd. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, general chairman, and a woman of intense character and force, with a personality that has made her world-renowned and recognized, however unwillingly by those who fought her lines of progress, will preside. The General Federation is a member of this Committee, and this will afford opportunity for the women who are attending the Board Meeting on the 8th to 10th to stay over to be present.

Preliminary announcement schedules forum topics as follows: How far have we progressed in the discovery of the causes of war? What are they? How far have we progressed in the discovery of the cures of war? What are they? What imperative cures are as yet unthought, unmentioned or unestablished? These topics will be discussed on the opening day of the Conference. The program will have as its general topic: The growth of peace machinery in the last decade: where is it strong and where and why is it weak? There will be addresses on The League of Nations, The World Court and Arbitration Treaties, Changes in the Peace Machinery, Pending in the United States and an address on The Gaps in the Machinery of Peace.

Community Service Club of West Newton

Professor Robert E. Rogers of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will speak before members of the Community Service Club of West Newton at the next regular meeting which comes on Wednesday, January 15th, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Unitarian Parish House.

The next in the series of ten Current Events Lectures to be given by Mrs. Claude U. Gilson will take place in the same Parish House, at 10:30 a. m. on Friday, the 17th.

Social Science Club

At the meeting of the Social Science Club on January 15th at 10 o'clock at the Hunnewell Club, Mrs. Samuel Brannan will continue the study topic for the year with a paper on "The Contribution of the English to American Civilization."

These hostesses will be Mrs. Charles D. Meserve and Mrs. Loren D. Towle.

Newton Community Club

On January 16th, all members of the Newton Community Club who would like to join in a hike along the Charles River, on the Weston side, will meet at the Underwood School, at 10 a. m., and be taken in automobiles to Weston. If there is snow plans will be changed. The only stipulation as to the enjoyment of this sociability is that all who plan to join the throng will notify the leader Mrs. Frank Scofield, or the Public Health chairman, Mrs. Kendall Woodrough.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Grace Morrison Poole will give for the Newtonville Woman's Club the first of her series of three Current Event Lectures on Thursday morning, January 16th, at 10:30 a. m. Due to the activities of the Program, Education, and Drama committees, the club is able to offer this Course to its members free of charge. Others wishing (Continued on Page 13) to attend will be admitted for the price of a regular guest ticket. Also on Thursday, January 10th, at 10 a. m. the Garden Club will meet with Mrs. George E. Fisher of 36 Trowbridge avenue. The subject under discussion will be: "Bulb Embargo."

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. William E. Moore of 55 Hillside road, will be the hostess for the next meeting of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands on January 18th. Mrs. Virginia McLean will have charge of the work which will be Act III of King Henry V. The study of this play is being pursued with deep interest, as no other so nobly expresses the deepening of the national consciousness at the end of the sixteenth century, and the rising tide of national feeling.

RECENT EVENTS

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. Alan McIntosh opened her home on Winchester street to the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands for its first meeting of the year of 1930, on Saturday last. The work for the afternoon was Henry the Fifth, Acts I and II. Miss Edith McCann had the Quiz, which began with a most interesting genealogical review of the popular hero, Henry V, by Mrs. H. W. Drew, followed closely, assimilated and enjoyed by her audience. In this play Shakespeare revived the chorus, earlier discarded, and put into its mouth rhetorical poetry of extreme beauty. These choruses are unusual and form one more instance of Shakespeare's power and genius.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Young People's Night of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club found the rooms well-filled with members and guests to greet the Rev. George E. Lombard of Lawrence, lecturer and cartoonist, when he was presented by Mrs. Walter R. Evans, hostess for the evening, Monday last.

Mr. Lombard pictures life in vivid, striking, yet truthful colors—making one laugh, and yet cheered and ready to tackle life with a better vim and courage. His lectures are full of wit and "foolosophy" plus a great deal of sound sense, interwoven so none of his hearers feel "preached at." His cartoons depicting people without fully developed and controlled "funny-bones, jawbones, backbones" was admirable, and held the closest attention of older as well as delighting the younger folk.

The Hospitality committee, of which Mrs. William H. Warren is chairman, served ice cream and cakes after the lecture.

Newtonville Woman's Club

"Thomas Hardy" was the subject of Miss Heloise E. Hersey's talk before the Newtonville Woman's Club, at its regular meeting on Tuesday. Miss Hersey is a recognized authority on English literature and her talk shed new light on Thomas Hardy's life and work.

The Club had two guests of honor, Mrs. Carl L. Schreiber, first vice-president of the State Federation, who presented the matter of the Foundation Fund; and Mrs. Horace B. Gale, District Director, who spoke of several of the measures pending in the Legislature.

The Glee Club sang, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Hastings, with the violin and Miss Dorothy Curtis at the piano.

Mrs. Royal T. Lapham and Mrs. Arthur H. Alger, from the Executive Board, received with the president, Mrs. Albert D. Auryansen, at the informal reception during the tea. There was also an opportunity for Club members to meet the two guests of honor and the speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. A. Dudley Bach and Mrs. Edward P. Hendrick were hostesses, and Mrs. Charles R. Lynde, Mrs. Walter P. Marsh, Mrs. Hubert G. Ripley, and Mrs. Warren M. Tapley poured at the tea.

Auburndale Review Club

To the members of the Review Club meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. James G. Patterson, it seemed an unusually long time since the last meeting, a month ago, before the holidays, in the old year. All were glad to greet each other, and pick up the threads of study again. In the absence of Mrs. Charles D. Pickard, her paper on "Columbia and the Panama Canal" was read by Miss Eleanor Pinkham. After a brief resume of the history of the searches for a shorter passage to India, for greater exchange of goods the paper told of the French and Colombian agreements, the secession of Panama, and our quick coming to terms with the little new republic. From the beginning of work in 1904 to 1914, when the first self-propelled boat went through the canal and the later development of health measures, we were brought to the present, and our relationships with the 10-foot strip of land to our south.

Mrs. Percival M. Wood, taking Mrs. Patterson's place, told of our "New Caribbean Policies." Attention was first drawn to that region by the dispute between Venezuela and British Guiana; and our consequent statement, that United States interests were paramount there, that those countries must put us first, and fulfill all financial obligations to European powers, to prevent their finding an excuse to appear on our horizon, showed clearly our new duties as well as our new advantages. Recent developments for the good of all in the region of the West Indies would seem to prove that our policy has been fairly wise there.

Miss Ellen C. Williams assumed a very personal and informal point of view for her topic of "Our Brown Filipino Neighbors," telling of what she had learned from a former Auburndale boy, Dean Worcester, who spent many a winter evening by her mother's fireside, telling vividly of his experiences in the Philippines, from student days, through various commissions, under McKinley, to his final position as Secretary of the Interior. His great work accomplished, with schools and health measures, roads, and taming of wild tribes, made the Club proud that his boyhood was spent in Auburndale. A recent letter from Mrs. Worcester made clear that the majority of the natives do not desire self-government, with its attendant disadvantages. Under the new Governor, Davis, with his tactful helpful family, happy days are in prospect.

The pleasure of the morning was greatly added to by the delightful singing by a friend of Mrs. Spaulding's, Mrs. Kingsville, from London, Ont., of two groups of songs. With spring and nature-joys well to the foreground, her audience felt that the warm morning must almost be bringing Spring with her.

General Federation

MOVING PICTURES. The Committee on Review of Motion Pictures for the General Federation, which is having the co-operation of the State Community Service Department, and, in fact, of all Clubwomen, in releasing its list for December makes this significant statement: "While this list of pictures contains no outstanding films comparable to 'Disraeli,' your National Committee presents as the most talked-of picture of the month: 'Condemned.'"

This is a Goldwyn all dialogue picture, starring Ronald Colman, "whose infusion of himself into the role of Michel, the Parisian thief, lifts this picture far above the sordid, unpleasant thing it might have been."

Three plays are characterized as "excellent": "Cameo Kirby," a Fox all dialogue, based upon the play by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson, a melodrama of Mississippi Riverboat Days when gamblers plied their trade (for youth and adult); "So This Is College," a M. G. M. all dialogue, bright, witty, with witty dialogue, snappy, a Paramount all dialogue, a whimsical and fascinating war story, of human appeal. An idea of plot has been given for these and will be for others, so that the individual taste can have choice, regardless of criticisms from the viewpoint of production or suitability.

"Enjoyable for adults seeking light entertainment" is the criticism of the feature, Paramount all dialogue, "The Battle of Paris," a Latin Quarter Romance, in which Gertrude Lawrence plays the street song seller and pick-pocket.

"Light, happy entertainment, wholesome clowning for the whole family" is the verdict on M. G. M. all dialogue, "It's a Great Life," a musical extravaganza built on sisterly sacrifice.

"Not for children," are Fox all dialogue "Harmony At Home," a "comedy" of inharmonious family conditions; "Untamed," a M. G. M. all dialogue, based on money question, with "man quarreling, fighting, lying and drinking"; "Officer O'Brien," a Pathe all dialogue crook story too mature and exciting for children; "Acquitted," a Columbia underworld drama with prison scenes; "Hold Your Man," a Universal, comedy drama, but too eternal triangle for children; "Bishop Murder Case," M. G. M., too exciting for adolescents and children; "Devil May Care," M. G. M. taken from a French play of the escape of a Napoleonic supporter after sentence of death; "Hit The Deck," R. K. O. story of a rich girl whom a sailor refuses to marry until he thinks she is poor; "The Night Hostess," M. G. M. melodrama of a night club. All of these have entertainment value for the adult, and all but the last of these are spoken of as being well acted and produced.

"For the whole family" is the verdict on "Jazz Heaven," R. K. O. all dialogue, "decency can be as much punch and interest as indecency and not be sentimental bosh"; "Song of Love," Columbia, story of a family who are on the stage; "Hell's Heroes," Universal, story of bank robbers who stumble upon a child that needs care, unusual plot, holds interest, well acted, "fairly good family picture."

"Not objectionable as a family picture," but only "fairly entertaining"; "Little Johnny Jones," First National, story of jockey rider unjustly accused of throwing race.

"An excellent portrayal" of giving a dog a bad name, the adult (but not for children), is "The Mighty," a Paramount all dialogue.

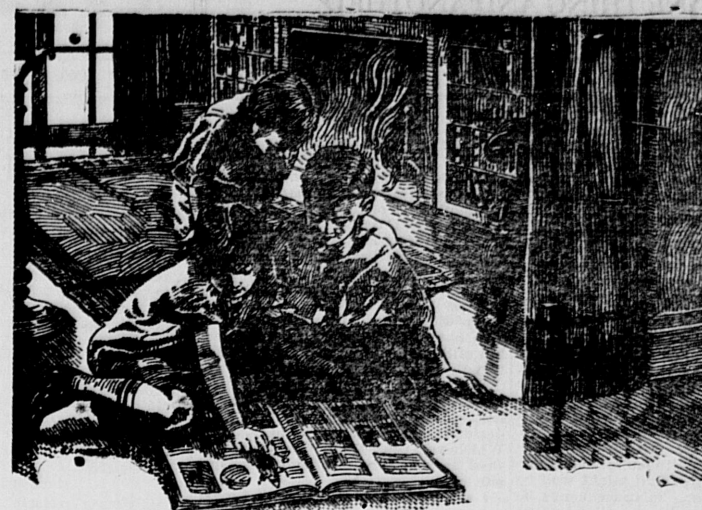

"Tiresome and poorly done"—for anyone—is the verdict on "Behind the Make-up," a Paramount, story of two actors, with betrayal of friendship.

Only of "average interest for adults," is the mature picture of a woman's life, "Hearts of Dixie," story of exile to Siberia of rich husband and former poor lover, and the latter's sacrifice for the husband. Of "small recreational value, sophisticated," is "The Painted Angel," a First National story of a woman who owns a night club. Of only "average entertainment for the adult" is "Painted Faces," a Tiffany-Stahl story of disagreeing jury on a murder case, with the juror who holds out the real murderer. "Entertainment value doubtful" is the criticism of "Shanghai Lady," a Fox story of an American girl in a Chinese resort.

A short subject, "a family picture," a very peppy comedy, with amusing situations is "Hot and How," an Educational.

Plan now to build the Home you've always wanted . . .

A home is something that cannot be swept away at the turn of the market. It may not double in value over night, neither will it drop out of sight in a couple of hours.

It costs less to build now than it has for a long time. Materials are cheaper, money is easier, skilled labor is available and land easy to secure.

Home building is our business and we stand ready to give you the benefit of our experience.

Let us show you new ideas of home arrangement—plans and actual photographs. You may feel free to consult our library of home building information without obligation.

CELEBRATE TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF PROHIBITION

Sunday, Jan. 12th, the Lincoln Park Baptist Church of West Newton will celebrate the tenth anniversary of the 18th Amendment by which the prohibition of intoxicating liquors was written into the national constitution. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. John Shade Franklin, will preach on the subject "Dawn's Early Light" or "What Prohibition Has Achieved In Ten Years." Through the smoke screen of misinterpretation, unfair reporting and stubborn prejudice the facts gleam with an unmistakable promise for the future.

The West Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will attend the evening service in a body. Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton, president of Middlesex County W. C. T. U. will give a brief address after which Mr. Franklin will deliver an inspirational message on the subject, "Fighting For Freedom" or "Prohibition: A Question of National Righteousness."

Members of the West Newton W. C. T. U. who will usher are as follows: Mesdames May L. Sweatt, Bertha Dinmore, Esther Keyes, and Gertrude Braham. The local temperance organization has been working for some forty years. Among the past presidents who have been members of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church are Mesdames Richard Rowe, Marion Burdon, Samuel N. Waters, Sarah Jordan and William Rand. The work of the West Newton society among soldiers and sailors has received special recognition from the state organization for several years. Mrs. Sarah Hovenden is superintendent of this department.

CHILD STUDY GROUP TO ORGANIZE

There will be a meeting at 2.30 Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 15 in the Newton Centre Women's Club for those parents who are interested in becoming members of a child study group sponsored by the Newton Centre School Association. The meetings of this group will be conducted in the form of round table discussions of the various problems confronting parents. This first discussion on Jan. 15 will be led by Mrs. William H. Raye and will be of the problems of the pre-adolescent and adolescent period. The subsequent meetings will deal with such problems as the group decides upon. Mrs. Francis L. Cooper who has charge of the organizing of this group urges members of last year's study group to attend again this year and will cordially welcome new members.

TUESDAY EVENING LECTURES

A course of six lectures will be given by Dr. Dieffenbach in the Unitarian church parish house Newton Centre on Tuesday evenings beginning with January 14th and continuing to February 18. Dr. Dieffenbach will speak on the general subject "What is happening to Religion." The schedule of these lectures is as follows:—Jan. 14 "How Mankind Got Religion." Jan. 21 "Recent Changes in Fundamental Beliefs." Jan. 28 "The Present State of Protestantism." Feb. 4 "Science, Friend or Foe of Faith?" February 11, "Can We Have Religion without God?" and Feb. 18 "The Coming Religion, What Will It Be?"

These lectures will start at eight o'clock. They are free and open to the public. After each lecture there will be a period for questions and answers.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

It was refreshing to read an inaugural message as substantial as that of Mayor Weeks. It was free from much of the usual bunk we often find in such documents. There were no sentimentalities, no gush and no dragging-in of matters not of vital importance. I was about to say that it looked as if the Mayor was an old hand at writing such messages, but the fact that he is a beginner as chief of executive is the reason probably that he brings a different method of stating his views.

Having served in the Board of Aldermen for a number of years he was fortified with a knowledge that could be obtained only by actual contact with the problems of city management. Here, by the way, is an argument for the promotion of the right kind of Aldermen to the office of Mayor and a sound one, too. One of Mayor Weeks' capacity could not sit in the aldermanic chamber without making mental notes of things that might well be done by a mayor. In consequence he was prepared to give the illuminating message which he submitted.

In my opinion the address gave us an index into the character of the Mayor. Although he received a large vote at the polls not all those who marked their ballots for him were intimately acquainted with him. They had hopes and expectation, the sum total of which was that he was likely to make good. In reading the message the assurance came to me that the majority of the electorate had not misplaced their confidence. The way he tackled the job, if we may so describe it, was sufficient to justify his election. A clear picture of Newton's condition, not colored with high-sounding phrases or touched-up with personal references, is what the people got from Mayor Weeks' first public utterance.

To me it was a solid document, but not so ponderous but what it could be readily understood. I found no difficulty to grasping the Mayor's views. On the contrary I enjoyed reading every word. Not that I sought entertainment, but information. An admirable start and one that promises much for our city.

Before leaving the Mayor's office I must say that while I am not able to discuss the Mayor's opinions beyond what he has stated publicly, I can tell you something about his secretary, Mr. Dempsey. In fact I knew Mr. Dempsey before he came to Newton. I would rather prefer to call him "Jimmie", but I suppose that is not a dignified thing to do. Still, we know each other pretty well.

You see Mr. Dempsey was a newspaperman and one of the brightest and most industrious that ever pounded-out copy. And "Jimmie" has written a lot in his day, which is early yet, by the way. I first met him when he became attached to the State House News Service, which is an agency for supplying the routine news of the State House to the various daily newspapers of the State.

"Jimmie" had yoked in the western part of the State, learned his trade there as they say, and although new to Boston he wasn't backward in picking-up the knack of legislative reporting which has its complications. Like the products of the smaller newspaper offices Mr. Dempsey had been through about every phase of newsgathering. He had learned in Chicopee and Holyoke to jump from a solemn occasion to a busy night of police reporting. Long hours were part of the business and so he was ready for the long grind of a session of the General Court.

Out of our companionship there sprang a friendship which I value to a large degree. I have always found him cheerful, alert, keen, obliging, honest and considerate. There are many other good points, too, but I have embarrassed him already and so I will stop right here, though not until I have ventured to say that he is an ideal man for the place as the people who call at the Mayor's office will find out for themselves.

With the theatre patronage—that is, the legitimate stage performances—so uncertain I hesitate to say anything to discourage attendance. As far as that goes, what I shall describe could as well have happened in a movie house, a concert or lecture hall or even in a church. Therefore, let us think of the actual occurrence rather than the scene of the crime, for that's what it was, if you ask me. We not infrequently hear and read about the sharp thrusts of dramatic critics and how they unhesitatingly condemn a show. Sometimes it is said that "chickens come home to roost". But that would be putting it pretty strong in this case and certainly the punishment would be too severe.

On the occasion in question a dramatic critic was occupying an aisle seat. Supposedly, he was minding his own business and it made no difference whether he came to write a criticism or merely to see the play. I hope I make this clear in order that it may be plain that what occurred was not the result of the fact that the man was a dramatic critic. He might have been any other person as long as he occupied the seat on the end of the row. Nevertheless, there he sat, and now observe what occurred.

Down the aisle came two men and two women in evening clothes. The curtain had been lifted and although the usher was trying to show the four people their seats there seemed to be a misunderstanding. The woman who led the party wore a metal wrap, one of those dazzling and bewildering creations that always command attention. She stopped in the aisle where she could give orders to her companions, though why she should wish to boss them into their seats I cannot say. Her commands seem to demand that she wave her arms, and this she did. One of her gestures brought the end of the metal wrap against the right eye of the critic. The collision was so severe that it blinded him and it was not until a week had passed that his eye became well again.

I haven't any moral to dwell upon. That is, I can't very well say, "don't be a critic" or "don't wear a metal wrap." Yet I think I may say, "When you see a woman waving her arms look out for yourself".

That is, I can't very well say, "don't be a critic" or "don't wear a metal wrap." Yet I think I may say, "When you see a woman waving her arms look out for yourself".

It's been a long time since there was so much talk over the reappointment of the director of the State Division of Fisheries and Game. And yet, if I remember correctly, the present incumbent's predecessor was the storm-center of much public controversy. In the present instance the administration of the office is the subject of sharp differences. One set of sportsmen has one opinion and another set has still another opinion. Between the two there is no ground for the director to occupy. He must take a stand and this he has done. The Governor has, after waiting a number of weeks, decided the director should remain. Whichever course the Governor pursued he was sure to offend the opposite side.

I was turning over in my mind what appeared to me the uselessness of such extended and bitter controversy over fish and game. A generous Providence has placed upon the earth animals, birds and fish. They have their place. Some people think it glorious to study and observe the habits of wild life. I must confess that I am one of the number. Other people feel that there is great satisfaction in the slaughter of these animals and birds and the catching of fish. They find much enjoyment in shooting, etc. It is their pastime, something to look forward to and make preparations for with the purchase of firearms and other equipment.

Hunters, however, are part of the world's progress and the topic of song and story of the ages. It's something that has always been and always will be, I suppose. And yet this latter statement may be going a bit far. If we keep killing off birds and animals and catching fish, won't wild life, sooner or later, be exterminated? I have heard people who were not mushy over the thing say that our sportsmen are going a bit too far and a bit too fast. I cannot say, for I am not particularly well informed. I do think, however, that there is hardly the need of so much bitter wrangling over the conduct of the office of Director of the Division of Fisheries and Game. The great outdoors, I had always thought, was a playground, not a battleground.

Will some one kindly tell me why the many inquires at the front door about the brand of this, that and the other commodity that is used? It's flatter, and yet it's mysterious. To have such a deep interest taken by strangers in one's household affairs is enough to make one blush—not with anger but embarrassment. The other day a young woman called and just wanted to talk over the kind of—now what was it? Well, anyway, it was something used in cooking. She said she wasn't selling anything, but was getting up statistics. Seems the people she worked for were greatly concerned over the kind of—hang it all I can't remember what it was—we were using. As far as I could figure she was there to put folks on the right track. But she said she was only collecting data and not interested in anything else. Well, if there is one thing that I'm not stingy about giving away that thing is data. Anybody who wants it can have all they want from me for the mere asking, especially if it happens to be a nice looking young woman who is conducting the quest.

The most recent caller in this campaign of questioning was a young man who wanted to know what kind of flour was being used. I asked him to be explicit and if he was hinting at anything like a slice of bread and butter it would be a pleasure to hand him some. No, he wanted to get the name of our favorite kind of flour, which I gave him and for which he seemed very grateful.

I suppose strangers have as much reason as one's friends for putting us through our paces. I know several people who say, "What kind of a radio do you use?" and since I have been talking before the microphone I can honestly say, "All kinds".

Another fellow will ask, "What kind of tooth paste do you use?" or, "what's your favorite shaving soap?" They're liable to ask any old question about anything. I'm not a lot put out by this sort of thing, because if anybody wants to take the trouble I'll be glad to tell them. What I can't just figure out is, what difference does it make—they all cost money.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Woman's Association of Central church held its Annual Meeting on Wednesday, January 9th. After the sewing and making of surgical dressings, luncheon was served. Mrs. A. W. Chamberlain chairman of the serving committee. Annual reports were read by the recording secretary, Mrs. Charles P. Frai and the treasurer Miss Emma Miller. The membership is 243. $1100 has been contributed towards the salary of Miss Mary Kinney at Scutari, Turkey; $400 to Lincoln University, $150 to Taladega College, $50 apiece to the Eleanor Nagle fund and the Lillian Allen fund. The Association has completed its payment of $500 to the church improvement fund and has contributed to other objects. Over 4000 surgical dressings have been sent to hospitals and other garments have been contributed to various causes.

Mrs. George Auryansen, after three years as president, was succeeded by Mrs. Robert E. Chambers. In welcoming her successor, Mrs. Auryansen graciously alluded to the pleasure she had derived in serving the association. Mrs. Chambers has recently come into the association and she referred to this fact and to the confidence she had in the co-operation of the society. Dr. Brewer Eddy was the speaker and he made a strong appeal for advance based upon the need and the encouraging results of the work at home and abroad, a joint task. ### THE GREATEST

IN CHEVROLET HISTORY

Today, Chevrolet presents the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History—a smoother, faster, better Six—with beautiful new bodies by Fisher.

Basically, it is the same sturdy, substantial Six which won such tremendous popularity in 1929. But it is a greater car in every way—for there are scores of vital improvements which contribute to comfort, performance, endurance and safety!

An improved six-cylinder valve-in-head motor, with its capacity increased to 50 horsepower; four Delco-Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers; fully-enclosed internal-expanding weather-proof brakes; a new dash gasoline gauge; heavier and stronger rear axle; new Fisher non-glare windshield; larger tires—

—these are typical of the many improvements which make this car the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History.

But most impressive of all—this smoother, faster, better Six has been made available—

- at greatly reduced prices!

During 1929, more than a million three hundred thousand persons bought six-cylinder Chevrolets. This enormous volume has made possible many savings in the Chevrolet factories—and, in keeping with its long-established policy, Chevrolet is sharing these savings with the public. No written description can do justice to the extra value and quality provided in this new car. Visit your Chevrolet dealer—see this car—ride in it—and judge for yourself its sensational value.

These open doors call for expansion and it is regrettable that there must be 10 percent cuts instead of further development. Dr. Eddy urged the Association to increase their gifts and have the joy of the giver.

Mrs. LeRoy Leland was chairman of the nominating committee and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. R. E. Chambers; First Vice-President, Mrs. Gorbam W. ## LAUNDRY AIDS HEALTH

The modern power laundry is one of the best means of guarding against the spread of contagion this winter, and a help in preventing a recurrence of the influenza epidemic which reached such alarming proportions last year. Today with its scientific methods it is considered an important factor in disease prevention.

Absolute sterilization of garments is most important, and the equipment of the power laundry provides for this. Doing the washing at home not only makes the house damp and chill, but gives the influenza germs a chance to get started.

The first public laundries ever established were started in London in 1832 as a means of preventing the spread of the cholera epidemic then raging there. United States established modern power laundries to combat the spread of disease in Panama during canal-building days in the zone. Laundries have now been established on all the navy's larger war vessels for the same reason, displacing the old hand method formerly used.

Savings can be made on Infants' and Children's Underwear and Hosiery at the retail store of Thomas Dalby Company, Chase Building, Pleasant street, Watertown. Values on quality garments in samples and irregulars will help the home budget. Advertisement.

Noted Educator To Speak At Newtonville

Dr. J. L. Stuart Of Peking Coming Sunday Morning

At the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, on Sunday morning, January 19, at eleven o'clock, Dr. John Leighton Stuart of Peking, China, will address the congregation. Dr. Stuart is the son of missionaries to China. He is an educator of the first rank, and his wisdom and sympathy have made him greatly loved by the Chinese. His courage and statesmanship in building and developing Yenching University while civil war raged in China is notable. Dr. Stuart was called to be President of Yenching University in 1920. He was the first president of that University following the uniting of four schools of different denominations in and near Peking.

The University has always enjoyed the support of the Chinese government and, soon after the appointment of Dr. Stuart to the presidency of the University, the then Peking government conferred on him the Third Degree of Chia Ho, or Order of Merit, a decoration given to few foreigners and the first, it is said, to a missionary educator.

CITY HALL NEWS

James S. Cannon of 25 Channing street, Newton, and Grosvenor Calkins of 49 Farlow road, Newton, yesterday tendered their resignations to Mayor Sinclair Weeks as trustees of the Read and Elliot Memorial Funds. The only remaining trustee now is William T. Foster of 109 Sargent street.

Both trustees asked to be relieved of the duties attending management of the funds after years of service in this connection. Attorney Cannon has served as a trustee of the funds for eight years and Attorney Calkins for a period of 12 years.

The resignations have been accepted with regret by Mayor Weeks, who has not yet appointed trustees to take their places.

GOLDEN RULE RUG MAY BE PLACED IN WAR MEMORIAL BUILDING

In connection with the presentation of the Golden Rule Rug by the Near East Relief to the City of Newton a picture of which was carried in these columns a week ago it has been suggested by Mayor Weeks that the proposed War Memorial, when built might be a suitable place for it. Mrs. Charles W. Bond of Newton Centre, chairman of the Newton committee on the Near East Relief, recently wrote to Mayor Weeks suggesting that a more representative place than the Newton Centre Library, where it now is, could be found. Mayor Weeks' suggestion is contained in a reply to Mrs. Bond's request.

DOG BITES LETTER CARRIER

Peter Haverly of 316 River street, West Newton, who has been working as a substitute letter carrier, was bitten on his left leg Wednesday by a dog owned by H. Wuenschner of 985 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, while delivering mail at the Wuenschner residence. The dog was ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine it.

National Bank Is Growing Rapidly

Board of Directors Enlarged To Nineteen

The second annual meeting of the Newton National Bank was held on Tuesday which was "Bank Day" for all the National Banks. President Thomas Weston addressed the stockholders, and submitted a report of the bank's business and condition. The report stated that in ten months' operation the bank's deposits had increased from $235,000 to $972,000 and while 40 accounts constituted the original individual business of the bank there are at present over 1050 customers. The statement showed that $11,381.95 had been established in the bank's undivided profit account. President Weston was enthusiastic about the bank's progress and prospects, and emphasized particularly the important role which had been played by the Board of Directors.

The stockholders voted to increase the Board of Directors to nineteen, and proceeded to elect them. Mr. J. Harold Drake, and Mr. Philip S. Jamieson were elected to the new posts. Mr. Drake who lives at 304 Otis street, West Newton, and has lived in Newton for the past 24 years, is the Manager, Vice-President, and Director of the Drake Bakeries, Inc. He is also a Director of the Edwin S. Parker Co., and the National Rockland Bank of Boston.

Mr. Philip S. Jamieson lives at 45 Kenilworth street, Newton, and is well known throughout the city as the Alderman-at-large from Ward 7. Mr. Jamieson who has always been a resident of Newton is Vice-President of the J. B. Jamieson Co. He is a member of the Boston Rotary Club, University Club, Boston Chamber of Commerce, Brae Burn Country Club, and Hunnewell Club.

The following directors were re-elected: James R. Bancroft (Waban), William Ellison (Newton), Albert P. Everts (Newtonville), William F. Garcelon (Newton), George P. Hatch (West Newton), Charles R. Lynde (Newtonville), Grosvenor D. Marcy (Newton Highlands), C. G. McDavitt, Jr. (Newtonville), James B. Melcher (Newton), Vincent P. Roberts (Chestnut Hill), Fred S. Sawyer (West Newton), William C. Sills (Newton), Douglas Sloane (Newtonville), George W. Sweet (Newton Centre), Henry A. Wentworth (Auburndale), Thomas Weston (West Newton), and Dr. Guy M. Winslow (Auburndale).

MORE TRAFFIC SIGNALS PROPOSED

A conference was held Saturday morning in Mayor Weeks' office concerning new automatic traffic signals. Present were the Street Commissioner, representatives of the General Electric Company and the State Department of Public Works. The locations of the proposed signals are at Centre and Boylston streets, Beacon and Hammond streets, Beacon and Walnut streets, Beacon and Chestnut streets. The signals are to be supplied by the General Electric Company. The police are making tallies at these intersections to prove to the State officials that there is sufficiently heavy traffic to warrant placing such signals at these locations.

Traffic signals which have been destroyed during recent months at dangerous traffic points and which have not been replaced, included those which were at Needham and Oak streets, Newton Upper Falls, Lowell and Highland avenues, Newtonville, Centre and Church streets, Newton.

Tercentenary Talk At D.A.R. Meeting

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer Tells Of Celebration Plans

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, who is a member of the Newton Tercentenary committee, was the speaker of the afternoon at the meeting on Monday. She noted the significance of the occasion which brought to these shores the Puritan settlers three hundred years ago. Under their leader John Winthrop, who bore the famed charter, this group laid foundations in which were built a strong commonwealth, the Massachusetts Bay Colony, whose deeds loom large in the making of a nation. These were days fraught with destiny and well may our state celebrate the occasion and welcome to its borders many from all parts of our country and from England. "Back to Massachusetts" is a slogan and we expect that this year will prove an extended "Old Home Week." Mrs. Palmer sketched the outline of what would be done in Salem and in Boston with its seven towns of historic fame. She then referred to the way Newton, formerly a part of Cambridge, would commemorate these events, and demonstrate what had been her part in the nation and commonwealth. Reg. Percy Dummer has written a pageant which has recently been submitted to the committee and has met with enthusiastic approval. We have reason to anticipate a production of historic and artistic merit, showing the development of Newton the Beautiful, and its share in the great national crises. Mrs. Palmer suggested that a marker should be placed on the Chapter House and that it should be open to visitors who would appreciate the valuable collections of antiques.

Mrs. John Byers, chairman of Better Films, gave a report suggesting some of the outstanding films. She told of the way a large committee were passing judgment on the scenarios before the films are made. This is a representative group who are endeavoring to aid in the production of a high class of moving pictures. She recommended the lists which are being published in The Graphic.

Mrs. W. L. Vosburgh, chairman of Americanization, gave an account of an entertainment she had attended for foreign mothers in the Franklin school and expressed appreciation of the donation of the ice cream and cake by Mrs. Ralph Hatch and Mrs. Howe. An interesting meeting is being planned in which a group of the Italian women will provide music and Miss Margaret McGill will speak on some Americanization theme. Reference was made to the death of Mrs. Charles Gibson, for many years a member of the chapter, who had rendered valuable service and who will be greatly missed.

The Regent Mrs. Howe, asked for nominations for delegates and alternates to the Continental Congress and the state conference. The following were elected: Continental Congress, delegates, Mrs. L. H. Howe, Mrs. G. I. Jones, Alternates, Miss Nella J. Pearson, Mrs. J. E. Masters, Mrs. Holcomb Brown, Mrs. J. F. Dunleavy, Mrs. A. S. Tucker, Mrs. A. D. Salinger, Mrs. E. K. Titus, Mrs. E. D. Dodge, Mrs. W. L. Vosburgh, Mrs. R. E. Hatch, Massachusetts State Conference, Mrs. L. H. Howe, Mrs. E. B. Parker, Mrs. F. W. Pray, Mrs. J. Byers, Alternates: Mrs. J. N. Eaton, Mrs. A. P. Dana, Mrs. A. P. Friend, Mrs. A. R. Wells, Mrs. F. M. Lowe, Mrs. C. P. Hutchins. The Auction Bridge Club will hold its first meeting January 27. Sewing meetings are planned for the second Thursday mornings the month and the members are requested to bring box lunches. Tea was served, Mrs. F. S. Hardy, chairman, Mrs. Gardner L. Jones and Mrs. Frank W. Pray presided at the table.

Newton Hospital Aid Association Meets

Mrs. George H. Talbot Re-elected President

The Annual Meeting of the Association was held at the hospital in Thayer Ward Tuesday, January 14th, at 11:30 a. m. The President, Mrs. George H. Talbot, presided, giving a few words of welcome. The annual reports were given by the Secretary, Mrs. Frank E. Anderson, and the Treasurer, Miss Florence E. Tower. Mrs. Fred M. Lowe, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, proposed the following nominations, which were unanimously elected: For President, Mrs. George H. Talbot; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell, Mrs. W. V. Taylor, Mrs. Chester Spring, Mrs. F. Ashley Day, Jr.; Treasurer, Miss Florence E. Tower; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Frank E. Anderson; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Francis H. Williams; also a Board of Directors comprising forty-eight women from different parts of Newton and Wellesley.

Two new Directors were chosen to serve this year: Mrs. Cecil N. Clark of Newtonville and Mrs. Clarke T. Baldwin of Chestnut Hill. Honorary Members: Mrs. William H. Gould, Mrs. E. B. Haskell and Mrs. H. H. Carter. Hon. Alonzo R. Weed, Auditor.

We have lost by death one member of our Board, Mrs. Bernard Early, who had been a Director for several years, was prominent in club life and a woman of keen intellect and lovely character.

In response to a recent drive fifty-three new members have been acquired.

At the graduation exercises of the Hospital in June prizes provided by our Association were awarded. Miss Mary M. Riddle graciously made the presentation, to Miss Edythe Winchenbach of Framingham of the graduating class, $125.00. To Miss Helen Audrey Belyea of St. John, N. B., second year student, $75.00. To Miss Evelyn Pope of Ryegate, Vermont, first year student, $50.00. A total of $250.00.

Our donations have included $200 to Miss Allen for special needs and for furniture in Miss Allen's rooms in the old administration building now called the "Cottage," $107.00.

In October by the courtesy of Mrs. Henry I. Harriman the Executive Committee of the Hospital Aid, the committee and workers of the Benefit Shop were entertained in her home on Centre street. After a few remarks by Miss Allen, Miss Hincks, Salesmanship Director of one of Boston's largest department stores, gave a very interesting and suggestive lecture on Salesmanship. A delightful social hour and tea were enjoyed by all.

We have received from the Benefit Shop and contributed to the building fund of the hospital this year $3000.00. Of the $25,000 which was our pledge to the hospital, we have paid to date $22,000.

The furnishing of the suite of dining rooms, which includes the cafeteria, will always be recognized as our gift to the hospital, and a permanent memorial of the service, loyalty and love of the Hospital Aid Association, to the Hospital.

Mrs. C. P. Clark, Benefit Shop Treasurer, made a brief and encouraging financial statement. Mrs. Francis H. Williams, Shop Manager, related many personal experiences showing the human side of shop-keeping. The earnestness and dependability of her workers were emphasized. The Treasurer Sale in November netted $228.00. Like all up-to-date department stores the Benefit Shop has a bargain basement located on Bailey Place, rent

Business Men Elect R. M. Patterson Pres.

Newton Business Associates Start Fourth Year

The annual election of officers of the Newton Business Associates, the organization of businessmen of Newton Centre, was held last evening at the monthly dinner and meeting at the Hunnewell Club. Ralph M. Patterson was elected the fourth president of the organization to succeed Thomas H. Burns. Dwight Colburn and Geo. H. White were re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively. Warren K. Brimblecom, Raymond Heislain and O. Fred Avantaggio were elected vice-presidents.

Prior to the election reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted. Clarence G. MacDavitt, Jr., chairman of the Tercentenary Committee, reported on proposed plans for the participation of the Associates in the coming celebration by the City of Newton in June. Tentative plans which were tabled until the next meeting include the erection of a marker on the site of the first house in Newton.

JEFFERSON CLUB

A very successful whist and bridge party was held in Dennison Hall, Friday, January 10, by the Jefferson Club. The committee in charge were Mrs. Catherine Powers, Miss Mary E. Ryan, Robert Allen and A. L. Moriarty. Plans were formulated for a large meeting in the near future.

free, thanks to the generosity of Mr. Orr. This last year the receipts were $803.40. This Benefit Shop is carried on in cooperation with all Newton's worthy charities.

No Annual Meeting would be complete without Miss Allen's words. To take care of the sick people and move into and organize the new hospital was quite a problem. Miss Allen explained the many uses to which the old buildings had been put and gave a detailed description of the location of the various departments of work in the new hospital from the basement up. The audience was cordially invited to go over the hospital as every part was open for inspection and thus see for themselves what generous provision had been made for Newton's sick.

Mrs. B. E. Taylor spoke of a Booklet which was circulated a few years ago, to which had been added material to bring it up-to-date which contained interesting information of our Association. Copies were ready for distribution and all were urged to take one.

A group of nurses rendered very enjoyable music. Mrs. Talbot then introduced Dr. Sara M. Jordan, head of the Gastro-Enterology Department of the Lohrey Clinic in Boston, who spoke on "The Relation of the Gastro-Intestinal Tract to Health." By means of a chart Dr. Jordan showed the location of the organs of this intestinal tract and very concisely described their various functions in health and what happens when these normal functions are disturbed. She spoke of the balanced diet which every household should stress today. "This highly organized intestinal tube is subject to the control of the nervous system. Hence the importance of eating amid happy surroundings and slowly, thus helping it to do its duty. Dr. Jordan answered many questions and the large audience showed their appreciation of the rare opportunity to hear this noted specialist. At the close of the lecture a delicious luncheon was served in the nurses' dining room under the direction of Mrs. F. S. Webster and Mrs. C. P. Hall.

Dr. Dieffenbach Gives First Of Public Lectures On Religion

"What Is Happening To Religion" Is Subject Of Addresses in Newton Centre

In the first of a course of six public lectures on "What Is Happening To Religion?" Tuesday night, in Newton Centre, Dr. Albert C. Dieffenbach, Editor of the Christian Register and minister of the Unitarian Church of Newton Centre, told a large audience how mankind got religion. He said what people believe and what they worship is their own hard-won conception of Reality, and this has been true from the beginning of the race.

Dr. Dieffenbach told a story, which he made the key to his whole course of thought, of a frontiersman in the state of Tennessee in the time of Andrew Jackson, the ideal of the democracy. A Calvinistic lecturer was discoursing before an eager company in a schoolhouse on his system of doctrine, and reached his climax by declaring that the dogma that God by his sovereign decree called certain persons to life eternal and certain other persons to quite the reverse. The frontiersman arose and said, "Do I understand the speaker aright when he says that God, of his own decree, calls some people to eternal salvation and condemns others to eternal death?" "Yes," replied the lecturer, "you heard me aright." "Well," said the frontiersman, "do the people have anything to say about it?" "No," said the lecturer, "Well," said the frontiersman, "then it will never do in these days of the Jacksonian democracy, because the people won't stand for it."

People, said Dr. Dieffenbach, will have to give their consent to any religion which is of any use to them, for without their consent religion is of no efficacy. He gave a definition of religion which he attributed to Charles Francis Potter: "Religion is the endeavor of divided and incomplete human personality to attain unity and completion, usually but not necessarily by seeking the help of an ideally complete divine person or persons." The religions of the world have grown out of these endeavors, and the great religious leaders are those who out of the travail of their divided personalities "have given birth to some unifying concept of life, a new interpretation of all existence, a new religion." But in its real origin, religion was a simpler, more natural expression. In fact, according to Dr. Dieffenbach, religion in principle begins with the animal, because religion is first of all the "impulse to self-preservation", as George Foot Moore says. From the least of creeping things, which when you touch it with a stick, gathers itself into a tiny ball around its vital parts, to the great soul, say the Christ, serving humanity, self-preservation is the principle, enlarging from the mere saving of the physical life to the disregard of the body in the passion for the salvation of the race; that is, from the rudest self-interest to the all-inclusive and cooperative struggle for mankind. Self-preservation is the constant principle from the least living thing in the soil to the divinest creative soul, and the difference growing in the degree that values are enriched and the inclusion of society is kept in view.

Among human beings there are some whose religion is as mean as that of Babbitt, who is satisfied with wheedling good things from a great Provider; but others rise to a concept of their possible identity with the Over-soul who is Holiness and Perfection.

Dr. Dieffenbach said he did not understand how Mr. Mencken could find fault with such a reasonable idea of religion, but nevertheless Mr. Mencken says that "on the whole, religion is a curse to the human race, even when it is relatively mild and decent." He would like to see religion extirpated. In this attitude Harold J. Laaski joins, but he is not hopeful that the power of religious organization will "diminish at any great rate." Dr. Laaski thinks that religion is a good thing, in a way, for the half-educated masses in an industrial civilization, but he doubts that people of intelligence have any need of or use for it.

But against this debits is the fact, that from earliest known records to the highest personal examples in today's civilization religion has been present. The anthropologist brings out of his many races and peoples one single report,—they are all religious. Their motive is self-preservation; what they seek is more life! In their primal ignorance they sense their insufficiency against the forces about them, and seek aid, in the spirit of dependence upon a power or powers outside them to save them and give them life. This sense of dependence has never left the race or the individual, and the variation in the expression of dependence does not alter the essential reality of the fact itself. Man faces accident, misfortune, death; he aspires to creative achievement, to fellowship, to holiness. He needs help. Evil things that befall him he would ward off, prevent; the good he would do, he must have some power to understand, thus to help him to his self-realization. He cannot live alone. One man is no man.

In this common experience, man makes his God, or his gods, to meet his necessities. Dr. Dieffenbach traced the five stages in the development of the god-idea, beginning with the mana, the impersonal something which gave success to personality, and which is most nearly related to what today we call "it". The next stage was animism, or the individual spirits of nature and of human emotion and desire. The third order made its gods personal by deifying great human characters who gave the world unifying spiritual principles. In the fourth development, the gods are no longer many, nor are they human, but God is Spirit, ineffable and one, transcending all things and immanent in the world. Today, said Dr. Dieffenbach, in what is called humanism there is a probable fifth stage of development in religion, in which man is frankly conceived as making his own God out of his experience and aspiration. He projects what he does and dreams, and makes that an objective reality of infinite glory and

OUR LADY'S FIVE WINS SECOND GAME

The basketball team of Our Lady High School of Newton won its second Catholic High School basketball league game Wednesday afternoon by defeating the Cathedral High of Roxbury team, 38 to 14 on the local court. In other league games Mission Church High defeated St. Clement's High, 26 to 16 and Immaculate Conception High won from St. Mary's High, 35 to 13.

In the Our Lady-Cathedral game the local quintet had only a 12 to 10 advantage at half-time but with Gallagher and Moran passing and shooting well won easily in the second half. Gallagher tossed in six baskets from the floor for the high individual score of 12 points for the day while Moran followed with four from the floor and one on a free try for 9 points.

Next week Wednesday Our Lady High meets Immaculate Conception High at Revere when a triple first place tie between these two and Mission Church high will be dissolved. Mission Church is playing St. Mary's high at Brookline and is favored to win. Our Lady High must win from the Revere team to stay on top of the league.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

BILLINGS GIVES NEWTON 3-0 WIN

Forced to play their games in the preliminary round of the Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League on an indoor rink a triple header was staged at the Arena last Saturday. Newton defeated Belmont, 3 to 0; Rindge chased its jinx against Cambridge Latin with a 6 to 3 victory; and Arlington shaded Stoneham with a solitary goal, 1 to 0. Faced with the worst hockey weather in the sixteen years that Dr. Martin, president of the hockey league, has been coach of the Newton sextets, the whole league is several games behind its schedule. The present cold spell may provide the necessary ice to play off some of these postponed games. An attempt was made to stage another set of games at the Arena tomorrow afternoon but the ice surface there was not available. However, through the courtesy of the management of the Boston Gardens four league games will be played on the Garden rink tonight. Newton will meet Arlington, Rindge Tech will play Melrose, Belmont will tackle Woburn and Stoneham will oppose Cambridge Latin. Melrose and Woburn will be playing their first games of the league season. The games will start at eight o'clock with drawings for the order of competition taking place a half hour earlier. The Garden surface will be available to the schoolboys on future open dates. A new sheet of ice will be prepared for this evening's games and it will be scraped after every two periods. Music will also be furnished.

In last Saturday's game against the Belmont team coached by a former Newton high star, Edgar Burkhardt, a resident of Newtonville the Newton team, playing its first scholastic game of the season, as were its opponents, showed considerable promise. Walter Billings, defence man, was the potent factor in the orange and black offence. He tallied all three of the goals on solo dashes, two from near his own net and the third from centre ice. As a team Newton showed far better than Belmont. It was Billings' first varsity game. In fact the only Newton player with previous varsity experience was Captain Fred Schipper at centre ice. The remainder of the team has been formed largely from material on the intermediate squad a year ago. Gordon Linberg, a transfer from the Middle West, played the other defence position. Coach Dr. Martin started Kelley, Schipper and Hildreth on the forward line. Billings and Linberg on defence and Edgar Moore, the 185-lb. football guard, in the nets. The latter played the entire game. Colby, Chase and Kosroff relieved the first string forward line while Litchfield and Sostilio were the spare defence men.

SPORT NOTES

Entered in N. U. Meet

The Newton High school track team has been entered in the Northeastern University interscholastic track meet to be held Saturday, Feb. 1. The orange and black won the meet in 1929 and hopes to repeat this season.

Three Locals On Bowdoin Six

Three local youths are on the Bowdoin varsity sextet. Stuart Stone of West Newton is captain and plays left defence. Harry Thayer, formerly of Waban and now of Marblehead is at right defence. George Southern of Waban is a spare wing. Stone and Thayer played on the Newton high team a few years ago while Southern is a product of Huntington school of Boston.

Is At Centre For Wentworth

Spencer deMille, former Newton high star basketball and baseball athlete, is playing centre for the Wentworth Institute quintet again this season. The engineers defeated the Huntington five Monday on the latter's court, 37 to 35.

Local Youths' Shots Win

The Harvard varsity hockey team won its second game in a row over the University Club sextet Monday night at the Arena, 2 to 1. Both the Crimson counters were caged by local youths, Frank Stubbs, Jr., sophomore star of the Harvard team, and Johnny Garrison of West Newton, ex-Country Day star. Garrison scored first in the second period on a rebound while Stubbs, who while at Newton high was said to possess the hardest shot of any schoolboy, tallied the other twelve minutes later. The Hub team tallied its goal in the third session. Wilson Crosby, youngest of a trio of brothers of West Newton, all of whom have been prominent in Harvard hockey squads the past decade, is a spare defence player on Coach Joe Stubbs' squad.

Bowdoin Tops Huskies

The Bowdoin sextet defeated the Northeastern University hockey team on Monday, 2 to 1. The former's rink. Thayer played his usual stellar game for Bowdoin although he did not figure in the scoring. Stone and Southern were the other local youths in the Bowdoin lineup.

Terriers Swamped

The newly organized Boston Hockey club, composed of former school and college hockey players, swamped the Boston University varsity sextet last week Friday night at the Arena in its opening game, 9 to 1. Dick Thayer, former Newton high and Bowdoin athlete, was at left wing for the Hub team. He scored one goal. Holmes Whitmore, former Newton high star, was at right wing for B. U.

Kelley Wins By K. O.

In the amateur boxing bouts on Wednesday night in the Boston A. A. gymnasium Charles Kelley of Newton won his way through the preliminary round bouts in the 147-lb. class. In the final he met Joe Perry of Boston and won this bout with a knockout in the second round.

HIGH SCHOOL FIVE WINS FIRST GAME

The Newton high school basketball team won its first game of the season Wednesday afternoon by defeating Milton Academy, 27 to 10 on the Newton court. Newton had little difficulty in winning showing a greatly improved passing game although missing many shots at the basket. Joe Doucette, flashy right forward, was the outstanding player for Newton with five goals from the floor and two on free tries. Perry Elrod, centre, caged four baskets from the floor for eight points. The Newton seconds lost a heart-breaking game to the Milton 2nds, in the final minute when a successful free try and a basket from the floor gave Milton a one point advantage, 17 to 16.

The Watertown high veteran quintet swamped the Newton high five last week Friday afternoon on the Watertown floor, 37 to 7. Doucette scored five of Newton's points and Elrod the remaining two. The Newton seconds defeated the Watertown seconds, 14 to 8, in the preliminary game.

SPORT NOTES

Lingham Scores Twice

Phil Lingham, former Newton high athlete who transferred to Concord and graduated from that high school, is playing centre ice for Brown University. In the game with Northeastern last week Friday night at Providence, which Brown won, 2 to 0, Lingham scored both goals, once on a rebound of a teammate's shot and the other unassisted. The teams battled the regulation length and well into a second overtime session before the Huskie goalies gave in. Lingham was Northeastern's first intercollegiate hockey game since it was founded. Paul Munroe, of Newton, was a spare in the Huskie lineup.

Osborne Wins 440

Lloyd Osborne, former Newton high swimmer star now a sophomore at Yale University, won the 440-yard freestyle event in the opening intercollegiate meet of the Yale season last Saturday night against Pennsylvania. Yale won the meet handily, 46 to 16. Osborne's time for the distance was 5m and 25s, and he had a lead of 20 feet over his teammate, Harte, at the finish. Hamilton Lincoln, former Country Day school swimmer, was second for Yale in the 50-yard freestyle.

On Worcester Sextet

James Brown and Phil Andrea of Worcester Academy are expected to be strong points in the hockey team at that school this winter. Both were stars on the Newton hockey teams the past few years.

Locke Wins For Bowdoin

William Locke of Newtonville won the 200-yard backstroke swim for Bowdoin in the M. I. T.-Bowdoin swimming meet last week Friday at the University Club pool. M. I. T. won the meet handily, 54 to 23. Jimmy Essen, former Newton high star swimmer, and now a sophomore at the Brunswick College, took third in the 300-yard medley swim and was the lead-off man on the Bowdoin relay.

Feel Loss of Bryant

The Dartmouth swimming team which was captained last year by John Bryant of West Newton is an uncertain proposition this season. The loss of the local youth, a star in the shorter sprints, is a heavy one. Dartmouth came through with flying colors in its first meet of the season on Saturday when it turned back Brown, 34 to 28.

Kollmyer Due For Place

Hamilton Kollmyer of Newtonville, former Newton high and Exeter track star, is among the leading candidates for a place on the Harvard freshman mile relay. In time trials last Saturday Kollmyer was the fastest although closely pressed by Dodge.

On Colby Track Squad

Frank Cobleigh, a senior at Colby College, is a member of the varsity indoor track squad. He is a middle distance runner.

Beavers Even Up

The St. John Beavers of New Brunswick evened up their two game series with the University Club sextet last week Friday night at the Arena by winning, 5 to 2. In a previous game the University six had won, 6 to 2. Thus the Boston team was the winner on total goals, 8 to 7, making up for their defeat last year at the hands of the same players who were known as the St. John Fusiliers.

On New Hampton Quintet

Russell Hamilton, of West Newton, is a member of the varsity squad of the New Hampton School basketball team at New Hampton, N. H.

RICE WINS SECOND SQUASH TITLE

William H. Rice, Jr., of Newton Centre won his second consecutive individual championship in Squash Racquets and his second leg on the Middlesex Bowl in the final match of the tournament at the Newton Centre Club Tuesday. He defeated Richard C. Cooke of the Union Boat Club in three straight games, 15-6, 15-9, 18-14. The Newton Centre Club number one man is playing a fast game this season in the indoor court game. He clearly outclassed his opponent as the scores indicate from the start of the match. Cooke fought courageously but was forced after a brilliant third game struggle to bow to Rice's shots. Rice took the lead at the start and was never headed. He employed a fine change of pace and an assortment of shots in which drives to the corners proved his best scoring assets. Point after point went to Rice and in the first two games Cooke was able to score 15 points. In the third game Cooke began to threaten, swapping points with Rice until the score was at 10-all. Rice went ahead to 13 and Cooke managed to pull up even again and set the game. Rice then got going again and ran out the match in five points while Cooke tallied but one.

SPORT NOTES

Newton Centre Retains Lead

By defeating the Tennis and Racquet Club 3 to 2 last Saturday in the Mass. Squash Racquets Association team series the Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club retained its lead in the Class A division. Union Boat Club, by defeating Harvard by a 3 to 2 score drew up into a tie for second with their opponents of the day, one point behind Newton Centre. Bill Rice, Jr., Ralph Stuart and Robert Br. provided the winning points for the local team.

In Class B Newton Centre, in second place and but one point away from a first place tie with the Harvard Club, defeated the Union Boat Club team at the latter's courts. Wellman, Patterson, Buell, and Alvord won their matches. In Class C the match between the Newton Club and the Union Boat Club was won by the latter, 4 to 1. Arthur LeBaron being the only local player to win. Newton Centre's team in this division was having its hands full downing the Walkover Club at Brockton, 3 to 2 which was finally accomplished by Snow, Shirley and Hicks. Country Day had a similar margin over the Harvard Medical school with Clark, Goodrich and Vose winning for the local private school.

In Class D the Newton "Y" is in a quadruple second-place tie with the Union Boat, Quincy Neighborhood and University Clubs four points behind the Harvard Club in first place. Roberts, Sullivan, and Millard won their matches to give the "Y" team a 3 to 2 margin over the Harvard medfocs. The Harvard freshman blanked Country Day and the Harvard Business School blanked the Newton Club team in other matches of local interest in this division.

Newton League Bowling

In the Newton league bowling matches Wednesday night the Hunne Club, with a grand total of 1624, closely approached the mark of 1635 made a week ago by the Weston Club. Hunnewell won three out of four from the University Club on the Hunnewell alleys, losing the last string by only four pins. DeLong hit 136,101 and 109 for a total of 346; Loring had 15, 112, and 119 for a similar total and Greene had 95, 121 and 116 for 332. Colby had a total of 304 and Dexter 296. University Club bowlers had to roll 552 on their third string to win the odd point. In other league matches Maugus won three from Commercial Club; Weston shut out Middlesex and Newton shut out Waban.

Spain Scores Three Times

Frank Spain, former Newton high star athlete, is captain and centre ice on the Exeter academy hockey team this season. In the game between the academy and the Harvard freshman team Wednesday at the Garden which Exeter won, 3 to 1, Spain scored all three of his team's counters. In the first period he put Exeter in the lead with an unassisted goal and the visitors were never headed. A few minutes later he took a perfect pass from a teammate to score again. Harvard counted before the period ended and tried to even it up but failed. In the second session a long shot from mid-ice by Spain found the net and there-after Exeter played a defensive game. Two other local youths were in the Exeter lineup. Bob Bennett, former Newton high athlete, played defence throughout the game while Muther, another Newton lad, was a spare wing.

Harvard Beats B. U. Easily

At the Garden Wednesday night the Harvard hockey team defeated B. U. in the second meeting between the two teams, 6 to 1. Previously the Crimson had scored 4 to 0 shut-out. Four goals were caged in the opening period by the Harvard players, one of which was by Stubbs and another as the result of Garrison's pass to Putnam. Wilson Crosby, third local youth on the Harvard squad, started the game at right defence for Harvard. Holmes Whitmore of B. U. was used as a spare wing.

Floring Scores Eight Points

Bill Floring, Newton Centre youth, who is captain of the Huntington school indoor track team, scored eight points in the meet with Malden high last week Friday which the Boston private school won easily, 43 to 25. He won the hurdles within a fifth of a second of his own school record and placed second to Allen of Malden in the dash. Gilbert Adams, 600-yarder on the Newton high team last year, took third in that event against Malden.

Sport Notes

The Newton Y basketball team hung up another easy victory last Saturday night on the local floor, defeating the Caspy Club of the Boston Y, 60 to 26. Slabough was the high scorer of the game with 21 points. Gray tallied 15 and Purcell 14 to swell Newton's total.

The Newton Y junior swimming team was nosed out in the final event in the meet last Saturday with the Melrose Y junior mermen and saw its three point lead fade away into a 29 to 33 defeat. Melrose took first and second in the 100-yard freestyle event to win the honors. Henry McNamara was a double winner for Newton, taking the dive and the breaststroke as well as swimming on the losing relay. Anderson, of Newton, won the 20-yard freestyle and placed second in the backstroke for eight points. Other Newton point winners were Fitzgerald, third in the 20-yard freestyle; Guthrie, second in the 40-yard freestyle and third in the 100; Adams, third in the 40; Batstone, third in the backstroke; Cann, second in the breaststroke; and Wittens, third in the dive.

KIWANIS CLUB

At the regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, new members introduced included Sydney Holden of Newton Centre, Thomas F. Mullen of Newton Highlands and George Thompson of Newton. These new members were instructed concerning the rules and aims of Kiwanis by M. John Barry.

The speaker at the meeting was Rev. Maurice Bullock who is a member of Newton Kiwanis. He dwelt upon "What Kiwanis Means, Does, Is." Mr. Bullock stated that Kiwanis means more than indulging in effervescent froth; it is a real, vital factor in the community. Most of its members are sincere and unselfish. All classes in the city, Jews, Catholics, Protestants, men of various political beliefs, men who are competitors in business, meet in a friendly way and forget their differences. Kiwanis causes them to meet as neighbors and co-operate.

Rev. Mr. Bullock told of the great numbers of underprivileged children in this country, children who are undernourished, who lack proper clothing, who do not enjoy sufficient educational advantages. Kiwanis is doing its bit in aiding such children and together with other organizations can assist in arousing the nation to a proper realization of the problem of the underprivileged child. Kiwanis, international in scope, can help bring about the Kingdom of God on this earth. By promoting harmony and good-will Kiwanis works to accomplish the Brotherhood of Man. A man gets out of Kiwanis as much as he gives in unselfish effort to further its aims.

ALL-NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

On Wednesday, January 8th, a group of young folks from the All Newton Music School, forming Mrs. Frances Morgan's string orchestra, joined a similar group from the Brookline Music School, the University Club, Boston, to play for the Abbot Academy Re-union. With Mrs. Morgan conducting, the combined orchestra gave four numbers very delightfully, and Anna Kovitz played three violin solos. The Newton boys and girls present, of whose performance our Music School has good reason to be proud, were Ellen Gulon, Frances Jennings, Anna Kovitz, Frances Lindley, Alice Roche, Frank Batstone, Edward Buswell, and Robert Hoffman. Anna Kovitz's solos were beautifully played. A very young pupil of Mrs. Morgan's, Marion Gibby gave a violin solo creditably.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Sometimes a disagreeable duty, like fame, is thrust upon us. In fact it is much more likely that we will be called upon to do that which really is distasteful than achieve marked distinction. So after all, the comparison isn't so good, but I just happened to think of the famous quotation and at first it seemed to fit.

What I am driving at is the foolish idea that we often get about certain things. Suppose we say, "I wouldn't do that for the world." Well, we really think we wouldn't. It may be an unpleasant, though necessary, shopping errand or possibly it is acting on a committee to raise funds or anything that seems a mean task. Few escape, no matter how resolute they may appear—to themselves.

I have always studiously avoided carrying a large traveling bag in a street car. There are those who enjoy it, or pretend to. Some people can toss a large grip in the narrow aisle of a crowded trolley car and pay not the slightest attention when other passengers are forced to hurdle it. Frequently these unconcerned bag-owners provide themselves with some sort of reading matter in which they seem to be deeply engrossed. By fixing their eyes on the pages of a book or newspaper they don't have to face the ugly glare of the man or woman who has barely side-stepped a tumble.

For years I had admired and envied the individual who could assume the air of a stockholder and take up a section of the vestibule of a car with one or more suitcases. I will admit that I secretly wished for the nerve to undertake that very thing. But it has been a lack of courage that has held me back. Still, as I said in the beginning, sometimes those jobs are thrust upon us. A man, with his wife and two children, got on the car. They are acquaintances of mine. I might have said friends but for this happening.

At any rate this man remarked, "Look out for this bag, will you, while I take care of my folks." He proceeded to the front of the car and left me in the rear vestibule to guard a huge leather bag. Of course it had to be a car upon which everybody sought to ride. In other words the whole place was packed. Imagine how kindly the other passengers felt toward the owner of a piece of baggage that occupied the same amount of room as would three people. They thought me the owner, for he remained forward.

There I stood guard over somebody else's property and receiving the sharp, yes, nasty looks of a lot of people. I at first thought it was good training for me since it would make me brave in the face of public criticism. Soon that feeling left me and I was merely the object of contempt. I could stand the severe glances but when they came to making libes and comments I lost my nerve and, I wanted to shout, "This isn't mine; I was forced into this unpleasant position." That would have made bad matters worse, so I just "went through" and took it on the chin.

I might add, "Never again," but that would be futile, I am sure. Instead I will say, "Not if I see them first," meaning those who may want to make a parcel custodian of me.

A group of individuals have been found by State authorities to be enjoying a fat living off the contributions of the public which were intended for charitable purposes. It is one of these tricks that are exposed regularly but which are no less contemptible. Somehow it seems a simple matter to deceive people in this regard. I suppose it is because most folks are tender-hearted and want to do good. They have never thought of organizing their charities and so when a plausible person happens along they gladly hand over some small change. It is the sum total that counts, of course, and when a large number of unsuspecting souls have had their hearts touched and responded with money the swindlers have profited to a large degree.

We can talk a great deal about being systematic and sensible in giving alms, but we find ourselves all upset when what appears to be a particularly worthy case happens along. A call to the front door may find there a woman with a pitiful story and some useless articles for sale. We have a feeling all the time that we are victims of an unscrupulous faker but nevertheless we say, "Well, the poor thing probably needs the money and I happened to have 25 cents and I gave it to her."

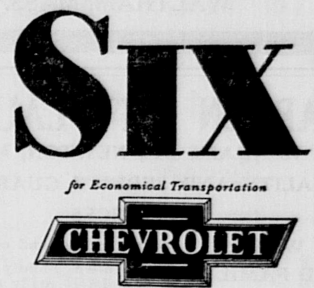

Now how are you going to straighten this out? You cannot suggest to your friends that they harden their hearts. And it is equally difficult to urge them to cross-examine the people who tell hard-luck stories. You are well aware that if you should demand a complete story from some miserable looking creature that they would come across with a tale that had been well rehearsed and which would draw tears from a traffic cop. No, you cannot be hard-boiled in these matters as much as you want to protect yourself from swindlers.

Organized charity is, of course, the proper method, but for some people now so much better, or think they do, that they prefer to hand out trifling amounts to unauthorized collectors. Then they sit back and make themselves believe they have done some charitable deed.

This Winter I suppose, will offer a harvest for the gentle crooks who will describe their "sufferings" and those of their "families" and complain that there is no work. These stories have a familiar sound. Some of them have been repeated so many times that in telling them the "touch artist" has acquired a facility of style that would make an actor envious. I know many cases where a pathetic plight has been eloquently described—so smoothly in fact that a man who was never known to separate himself from a five-cent piece has almost cried in sympathy and yielded up his good coin.

Automobile Accident
An automobile operated by Mrs. Agnes Drake, 340 Otis street, West Newton, collided with a tree opposite 100 Chestnut street last Friday afternoon after it had skidded. Robert Drake, 7, was slightly injured.

A S M O O T H E R , F A S T E R , B E T T E R S I X

The worst part of the whole business is that there is a possibility of the highly intellectual persons (i.e., smart boses) refer to as tempus. In brief he felt that the efforts of a person in a capacity for which he is not fitted are entirely wasted, that the time a natural born automobile mechanic spends embroidering doilies, when he might be dissecting somebody's fiver, is entirely wasted, and vice-versa. In fact vice-much-versa.

I am not inclined to agree with either of them, although I think they are both right in that they admit that there is a certain amount of time wasted and that it is a deterrent to that ideal condition called success. I am not disposed to be harsh with them, either, although I feel that they, by arguing about such an obvious thing, are wasting a bit of time themselves.

Consequently I told them my idea of the worst way to waste time, to keep oneself from the pinnacle of success and to remain one of the great unwashed forever. The way to do it, if you insist on hearing it, is by spending too much time thinking about what you are going to do. Not an original idea, I admit, but one worthy of consideration even if I don't feel that I can offer any prizes in an idea consideration contest. I don't believe it is necessary for me to amplify the idea which I am trying to palm off on you, dear readers, but I will say this.

If you want to do anything, to go anywhere or to be anyone, here is a formula which I guarantee will effectually and positively, to say nothing of absolutely, prevent you from ever getting what you desire.

Make up your mind to what you want and then sit down and think about it.

If you can think your way into a good thing you're a marvel. I've never been able to think my way into anything but a headache!

This appears to be as favorable an opportunity as any to discuss State politics and so, if there is no objection, I will proceed. None is heard, so here goes. I should like to ask the ladies to pay close attention as voting is their business as much as it is the business of men. I might add that I know men who have no other business, but that is not a vital point at the present time. It may be vital to the men I refer to, for since we have had biennial State elections they have less demand on their time. Instead of getting next to a candidate with money to send once a year they can only approach him once in two years. By doubling the price of their votes they make up for any loss.

But I did not intend that this should be an article on corrupt practices in elections. No, indeed, I want to talk about the common honesty in State elections, if honesty can be said to be common nowadays. I want someone to tell me why we hear so much chatter about the State having become Democratic all of a sudden. I don't think that it is. If it has gone anything as disclosed by recent—that is 1928 happenings—it has gone independent.

There is a constantly growing element which likes to declare itself as somewhat different from other folks. These people aren't really different, they only think they are. To vote against somebody or something is to their mind a display of independence. I don't say I think it is sound reasoning. I merely remark that it is their way of looking at it.

Therefore, when you think that the Republican party is going to the dogs to be gobbled up by the Democrats—no, indeed, I am not calling the Democrats names—remember that there are as many Democrats wondering about the future of their own party, due to this display of so-called "independence."

You may worry about the future of the Republicans but that's because you don't listen to anybody but so-called voters of that party. If you should turn Democrat and associate with Democrats only you would hear things that would convince that there was no hope for the Democratic party either.

Therefore, if you will only remember that for many years now people have been pointing out that this party or that party was on the verge of political ruin and then recall that that state of affairs has not changed in all the time, you will soon realize that it isn't much besides talk after all. No, sir, calamity stuff is nothing new among those who take sides politically and who enjoy politics with their meals.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

COMING EVENTS

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

To the Newton Highlands Woman's Club falls the honor of having arranged for Newton the first of the Sunday in January sermons on Religion in the Home as suggested recently by the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Albion H. Brown, chairman of the American Home committee, has arranged with the pastor, Rev. Chas. Farrar of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, for such a sermon on Sunday, Jan. 19.

Shakespeare Club

The Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands continues its interesting study of Henry V as its program for the meeting on Saturday, January 18th, with Mrs. Virginia McLean in charge of the presentation of Act III. The Club will meet at the home of Mrs. William E. Moore, of 55 Hillside road; the meeting opening at 2:30 o'clock.

Christian Era Study Club

Miss Blanche Noyes, of 16 Williston road, will open her home on the afternoon of January 20th for the Christian Era Study Club. A short business hour, with committee reports, will precede the program. The latter will consist of two papers; one on "Germany," by Mrs. M. H. Belden, and another on "Goethe" by Mrs. Ernest F. Drew.

Each member of the Club has been asked to decide on which is her favorite of Longfellow's poems, and to report at once either to the secretary, Mrs. Ernest Drew, or to Miss Alice Ranlett, of 33 Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

Waban Woman's Club

At the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club on Monday, January 20th, at 2:30 p. m., the speaker will be Mr. Pitt Parker, who will talk on "The Heart of Art." The meeting is arranged by Mrs. Austin A. Bourne, chairman of the Art Committee. The hostesses for the tea will be Mrs. Charles W. Elmer and Mrs. C. P. Johnson.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Mrs. William H. Raye, chairman of the Membership committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, announces that the Board will hold a tea from 3 to 5 p. m., on January 20th, in the parlor of the Clubhouse, to meet the large number of new members who have been taken into the Club during this club year. The Hospitality committee, of which Mrs. J. W. Briggs is chairman, will assist the Board, and Mrs. W. Thatcher Hollis will have charge of the arrangements for the tea.

January 22nd and 23rd will be guest nights at the Club when the play "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh" will be produced by the Dramatic committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Montague Ford. Refreshments will be served by the Refreshment committee, of which Mrs. Harry G. Anderson is chairman. The Club membership ticket admits members, and unlimited guest tickets may be obtained at the door for 50 cents each. This offers a delightful way of entertaining a number of friends.

The Activities committee, of which Mrs. John F. Capron and Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr. are chairmen, announces that its annual Mid-winter Revue will be presented on February 7th and 8th, followed by dancing. This year it will be the "Color Box," produced by C. Hassler Capron, for many years director and producer of "The Rainbow Revues," well known in many Clubs all over the State. The music for the production, as well as for the dancing, will be furnished by Ranny Weeks' Colonial Orchestra. Mr. Weeks will be one of the soloists and he will be well remembered as the popular soloist at Club Karnac last winter and at "The Hangar" on the Cape this past summer.

The "Color Box" will be all that its name implies—a blaze of color—blended artistically by the brush of the artist into two acts and ten scenes. Special musical numbers have been written by Miss Sarah Gallagher, of Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, N. Y., and the dances will be originated and directed by Lucille Perry Hall. All those who have seen "The Rainbow Revues" know that the "Color Box" will be more than the usual amateur entertainment. The settings and curtains represent hundreds of dollars, and the lighting effects are the best obtainable.

Seven years ago, before the Woman's Clubhouse was built, a Revue was put on in Bray Hall, to raise money to build the Clubhouse, and it was so successful and popular that every year since then a new one has been staged, so that now the Revues are really a social event, and people come from numerous suburbs of Boston to attend these affairs. The cast of this musical extravaganza will be drawn from a large number of the younger social set of Newton Centre. Tables may be ordered by mail or telephone from Mrs. John F. Capron, C. N. 1098, of 523 Ward street, Newton Centre, when they will be filled in order of application. Seats in the centre of the hall will be $2.00, all others $1.50. Tables will be reserved for not less than four persons and up to sixteen. For those who care for a single ticket, arrangements for a seat at a table with an Activities Hostess may be made by telephoning Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., C. N. 1297.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Literature Class of the Newtonville Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. H. B. Sherman of 264 Hill street, on Monday, January 20th, at 2:30 p. m. Miss Louise Vetterbe will discuss "Alice Meynell, her life and essays."

The Regular Club day, on Tuesday, January 21st, will be under the auspices of the American Home committee. In the morning, at 10:30, there will be a demonstration; first of frozen desserts and Salads made by Electric Refrigeration, and second, of dishwashing by electricity. Luncheon will be served at 1:00 o'clock, tickets for which may be obtained from Mrs. Arthur H. Alger and members of her committee.

Dr. James Gordon Gilkey, an unusually forceful and brilliant speaker, will talk on "Debts and Credits of Modern Life," in the afternoon. Mrs. Lillian Buxbaum, soloist at the Unitarian Church, Watertown, will sing.

This promises to be a day of great interest which no Club member can afford to miss.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, under the direction of Mrs. Harold T. Sprague, will hold their annual musicale in Emerson School Hall, Petee street, on Monday evening, January 20th, at 7:30 o'clock. A rich musical treat is in store for all attending. Mr. Edward MacHugh, baritone; Miss Clara Baker, violinist; and Mr. Paul Anderson, pianist, will be the artists.

Mr. MacHugh's many radio friends will be glad to greet him in person, with Miss Baker's remarkable technique and winning personality, coupled with Mr. Paul Anderson's artistic and skillful playing as soloist and accompanist, an evening of charm and pleasure is assured.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

International Affairs, a subject of vital importance to the world today, is to be the topic for discussion at the Newton Highlands Woman's Club meeting to be held in the Parish House of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church on January 21st, at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker, a woman said to be noted for her brilliancy and keenness of intellect as well as being one of the foremost lecturers of the country, will address the members on "What America Means to the World." Mrs. Louis Marshall, Newton Highlands member of the Newton Tercenary Committee, will tell of the progress which has been made by that committee, and will also give a brief synopsis of the real meaning of "Tercenary," and its relation to the city of Newton as well as to the State. She will read excerpts from the pageant which is to be given, entitled "Newton, the City Beautiful."

Tea will be served by Mrs. Carl Kolb, assisted by her able committee.

Auburndale Review Club

A change has been made in the program as originally planned for Tuesday morning, January 21st, for the Auburndale Review Club. This meeting will be held in the Congregational chapel, the business meeting as usual, at 10 o'clock, to be followed by a paper on "Internationalizing the Monroe Doctrine," by Mrs. Susan F. Tuttle. At 10:45, the doors will be open to the public to give them opportunity to enjoy a lecture by Prof. William McNair, who will talk on the "Fourteen Points" and the Foundation of the League of Nations." A large gathering is desired and all interested are urged to attend and to bring friends.

The Bridge and Food Sale, originally planned for the same day as the business meeting, January 14th, has been postponed to the afternoon of January 28th. At 2 o'clock, Mrs. Charles W. Blood, of 31 Woodbine street, will open her home for Club members and their friends. The tickets for the bridge tables are $1.00 each, and the purpose of the dual event of cards and food sale is to raise money for the Foundation Fund, to which the Club of 40 members has already pledged its quota. All members and friends are urged to help as generously as possible.

Social Science Club

Miss Mary Lewis Speare and Mrs. William G. Goule will act as hostesses on January 15th, when the Social Science Club will meet at 10 o'clock in the Hunnewell Club House. Miss Florence A. Graves will have the paper of the morning on "The Dutch," showing their contribution to our American Civilization.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The altogether interesting and splendid public service annually undertaken by the Community Service of West Newton in their All Day Sewing Meeting comes on Wednesday, January 22nd, when industrious and charitable members will meet for their Busy Bee in the Unitarian Parish House, and quite in the delightful old-fashioned manner talk, over their sewing, while making garments and various useful articles for the charities of Newton. At noon they will rest from their generous labors and enjoy the box luncheons they have brought and the hot coffee and other accessories provided by the Hospitality committee of the day.

Newton Community Club

The next meeting of the Newton Community Club will be held on Thursday, January 23rd, at 2:30 p. m. in the Underwood School Hall. Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker will speak on "The Builders of Peace in Europe." Following this meeting there will be a Food Sale.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

"Women who have won," will be the subject of an address, to be given by Emma Fall Schofield, Assistant Attorney General of Massachusetts, at the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Friday, January 24th at the Unitarian Parish House.

The program is sponsored by the Legislative committee, Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield, chairman.

The Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, by invitation of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, will hold its Mid-winter Meeting at Hotel Statler on Wednesday, January 22.

The program of the meeting will be found under the heading State Federation.

State Federation

CITIZENSHIP COURSE. The second of the three mornings given over to study of Civil Service matters at the home of Miss Marion C. Nichols, chairman of this State Department, of 55 Mt. Vernon street, Boston, is Monday, January 20th. The meeting opens at 10:30 o'clock, and chairmen of committees interested in allied subjects, and other Club women are invited to attend. They are asked, however, to notify Miss Nichols of their intention of so doing. The general subject for this meeting is "What Do You Know About Your County Service?"

These meetings following the hospitable and delightfully social New Year Conundrum Tea of January 6th for which Miss Nichols was hostess, are sure to be most enjoyable, as well as of interest for information.

It is of interest to Newton Clubwomen to learn that of the four prize winners—among the 40 contestants who attended the tea—fifty per cent, or two, were Newton Clubwomen—certainly a most gratifying per cent for our city. Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, president of the Auburndale Review Club, and Mrs. S. L. Greeley, of Newton Highlands, carrying away prizes of packs of playing cards. There were twenty questions arranged for the quiz, that were designed to bring out (Continued on Page 9)

The Mather Class

"The Thinking Machine" was the subject of the lecture by Prof. Kirtley F. Mather last Sunday morning before the Mather Class at its regular weekly meeting at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

This lecture was the fourth in the series on "The Trend in Science." The particular phase of science covered by "The Thinking Machine" was the human brain and its functions as investigated for many years by Prof. Mather's friend, C. J. Herrick, whose book by the same name came out last year.

The old way to study mental processes was to examine the monkeys, the white mice, and guinea pigs. That was thought to be the proper way to learn about human intelligence. We know better now. We study man in order to find out how the human mind operates. The white mice are still helpful, but that is all. A study of any particular animal may reveal what is the common possession of all animals as well as the unique possession of that special species, but it will not disclose what is unique about man. Psychologists are frequently behaviorists because they are so steadily and persistently engaged in studying the qualities and characteristics of man as illustrated by the way he acts. The scientist studies the atom and the star in the same way. He determines its weight, which is its action when gravity operates on it. Thus we study human behavior.

Dr. Herrick is an old friend of Prof. Mather and his researches constituted the main theme of this lecture. Dr. Herrick is a neurologist. For ten years he dissected and studied the brains and nervous systems of mice and raccoons. Then for ten or fifteen years he studied human nerves and brains. He is not a psychologist because he dissects dead brains, whereas the psychologist studies the brains of living creatures to see how their lives are affected.

The human brain is different in important physical respects from the brain of any other animal. As we move up in the scale of animals, we find that the brain progresses or increases in complexity and refinement, until we come to the human brain, which is the most complicated of all.

The human brain is a dual machine. The two parts are distinct, but they are related physically. These two parts are called the old brain and the new brain. The old brain was used for tens of millions of years. The new brain has been in existence for only a few million years, and that is only one-tenth as long as the old brain has been in use. This new brain is sort of a modern improvement.

The old brain is the portion which we share with all other animals. Some fishes have merely a nerve center like the nerve center of a man's thumb or wrist, but they have nothing better to answer for a brain. Other fishes have a better development, almost the rudimentary beginning of a brain. All the reptiles, birds, and mammals have the same brain as our old brain. In man it is no more important than the great apes and many other mammals. This part of the brain receives impressions from the outside world and provides the instinctive impulses and animal instincts. Its response to outside stimuli is almost wholly automatic. It has no powers of selection. Impressions crowd in and come out in mechanical fashion. Your hand accidentally touches a hot stove and is quickly snatched away. Any animal will act the same way.

The new brain is the cerebral cortex. This is sort of an envelope or layer outside of and on top of the old brain. Some other animals, like the monkeys, elephants, some birds, etc., have this as well as man, but man's cortex differs in degree, if not in kind, from all others. It is larger, both actually and in proportion to the size of his body. The cortex of the animals is much smaller and far less impressive. The cortex came into existence at the time the Appalachian Mountains crumpled up at the close of the Paleozoic Era of geologic time. That is one-tenth the way back to the origin of the earth. The cortex is thus a new and important addition to man's physical equipment.

Dr. Herrick claims to be a mechanist but not a materialist. He regards religion as important and considers it harmful to impair any spiritual values. Perhaps we might call him a neo-mechanist, the newer type of mechanist. His own definition of his position is that everything performs work by natural agencies in accordance with the laws of nature. Prof. Mather's older definition of man as an organism rather than a machine. Dr. Herrick calls man a living machine. Emergent evolution is the theory that new conditions and new laws, not operative before are appearing now and then, and that everything is not predetermined and foreordained in the beginning.

The old mechanistic view was that if man had all the facts about part of the history of mankind, he could foretell all the rest of it, just the same as the clock. If you know all about it and watch it for ten minutes, you can tell what it will do thereafter for the time the machine runs, barring accidents. Emergent evolution holds that you cannot tell from the past what is going to happen in the future. It will be the result of what has gone before, but it will be something new. Preterminism has gone. By the action of the atoms of hydrogen and oxygen before the creation of the first living cell, you could not predict what the animals were going to do when they got here. You could not predict the possibilities of the cortex by what the animals accomplished.

We need to study the cortex. The old brain passes on information. The new brain, or cortex, issues instructions, which are the result of conscious deliberation, selection, and decision. When you touched the hot stove, your instinctive action was to pull your hand away, but if somebody had offered you enough money, your cortex might decide to let your hand get scorched because of the big pay in sight. Thus the cortex selects what

Around The Camp-Fire at Nobscot Reservation

Last Saturday evening at the Nobscot Reservation was the scene and time of a fine get-together of Scouts and leaders there for an over-night hike.

During the afternoon, Troops 4A and 4B, Highlands; 5, Centre; 7, West Newton; 10, Waban; 15, Auburndale; 18, Centre; were there, with other groups, working on their cabins, tents and general good turns at Camp. Troop 5, Centre, with Mr. George Crook, is at work on a high signal tower, which the Scouts are building from chestnut logs they cut there and haul to their camp site.

There was a great deal of visiting among Troops during the afternoon also.

In the evening, at the construction of Troops 4, where Scoutmaster Lichtenthaler was with the Patrol from Troop 4A, a spontaneous gathering of Scouts from Troop 10, Waban, with Scoutmaster Harris; 4B, Highlands, with Assistant Scoutmaster Schroeder; Troop 7, West Newton, took place about eight o'clock. In that saddle back tent, dimly lighted by a lantern, and warmed by a glowing fire in the little wood-stove, the tent was packed with Scouts and leaders.

As they sat there and talked, they grew to know one another better than ever before. As the general conversation died away, the Scouts began asking for stories and Mr. Lichtenthaler, generally known as "Uncle Frank," spun a yarn or two—a thrilling ghost story. Then the group called on Mr. Harris, known as "Uncle Pat" and he told one of his big thrillers, too.

As the fire died away, good nights were said and the groups drifted away in the darkness to their cabins and soon the Reservation was quiet, except for the night noises of the woods and the wild life which is abundant there.

The Ranger at the Reservation is working on trail signs, which are to be planned and lettered chestnut, to be stained a lovely weathered color. These signs will mark all the trails and spots of interest, but in an unobtrusive and "woody" way.

Daily, too, he makes the rounds of the several feeding and water stations, to replace the food which the many hungry birds there eat in a single day.

The cabins of Troops 2 and 15, Auburndale, are hastening towards completion, in a spirit of friendly rivalry between the two Troops in that village.

The work on the hillside shelter of the Highlands Troops, which they will have in addition to the big log cabin which was completed last fall, has been held up on account of the weather. For siding, the Scouts and leaders are digging up chestnut logs which have been exposed to the weather for nearly ten years. Each log must be carefully selected and then stripped and spoke-shaved down before it can be carried the half-mile or so up the hill to the location of the new cabin, back in a little sheltered high in the hills of the Reservation.

Troop 18, Centre, is putting in "licks" every Saturday on their cabin, so that it will be ready for a special dedication early in the spring.

Leaders' Meetings

At the invitation of Assistant District Commissioner Charles H. Center, who works with the Troops in Newton Centre, the Scoutmasters of that section met at the Boston City Club for the dinner on Monday last. Present were Messrs. Center, Gilreath, Pierce, Hill, Lehan and Bruce. General Scouting, plans and problems of Troop work, the Patrol system and a joint meeting of the Centre Troops on April 29th were discussed and formulated.

A meeting of the Scoutmasters and leaders of Troops of the First District, comprising Troops 1, 2, 3, 7, 11 and 15, was held at the home of Mr. M. P. Gaddis, Scoutmaster of Troop 7, West Newton, on Wednesday evening. Troop work, Council plans and the Patrol system were the subjects of discussion.

Assistant District Commissioner Roy E. Argersinger, who works with the Troops in the Highlands, Upper Falls and Waban, is considering a meeting later in the spring of the Scoutmasters of that section. They recently held a meeting at the home of Mr. James R. Warren, Chairman of the Council Leaders' and Training Committee and discussed questions pertaining to Troop work and program and the Patrol system.

Mr. Marcy at New Bedford

Mr. G. D. Marcy, 1st Vice-President of the Council and Chairman of the Highlands Troop Committee, went to New Bedford last Friday morning, to speak at a breakfast meeting of the Scout men of that city who were to start off that day on their financial campaign. Mr. Marcy spoke to the group on the purposes of Scouting and

It prefers and controls the old brain, which, by itself, knows only one course of action, and that is instinctive or reflex action. The cortex responds to non-physical emotions like love, hate, speculation as to the origin of man, etc. Self control may be trained, like thinking. It is all cortical. Dr. Herrick tells us where we think, not how we think. There is still mystery. We now know where we make up our minds and shape our personality, the noblest creative work of man.

Next Sunday Rev. A. S. Adams, home from seven years in China, will lecture on his interesting and thrilling experiences in China. The next Sunday Evening Round Table will be February 9.

of important part in truly successful Scouting of the Council organization. Norumbega Officers Attend Providence Annual Meeting

On Tuesday evening last, President Maynard Hutchinson and Scout Executive L. A. Bruce, Jr., of Norumbega Council went to the Annual Meeting of the Greater Providence Council. The program was most unique and unusual and these two officers enjoyed it greatly.

Mr. J. Harold Williams, Scout Executive of that Council and one of the finest Scout speakers in New England was engaged to speak at the Annual Meeting of Norumbega Council, to be held on January 29th.

Court of Honor

The next Council Court of Honor will be held in the Gym of the new High School in Newtonville, with the Eagle Circle in Charge. Two Eagle Badges will be awarded there by President Hutchinson. The program will also comprise a brief story of First Aid by Mr. C. H. Ernst, co-editor of "First Aid for Boys" and a first aid demonstration by Scouts of Troop 9, Waban, in charge of Scout Levenson of that Troop.

Norumbega's Financial Request

The annual request of Norumbega Council for its budget will be started soon. This coming week-end the February issue of "The Norumbega Scout", telling briefly of the Council's work during the past year, will be distributed to homes in the city by Scouts and the follow-up for funds will be carried on shortly afterwards. The annual report shows such interesting figures at this: 25% increase in the number of Scouts; 600% increase in the number of Scouts of this Council recorded in Scout summer camp; 15% increase in number of leaders; a cut of cost per Scout for Council operation of 38.6% since 1927.

In addition, according to the Index of Accomplishment issued by the National Council, for the last quarter report, Norumbega stands as the ranking Council in all New England.

REAL ESTATE

NATHAN FULLER CHAP. D. R.

The January meeting of the N. F. Chapter D. R. was held on Tuesday the 14th at the home of Miss Barbara Estabrook, 37 Beechcroft road, Newton. The meeting, presided over by the Regent, Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer, opened with the singing of "America", followed by the Salute to the flag. The secretary's report was read by the recording secretary, Mrs. Walter T. MacAdam, and approved.

An account was given of a Xmas Party held in connection with Americanization work, at the Emerson School, Newton Upper Falls, on January 7th. Several girls of the chapter assisted, including Mrs. Philip Horne, Mrs. Richard Brown, Miss Barbara Estabrook, Miss Lillian Peirce and Mrs. Raymond Lehrer.

A gift of neckties was reported as having been sent to the Veterans Hospital in New Bedford. Plans for a speaker were discussed for the State meeting, to be held April 24th, at which the Nathan Fuller Chapter will be hostesses. Miss Elizabeth Jack, and Mrs. Richard Brown from this chapter, have consented to entertain. Mrs. Rose Furman was appointed as Auditor to go over the Treasurer's Books before the annual meeting. Plans were discussed for a program to be given before the John A. Andrews Veterans Home in Newtonville in late January.

The invitation, tendered by the committee for the D. R. National Convention held in Boston in May, for Nathan Fuller Chapter to act as ushers and pages, was gratefully accepted. It was decided, also, to hold the chapter annual meeting on Tuesday, February 25th, at the home of Mrs. Walter MacAdam.

Several donations were agreed upon regarding contributions from the chapter for the Valley Forge Memorial in Pennsylvania, and for Magazine Subscriptions to be sent to the Veterans' Hospitals.

After the meeting adjourned, Mrs. Harold Estabrook gave an illustrated talk on "Ancient American Art". Mrs. Estabrook has devoted a great deal of her life and time to a study of the Indians of North and South America, and gave a most interesting account of their customs, beliefs and modes of living. Tea was then served by the hostesses. She was assisted by Mrs. John H. Field, Jr., Mrs. George Knight, and Mrs. Henry Cross.

LOCAL TALENT TO ENTERTAIN

On Friday evening, January 17 at eight o'clock, the Tennyson Lodge of Rebekahs will hold an entertainment in their club house, 15 South Gate Park, West Newton.

The program will be under the supervision of Mrs. H. K. Buck of Warwick road, West Newton, who has arranged for talent to be provided from the children's and adults classes of the Copley School of Expression of Boston. This school, under the direction of Emma Grinnell Tunnicliff, has recently opened a class for boys and girls in the same hall in which the entertainment will be given on Friday evening. Mrs. Tunnicliff personally supervises the girls' classes that include instruction in Physical Culture, Tap and Aesthetic Dancing combined with Reading and Expression. The boys' group is supervised by a male instructor who teaches Body-building, Boxing as a means of self-defence, Clog and Tap Dancing and Public Speaking.

The children of West Newton and vicinity who are participating in the entertainment are Robert and Richard Beaton, Janet and Natalie Buck, Natalie Bigelow, Priscilla Buck, Jack Haynes, Helen and Robert Haydon, Elsie and Marjorie Curtis, William Miller, Jane Sherman, Annette Cushman, Richard and Charles Spettol, Howard Hall, Adrienne Albee, Richard McCruden, Barbara Burns, Marjorie Lunoe, and Marjorie Eaton.

NEWTON'S BANKS

Tuesday of this week was known as "Bank Day" in financial circles. On that day many banks in Newton and all over the country held their annual meetings. There are several facts revealed in connection with the Newton banks that are worthy of more than passing notice. All of our local financial institutions, despite the market slump of a few months ago and a great deal of talk about poor business seem to be in a healthy condition. The Newton Savings Bank, oldest financial institution in Newton and now in its 99th year, reached the 13 million dollar mark in its deposits during the past year. The directors of the Newton Centre Savings Bank declared a higher rate of dividends at their meeting on Tuesday. The West Newton Savings Bank shows a continued growth. The Newton National Bank, organized a little more than a year ago, showed a remarkable growth during its first year. Two new directors were also added to the board and the bank is to be congratulated on its choice. The First National Bank in West Newton is in a healthy condition. The Newton Trust Company recently announced a new Service department through which the investor may receive efficient and immediate attention. During the past two years the Trust Company has also held a series of banking lectures for its women depositors as another means of serving Newton people. Our citizens can well be proud of the financial condition of and the banking opportunities provided by the local banks while such conditions prevail.

INEQUALITY OF JUSTICE

There is in existence at present a deplorable inequality of justice in the application of our present law. Hardly a day goes by but what some innocent individual is killed or badly crippled by irresponsible automobile drivers, many of whom are under the influence of liquor. If a person in similar condition were to run amuck, brandishing a revolver and taking a life he would under ordinary conditions receive a jail term for life, or at least of long duration. But when a drunken driver takes a life those who are sent to jail receive very short sentences. Furthermore many do not receive jail sentences at all. A life is a life, whether it be taken by a drunken driver or by a bullet from a gun in the hands of a drunken man.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

With approximately the same number of matters as last year—between 1200 and 1300—the General Court of 1930 has now several months of work ahead. The early start already obtained is evidence that the presiding officers have succeeded in convincing committee chairmen that they mean business and will not countenance unnecessary delays. Of course the Boston Elevated—the stumbling block of several past sessions—is not going to occupy any attention this year, although the subject of increased transportation facilities will be taken up at length. But the course is relatively clear and if the same display of energy and industry as has been shown the past week is continued the session will not be an extra long one.

Much interest is felt in the resolve introduced by Senator Hollis of this city to provide for the appointment of a special commission on highway safety to investigate and report on measures to promote greater safety on the highways. Last Monday afternoon the Senator appeared before the Joint Rules Committee to urge favorable action on his resolve. He pointed out that there are numerous highway safety measures and similar proposals before the Legislature and stated that for this reason a general investigation was fully warranted. The resolve offered by Senator Hollis reads as follows:

"Resolved, That a special unpaid commission to consist of one member of the senate to be designated by the president thereof, two members of the house of representatives to be designated by the speaker thereof, one member to be appointed by the governor and the commissioner of public works, is hereby established to investigate and report on what measures should be taken to promote safety upon the highways of the commonwealth. The commission shall study and investigate the existing systems of traffic control, signal light systems, the regulation of pedestrian traffic, the problems connected with the police regulation of traffic, the regulations of the speed of motor vehicles on through ways and in congested districts and whatever other related matters in its opinion may be pertinent thereto.

"Said commission shall be provided with quarters at the state house or elsewhere, shall hold hearings, and may expend after an appropriation has been made, for clerical and other services and expenses such sums, not exceeding, in the aggregate, ten thousand dollars, as may be approved by the governor and council. The commission shall report to the general court the results of its investigations and its recommendations, if any, together with drafts of legislation necessary to carry its recommendations into effect, by filing the same with the clerk of the house of representatives not later than the first Wednesday in December in the current year."

It has been referred to the Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles.

A petition has been received from the Newton City Employees by A. L. Moriarty, president, for legislation relative to the retirement system for employees of the city of Newton. It has been referred to the Committee on Pensions. The resolve reads as follows:

"Section 1. Section six of chapter three hundred and thirty-five of the laws of the state of Massachusetts is hereby amended by striking out the word 'three' in the last line and inserting in place thereof the word 'five', so that the last paragraph of said section will read as follows:—The total pension of any member payable under the provisions of this section shall not, however, exceed one half of his average annual regular compensation during the five years immediately preceding his retirement, nor shall the total pension of any member who has fifteen or more years of total creditable service be less than an amount which, added to his annuity, shall make his total retirement allowance equal to five hundred dollars per annum.

"Section 2. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance during the current year by the mayor and board of aldermen of the city of Newton, subject to the provisions of its charter, but not otherwise."

City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett appeared at a hearing before the Committee on Legal Affairs last Wednesday to oppose a bill offered by Pres. Gaspar G. Bacon of the Senate which would allow municipalities to settle moral claims against the city. It was approved by the Mayor, City Solicitor and the Director of the State Division of Accounts. Senator Bacon's idea was to reduce the number of special bills the General Court is called upon to consider each year in the matter of claims against municipalities. Mr. Bartlett pointed out that such legislation might reduce the number of special bills filed with the Legislature but it would cause thousands of claims to be brought against the city. He warned the committee that such legislation would be unwise and would be of no benefit to any municipality but quite the contrary.

LEO E. BOVA

Memorial services for Leo Emanuel Bova were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home, 28 Clyde street, Newtonville. Dr. Edward Payson Drew, former pastor of the Auburndale Congregational Church officiated. Interment was made in the family lot at Newton Cemetery, four nephews serving as pall bearers.

Mr. Bova died Monday night after an illness since the Friday previous, although his health had been somewhat impaired for several years. He was a native of Messina, Italy, and came to the country in childhood, living first in Rockland, Maine. He came to Boston in early manhood where he began his career as a hotel man. Among his first enterprises was the management of the Pacific House at Nantasket, which he purchased. He was also manager of the restaurant at Norumbega Park at the time it opened. His more recent activities were Cafe Bova on Arch street, Boston, The Lorraine on Tremont street, The Shore Gardens at Nantasket, the South Shore Country Club and the Atlantic House at Nantasket, having been manager of the latter hostelry when it was burned.

Mr. Bova was a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston, Mt. Lebanon Lodge of Masons, the Chapter, the Council and Boston Commandery, Knights Templar, the Hotel Men's Association and until recently a member of the Boston Elks Club. He was twice a Shriner.

The deceased was twice married. His first wife, formerly Charlotte V. Linn of Hartland, Maine, died about 28 years ago. His second wife, Winifred Fish, also of Hartland, Maine, survives as does one son, Leo E. Bova, Jr., of the second marriage. Mr. Bova was in his 70th year. One sister, Mrs. Vincent Montello lives in Medford, Mass., and there are three brothers living in the vicinity of Boston.

MRS. MARY DARCY

Mrs. Mary Broderick Darcy, widow of Cornelius Darcy, died on January 13, at her late home 173 Pearl street, Newton. She was born in Cork, Ireland, 90 years ago and had resided in Newton for over 60 years. She is survived by a daughter, Miss Mary Darcy, a son, David Darcy, and three grandchildren, Cornelius, Irene and John Darcy, all of Newton. Her funeral was held yesterday morning, a solemn requiem mass was celebrated at the Church of Our Lady by Rev. Daniel Riordan assisted by Rev. Walter Roche as deacon and Rev. Russell Haley as sub-deacon. Burial was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Watertown.

CHARLES F. WATTERS

Charles F. Watters of 22 Jerome avenue, West Newton, died on Saturday following a brief illness of pneumonia. He was born in New Castle, New Brunswick, 39 years ago and had resided in West Newton for about twenty years. He was the owner of a drug store located at the corner of Washington and Elm streets. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Olive Watters, three children, John, Charles and Mary Watters, and two brothers, George and Thomas Watters. His funeral service was held Tuesday morning at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

MRS. ANNA C. BREWER

Mrs. Anna C. Brewer of 128 Institution avenue, Newton Centre, widow of William H. Brewer, died on Tuesday, January 14. She was born 89 years ago on Beacon Hill, Boston, as a young girl attended a private school conducted by Louis Agassiz. She was a direct descendant of Roger Conant, one of the founders of Salem. She was the mother of seven children, William Conant Brewer of Newton Centre, deceased; Clara B. Hovey of Montclair, New Jersey; Bertam Brewer of Boston; Harry J. Brewer of Larchmont, New York; Anna B. Buis of New Bedford; A. Farley Brewer and Ruth Brewer of Newton Centre. She leaves eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Her funeral service was held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Newton Centre Baptist Church. The Shubert Quartet sang. Burial was in Mount Auburn Cemetery.

JAMES H. WENTWORTH

James H. Wentworth of 15 Bemuth road, Newton Highlands, died on Friday, January 10. He was born in Brighton 68 years ago, the son of John W. and Maria Ackerson Wentworth. He had been very prominent in the Sons of Union Veterans and was a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Newton Highlands Congregational Church. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Flora Knowles Wentworth, three daughters, Mrs. Ansel G. Coffin of Swarthmore, Pa., Mrs. A. Ralph Tallen of Newton Highlands, Miss Marjorie Wentworth of Cleveland, Ohio, and a sister, Mrs. William Johnson of Natick. His funeral service was held Monday at his late residence, Rev. Ben Roberts of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church officiating. The Lotus Quartette sang. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

MRS. CHARLES E. GIBSON

Helen Knowlton Gibson died at her home, 326 Highland Street, West Newton, January 8th. Her death was due to heart disease from which she had been confined to her bed since August. During all those weeks, however, she was almost free from suffering, and the time passed happily with her family.

Mrs. Gibson was born in 1861 at Rockford, Illinois, the daughter of William A. Knowlton, a prominent manufacturer. She was a graduate of Bradford Academy and, in 1886, was married, at Rockford, to Charles E. Gibson. They spent the next three years in Kansas and, in 1889, Mr. Gibson's power. But because the ordinary use of the word God means the older idea of a power entirely not ourselves, the humanist prefers not to use "God" to describe his Reality. With him, as with his aboriginal ancestor, the principle of self-preservation is present and omnipotent as the dynamic of his religious motive.

Next Tuesday evening Dr. Dieffenbach will lecture on "Recent Changes in Fundamental Beliefs". The speaking period is forty-five minutes, after which there is a question and answer hour. The lectures are given in the parish house of the Unitarian church, Centre and Cypress streets, at eight o'clock. They are open to the public and there are no collections.

business bringing him to Boston, they settled at West Newton, where Mrs. Gibson has been active in the social life of the village and of the Congregational Church for forty years. She was a member of the Women's Republican Club of Boston, the Lucy Jackson Chapter of the D. A. R., a director of the Stearns School Center and, until recently, a director of the Pomroy Home of Newton.

Beside her husband she leaves four children, Stewart K. Gibson and James W. Gibson of West Newton, Mrs. Arthur H. Jacks of Great Neck, New York, and Charles E. Gibson, Jr., of Alamosa, Colorado, and ten grandchildren.

The very beautiful funeral service, conducted by Rev. Boynton Merrill, D.D., was held at the family home at 2:30 p. m., Friday, the 10th. After cremation at Mt. Auburn, the ashes were interred in the family lot in Newton Cemetery.

The First "Bank of the United States"

The first great national bank, called the "Bank of the United States," was established at Philadelphia in 1791, having branches in the leading cities. At that time a national bank was the subject of discussion, as the people believed that the government should have nothing to do with the banking business.

Conscientious planning and expert supervision result in ceremonies unsurpassed by any neglected detail. Our attendants are trained in thoroughness.

personal message from Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, General Federation Public Welfare chairman, is to be broadcast by Dr. Anna C. Palmer, chairman of Public Health, next Wednesday morning, January 22nd, from WNAC at 11.30 o'clock. At 11.40, Mrs. M. H.
Gulesian, pianist and composer, will have a group of original songs interpreted by Vaneva Milne, soprano soloist.

MIDWINTER MEETING. The event of the week, not only for the State Federation but for the Newtons, in that one of our Clubs is hostess for the meeting, is the annual Midwinter Meeting of the State Federation, which might well be called Legislative Day, since at this time of year the State Federation takes up for discussion and consideration, some of the bills brought before this Legislature in which they take special interest.

By invitation of the Women's Educational Club of West Newton, the meeting will be held in Hotel Statler, Boston on Wednesday, January 22nd, the morning session at 9.30 o'clock, opening with the song, "America the Beautiful," led by Mrs. Mabel F. Barstow, Official Song Leader, and at the piano, Mrs. Amy Young Burns, chairman of Music. After the salute to the flag and invocation, there will be Greetings from The Commonwealth of Massachusetts by Governor Allen, and Greetings from Col. C. Sinclair Weeks, Mayor of Newton, followed by the Address of Welcome by Mrs. Joseph Otis, president of the Women's Educational Club of West Newton, and Response by Mrs. Azel A. Packard, president of the State Federation.
Assembly Singing will relieve business, then the Legislative Program, presented by Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, chairman of Legislation, will include the following speakers:

1. On Revision of the Present Book Law: (a.) Dr. Albert C. Dieffenbach, of the Christian Register, on the affirmative side; (b.) Mr. Frank Chouteau Brown, director of the N. E.
Watch and Ward Society, on the negative.
2. Anti-Steel Trap Bill: (a.) Howard Noble, managing director of the Anti-Steel Trap League on the affirmative; (b.) Mr. Raymond J. Kenney, deputy chief warden of the Fish and Game Division of Massachusetts Department of Conservation, on the negative.
3. Bill to regulate Overnight
Camps and Tourist Lodging Houses:
Mr. Samuel H. Thompson, president of the Massachusetts Chamber of Commerce. Action will be taken on this measure.

4. Abolition of Capital Punishment: (a.) Mrs. Herbert B. Ehrmann, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Council for the Abolition of the Death Penalty, on the affirmative side;
(b.) Dean Gleason M. Archer, LL.D., Dean of the Suffolk Law School, on the negative.

5. Children's Commission: Hon.
Herbert C. Parsons, State Commissioner of Probation, Action will be taken on this measure.
The morning legislative program will close with an address on this "Legislative Maze" by Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole.

There will be an Exhibit by the State Department of Agriculture, in charge of Miss Hilda M. Deegan of this department, in the foyer of the ballroom. This exhibit of roadside stands, seen by 100,000 people last November during the annual meeting of the National Farm and Garden Association at the Penn. Hotel, New York City, attracted the enthusiastic interest of Mrs. Henry Ford.

In the afternoon the legislative program continues with the presentation of

6. Report of the Recess Committee on Education, by Senator J. Bradford Davis, of Haverhill, chairman of this State Legislative Committee.

7. Milk Bills: (a.) Dr. George H.
Bigelow, Commissioner of Public Health, on the affirmative; Mr. Joseph
C. Cort, director Division of Animal Husbandry, Department of Agriculture, on the negative.

After these presentations Mrs. Robert L. Culbert, chairman of the Resolutions committee, will present for action the resolutions already read at the close of the morning session. In legislative affairs there will be two:
one on the Children's Commission;
one on the State Forestry measure.

Luncheon will be served at 12.45 in the Georgian Room and in Parlors A, B and C. The Georgian Room will accommodate 400 and will be filled first. There will be green tickets for the Georgian Room and tan tickets for the Parlors. These have been issued in the order of application.

At the afternoon session opening at 2.00 o'clock, there will be music, with Mrs. Rose Zulliani, Contralto, Paul Fedorovsky, First Violinist, Boston Symphony Orchestra, and Mrs. M.
H. Gulesian, Composer-Pianist. A delightful feature of the music will be the song written on the Tercentenary; words of which were composed by Miss Clara Endicott Sears, of Boston, and the music composed (on New Year's Eve) by Mrs. Gulesian, Newton's talented musician-composer.

Greetings will be brought by Mrs.
Horace B. Gale, director of Twelfth
District, and by Mrs. William J. Mc-Donald, director of Sixth District.

Report of the New England Council at Boston will be given by Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, first vice-president, and by Mrs. John H. Kimball, fourth vice-president, and Official Representative of the State Federation.

Presentation of new Clubs, will be made.
The Cause and Cure of War Conference will be reported by Mrs. Lawrence C. Putnam, president of the Peabody Woman's Club.

After Assembly Singing, the General Federation Board Meeting and Report on the Foundation Fund, will be reported by Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, General Federation director; and Affiliation with the General Federation will be the subject of a talk by Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, chairman of Membership of the General Federation.

Unfinished business of the Legislative program will then be continued.
Clubwomen are asked to use the Columbus avenue entrance to the Hotel Statler.

STATE FOREST. In response to a suggestion from the General Federation of Forestry, Mrs. Charles Cyrus Marshall, of New York City, the Massachusetts Department of Conservation, of which Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge is chairman, would be very glad to receive gifts of money from individuals, single Clubs or groups of Clubs, for the planting of single trees or groups of trees in memory of Katherine Lee Bates. Contributions to the State Forest could be designated for this purpose, and State Department would see that the trees were suitably marked. In New York State, plantings of trees in school yards, parks, Club grounds, hospital grounds, etc., have already been made in honor of Miss Bates. Surely, Massachusetts, her own State, should not lag behind in this movement.

SOCIAL WELFARE CONFERENCE.
The Department of Social Welfare of the State Federation of Women's Clubs will have the privilege of presenting the Social Welfare Program of Government to the members of the Federation at a luncheon Conference to be held at the Harry E. Burroughs Newsboys' Foundation, 10 Somerset street, Boston, on February 13th.
The guests and speakers for the luncheon will be His Excellency, the Governor, members of the Children's Commission, the Commissioners of Corrections and Finance, and Senator Davis, who will present a vivid picture of social welfare throughout the State and suggest how Clubwomen can be of help. The members of the Children's Commission are Commissioner of Probation, Hon. Herbert C. Parsons; Commissioner of Public Welfare, Richard K. Conant; Commissioner of Mental Diseases, Dr. George Kline; General Secretary of the Mass.
Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, Theodore A. Lothrop; and Rev. George P. O'Connor. The Commissioner of Correction is Dr. A. Warren Stearns, and the Commissioner of Finance is Charles P. Howard.

RECENT EVENTS

Social Science Club

At the regular meeting of the Social Science Club on January 8th, the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, in the Kellogg Pact the nations of the world have agreed to settle disputes by judicial means, and whereas, the world court is a means by which the nations of the world can arrive at just settlement, therefore, we, the Social Science Club of Newton, urge the United States Senate to ratify by the adherence of the United States to the World Court under the terms of the Root Formula.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The meeting of Tuesday, January 7th, was attended, and the general interest of the Newton Highland Woman's Club for the most important subject "Preventive Medicine and its Relative to the Psychology of Right Living."

The Public Health committee was in charge of this meeting. Mrs. Harry
P. Forte, the chairman introduced Dr.
Marguerite E. Lichtenhaeler, M.D., of the Diagnostic and Surgical Clinic of Wellesley Hills square.

Dr. Lichtenhaeler believes that primarily the psychology of right living must be based on individualism—that is, studying, knowing, and understanding himself first, before anything else is possible—and that collectively, an altruism will follow in their natural course without separate engineering, if the personality of the individual is given freedom to develop and create.

The most important keynote in life, is perfect understanding—and she quoted Kipling's poem—"If We Only Understood."

"The second most important characteristic to have," she said "in personality, is love for fellow-men as shown in the quotation:

'Let me live in my House by the Side of the Road.
Where the Race of men go by—
They are good, they are bad,
They are weak, they are strong,
Wise, foolish—so am I.
Then why should I sit in the scorners' seat?

Or hurl the cynic's ban?
Let me live in my House by the Side of the Road and be a friend to man."

The third ruling factor in the psychology of life is "Courage versus Fear."

Dr. Lichtenhaeler's Golden Rules of the Psychology of Right Living are:
1. Fearlessness and courage; 2.
Friendly point of view ("House by the Side of the Road"); 3. Understanding (Kipling); 4. Willingness to analyze the facts of life, and to face them as beautiful truths and to appreciate their value, in themselves, rather than to wish continuously that they were other than they are and perhaps to hope that they will become something that they never will become; 5. Willingness to give up folly and join the truth seekers about ourselves—adopt these rules and follow them.

The doctor spoke on the necessity of teaching what she considers life's most important subject: Eugenics, if one would have one's children learn the potential power in Selection and if one would improve American human stock. She asked the audience to read Luther Burbank's "Ancestor-Seeds," and "The Bitter Cry of the Children" by John Spargo.

Then, she stated, "all this psychology of right living leads one to face facts also in physical welfare, and by periodic complete physical examinations, by response to early symptoms, in tracing them down to their cause, and by consulting a physician early in any suspicious of faulty bodily function—ten per cent of older age diseases may be avoided, alleviated or cured, is her belief.

Dr. Lichtenhaeler, in closing, asked her audience to educate themselves and others individually and as communities in this great health measure of foresight and prevention and in this way not only teach but live Preventive Medicine, and understand the psychology of Right Living, incidentally being happy and enjoying life with all its interests.

After the lecture, eight members of the Gym Class, led by their director, Mrs. E. S. Witt-edge, gave a short demonstration of the kind of work they are doing which showed it to be of much value.

Newton Community Club

At the last meeting of the Newton Community Club, on Thursday, January 9th, the Club had as its guests friends from the Stone Institute and some of the foreign-born women of Newton.

Mrs. Wallace Wales in costume, sang several selections, which were most enjoyable.

The speaker of the day was Mr.
Henry Warren Poor, whose illustrated lecture on "California and the Southwest" was extremely interesting. His descriptions of the historical background and natural wonders of that section of the country made his listeners wish to journey westward for a visit, especially after seeing the colored illustrations of exceptional and rare beauty.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The "Life in a Colonial Home," as presented by Rev. Laurence L. Barber at the West Newton Women's Educational Club, last Friday was most happy.

Mr. Barber opened his talk with many anecdotes that were exceedingly funny. He explained in detail a home and the life of a former generation. Yet with the multiple duties to be performed time was found for recreation. There were some very attractive fiddleback, Windsor and ladder-back chairs on display, all of a very early date. A Betty and a Phoebe lamp, a very old brass iron-bound kettle, some rare pieces of china, and a beautiful shawl, were a few of many other pieces shown with their history given.

Miss Edith Milner, a blind violinist, gave a Nocturne, by Boulanger, that was well received.

A Minuet, by Pregnan, and Fras-quita, by Kreisler, were the two en-cores rendered.

This interesting and enjoyable program was presented by the American Home committee, Mrs. Ernest F. Robinson, chairman.

Newton Federation

While work and play have been active in individual Clubs, the Newton Federation has been taking a midwinter rest. There has been no Executive Board meeting since November 26th.
That meeting was in charge of the Conservation committee, Mrs. Harold O. Cook, chairman.

speakers was Professor Carl Woodward, head of the department of forestry at New Hampshire University. Professor Woodward has recently returned from a trip through the forests of Europe and he gave a very interesting account of his experiences there and the lessons which can be applied in New England.

The purpose of the Conservation of Natural Resources Committee is to stimulate interest in the perpetuation and protection of national resources, such as forests, ornamental trees, rivers, as well as wild life and native plants, and, in general, strive to cultivate an enjoyment in the right use of the outdoor world.

Locally, it means the proper celebration of Arbor Day in schools by planting of one or more trees on the school grounds. Prizes may be offered in Junior High Schools for essays on forest or wild life conservation.

The Norumbega Boy Scout Council proposes to hold this winter a merit badge exhibition. The Conservation committee can assist them with the forest conservation or bird study exhibits.

In 1920 the Massachusetts Legislature passed an act to create one hundred thousand acres of State forests over a period of fifteen years at a cost not to exceed three million dollars.

At the expiration of ten years, and with the expenditure of $1,750,000, this object has been reached. It is now proposed, since there is one third of the allotted time and more than one third of the authorized fund still to be expended, that the act be amended to read 150,000 acres, thus increasing the area of State forests proportionately to the funds available.

More specifically the Clubs will be asked by the State Committee to as-ist in securing a State Federation Forest of 1000 acres at a cost of about $500,000.

Of national interest in the conservation field, the public lands of the United States in the West are held in three classes—National Parks, National Forests, and Unallotted Public Domain. It is now proposed to turn over the Public Domain to the several States. Forest conservationists do not specifically oppose this plan, but they urge that before this is done, the Public Domain be carefully studied and that sections which should be added to the National Forests and Parks be so allotted before this transfer is made. Further, conservationists are afraid that many of the western states will attempt to have some of the National Forest areas transferred to them, since the Forests represent the most valuable portion of the public lands. Such legislation must therefore be carefully watched.

The last meeting of the Newton Federation was held on December 5th in the Newton High School auditorium, and took the form of a non-partisan pre-election rally. The meeting was in charge of the Civics committee of the Newton Federation.

The speakers were all candidates for office at the approaching city election.

The hall was well filled and the audience very appreciative of the opportunity to see and hear the men for whom they were to vote the following day.

On January 28th there will be an Executive Board meeting of the Newton Federation which will be in charge of the Legislative committee, Mrs. Arthur W. Desoe, chairman.

Finger-Marks Wash Right Off!

It usually happens when Sonny decides to raise the shade to look out of the window, he leaves his finger-marks. No harm is done, however, if the window shades are of du Pont TONTINE for finger-marks, smudges, dust and soil wash right off with soap, hot water and a brush, and their original beauty is restored. TONTINE shades are also waterproof, sun-proof and will not crack, "pin-hole" or fray. With a beautiful, smooth surface to which dust and dirt will not cling, and heavy in weight, they will last for years. A number of your neighbors have recently installed these truly washable window shades because they are so practical, so beautiful and so lasting.

*Phone us today and we will gladly send a man to show you samples of the New and improved du Pont TONTINE.

January at the Methodist Church conducted by Rev. William E. Austill and Rev. C. T. Noble.

—Last Sunday evening the Young People's League discussed the subject, "Meeting Disagreeable Truth." Marion Hessler and Robert Shontag were leaders of the meeting.

—The many friends of Mrs. Webb, who before her marriage was Miss Vivian Barbour of Saxon road, heard with deep regret of the death of Mr.
Webb after a long illness in New York City last week.

—Mr. Thomas D. Ginn of Woodward street is a member of the board of directors and the publicity committee of the Roxbury Memorial High School Alumni Association which will hold its 1930 reunion on Feb. 26th.

—Mr. and Mrs. Rex Wisner of Duncklee street entertained friends at brunch on Saturday evening, last, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lut-weiler, Jr., and Miss Jean Canron and Mr. Todd Wallace, where engagement has recently been announced.

TRIPS TO WARMER CLIMES

How would you like to make a tour of the Mediterranean? There are countless thousands who yearn for such a privilege but most of them consider such a journey too costly for their financial resources. Until recently only wealthy persons, or hardy adventurers who could travel economically by enduring discomforts might take this trip.

Now you can stop your wishing.
You can pack your things and go.
By investing 46 days and $420 this long anticipated experience can be recorded in the logbook of your life before another Spring rolls by. A brilliant itinerary has been mapped out by specialists in Mediterranean travel, and superb ocean liners will take you for a golden holiday on sunny seas.

Last year the White Star Line, feeling that many Americans with limited travel budgets would welcome an opportunity to visit the Mediterranean, announced that the standard itinerary could be covered via Tourist Third Cabin. The innovation proved such a success that the White Star Line is again this year offering Tourist Third Cabin in connection with four cruises to the Mediterranean. These cruises will cover 12,000 miles and will sail on the popular Adriatic or the new Laurentic.

You will visit Madeira, Gibraltar, Algiers, Monte Carlo, Naples, Athens, Constantinople, Jerusalem and the Holy Land, Egypt and Sicily. All in 46 glorious days and for $420. Can you imagine a pleasanter way to break up the winter than by going on this long, healthful cruise? The educational advantages it offers are obvious. War in modernizing its Tourist Third Cabin—and the expenses so absurdly low on these marvelous White Star Liners, why not obtain reservations now from the NEWTON STEAMSHIP AGENCY, Postoffice Building, Newton, local agents for the White Star Line. The three remaining cruises will leave New York on January 18, February 27 and March 8. The full cruise without shore excursions may be taken for $300.

Morrow and Young.
Little Men Do Learn.
$400,000 Telephone Bill.
Mexico Experiments.

NEW YORKERS, with money, and leisure to settle the affairs of the nation, say the Republican candidate for President will be Mr. Morrow, recently Ambassador to Mexico, and the Democratic candidate, Mr. Young, financial genius, father of the Young plan for Germany.

By some it is suggested that both are "too close to big money." Mr.
Morrow being a former Morgan partner, and Mr. Young head of various great corporations.

That objection is feeble. In military nations, military men are chosen to lead. In this business-money nation and government, business-money men might well be chosen.

But the Morrow and Young enthusiasts overlook President Hoover and Governor Smith.

President Hoover will emerge from the cloud of bootleg-prohibition discussion that now obscures him, and prove that the people did not elect a great engineer to deal only with petty crime.

And whoever believes that the Democrats can overlook Governor Smith in a national convention, overlook the meaning of 15,000,000 votes.
Governor Smith can accumulate the 15,000,000 again. Who else, among Democrats, could gather them?

The big ill wind that blew in Wall Street did somebody good.

New York's savings banks report more than eighteen thousand new accounts within a few days after the slump. The "little" man seems to have learned a lesson.

The United States army of simpletons that buy stocks when gentlemen ring the doorbell and tell them "now or never," or when other gentlemen call them on the telephone, are interested in this.

One get-rich-quick concern, on trial in a Federal Court, is said to have spent $400,000 in one year for telephone messages to fools.

You may imagine how much the geese at the other end of the telephone must have lost to justify a $400,000 telephone bill in one year.

How prosperous this nation would be if citizens could be persuaded not to invest unless they know, or have the advice of some honest, experienced man, preferably a respected banker who has been in business for some time.

There is always one investment that does not disappoint you, the savings bank. It does not call you up on the telephone, but it does return your money when you want it.

Mexico experiments with criminal law. Instead of a jury, there will be five "technical experts," the degree of guilt based on the criminal's intelligence and realization of his crime.
No punishment for your first crime,
if you were hungry and hurt no one.
Here we allow a dog one bite, but don't allow a thief one theft.

No Mexican death penalty for civil crimes. Revolutionists will be shot as usual. Automobile drivers, killing somebody, cannot be locked up more than six years.

The new law assumes that crime is largely "a disease." Criminologists in many countries have suggested similar changes. Mexico is first to try them.

Frederick G. Ecker, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company president, renders great service to aviation, holding through the New York Court of Appeals his plan to let aviators, commercial, military, naval and amateur, obtain life insurance against ordinary hazards at regular rates.

The rule cancelling life insurance,
if the insured travelled by airplane, was a serious handicap for aviation.

We exaggerate often the wisdom and skill of the ancients.

In South America many skulls are found, with little pieces cut out, as in modern "trepanning."

Surgeons, ofhand, said: "How marvellous that ancient Aztecs, with primitive instruments, could operate on the skull, and, presumably, remove tumors, or other causes of danger."

Dr. Herbert V. Williams, who teaches medical pathology at the University of Buffalo, returns from Peru and Chile with the real story.

When the South American of ancient days had a bad headache the "medicine man" said: "There are evil spirits in your head; I'll fix that."

He cut off a small round piece of the sufferer's scalp, and took out a round piece of bone, "to let the evil spirits out."

Strange, barbarous; but it is not so long since, in Christian lands, the insane and the epileptic, supposed to be possessed by evil spirits, were often beaten with horrible brutality, even beaten to death, in an effort to discourage the spirits and drive them out.

Somebody is always attacking "Nature's Sweet Restorer." A German has invented a spherical alarm clock, manufactured by the Black Forest clock makers, to whom we owe the cuckoo clock.

This new alarm clock makes a loud noise and, at the same time, turns on an electric light, located in the clock.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Yesterday morning the telephone at Police Headquarters in West Newton rang. Houseman George Kilmain answered. A woman's voice inquired—
"Why are the church bells tolling?"
"This is the 10th anniversary of prohibition," answered George. "Well," replied the woman, "Why are not the bells pealing instead of tolling?" And for once the resourceful George was nonplused.

Yesterday a citizen of Ward 1 telephoned the office to complain about a traffic signal at the end of Pearl street at Waterfront street. It seems that the flasher in this signal is causing interference with the newer types of radio sets which have been installed in that neighborhood recently. Sets with "screen grids." Apparently the screens catch the impulses from the flasher among other things. The citizen complaining asked that this particular signal be stopped from flashing; that it be made a stationary light. He contended that many other traffic signals throughout the city have been stopped from flashing and that owners of radio sets in his vicinity are entitled to as much consideration as persons in other parts of this burg.

The City of Newton has spent some thousands of dollars installing traffic signals at dangerous street intersections. All of these signals were originally installed as flashing signals in conformity with the regulations promulgated by the Department of Public Works of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. When these signals were stopped flashing in deference to requests from owners of radio sets their usefulness in preventing accidents was obviously lessened. In some signals filters were placed which have been effective in eliminating the annoyance to owners of radio sets. If these filters are practical they should be placed in all the signals which have been stopped from flashing. Owners of radio sets should be accorded consideration. Public safety should also be considered by having traffic signals operate as they are supposed to operate.

Having been mulcted of hundreds of millions during the comparatively short period the United States was in the World War through the construction of a fleet of concrete, wooden and steel steamships, a large percentage of which never carried a cargo or were completed, having been taxed for other scores of millions of dollars to pay for a merchant-marine which was a white elephant; having paid the bills for the subsidizing of a Trans-Atlantic passenger fleet which was sold not so long ago, the people of the United States are now told that the Post Office Department proposes to build two new ocean steamships similar to the Bremen. Also ocean liners of 20,000 and 17,000 tons sizes. The cost of some of the proposed ships will be $76,000,000. How long will the people of this country stand the gouging?

People on Cape Cod and in other sections of the state are demanding that the annual slaughter of deer by amateur Nimrods be stopped, or at least lessened. If the "red-blooded" humans with atavistic traits who get thrills by killing such ferocious creatures as deer, pheasants and the like are permitted to indulge in their noble outdoor sports, the few remaining species of wild creatures in this section will soon become extinct. According to pending legislation, in the future the deer in Massachusetts will have to contend not alone with expert and inept riflemen, but with emulators of Robin Hood, and the wild Indians who depended on bows and arrows.

There is a siren signal located in front of the fire station on Washington street at Centre avenue, Newton.
When Engine 1 and Ladder 3 are about to leave the station this siren starts doing its stuff. It can easily be heard an eighth of a mile or more by anyone who is not deaf. Some operators of automobiles either do not know what this siren sounds for, or pay no attention to it because they belong to the self privileged class who ignore signs, signals and laws. With the siren wailing we have observed automobiles operated over the Centre avenue bridge and onto Centre avenue from Centre street.

The condition of Washington street, between Crafts street and Newton
Corner proves the wisdom of Mayor Weeks in emphasizing in his inaugural address the necessity of improving the streets of this city. Newton must make up its mind to spend a large sum each year in modernizing its highways. It has deferred too long making appropriations to replace obsolete types of street surfaces with surfaces that will withstand the wear and tear of automobile traffic.

Washington street cannot be resurfaced this coming Spring until after the proposed huge 60 inch water main will have been laid under it. This big pipe will carry water from the reservoir of the Metropolitan Water System at Weston to supply parts of Greater Boston. It will be laid along Commonwealth avenue, Webster and Elm streets to Washington street, thence easterly under Washington street to Peabody street and along Pearl street to follow the bank of the Charles River towards Boston.

In the meantime it might be an excellent idea to fill the many holes in Washington street, and in other streets, with cold tar patches rather than with hot patches. These latter composed of liquid tar, gravel and sand, may stay put somewhat better than cold patches and afford smoother surfaces, but when the first hot spell comes next Spring and during the hot weather of the summer months, patches which were made in the cold season of liquid, hot tar will become oozy will smear automobiles, ruin shoes and spoil persons' tempers.

The "toughest birds" we have observed, not eaten, are English starlings. Brought to this country less

Tests By Chemists Prove

Welsh Anthracite

Is Highest in Heat Units

JUST as we measure distance by standard units, inches, feet and miles, etc., so, too, we measure heat by British Thermal Units. B.T.U.—is the "foot rule" for measuring the heat value of coal. We can tell definitely and accurately the Heat value of a certain coal by determining the number of B. T. U.'s per pound. No guess work. It is a scientific calculation used the world over.

READ THIS:

Repeated tests by chemists show that Welsh is highest in heat value, highest in B. T. U.'s of any anthracite on the market. Ordinary coal gives 12,500 to 13,500
B. T. U.'s per pound. Welsh gives 14,500 to 15,000
B.T.U.'s—a substantial margin of superiority.

than a generation ago, they have multiplied as rapidly as did the English sparrows. It is peculiar that as the sparrows largely disappeared simultaneously with the passing of horses, starlings have so increased in numbers as to become regarded by many as great pests as were the sparrows.
The starling is not a beautiful bird.
As a singer he is a flop. Like the sparrow, he does not seem to know enough to migrate when winter comes. But anyone who observes starlings by the thousands festooning cold, unprotected stone walls of buildings in Boston on windy winter nights with the temperature around zero, must admit that these birds certainly have endurance.

A native Hawaiian legend has it that when Satan fell from Heaven he landed in the Garden of Eden with such force that he drove through to the opposite side of the globe the spots on which he struck. These spots of Eden land are the Hawaiian Is-in the harmony of relationship that is it undoubtedly is as near Eden land

Second In Series Of Lectures By Dr. Dieffenbach On Religion

Speaks on "Recent Changes in Fundamental Beliefs" At Newton Centre Tuesday Evening

Quoting from the last words of the late George A. Gordon, Dr. Albert C. Dieffenbach in the second of his public lectures in Newton Centre last night on "What Is Happening to Religion?" said: "A religion without theology is a religion bereaved of its aboriginal fountain; it cannot walk the ways of this difficult and dangerous world save as a blind man finds his way along the troubled streets of the city."

"By theology," said the speaker, whose special subject was "Recent Changes in Fundamental Beliefs," he meant not, as in the old days, a theory about deity, but rather "man's attempts at an intellectual explanation of facts which give rise to religious feelings." He cited Walter Lippmann's best selling treatise on theology which has a misleading title, "A Preface to Morals," as an example of the tremendous interests in the ultimate questions of life among thoughtful people everywhere and of all varieties of belief. The preacher who has no theology has nothing to say and is likely to take a long time saying it. Like a hack journalist he is at the mercy of passing events for his topics, and must wait for somebody to say something before he has anything to say. He is an echo, not a voice.

Doctrine in some form is a necessary part of any developed religion. Julian Huxley said, according to Dr. Dieffenbach, "A society without beliefs would be like an organism essaying motion on land without a skeleton—it would collapse gelatinously." Today there is a revolution in theological ideas not only among the ministers and divinity school professors, but among intelligent people who think for themselves and are quite done with many dogmas which served an earlier day. We see that no one can do without sound beliefs, because wrong ideas lead to wrong actions, and correctness of our behavior is determined by the truth of the intellectual premises on which they are based.

"In the long run there is nothing more practical than theology. Some pedants may speak of metaphysics as Cambridge University expresses herself in a famous toast,—'God bless the higher mathematics and may they never be of the slightest use to anybody.' In due time, when the Great War came, the higher mathematics helped to save the English Nation; and a sound body of religious theory will save the souls of a queuing people."

Dr. Dieffenbach said that "this country leads Christendom in theological thought. A recognized liberal in America and a recognized liberal in Europe would be at least a generation apart. Our changes have been characteristics of our adventurous spirit. The old world moves more slowly, stolidly, though there are of course (in England) really advanced theologians. But the former dependence upon Europe for our thought has passed away."

"During the period from 1890 to the present there has been an astounding change in fundamental beliefs. For instance, the Bible is nowhere regarded as a basis of doctrine as it was forty years ago when there arose what was called biblical theology. Today in the colleges there are Bible courses, but they have almost no religious significance, because all they deal with are the ethical teachings, the devotional poems, and the general literary qualities, which, in part, are supreme. But the Bible as a source of religious teaching in the profound sense of metaphysics is dead."

"Of course the progress of religion always depends on its articulated and searching thought upon the ultimate imperatives which we call theology. We do not speak the language of the Bible, we do not think its thoughts, (Continued on Page 8)

West Newton Man Fatally Stabbed

As Result of Altercation Over Family Troubles

Antonio Gallo, 45, a boarder at the home of Giuseppe Gentile, 45 Oak avenue, West Newton, was fatally stabbed and slashed Wednesday night by Carmine Cavarretta, 38, of 41 Quirk street, Watertown. Cavarretta is a barber and was employed in a shop at Lexington. He had been implicated in a stabbing affair a year ago at Watertown, his victim being a man Cavarretta accused of breaking up his home. Cavarretta fled to New Jersey but was subsequently arrested and charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. Because of the provocation he received, this charge was later changed to one of simple assault. He has not been living with his wife and five children who reside in Watertown.

Wednesday evening Gentile and Domenico Rizzo were motoring from Lexington to West Newton with a pig they had purchased when they came upon Cavarretta waiting for a Waltham bus in Lexington. They invited him to ride to Waltham with them and he accompanied Gentile to the latter's home. Also in the house were Gallo, Gaetano Giunta, another boarder, and Frank Castagnino. The men partook of some wine and then Gallo and Cavarretta became involved in an argument over the latter's family troubles. They started to fight, as Gentile attempted to separate them. Gallo cried that he had been stabbed in the abdomen. Then Cavarretta pulled a razor and slashed Gallo's wrist three times, severing an artery. He rushed from the house and Gentile telephoned for the police. Serg. Nicolas Vedeucio with Patrolmen George Mulen and Joe Lyons rushed to the place and started a search for Cavarretta. Mulen came upon him near the doorway of a neighboring house and seized him. Gallo was rushed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance in a critical condition from loss of blood. It was found he had been stabbed four times in the abdomen with a clasp knife, besides the slashes he received in the wrist. He died at three o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Gallo had been in the employ of John Janse as a garbage collector in the Newtons. He was a steady worker, not having missed a day in the 27 months he was in Janse's employ. He leaves a wife and five children in Italy.

Cavarretta was in the Newton court Thursday morning and was held in $10,000 bonds on the charges of assault with a dangerous weapon and assault with intent to kill. Following Gallo's death the charge was changed to murder and he was bound over to the Grand Jury.

All Newton Music School Concert

To Take Place In High School Auditorium Feb. 12th

Music lovers will be interested to know that once more Newton takes the lead in bringing to its citizens some very unusual artists who will give the program at the annual benefit concert for the All Newton Music School, which will take place at the auditorium of the Newton High School on Wednesday evening, Feb. 12th at 8:15 o'clock. Mrs. Donald E. Rust, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Miss Mabel Eager and Mrs. Quincy W. Wales form the general committee in charge of arrangements. It is with much pleasure and satisfaction that they will present, in a program of negro spirituals, the well known Mr. J. Rosamond Johnson, composer, pianist and baritone, and Mr. Taylor Gordon, tenor. Since this concert is the only one at which Mr. Johnson and Mr. Gordon will appear publicly in Greater Boston this year, Newton citizens will surely appreciate the opportunity given them to hear these universally recognized authorities on negro spirituals. These negro musicians have received many fine tributes to their artistry and their music, practically all the highest compliments. New York gives them its most generous patronage, since their concerts are always given before packed houses.

The All Newton Music School, which will benefit from the proceeds of this concert, is rounding out its wonderful record of achievement for the eighth year. Fostered by the devotion of its director, Miss Elizabeth Frye, and supported first by an interested group of West Newton men and women, the scope of this most interesting work has so widened from small beginnings as to care for over two hundred Newton girls and boys each year in their musical education. Be sure and save the date, Feb. 12th. You will be more than repaid by this exceptionally fine musical treat.

NAMES MCAUSLAN AS ASSESSOR

Albert H. McAuslan of 80 Glen avenue, Newton Centre, has been appointed a member of the Board of Assessors by Mayor Weeks. Information of this appointment was conveyed to the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. It was made to fill the unexpired term of Alfred E. Alvord who died on November 7, 1929.

Mr. McAuslan was born in Providence, Rhode Island, 48 years ago and came to Newton in 1913. Since that time he has been engaged in the real estate business. He was a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen

Unemployed To Be Provided With Work

Mayor and Aldermen Planning to Advance City Work

On January 1st because of lack of work the Street Department was obliged to lay off 100 laborers. In laying off employees Civil Service Rules compel seniority to be recognized. Because of the hardship caused to the unemployed and their dependents, Mayor Weeks is endeavoring to afford aid to as many of the men thrown out of work, as is possible. Accordingly he recommended to the Board of Aldermen that they appropriate at the meeting held last Monday night $4400 to enable work to be started on the Stearns drain project at Newton Highlands near Woodcliff road. His recommendation was accepted and men put to work there this week. In connection with this Mayor Weeks gave the following instructions to Street Commissioner Stuart—

"Dear Mr. Stuart:
"You have reported to me that beginning January 1st, through lack of work, you were compelled to lay off one hundred employees, this hundred being the men most recently taken from the Civil Service list. Of this one hundred, some have passed the probationary period fixed by the Civil Service at six months and some have not."

"Since January 1st, you have been able to find work for twenty-two of this group of one hundred and by Civil Service regulation, have selected the twenty-two from the men oldest in employment. This lay-off of men has been a great hardship. I regret the condition and want to have the condition alleviated with the thought in mind to help all of these men to some extent. Civil Service law does not permit me to help those who need it the most, and so the men must be helped as a group and not as individuals."

"In view of the conditions above outlined, I desire to advance all City work that can be done now without increased cost, even though in the natural course of events some of this work would ordinarily be delayed to a later portion of the year."

"You are instructed, in the doing of this work, to employ all of the one hundred men, and if that is not possible, as many as is possible in doing this work. This employment shall be based upon a three-day a week service, employing one group for three days, laying that group off and employing another for three days and so on. In doing this you of course will have (Continued on page 12) in 1919, 1920 and 1921. He is married and has one son.

Mayor Weeks also appointed John W. Murphy of 73 Jasset street, Nantum, as an assessor and chairman of the Board of Assessors, for a term of three years. Mr. Murphy has been a member of the Board for 12 years and was designated as chairman last year by Mayor Childs to succeed the late Henry Bally. The Mayor reappointed James A. Cox, William E. Flint, Ralph Laffie and Frederick L. Smith as assistant assessors for terms of one year.

Mayors Of Seven Greater Boston Cities Attend K. of C. Mayor's Night

Elks' Hall Taxed To Capacity At Most Colorful Meeting of Newton Council Held in Recent Years

With seven greater Boston Mayors attending, New Mayor's Night of Newton Council, K. of C., Tuesday night at Elks' Hall, Centre street to capacity when 500 members of the Knights and their friends attended. It was the largest, enthusiastic, most colorful meeting of Newton Council in years.

Immediately following the Knights of Columbus meeting, ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs was escorted into the hall by Grand Knight Charles E. Coyne and a deafening cheer greeted ex-Mayor Childs. Seated at the front of the stage were Mayors Sinclair Weeks of Newton, Richard M. Russell of Cambridge, Patrick J. Duane of Waltham, John Murphy of Somerville, Philip Gallagher of Woburn, Michael O'Neill of Everett, John Whalen of Chelsea and Mayor Charles T. Harding of Boston representing Mayor James M. Curley.

Grand Knight Coyne opened the affair with a welcome greeting to the visiting Mayors on behalf of the Knights of Columbus. He made clear the reception Newton Council was giving to ex-Mayor Childs and Mayor Weeks. Rev. James F. Haney of Woburn, formerly of Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, was introduced. He paid high tribute to the retiring and present Mayors of Newton and to Newton Council in sponsoring Mayor's Night.

Following Fr. Haney, Grand Knight Coyne presented a screen burlesque by cartoons of the various Mayors and their inaugural recommendations. Every Mayor saw himself three times on the screen and for a quarter-hour Elks' Hall echoed with guffaws and uproarious laughter. Mayor Weeks' recommendation for nightly Council meetings, his endorsement by the open minded Democrats of Newton, the tremendous storm of plurality votes that covered him were pictured. Mayor Russell saw himself as Robinson Crusoe on one of the Mass. Ave. traffic islands, also as the winner of a wrestling bout with champion ex-Mayor Edward Quinn of 12 years standing. Bibber McCoy was pictured as referee. Mayor Gallagher was all wound up in the work of Mayor Secretary of Woburn Chamber of Commerce and District Deputy in the Knights. He opened the City Council meeting with the K. of C. ritual and ordered the police to raid the Chamber of Commerce. Mayor Murphy was the eighth wonder of the world, the first Democrat mayor of Somerville. Mayor Duane's tall silk hat got honorable mention and another depicted the appointment of ex-Mayor Beale with Mayor Duane querying, "Will you take care of me when you get in again, Henry?" Mayor Whalen did things to the police force. Mayor O'Neill's municipal employment bureau sent a two-fisted husky man to take a position as a mother's helper, and he also rang the curfew on municipal machines for his municipal garage. Then three rousing cheers were given the guests.

Original, topical songs followed on Newton, the various Mayors, the greater Boston recommendation, the number of Newtons—everybody in good cheer and good fellowship.

Ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs was then presented with a Gladstone bag by Grand Knight Coyne on behalf of Newton Council. The ex-Mayor was praised for his co-operation in the past, his loyalty to Newton Council, his friendly talks at their various functions. "And each time ex-Mayor Childs left some thought with us that we could take home and translate into the principles and ideals of the Knights of Columbus," summed up Mr. Coyne.

Ex-Mayor Childs paid glowing tribute to the ability and record of Mayor or Sinclair Weeks in introducing him. Mayor Weeks gave hearty greeting to the visiting Mayors and bespoke the co-operation of Newton Council in his endeavors. Mayor Richard M. Russell of Cambridge followed and he in turn praised the character, ability and purposes of Mayor Weeks. Mayor Duane of Waltham stressed the friendly feeling existing between Newton and Waltham and remarked that he never could forget the favor Newton paid to Waltham when they sold the land where he now lives to Waltham. He was in a jovial mood and was rousing cheered. Mayor Gallagher of Woburn congratulated Mayor Weeks and paid his respects to ex-Mayor Childs. He told of the historic traditions of Woburn and questioned the interest of the baby city in the annexation ideas of Boston.

Billy McDermott entertained with a series of stories. Mayor Whalen of Chelsea emphasized the importance of Chelsea's industrial situation making possible many of the beautiful homes in Newton. He was favorable to giving consideration to the great Boston idea under favorable conditions. Preceding Mayor Murphy of Somerville, Rev. (Continued on Page 5)

TO RESIGN AS FOOTBALL COACH

Coach John L. Sullivan, coach of football and baseball at Newton high for the past three years, has announced that he will shortly tender his resignation as coach of football. He will continue to direct the baseball team and will retain his position as head of the training department and teacher of science.

Sullivan was appointed to the position a few months after the death of Allie W. Dickinson, who will ever be remembered for the place he won during his years at Newton. During the spring of 1927 Sullivan and physical education in the Newton schools, handled the baseball team jointly. The following fall Sullivan took over the football team. He was assisted by Stanwood Carson, former Purdue University star center, who had served with Dickinson several years, as line coach. The eleven of that year ranked high in Suburban league competition. That was the year the championship was tossed around here and there because of ineligibility of members of Everett and Newton. Newton went into the lead in the league race when an Everett halfback was found to be over-age. At the end of the season it was discovered that Newton had played a substitute lineman for a total playing time of about two minutes during several games and had to forfeit its claim to the title. The records show that Cambridge Latin was officially awarded the honor.

In 1928 Sullivan was faced with the loss of many veterans of the previous year through graduation and had to begin from the ground up. The team that year played football all season but lacked the co-ordination coming with experience to put over the necessary scores. Many remember the 70-odd yard march at Everett in the final period of the game which brought Newton to within a foot of victory. Gilligan's field goal to beat Brookline for the second successive year by a similar margin was the climax of the season. Foundations of the 1929 season were being laid meanwhile with hopes for a better year. In May the State Headmaster's Association passed the so-called "three-year" rule which would mean that no player could play in more than two seasons. After several weeks of practice Newton opened its 1929 season with Malden. The latter had a veteran team while Newton took the field without a player in the line-up who had ever started an interscholastic football game.

As the season progressed, the team had its ups and downs. Both Everett and Brookline were far outclassed at carrying the ball but the winning punch was lacking. Rindge was also outplayed in another Suburban league contest but the game went to the Cambridge school. Against Waltham, one of the outstanding teams in the state, Newton made a showing that compared very favorably with other Greater Boston teams with much better season's record.

For next year Newton's prospects are better. There are several letter men returning and more players with some experience than for some time. Newton's baseball record needs little reviewing. In 1928 and 1929 the team came through with flying colors and won the Suburban league championship. The 1928 team was the best fielding team that ever represented Newton. Captain deMille was on first, Fletcher on second, Spain at short, and Warren at third base. Bill Reilly, Don Wilson and Roland Combs were the leading throwers while Phil Andres was behind the bat. Opponents' runs were at a premium and if Newton scored two runs it was practically certain victory. The 1929 nine, on the other hand, was the reverse. It could and usually did hand the opposition plenty of runs, sometimes five or six in a bunch. But it mattered little one big inning was all Newton, captained by Allie Fletcher, needed. The batting of the 1929 team was outstanding among Greater Boston teams, Fletcher, Wilson, Andres, Nichols, Reilly, Mullen had exceptional batting averages for schoolboy competition.

This coming year Sullivan will face a difficult problem in baseball as he did last fall in football. He has but one letter man available, Captain Perry Elrod. Only time will decide the make-up of the remainder of the team and what place it is to hold.

The coach who will replace Sullivan in football has not yet been decided and it will probably be some time before a decision is made. Anyone's guess is as good as another at present despite rumors that are going around. Naturally Charles Considine, assistant coach in 1929 and one of the famous Brown University "iron-men" of a few years ago, will receive close consideration. Following his graduation from college he took a position as teacher-coach at Plymouth high where he directed the varsity team there through an undefeated season in 1928. Undoubtedly the Newton authorities will follow the policy of appointing a teacher-coach but whether the new coach is at present a member of the faculty is another question.

Coaching

Having had a deep interest in Newton High School athletics in past years we are sincerely sorry that John L. Sullivan has decided to resign as head football coach. The death of Coach Allie Dickinson was a big loss to Newton high athletes in particular and to the school and city in general. It also gave the school authorities a huge problem finding a man to take his place. Following the expressed policy of appointing a member of the faculty to coaching positions Mr. Sullivan was chosen. Despite the handicap of taking the place of a man with an unusual personality that had endeared him to all, the new coach went about his work with a will. In three years as coach he has gone a long way towards winning the respect and admiration of those with whom he came in contact. Newton, as a whole, has never demanded a winning team (despite rumors in the daily press that Mr. Sullivan was forced out because he had failed to produce football teams of high standing) but, as is only natural, supported the winning team better than the losing eleven. Sullivan's first eleven was better than the average, despite the loss of the captain-elect, Frank Spain, who resigned because of a weak ankle which he desired to protect that he might participate in other sports. In the fall of 1928 the material was below par many of the veterans of 1927 having graduated. But the Newton coach and his assistants gathered a team together that played football to the final whistle, regardless of the odds. Plans were laid for the following year but to no avail. The so-called "three-year" rule practically robbed Newton of any chance of gridiron glory in 1929. Athletic success brings a certain amount of glory to any team but if that success is won at the cost of the narrowing and blighting of any lad's character and sportsmanship it is not worth the sacrifice. A coach's record should be measured by the position he holds in the boys' eyes and not by the games won and lost column. No one can say that John L. Sullivan has failed.

OUR LADY HIGH WINS ANOTHER

By defeating the Immaculate Conception High basketball team of Revere on Wednesday in a Catholic High School league contest while Mission Church High of Roxbury was swamping St. Mary's of Brookline the existing triple tie for first place was reduced to a tie for the lead between Our Lady and Mission. Our Lady, which was also tied for first before the game started, 26 to 18. Neman of Immaculate scored sixteen of his team's points. Lamson and O'Neil led for Our Lady with eight points each. Mission swamped St. Mary's, 30 to 6, and in the third league game of the division, Brookline is figuring on first and second in the 300 with Littman and Hootstein but either Bell or Alford Mouser of Newton are likely to upset Brookline's hopes. The 600-yard run should be one of the best of the day with Captain Hall of Newton and Gow of Brookline the outstanding entries. Hall has the edge. Vincent Signore of Newton is the best 100-yarder in the race with Levin and Dane of Brookline fighting it out with Augustus Signore for the other points. If James Colligan, Newton's best shot-putter, is in good health again he should win the shotput with Walter Holmes of Newton a second place winner. In the broad jump Brookline has a lead named Kinswell doing well over nine feet. He is expected to land first place with Greene, Offutt, Whitney and Marriner of Newton garnering the rest of the points. Greene and Champion should have little trouble adding eight points to Newton's score in the high jump with Dooskin of Brookline a third place winner. The relay will be another exciting race with the make-up of each time impossible to determine until starting time. Should the other events run true to form Newton can lose the relay and still have a comfortable margin to work on.

Newton Council, K. of C., will be represented by one of the largest groups of sports followers among Greater Boston Councils Saturday night at the William C. Pratt Memorial Games, the annual indoor athletic meet of the State Council, K. of C., with Grand Knight Charles E. Coyne leading 125 to 150 members, wives and friends into the boxes at one end of Boston Garden.

Box parties have been arranged for the seven boxes exactly where the dash men break the tapes and a large Newton banner with red, white and blue bunting will decorate the boxes. Lecturer Edwin C. Heisler is attending to these details. In addition arrangements have been made with the management of the Silver Slipper club for a special dinner for all Newton Council ticket holders. The dinner will be served at 6:15 o'clock and the regular Saturday night club show will be advanced to 8:45 o'clock as a special attraction for Newton Knights. The dinner guests will go to the Boston Garden in a body, reaching there about 8 o'clock.

Brown had an easy time winning from the Mass. Aggie hockey team at Providence last Saturday, 7 to 0 with Phil Lingham, former Newton high athlete, scoring twice.

HOLMES SETS NEW DASH MARK

Walter Holmes, star dash man of the Newton high track team ran a dead heat with Roger Greene of Country Day school in the finals of that event at the meet between the two schools last Friday on the Newton track. The pair were clocked in 53 3/5 seconds, breaking the old mark of 54 1/5 seconds held jointly by Bob Ewing and Carl Pescosoldo in 1929. Wallace Fullerton in 1926 and Arthur Boudrot in 1916. Newton high won the meet with their private school opponents handsly 55 1/2 to 16 1/2. The nearest visitors came to a first place was in the dash when Holmes and Greene divided the eight points for the first two places. Captain Charles Hall of Newton won the 600 in the excellent time of 1 minute 23 seconds. Newton swept the hurdles event which Hall could have won but slowed down to allow his teammate, Fine to score the five points toward a letter. Holmes also won the shotput with a heave of 39 ft. 1 inch, as James Colligan, Newton's best shot-putter was out of competition with an abscessed ear. The summary:

30-yard dash—Holmes (N) and Greene (CD) tied for first; Quinlan (N) third. Time 33 3/5 seconds (New track record).

35-yard hurdles—Won by Fine (N); Hall (N) second; Green (N) third. Time 43 1/2 seconds.

300-yard run—Won by Mouser (N); R. Bell (N) second; Greene (CD) third. Time 36 4/5 seconds.

600-yard run—Won by Hall (N); Cobb (CD) second; Young (N) third. Time 1 minute 23 seconds.

1000-yard run—Won by V. Signore (N); Cobb (CD) second; A. Signore (N) third. Time 2 minutes 33 s.

Standing Broad Jump—Won by Green (N); Offutt (N) second; Marriner (N) and Greene (CD) tied for third. Distance 9 ft. 1 1/2 in.

Running High Jump—Green (N) and Champion (N) tied for first; LaBouchere (CD) third. Height 5 ft. 5 in.

Shotput—Won by Holmes (N); Campbell (CD) second; Nelson (CD) third. Distance 39 ft. 1 in.

Relay—Won by Newton (Irwin, R. Bell, Guzzi Quinlan); Country Day (Nelson, Campbell, LaBouchere, and Greene).

Coach Donald Enoch's Newton High track team will face its first stiffest test of the season tomorrow afternoon on the home boards in the first of the annual home meets with Brookline High. On the season's performance to date the orange and black should win up the afternoon with about a fifteen point margin to its credit. Inasmuch as the total scores of the two meets decide the winner this should give Newton a good start for the return meet at Brookline two weeks hence. Usually the meets have been on successive Saturdays but the Northeastern interscholastics having been set for next week Saturday, the putting off of the meet at Brookline for another seven days was necessary.

Holmes of Newton should win the dash followed by Cohen and Hootstein of Brookline favored for the other places. It looks all Newton in the hurdles with cutting into the point and second in the 300 with Littman and Hootstein but either Bell or Alford Mouser of Newton are likely to upset Brookline's hopes. The 600-yard run should be one of the best of the day with Captain Hall of Newton and Gow of Brookline the outstanding entries. Hall has the edge. Vincent Signore of Newton is the best 100-yarder in the race with Levin and Dane of Brookline fighting it out with Augustus Signore for the other points. If James Colligan, Newton's best shot-putter, is in good health again he should win the shotput with Walter Holmes of Newton a second place winner. In the broad jump Brookline has a lead named Kinswell doing well over nine feet. He is expected to land first place with Greene, Offutt, Whitney and Marriner of Newton garnering the rest of the points. Greene and Champion should have little trouble adding eight points to Newton's score in the high jump with Dooskin of Brookline a third place winner. The relay will be another exciting race with the make-up of each time impossible to determine until starting time. Should the other events run true to form Newton can lose the relay and still have a comfortable margin to work on.

NEWTON K. OF C. TO ATTEND MEET

Newton Council, K. of C., will be represented by one of the largest groups of sports followers among Greater Boston Councils Saturday night at the William C. Pratt Memorial Games, the annual indoor athletic meet of the State Council, K. of C., with Grand Knight Charles E. Coyne leading 125 to 150 members, wives and friends into the boxes at one end of Boston Garden.

Box parties have been arranged for the seven boxes exactly where the dash men break the tapes and a large Newton banner with red, white and blue bunting will decorate the boxes. Lecturer Edwin C. Heisler is attending to these details. In addition arrangements have been made with the management of the Silver Slipper club for a special dinner for all Newton Council ticket holders. The dinner will be served at 6:15 o'clock and the regular Saturday night club show will be advanced to 8:45 o'clock as a special attraction for Newton Knights. The dinner guests will go to the Boston Garden in a body, reaching there about 8 o'clock.

CLOSE BEHIND HOCKEY LEADERS

By winning from Stoneham High yesterday afternoon in Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League game the Newton High School sextet kept right up behind the leaders in the race. Melrose High and Arlington High, who will battle tonight for the pace setter's berth, have four wins apiece against no defeats while the orange and black team has three victories in four league starts. Yesterday's game with Stoneham was a 1 to 0 affair with Kelly scoring the solitary goal of the game on after seven minutes of play in the first period. He took the puck behind his own net, carried it the length of the ice, beat the defense and goalie to score.

Arlington Blanks Newton

Four interscholastic league hockey games were played at the Garden ring last Friday night with Arlington shutting out Newton, 2 to 0; Melrose blanking Rindge, 5 to 0; Stoneham scoring the third shutout of the evening over Cambridge Latin, 2 to 0 and Belmont edging Woburn, 3 to 2.

Newton and Arlington were the first two teams to take the rink and the Spy Ponders forced the issue all the way. The orange and black were the favorites to win but could not seem to get going. The first period was scoreless but in the second the Arlington right defense took the disc the length of the rink and shot from the blue line. The puck glanced off Eddie Moore's guards into the cage to put Arlington in the lead. Newton battled valiantly but could not score. In the third session Thomas, Arlington wing, stole the disc out of a scrimmage in front of the cage and whipped it in for the second score.

Win From Woburn

The orange and black team got back onto the victory path Monday by defeating Woburn high, 2 to 1, in the Bulfinch pond rink in a league game. Captain Fred Schipper and Walter Billings tallied for Newton. Both counted in the second period on solo dashes through the Woburn defense. In the second session Billings opened the scoring and Schipper followed a few minutes later. The first period was scoreless. Woburn's goal was made in the second period shortly before the whistle blew. The game was exceptionally clean no penalties being inflicted until the third period.

SPORT NOTES

Newton Mermen Lose

The Newton Y junior swimming team were defeated by the Boston Y junior swimmers last Saturday at the Boston Y tank, the final score being 36 to 21. MacNamara was the outstanding Newton performer winning the dive and the 100-yard swim, the only first places Newton captured. Guthrie took second in the 25-yard freestyle, Batstone third in the backstroke, Adams third in the breaststroke and 100 and Wittens third in the dive for other Newton points.

Somerville Shades Newton

The Somerville Y basketball team defeated the Newton Y five at Somerville last Saturday night, 34 to 30. The game was close throughout with the lead shifting several times. Slabaugh and Purcell excelled for Newton the former scoring 13 points and Purcell eight. Marshner, Newton guard, added seven more while Kohler at center scored one basket from the floor.

Medford Seconds Win

The Medford high second team defeated the Newton high seconds in an indoor track meet at Medford last week, Friday afternoon, 51 to 17. Bankart of Newton scored the only first place for the orange and black in the high jump.

Andres Saves Shutout

Harold Andres, substitute wing on the Dartmouth varsity hockey team, saved the Green from being shut out by Yale at New Haven Wednesday night. The Blue had an easy time with Dartmouth scoring three times in the first period and seven times in the second period. Early in the third session Andres caged a goal for Dartmouth. Yale added its eleventh goal before the whistle blew to win, 11 to 1.

Floring Double Winner

Bill Floring, Newton Centre youth and captain of the Huntingdon school indoor track team, was the only double winner in the meet with Brookline high last Friday at Brockton. The relay was the deciding race of the meet with Brookton winning by five points. Floring won both the dash and the hurdles.

Basketball
Wakefield Wins
Wakefield High, second place holders in the Mystic Valley school basketball league, had little difficulty winning from the Newton high team on Wednesday afternoon on the Newton floor, 22 to 9. The second team game also went to the visitors, 15 to 13. In the varsity game, Seaver tossed in two baskets from the floor to lead Newton's scorers with Doucette and Bailey adding another basket apiece. Bosworth made the odd point with a successful free try.

Lose To Revere
The Newton high school basketball team dropped another game to the Revere high team last week Friday afternoon on the Newton court. The final score was Revere 19, Newton 16. Revere also took the second team game, 15 to 11. In the varsity game Captain McCarthy and Perry Elrod played well for Newton, the former scoring four points and the latter three.

SPORT NOTES
Hobby Is Plumbing
The Transcript recently gave William Fred Schipper of Newton as the subject of one of its current series of Schoolboy Personalities. Outside of athletics the Newton high athlete's hobby is plumbing and he has built a fine steam-heating system within his home. He also has worked in the coal mines which his father operates in Penn., as a mule driver. He will be nineteen in June, weighs 150 and is 5 feet 8 inches tall. In addition to football and hockey he is a good basketball guard and a good swimmer but since Newton gave up the tank sport has had no opportunity in this direction. Hockey taking all his time in winter he cannot play scholastic basketball. He has always lived in Newton and attended the Newton schools.

Get Football Letters
Boston University awarded football letters to members of the 1929 eleven the first of the week. Carleton McCullough, Newton Centre youth and former Newton captain, was among those presented insignia. He is expected to return next fall and to be one of several veterans on the 1930 squad. Daniel Harrington of Newtonville and Arthur Chamberlain of Auburndale were among the freshmen awarded numerals. They will be a great help to the new head coach, Hillary Mahoney, next fall.

Country Day Wins
The Country Day school team blanked the Rivers school hockey team, 2 to 0, last Saturday afternoon on the Arena rink. Captain Francis Gleason, George Bottomley and Robert Angier played best for the local school. In the first period Elliott Ritchie, Country Day spare left wing, broke through the Rivers defense for a shot from quarter ice that scored. In the second period George Bottomley added the other point on a solo dash.

Hill To Be Treasurer
Donald M. Hill of Waban is slated to be the next treasurer of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association according to the recommendations of the nominating committee made public last Saturday. The annual meeting of the body will take place in St. Louis on February 15.

Spain Scores Five
Exeter Academy, captained by Frank Spain, Newton athlete, shut out the New Hampshire freshman sextet at Exeter Wednesday, 11 to 0. Spain caged five of his team's goals while Muther, also a local lad, added another.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

It has been a long time coming, but at last we have in our state a man who has the courage of his convictions. He wants to see a law passed under which political advertising signs shall be removed within 30 days after the election. If there is anything that tires the eyes and starts the nerves working overtime—at least among those whose self-control is not 100 per cent.—it is an ancient advertisement in a store window, on a billboard or tacked up in some convenient place.

I'll say this for such a display—it probably attracts more attention after the event than it did before. How many times have you gone past a store window and seen some sort of large card bearing the announcement of a show, lecture or some such thing and how often have you stopped to study it? Not so often, I'll venture to say. But after the date of the affair, what then? Is there anything more conspicuous in that same window than this sign that tells about a shindig that has taken place?

I suppose that there are many good-natured store-keepers who allow people to put cards in the window, calling attention to some local affair. These same store-keepers are not always prompt to yank out the card when it is no longer useful or has served its purpose. It is then that it comes to our attention. I mean we begin to worry over the fact that the store-keeper has forgotten it. Haven't you had a desire to rush in and call attention to the fact, or don't those things affect you that way?

Of course this whole business of outdoor advertising is questionable. There may be places for it, but when you see the face of a political candidate staring at you from an electric light pole or a tree trunk you don't warm up—or at least I don't—to supporting that individual. I may be a bit severe and so I will allow that it has to be, according to the best standards of campaigning.

I can easily believe that a defeated candidate would be the first one to see any unhappy reminder of his failure completely and entirely removed and obliterated. Thirty days, the time prescribed in the proposed legislative bill, is far too short for removal. Thirty minutes would be better.

Now I don't know what's going to happen this scheme and whether it will be received with favor. As far as defacing the landscape goes—and in some sections it goes too far—I would be in favor of a bill to have certain outdoor placards and posters destroyed before they were put up. Still, that's only my mean disposition and I apologize for it.

One of the most indignant men I know was made so by having found on a vacant lot he owned the wreck of an aged automobile. To think that somebody had selected his property whereon to deposit useless junk was enough to cause him to have homicidal tendencies. I believe that had he at that moment encountered the villain who perpetrated the outrage he might have made a murderous assault upon him. And although I can't say that I didn't blame him I must admit that I sympathized with the land-owner.

Just put the case to yourself. Here's a lot of land on which you have been paying taxes for a number of years and on which you hoped to realize a profit by selling it or building on it. You make up your mind that you don't want to build so you decide to sell it to somebody whom you think has that yearning. It is about that time you discover that nobody seems to want to build and that the idea of building appears to have fled the minds of about everybody you or real estate broker knows.

Nothing is more doleful than a vacant lot that has not been kept-up. Its valuation may have been kept-up and even raised two or three times, but suppose physically it has been allowed to remain the same, why then is it a sad, forlorn spectacle? It seems that this man had thought he had a nice place. So confident was he that it was being well cared for by the person to whom he was paying money for that purpose that he slept soundly. He had every confidence in human nature which is about the only thing in the way of a sleep-producer that is safe to take. But like others he was in error as the circumstances revealed.

One man this lot-owner discovered, a prospective purchaser of the vacant land. Together they journeyed to the place, the proprietor devoting much time to picturing the charm of the home-site, the charming surroundings, etc. When at last they reached the spot the owner could not believe his eyes for there on the land was a thoroughly demolished automobile. It ruined the landscape and the chance of selling as well. Moreover, it was the source of an expense for it had to be carted away.

Don't wonder then that the Legislature has been asked to pass a law making it a penalty to deposit automobiles on other people's land for the purpose of permanent abandonment. The punishment should be something more than a fine. It should fit the crime and nothing could be more fitting than to compel the person to carry off his own wrecked car.

What do you know about taxicabs? Or, do you know any more than you did after wading through the report of a special commission created by the Legislature to investigate the licensing of taxicabs in the city of Boston? It seemed to require a lot of space to tell the Legislature how the taxicab business is run in Boston, but I suppose there is something infectious about taxicabs that once you get behind a meter or only get it in mind you can't stop until you have gone a good long distance.

I am not much of a taxicab patron—not in Boston. Walking is good for me and although there are times when I should prefer to use a taxi I counsel myself that I need the exercise and use my legs. I also use the money that I save, which is equally important. I don't wish to be misunderstood as intimating that riding in taxicabs is a luxury. Sometimes we are compelled to do so and it is strange how much more deeply we suffer from that compunction when we visit New York.

My experience with taxicabs has been purely local. I mean I have had more than one occasion to telephone for what we in Newton call a taxi service but which is really hiring an automobile for there is no meter to worry us. Sometimes you find yourself telephoning for more than once for the same cab.

"Will you please send a car to my house," you ask, giving street and number.

"Right away," comes the assurance. Then there is a stage wait. No car appears and you call again.

"How about that cab for me?"

"He's been gone five minutes. Ought to be there any minute."

Then you sit back and wait a trifle longer. No cab.

A third telephone call. This time you are almost angry and your voice shows it.

"Where's that taxi?"

"Hasn't he got there yet. Well, I'll send another."

In time the car appears. The driver is full of apologies and entertains you with a story about a flat tire and this, that and the other. And so it goes. You forgive and forget, and pay your fare.

Until I came to study the subject for business reasons I didn't realize that all the money Massachusetts spends on road construction, apart from Federal aid, comes out of the money received under the motor vehicle law. Did you know that this State has not made a bond issue in ten years for building highways? The system is said to be the best in existence, at least there is no prospect of changing it nor the least desire for anything different. In fact other States are copying what we do. It is this:

Every cent of money that comes from registration of cars and other fees and also all the money paid for violation of the motor vehicle laws go into the State treasury and then is appropriated by the General Court. Now that we have the gasoline tax we have millions more to spend on roads. Whether you agree with such a tax or not it is what happens and that's one way your money goes.

Now then I was thinking about this business of "stop" and "enter" on main thoroughfares like Washington street in our home town. I don't know exactly how you would go about it but I am convinced that the money paid in fines by people who failed to stop before driving into Washington street might be used to purchase automatic signals. I'll wager that you could buy a large number of beautiful signals of the latest pattern and install them with the money that has been paid in court fines. What's the matter with doing that very thing? Wouldn't a stop and go sign, automatically operated, serve the purpose and save many a poor, forgetful driver his hard earned cash? I think a red and green light is better because summoning a man into court for driving past a plain post is something like locking the garage after the tire has been stolen. As long as we are spending automobile money for roads why not set some of the accumulated court fines aside for signals?

It almost took my breath away to learn that as an historical fact the State of Massachusetts has never appropriated money for a war memorial. There is a commission, whose report may be expected any day now, which is going to recommend—unanimously I hope—that some form of memorial be established as a tribute to those of Massachusetts who took part in the various wars in which the United States was engaged.

This record of our own State never having put out its own money makes Newton's delay over a war memorial look a little less creditable. But I think we're got a Mayor who will get things done and I'm counting on him to attend to a number of matters which have been hanging fire for years.

We were talking about State appropriations for war memorials. I was greatly interested when I was informed by the best authority on the subject that no disbursement of public funds has been recorded for such a purpose.

"How about Bunker Hill Monument?" I inquired.

"School children's pennies—public subscriptions" came the reply.

"And the Robert Gould Shaw memorial opposite the State House?" I asked.

"Private subscriptions," came the reply.

I expressed so much astonishment that my informant explained that it is nevertheless true that no actual state war memorial exists. Since there has been so long a delay I hope it will be a fitting one that the special commission recommends and one which meets general approval.

Why burn coal to melt snow?

A "sealed" or "insulated" attic will cut your fuel bills from 20% to 30%—or even more.

It is a fact that a properly lined or "insulated" attic will cut your fuel bills from 20% to 30%—or even more.

And Upon Board is an excellent material for this purpose, because each square foot contains millions of dead air spaces which effectively hinder the passage of heat and cold through the board. In fact, certified tests prove that Upon Board compares favorably with any other insulating material on the market. And while you are about it—why not add those extra attic rooms that you have always wanted? Maid's room, guest room, play room, or sewing room! Carpenters can apply the sturdy, room-high panels with little muss, dirt or delay, and at a very moderate cost.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

TO THE WEST NEWTON WOMEN'S EDUCATIONAL CLUB, to its president, Mrs. Joseph Otis, and to its chairman of compilation, Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, the editor of this Column offers her sincere congratulations for their publication of

A PRESIDENT'S COOK BOOK.

It contains, no doubt, many splendid recipes. It contains more, the names of presidents of Clubs throughout the State—and beyond its boundaries—and of other prominent women in Club life, contributors to this tempting array of edibles, so that to read it is to read the "social register" of the Club world, or to read the names enrolled in the "roll of fame," and to enjoy the intimate message from "home" of women one is proud to know and honor.

And, fittingly, this assemblage of such intimate advice upon what is good to eat, is "clothed" most attractively and beautifully—tribute to the treasured body that it covers. The gold cover, with its seal of the Club, of service and progress, represented by the figure of a woman, co-partner in life's great work with man, the magic figures 1880-1930, calling attention to the wonder of the celebration of a fiftieth anniversary of striving for these ideals—an anniversary that comes with the distinction of being first to this of Newton's Clubs, and deserves honor as do all fiftieth anniversaries—the border of dark blue lines, the printing of blue against the gold; is all a perfect harmony in simple good taste (even as are the contents in "good taste") of which this Club, its officers and members may well be proud—as also may each person who is its possessor.

Of which the editor is one and in offering her good wishes and congratulations, she also offers her appreciation thanks for the honor of this gift.

COMING EVENTS

Monday Club

Mrs. Edwin E. S. Birtwell opens her home at 59 Lakewood road, for the Monday Club of Newton Highlands, on Monday afternoon, January 27th, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. C. G. Wetherbee will present the program which will be discussion of the life and works of Mark Twain. Club members are looking forward with anticipation as Mrs. Wetherbee may be depended upon to make the most of her splendid subject in a talk of humor and wit, for which she herself is noted. There will be music and a social hour for enjoyment of hospitality.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

"The Dynasts," by Thomas Hardy, will be the topic for the program of the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands, on Monday afternoon, the 27th, at the home of Miss Marion B. Morse, of 61 Allerton road, when the meeting opens at 2:30 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. Marion H. Clark, presiding. Miss Adelaide R. Webster is in charge of the program. The club members are studying for its meetings this year "Great Men, Great Books, Great Problems and Great Doctrines, Great Facts and Their Lessons Cannot but Result in High Thought," as Ernest Dimmet, himself a great thinker puts it, and this book of Thomas Hardy's comes under various of these descriptions.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. Wilson C. Dort will be hostess to the Travel Class, of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, on Monday, January 27th, at her home, 342 Otis street. Mrs. Louise A. Bacon will give a paper on "Crime, the Paradise of Russia." This is also the date of annual meeting for the Travel Class and it is hoped all members will be present.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The Community Service Club of West Newton is again offering a series of four lectures by Professor Sophie Hart, of Wellesley, on Significant Books of the Day. These lectures are to be given at 2:30 p. m., on the fourth Mondays of January, February, March, and April. The first, which is on January 27th, will be on Drama, using "Red Rust," "Wines Over Europe," "The Strange Interlude," and "Journey's End." This will be followed with two afternoons of Fiction and one of Biography. Tickets are $1.00 for a single lecture, or $3.00 for the four, and may be purchased from the committee, under Mrs. Hubert Carter, or at the Unitarian Parish House, on the day of the lecture. Mrs. Claude U. Gilson's next Current Events Talk will be held at the Unitarian Church Parish House on Friday forenoon, January 31st, at 10:30 o'clock.

Auburndale Review Club

Members and friends of the Auburndale Review Club are reminded of the excellent opportunity to enjoy a game of cards and to purchase tempting home-made food, while assisting the efforts of this Club to raise their quota of the Foundation Fund for the General Federation, which they have so loyally pledged, and for which so many local Clubs are working so valiantly and splendidly. At 2 o'clock on Tuesday, the 28th, Mrs. Charles W. Blood generously opens her home at 31 Woodbine street, for the Bridge and Food Sale planned by the Club in the interests of raising this money.

Newton Federation

The January Executive Board Meeting of The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in the library (entrance) of the Newton High School on Tuesday, January 28th, at 2:30 o'clock.

The Legislative committee, Mrs. Arthur Desoe, chairman, is presenting a program of unusual interest. Mrs. Emma E. Brigham Representative from Springfield, will tell of the findings of the committee on Raising the School Age. Professor Z. Chaffee of Harvard Law School, will speak in favor of the bill for abolishing capital punishment, and Hon. Samuel G. Wragg, State Senator from Needham, will speak in opposition to it. There will also be a speaker on the bill for licensing over-night camps.

All Newton Clubwomen are cordially invited to these board meetings.

Social Science Club

Professor William A. Frayer will speak on the Contribution of the French to American Civilization at the meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday, January 29th, at 10:30 o'clock, at the Hunnewell Club.

Mrs. Frank R. Stubbs and Mrs. Harriette W. Robinson will be hostesses for the morning.

CITIZENSHIP COURSE. "What Do You Know About Your City or Town Service?" is the subject that will be presented by leaders and members of the study group of the Civil Service Department Citizenship Course on Monday morning, January 27th, at 10:30 a. m., at the home of Miss Marion C. Nichols, chairman of this State Department, 55 Mt. Vernon street, Boston. Chairmen and Clubwomen interested in these civic and civil service matters are invited to join in this study. They are asked to notify Miss Nichols that they are to attend.

RADIO. A most interesting entertainment is provided for the next radio program of the State Federation, under the direction of Mrs. Leon E. White, radio director. Clubwomen will be interested to listen in. A one-act play, "The Travellers," by Booth Tarkington, will be broadcast next Wednesday morning, January 29th, from WNAC, at 11:30 o'clock, by the Department of Literature, Miss Phoebe Lee Hosmer, chairman. It is under the direction of the vice-chairman, Mrs. Norman A. Dubois, and the cast includes Mrs. William Courtenay, Mrs. Leslie Cutler, Mrs. Karl Oliver, Mrs. Alex Hayner, Mrs. Lester Williams, and Mrs. Norman A. Dubois, all members of the New Century Club of Needham.

Two Conferences come this week from Departments of the State Federation that are sure to call forth a large group of Clubwomen.

EDUCATION CONFERENCE. Mrs. Charles A. Stockbridge, chairman of this Department, announces an All-Day Conference, at the Hotel Brunswick, Boston, on Tuesday, January 28th, from 10:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.

At 10:30, is the opening with announcements, and Greetings from the State Federation. At 10:45, Mr. Robert O. Small, Director of Vocational Education, of the Massachusetts Department of Education, will speak on "Education for the Changing Needs of Society." At 11:30, Miss Mabel C. Bragg, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, of Newton, an educator of national and international reputation, and a speaker of magnetic personality, will provide food for thought in a discussion of "Health Education."

At 12:30, Luncheon will be served. The afternoon session will open at 2:00 o'clock, when Dr. Douglas A. Thom, director of the Habit Clinics of Boston; Director of the Division of Mental Hygiene, and Instructor of Mental Diseases; Instructor in Psychiatry, Harvard Medical School; and author of "Everyday Problems of the Everyday Child," will explain mental development in relation to physical and social welfare. At 2:45, Mr. James N. Muir, Superintendent of Schools of Quincy, who believes firmly in the realization of the importance of the adolescent period, and who has a vital message to deliver, will present his subject in a novel manner, assisted by three groups of children. These will be followed at 3:45 by a Question Period, which is always of interest and of informative value.

Tickets, at $1.25, for the buffet luncheon may be procured from Mrs. William Brown, Ayer, Mass., before January 27th. Club members should enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, with check for these.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS DEPARTMENT CONFERENCE. Under the auspices of Mrs. Charles E. French, chairman of this Department, a Conference for Clubwomen, on this subject will be held at the University Club, 40 Trinity place, Boston, at 1:30 o'clock, on Wednesday, January 29th.

The program will include the Welcome, by Mrs. Charles E. French as chairman; Singing—Earnest Bloch's "America," led by the State Music chairman, Mrs. Amy Young Burns; an address on The Kellogg Pact by Mrs. A. A. Packard, State president, Department adviser, and vice-chairman of International Relations for the General Federation, who will then introduce Miss Alice Stone Blackwell who will speak on "Latin American Cultural Relations." She will be followed by Mr. Philip Ireland on the subject, "The Arab-Jewish Clash in Palestine." Mrs. Amey Lauriston French Pepin will sing, after which "International Relations in My Club" will be discussed by three Clubwomen. Miss Harriet Whittier will speak on "America's Place in World Organization." Newton will be especially interested in the next feature of the afternoon "America for Americans," written by Katherine Cronk a good-will playlet, put on by the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, in which the parts will be taken by the children of Club members as follows: Donald Briggs, Louise Kerr, Janet Brown, Harlow Sylvester, Charles Thompson, and Charles Winslow. Mrs. Hiram A. Miller will direct the play which is to be given by this cast for the first time outside of Newton Highlands.

Reception and tea will follow. Tea tickets, at 85 cents, may be reserved from Mrs. Herbert Brown, 6 Strathmore road, Wakefield, Mass.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Mrs. William C. Noetzel, chairman of the Art committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, announces an exhibition by the members of the Business Men's Art Club, on Sunday, February 23rd, from 3 to 7 p. m. in the Clubhouse, and continuing until March 1st. Tea will be served by members of the Art committee, and there will be music on the opening day. Exhibitors, whose names will be announced later, will be there Sunday afternoon.

On Friday, January 31st, at 2:30 p. m. the Club will hold its monthly business meeting. Following this, Mrs. Alden Spear, chairman of the Education committee, will introduce Rollo Walter Brown as the speaker of the afternoon. He is an eminent educator, author and publicist. He has given much of his time to searching out and encouraging American boys and girls who reveal promising ability to do creative work. He is author of "Dear Briggs," "Lonely Americans," and many magazine articles. His subject will be "Do We Want Creative Minds in America?" Tea will be served.

The following committee is in charge of "The Color Box," the Mid-Winter Revue, to be produced by Mr. C. Hassler Capron, on the evenings of February 7th and 8th, at the Club house—Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., and Mrs. John F. Capron, general chairman; Mrs. George E. Squier, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Cobb, secretary; Program chairman—Mrs. George H. Crosbie; Beverages, Mrs. Gilbert N. Ross; Candy, Miss Elizabeth Bartlett; Floor and Decorations, Mrs. Fred Rising; Smokes, Mrs. Worthing West; head usher, Harry Colony; Cover Design, Miss Virginia Davis.

Mrs. T. A. Seabrook will serve home-made doughnuts and coffee in the banquet room down stairs while the tables are being cleared for dancing.

PLAN PAGEANT FOR TERCENTENARY

Selection of the cast for Newton's elaborate Tercentenary Pageant, "Newton the City Beautiful," will begin at once, according to announcement of the general Tercentenary committee which was made yesterday. Rehearsals for the pageant, which is planned to be the outstanding feature of Newton's celebration, will be started as soon as the cast can be assembled.

Presentation of the pageant will take place on June 2, 3, and 4, on the beautiful Newton Centre playground, where more than 3000 people can be seated on the slopes which grade down to the natural amphitheatre by the brook and willow trees.

All Chairmen of the general committee and others interested in the organization of the Tercentenary Pageant met last Monday evening in the Newton Centre Library. Chester A. Drummond, author of the pageant book, read the outline of his drama. He has evolved an unusually beautiful pageant out of the meager dramatic material available. Mr. Drummond's reading was enthusiastically received and those present declared their willingness to begin work for its presentation at once. As Mr. Drummond described the settings, outlining the musical and dancing features, told of the lighting effects, unfolding his episodes and describing the costumes, he was able to visualize an effect of unusual beauty and dramatic import. No effort will be spared on the part of the local committee, it was announced, to make Newton's pageant one of the most effective Tercentenary events in the state.

Ernst Hermann, chairman of the general committee distributed instruction sheets to the various committee chairmen, pointing out at the same time the magnitude of the tasks undertaken by each in order to make the event a success.

Co-operation and interest of the entire city of Newton and all of its people will be sought to further this civic undertaking. Regular meetings of the committee will be held on the first and third Wednesdays of each month. The next meeting is scheduled for February 5. Before that time it is expected that much of the pageant cast will have been selected.

For the guidance of all who are interested in Newton's Tercentenary Pageant the general committee announces today the complete list of those in charge of the various activities connected with the celebration. It is as follows:

General Committee: Chairman, Ernst Hermann, Newton Centre; Chester A. Drummond, Newton; Miss Ethel H. Freeman, West Newton; Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, Newton; Samuel Thurber and Edward E. Whiting of Newton.

Executive Committee: Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, Newton; Walter E. C. Worth and Ernst Hermann, Newton Centre.

Committee Chairmen: Press, James Dempsey, Newton; Costumes, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane and Mrs. Herbert W. Longfellow, Auburndale; Lighting, C. Hassler Capron, Newton Centre; Music, C. Clark Macomber, Newton; and Musical Director, Ralph D. Maclean, Waban; Dancing, Mrs. Harry P. Forte, Newton Highlands; Properties, Raymond A. Green, Newton; Scenery, Ralph C. Henry, Newton; Ushers, L. A. Bruce, Jr., Auburndale; Patrons, Mrs. Lorenz F. Muther, Newton Centre; Seating, William P. Morse, West Newton; Tickets, Frank L. Richardson, Waban; Grounds, City Playground Department, Ernst Hermann, Superintendent; Programs, John R. Prescott, Newtonville; Cast, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Newton Centre; Emergency and Information, Mrs. Clinton W. Tylee, West Newton; Posters, W. E. Hill, Auburndale; Speakers, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, Newtonville.

MAN INJURED BY TRAIN

George Beckwith, 60, of Heath street, Brookline, was dangerously injured on Monday morning when the team he was driving across the Circuit branch of the Boston & Albany Railroad on a private crossing adjoining the estate of E. S. Webster at Chestnut Hill was struck by a train. Mr. Beckwith was taken to the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, where it was found he had a possible fracture of the skull as well as other injuries. One of the horses had a leg broken.

The man who waits for the breaks is pretty apt to find himself broke.—

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

No Legislature has made such progress the first three weeks of January as that recorded by the 1930 General Court. Furthermore, the committee bulletin reveals the fact that matters have been promptly handled, some reported and disposed of by both branches, while hearings have been assigned which indicate that by the middle of February very nearly all important matters will have been given public hearings. It is one of the busiest years on Beacon Hill for so early a period in the session.

Mayor Weeks of Newton is petitioner for a number of measures. Here is one which provides for an increase in the retirement allowances payable to certain employees of Newton:

"Section 1. Chapter three hundred and fifty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and twenty-eight is hereby amended by inserting, in paragraph numbered four of section five, a new paragraph between the first and second paragraphs of paragraph numbered four as follows:—In lieu of a determination of the actual regular compensation received by a member during such period of prior service, the retirement board is authorized and directed to use for the purpose of this chapter the rates of regular compensation which, if they had progressed in accordance with the rates of salary increase shown in the tables first adopted by the retirement board under the provisions of section fourteen, subdivision ten of this chapter, would have resulted in the same average regular compensation of the member for five years immediately preceding the date this system became operative as the records show the member actually received,—so that said section five, paragraph numbered four, shall read as follows:—

"(4) Upon verification of the statements of service the retirement board shall issue prior service certificates certifying to each member entitled to credit for prior service the length of service rendered prior to the date the retirement system first became operative, with which he is credited on the basis of his statement of service. So long as membership continues a prior service certificate shall for retirement purposes be final and conclusive as to such service; provided, that any member may, within one year from the date of issuance or modification of such certificate, request the retirement board to modify or correct his prior service certificate.

"In lieu of a determination of the actual regular compensation received by a member during such period of prior service, the retirement board is authorized and directed to use for the purpose of this chapter the rates of regular compensation which, if they had progressed in accordance with the rates of salary increase shown in the tables first adopted by the retirement board under the provisions of section fourteen, subdivision ten of this chapter, would have resulted in the same average regular compensation of the member for the five years immediately preceding the date this system became operative as the records show the member actually received.

"When membership ceases such prior service certificates shall become void. Should the employee again become a member, such employee shall enter the system as an employee not entitled to prior service credit except as provided in subsection three of section nine.

"Section 2. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance during the current year by the board of aldermen of the city of Newton."

Mayor Weeks' bill relative to the tenure of office of the city clerk of Newton is as follows:

"Section 1. The city clerk of the city of Newton in office at the time this act takes effect and any person thereafter elected to fill any vacancy existing in such office shall hold office during good behavior and until the board of aldermen shall remove him therefrom in accordance with the provisions of chapter thirty-one of the General Laws and the rules and regulations made thereunder relative to removals from the classified public service. After this act takes effect, any vacancy in the office of city clerk of said city shall be filled by its board of aldermen.

"Section 2. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance by the board of aldermen of the city of Newton."

Accompanying is the bill of Mayor Weeks for an amendment to the law relative to the use of buildings for the storage of motor vehicles:

"Chapter one hundred and forty-eight of the General Laws, as amended in section fourteen by section three of chapter four hundred and eighty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and twenty-one, by chapter two hundred and fifty-four of the acts of nineteen hundred and twenty-four, by section one of chapter three hundred and thirty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and twenty-five and by section one of chapter two hundred and sixty and section one of chapter three hundred and twenty-five of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, is hereby further amended by striking out said section fourteen and inserting in place thereof the following:—

"Section 14. No building or other structure shall except as provided in section fifteen, be used for the keeping, storage, manufacture or sale of any of the articles named in section ten, except fireworks, fire-crackers and torpedoes, unless the aldermen or selectmen shall have granted a license therefor after a public hearing, held in the case of cities by the aldermen or any committee thereof designated by them, notice of the time and place of which hearing shall have been given, at the expense of the applicant, by the clerk of the city or of the commission having the authority to grant such licenses or by the selectmen, by publication, not less than seven days prior thereto, in a newspaper published in the representative district. If any, otherwise in the city or town, wherein the land on which such license is to be exercised is situated, and also by the applicant by registered mail, not less than seven days prior to such hearing, to all owners of real estate abutting on said land, and unless a permit shall have been granted therefor by the marshal or by some official designated by him for the purpose; provided, that any building or other structure once used under a license and permit granted as aforesaid, or any building or other structure lawfully used for any of said purposes, may be continued in such use from year to year if the owner or occupant thereof shall annually, on or before April thirtieth, while such use continues, file for registration with the clerk of the city or town where such building or other structure is situated, a certificate reciting such use and occupancy; and provided, further, that any building used as a garage for storing not more than four vehicles, when once used under such a license and permit, or lawfully used for such purpose, may be continued in such use from year to year without such annual registration, and continuous use and occupancy thereof for such purpose shall be presumed. The department may by regulation prescribe the amount of explosives, crude petroleum or any of its products, or of any other inflammable fluid or compound, that may be kept for private use in a building or other structure without a license, permit or registration, or any of them. Every license and permit issued hereunder shall expire on April thirtieth following the date of issue, and registrations hereunder shall be effected on or before April thirtieth to take effect on May first following. Such fee as may be established from time to time by ordinance or by resolution of the city or town, for the purpose of providing court house accommodations and facilities for the Newton district court, in the city of Newton, the county commissioners of Middlesex county may take by eminent domain, under chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws, or acquire by purchase, such land as may be necessary, and may erect on such land a suitable building for the purposes aforesaid and may equip and furnish the same.

"Section 2. For the purposes aforesaid, the treasurer of said county, with the approval of the county commissioners, may borrow from time to time, on the credit of the county, such sums as may be necessary, not exceeding in the aggregate, ( ) dollars, and may issue bonds or notes of the county therefor, which shall bear on their face the words Middlesex County Newton District Court House Loan, Act of 1930. Each authorized issue shall constitute a separate loan, and such loans shall be payable in not more than twenty years from their dates. Such bonds or notes shall be signed by the treasurer of the county and countersigned by a majority of the county commissioners. The county may sell the said securities at public or private sale upon such terms and conditions as the county commissioners may deem proper, but not for less than their par value. Indebtedness incurred under this act shall, except as herein provided, be subject to chapter thirty-five of the General Laws.

"Section 3. This act shall take effect upon its acceptance during the current year by the county commissioners of said county, but not otherwise."

Newton is surely interested in the bill filed by the Middlesex County Commissioners for authority to borrow money for the purpose of providing accommodations for the Newton District Court. It is as follows:

For the purpose of providing court house accommodations and facilities for the Newton district court, in the city of Newton, the county commissioners of Middlesex county may take by eminent domain, under chapter seventy-nine of the General Laws, or acquire by purchase, such land as may be necessary, and may erect on such land a suitable building for the purposes aforesaid and may equip and furnish the same.

Recent Deaths

FRANK F. DAVIDSON

Frank F. Davidson, for more than fifty years identified with the Thomas Long Company, jewelers, at 42 Summer street, Boston, and widely known in religious and philanthropic circles, died Saturday morning at his home, 59 Woodland road, Auburndale. For some time he had been the treasurer of the Long Company and was at his office a week before his death.

Mr. Davidson was born in Salisbury, N. H., Sept. 12, 1856, and his parents were Nathaniel and Mary (Gillis) Davidson. He has been a resident of Newton for about sixty-three years, coming to Auburndale from Newtonville forty-seven years ago. He was a member of the Auburndale Congregational Church, the Boston Chamber of Commerce and the Brae-Burn Country Club.

As a lay-preacher Mr. Davidson was widely known in and around Boston where he frequently spoke in the churches. He was the president of the Merrimac and of the Hope Missions, and at one time was closely connected with the Dover St. Mission. He was trustee of the Gordon College of Theology and Missions, and had been interested in the Dudley Bible Institute. He always kept up his interest in the youth seriously desirous of getting an education and he had helped these in various ways.

The surviving members of his family are his wife, who was Adeline Allen of East Freetown; three daughters, Miss Mary R. Davidson, who lives at home; Mrs. J. Scott Rider of Burlingame, California; and Mrs. W. D. Langhorne of Needham; two sons, F. Forest Davidson, Jr., of Wellesley Farms, and Allen Davidson of Wellesley; a brother, Charles W. Davidson of Newtonville, and a sister, Mrs. G. W. Patterson of Washington, D. C.

The funeral services were held at the Congregational Church Monday afternoon, Dr. Edward Payson Drew and Rev. Cornelius E. Clark officiating.

MRS. NATALIA L. GREENE

Mrs. Stephen Greene (Natalia L.) died Sunday afternoon at the Newton Hospital after a short illness. She was born in Providence, R. I., November 1, 1853, the daughter of Niles B. and Elizabeth Schubarth. On December 15, 1874, she married Stephen Greene who died in 1901. He was well known as an industrial engineer and an architect of Boston and was prominently identified with activities in the Baptist denomination, Brown University and the Newton Theological Institution. The family came to Newton Centre in 1890 where Mrs. Greene has lived ever since. She was long active in the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Greene is survived by a brother George L. Schubarth of Boston, and four sons, Edwin Farnham Greene of New York, S. Harold Greene and Everett A. Greene of Newton Centre and F. Hartwell Greene of Belmont.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the First Baptist Church and conducted by the Pastor of the Church, Rev. Charles N. Ar-buckle, D. D.

RALPH W. BARTLETT

Ralph W. Bartlett of 29 Arlington street, Newton, died on Tuesday after a long illness. He was born in North Brookfield June 13, 1865, graduated from Harvard in 1888 and was a University Law School in 1892. In 1894 he married Anna Curry of Ironwood, Michigan, and is survived by her two sons, Curry M. Bartlett and Ralph W. Bartlett, Jr.; two daughters—Elizabeth Weston and Ann Sylvia Bartlett, a brother, Warren T. Bartlett of North Brookfield and a sister, Mrs. William L. Walsh of Holyoke.

Mrs. Bartlett was an authority on taxation and had collaborated with Richard Henry Dana in writing on double tax. He invented an appliance for reduction of congenital dislocation of the hip and was accorded the distinction of appearing before a clinic at the Harvard Medical School to demonstrate this appliance.

His funeral service is being held this afternoon at his late home, Rev. Chester A. Drummond officiating. Burial will be in Newton Cemetery.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The Norumbega District Schools of Religious Education opened last Tuesday evening with a registration of approximately 110, 20 churches being represented. A delegation of six came from Weston Baptist Church to the Waltham branch of the school; this church has hitherto been unable to take advantage of the District Council School, because of the distance from Weston to Newtonville.

Mr. Maurice R. Hodder of Newtonville has kindly consented to act as Registrar of the Newtonville School, allowing Miss Barker, District Secretary, to spend her time in Waltham, acting as Registrar and teaching a course there on "Worship in the Church School."

The Adult Advisory Committee for the young people's work of the District meets this week Friday. This committee consists of Mr. Frank H. Grebe, chairman; Messrs. W. Hobart Hill, Clyde G. Hess, Maurice R. Hodder, Max A. Kapp, and Misses Ham, Clarke, Stratton, Chute, and Barker. The purpose of this committee is to supervise the activities of the Young People's Interchurch Councils within the District area. These Councils of young people seek to create community feeling among young people of different denominations, and to carry on at suitable times joint activities of mutual benefit to all.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

With the beginning of Christian Endeavor Week the Endeavors of the North Congregational Church are to discuss the subject "What Is Our Church Planning This Year?" next Sunday, Rev. Robert L. Rae, the pastor, is to be the leader and assist the young people in the settlement of this question.

A most delightful Christian Endeavor meeting was held last Sunday evening at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, under the leadership of Alice Chandler, "Friendship" being the topic. A Nominating Committee was appointed as follows: Clayton Foster, chairman; Babette Shafer, Newton Jones, Helen Nickerson, Corinne Boyd, Rev. John S. Franklin, ex-officio. Next Sunday Dorothy Jones will conduct the Endeavor meeting, taking as her topic "Dare Bigger Things."

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

Under the direction of Miss Mary T. Whittaker, Department Chairman of Membership, Massachusetts Department of the American Legion Auxiliary, is conducting an intensive Drive for Members.

Mrs. Agnes Hennrikus, President of the local unit, has a most active corps of workers, under the direction of Mrs. E. Frances Cannon.

The American Legion Auxiliary which has been organized for the past ten years is composed exclusively of the mothers, wives, daughters and sisters of members of the American Legion and to the same relatives of men who died in service during the World War or subsequent thereto. The Auxiliary is doing yeoman service in Rehabilitation and Child Welfare work, Americanism, National Defense, and Community Service. It is also a member of Fidae, which is composed of the Auxiliaries of the Legion (or an organization corresponding to it) in the Countries which were Allies during the War. The Fidae Convention, as well as the National Convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary, proves of especial interest to the members of the local unit this year, as Boston will be host to the Legion and Auxiliary Convention and Fidae will convene in the United States.

There will be a Luncheon and Bridge held at the Richardson Shop, 192 Boylston street, Boston, on January 28, at one o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. Virginia M. Cook, Vice President.

The County Council meeting will be held at the Women's Industrial and Educational Union, Boylston street, Boston, on Saturday, January 25, at two o'clock. The delegates from this unit are the President, Mrs. Agnes F. Hennrikus, Mrs. Marion Gardner and Mrs. E. Frances Cannon. Other members are urged to attend but have no voting power. At this meeting the County Chairman, Mrs. W. W. Wade of Woburn, is hostess.

PROGRAM OF "BACH" MUSIC

At the regular morning service of the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre on Sunday, Jan. 26th, the choir will present a special service of "Bach" music. They will be assisted by Mr. Robert A. Gunderson, violinist, and Mr. Jacobus E. Langendoen, cellist, both of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Johann Sebastian Bach is beyond all doubt the greatest name in Protestant music. Throughout his career he was a church organist and choir director. It was his constant aim to reform, purify and enrich German Protestant music. The church served as an inspiration and guide to him. There is in all history no loftier manifestation of artistic genius dedicated to the service of Religion.

Recent Engagements

Mrs. Mary A. Leonard, formerly of Newton, announces the engagement of her daughter Elsa, to Mr. Chester Winthrop Davis of Newton Centre.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Newton Girl Scouts Officers' Association held its monthly meeting last Wednesday in the Unitarian Church, West Newton. An unusually large number of members attended and were very much interested in what the speaker, Miss Sybil Foster, had to say about "Mental Hygiene." She dealt largely with child and adolescent psychology, and it fitted into the Girl Scout leader's needs so well, that everybody there felt greatly helped.

Of great importance to Headquarters and to all Newton Girl Scouts is the fact that the Association voted fifty dollars to be spent on furnishing the new room at 297 Walnut street. Furthermore a committee from the Association is doing the work of furnishing the room, and there are rumors of a rug, wicker chairs and green curtains.

Miss Langley's class in folk-dancing met Thursday evening, the 16th at the Second Church, West Newton. Members of the class seem to find these Thursday evening gatherings good fun. On last Friday evening there was another Captains' Conference at Headquarters—this time for Captains of Junior Troops. There was a great deal of discussion and comparing views and solutions of problems. Those attending felt that this get-together had been quite worthwhile.

On Thursday, January 16th, there was a meeting of the Newton Council at Headquarters.

The third of the series of Merit Badge talks was held Wednesday morning at Headquarters. Landress and Housekeeper were the badges taken up at this time. Mrs. K. K. Carrick of Newton Highlands presented requirements and methods for Landress, and Mrs. R. R. Collins, Newton Centre, explained the Housekeeper badge. Representatives attended from Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale, Newton Highlands and Newton Upper Falls. These talks are very important, because in this way an instructor in a Merit Badge may be sure that she is preparing her girls as they should be prepared.

ELECT OFFICERS

At the Annual Meeting of the Emmanuel Baptist Church held last week the following officers for 1930 were elected: Moderator, Frank W. Chase, Clerk, Clarence V. Moore, Treasurer, Current Expense, Beverly G. Seaton, West Newton, Auburndale, Newton Highlands and Newton Upper Falls. These talks are very important, because in this way an instructor in a Merit Badge may be sure that she is preparing her girls as they should be prepared.

BOOKS WANTED

In every public library in Massachusetts, in many private libraries, in men's clubs, in women's clubs, in college halls, public schools and church vestibules a big box bearing the mysterious letters A. M. M. L. A. appeared this week.

Into these boxes the citizens of Massachusetts are asked to place all the books they can spare—books in good condition of course—and they will be sent to the American Merchant Marine Library Association having headquarters at the Boston Public Library. Mr. Paul F. Folsom, Boston dispatch agent, will sort the books into libraries of 75 to 80 volumes and these libraries will go to merchant vessels flying the American flag, to lighthouse keepers and to men of the coast guard service.

LASELL SEMINARY

Dean Lillie R. Potter will attend the New York Lasele Club luncheon at Hotel Pennsylvania in New York City tomorrow. Dean Potter will be the guest of honor and will address the club.

Tomorrow evening Prof. Irving H. Crowder of M. I. T. will lecture at Bragdon Hall. Prof. Crowder's subject is "Journeying Southward." The Camp Fire Missionary meeting on Sunday evening will be addressed by Rev. Albert Le Roy, head of the Normal Training School at Natal, Africa.

NEWTON CEMETERY CORPORATION

Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the Newton Cemetery Corporation will be held at the office of the corporation in the Administration Building, Wednesday, February 5, 1930, at 8 o'clock P. M. For the election of trustees and the transaction of any other business that may legally come before the meeting.

H. WILSON ROSS, Clerk. Newton Centre, January 20, 1930.

KIWANIS CLUB

NEWTON KIWANIS CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon meeting of Kiwanis Club of Newton was held in Newton Centre Woman's Club Building Tuesday noon with an attendance of 64 members and 5 guests. President, Clement Hernandez, presided. Mr. John Barry, Chairman Committee on Kiwanis education, presented as new members, Andrew N. Schwab and Joseph J. Hickey, whom he instructed on their duties and rights as Kiwanians. A half hour of motion pictures was then enjoyed, the feature film being entitled "Reporting the World."

Next Tuesday the club will celebrate Past President's Day in honor of Immediate Past President Walter Whallin. An elaborate program has been prepared.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of Central church was held Thursday evening, Jan. 16, with a very large attendance. The tables set in the dining room were completely filled and a very attractive turkey supper was served. At a large round table in the center of the room were seated the moderator, Dr. D. Brewer Eddy with the other officers and their wives. The tables were decorated with potted plants. In opening the proceedings the moderator remarked that the occasion was marred by the absence due to illness of the pastor Rev. Arthur M. Ellis, and by vote of the church a committee proceeded immediately to his home taking flowers and the greetings of the meeting.

The following officers were elected at the business meeting following the supper: moderator, Dr. D. Brewer Eddy; clerk, Mr. James A. Brackett; treasurer, Mr. Joseph B. Robinson; auditor, Mr. Clifford B. Whitney; collector, Dr. Percy G. Stiles; deacon, Mr. Ralph W. Conant; deaconesses, Mrs. Edwin T. Campbell, Miss George E. Fisher, Mr. Charles A. Rouillard; members of standing committee, Messrs. Ernest R. Benson, Arthur H. Burdick, Strabo V. Claggett, A. Perry Martin, Horace W. Orr, Mrs. Frank R. Clark, Mrs. Harry O. Williams; delegates for Suffolk West conference, Mr. Albert D. Auryanzen, Miss Isabelle M. Chute, Mrs. Charles A. Richardson, Mrs. H. Philip Patey, Miss Helen Rose, Mr. Alfred M. Ziegler.

The reports of various officers and organizations of the church were then read. Miss Julia Flag presented the report of the R. M. T. club, which was written by Catherine Rose, president. Miss Lois Stafford read the report of the C. C. C. club, written by the president, Miss Mary Ada Comer. Miss Stafford also read the report as secretary of the Young People's Society. Mr. William McCormick, chairman of the religious education committee, gave a report from the church school showing a total of 388 pupils, and an average attendance of 75 percent. Mr. R. E. Chambers, superintendent of the church school, spoke of various aims of religious education, such as to develop reverence and familiarity with the Bible, to supply members for the church of the future, and to inspire young people with the desire for Christian service. He said that the pupils gave excellent cooperation toward these ends but he wished there might be a little more cooperation on the part of the homes. Miss Isabelle Chute, director of religious education, spoke of the work of her office and the emphasis placed on the church school of worship and leadership in Christian service. Miss Chute pleased the members by her spirit of earnest devotion which her report revealed. The report of the Central Guild was read by Miss Florence Alexander, secretary. Mr. Harold Billings read the report of the Central club, which was written by Mr. Myron Davis, secretary. The report spoke of the completion and dedication of the memorial organ, the large attendance at the men's communion which has become a regular feature of the club life, of the pleasant entertainments and social meetings of the club, and of the canvass for church funds, which the club conducts annually.

Mrs. Charles Fraile reported as secretary for the Woman's Association. She referred to the many excellent speakers presented by the association, also to the labors of the organization in providing surgical dressings and garments for use in this country and abroad, and described many efforts of this active organization.

The clerk, Dr. Gorham W. Harris, reported 17 additions to the church by confession, and 21 by letter. There have been seven deaths and thirteen removals by letter. The total membership is now 696. Dr. Harris reviewed the work of the year and called attention to the services given to the church by the former clerk, Mr. Wallace C. Boyden, who has served the organization a total of 46 years in various capacities. Reference was made to the good work of the vested choir and it was said the church must become a great debt. The completion of the improvements which have added so much to the beauty and usefulness of the church was described. Dr. Harris also read the report of the standing committee in which reference was made to many church activities, and it was noted that the deaconesses had made 970 calls. Mr. C. B. Whitney reported from his work as auditor.

Mr. J. B. Robson presented his seventeenth annual report as treasurer. Mr. Robson has performed the exacting duties of this position with remarkable competence and devotion. His statements showed that the expenditures from the budget amounted to $22,153, that the benevolent contributions of the church and all its organizations amounted to $9676. Pledges for 1930 already amount to $17,553 for church expenses and $6,695 for benevolent purposes. The permanent funds of the church amount to $3,287. The loans for the recent church improvements, less unpaid pledges, amount to $20,773. Mr. Horace W. Orr, as chairman of the finance committee, read the report of that committee. He said that owing to the business situation the budget should be made a conservative one with the idea that it might be increased if business conditions improved. The budget as recommended by the committee with a total of $19,500 was accepted by the church. On motion of Mr. Strabo Claggett a resolution was adopted expressing appreciation of the work of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Ellis, and a desire to co-operate with him. On the suggestion of Mrs. Gorham W. Harris, greetings were sent to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, both of whom have been very active in church work and are spending the winter in California. Several of the church organizations have been very active in raising money for good causes, particularly the Woman's Association, which raised $2,185 the past year.

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday, January 20th, at the Woodland Golf Club, at 12:15, President Charles D. Ansley presiding.

The speaker of the day was Dr. Charles Barker, who was introduced to the club by Dr. Cecil W. Clark. Dr. Barker is the only public speaker who is sponsored by Rotary International, and has been a member of the Grand Rapids Rotary Club for sixteen years.

During Dr. Barker's visit in Newton, he was the guest at the home of Albert H. White of Newton Centre, who was a member of the Rotary Club of Everett.

Several years ago Dr. Barker lectured to the boys and girls at the Newton High School on his famous "Health Talks," as a great many people of Newton will remember. On Monday, he confined his talk to Rotary Club matters.

Dr. Barker stated that the first Rotary Club was not formed as a Service Club although, as a matter of fact, it was the first Service Club in the United States. It was established to develop friendships among business men and defined Rotary as "A factory for making friends."

He said when Thomas A. Edison was asked at one time what he considered his greatest achievement, his questioner was much surprised at his answer, "To be able to make a few honest-to-God friends."

In defining education, Dr. Barker said, "Education is that which can see the big things in life as big things and recognize the little things as little things."

Dr. Arthur M. Ellis of Newtonville and Karl W. Switzer of Newton Centre are both still confined to their homes by sickness.

SEVEN TREASURES

The Rev. John Shade Franklin, pastor of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, addressing the Waltham Assembly No. 2, Order of the Rainbow for Girls at the evening service Sunday, pointed out seven of the treasures to be found in the heart of American girlhood today. They are Love, symbolized by the color red; the rainbow; Spiritual Inspiration, symbolized by the color orange; Strength and Beauty of Life, symbolized by the color yellow; the Eternal Yearning for something better which in religious language is called the Hope of immortality, symbolized by Catherine Rose, president of the C. C. C. club, written by the president, Miss Mary Ada Comer. Miss Stafford also read the report as secretary of the Young People's Society. Mr. William McCormick, chairman of the religious education committee, gave a report from the church school showing a total of 388 pupils, and an average attendance of 75 percent. Mr. R. E. Chambers, superintendent of the church school, spoke of various aims of religious education, such as to develop reverence and familiarity with the Bible, to supply members for the church of the future, and to inspire young people with the desire for Christian service. He said that the pupils gave excellent cooperation toward these ends but he wished there might be a little more cooperation on the part of the homes. Miss Isabelle Chute, director of religious education, spoke of the work of her office and the emphasis placed on the church school of worship and leadership in Christian service. Miss Chute pleased the members by her spirit of earnest devotion which her report revealed. The report of the Central Guild was read by Miss Florence Alexander, secretary. Mr. Harold Billings read the report of the Central club, which was written by Mr. Myron Davis, secretary. The report spoke of the completion and dedication of the memorial organ, the large attendance at the men's communion which has become a regular feature of the club life, of the pleasant entertainments and social meetings of the club, and of the canvass for church funds, which the club conducts annually.

Referring to the Heart of Girlhood as the Pot of Gold, Mr. Franklin went on to say that though many men think they have found the pot of gold in their particular Pot of Gold they may always find more treasures, so great are the resources of a woman's heart. By request Mr. Franklin closed his message with a brief consideration of each of five problems common to girls: Parental Authority, the Boy Friend, the Girl Friend, the Choice of an Education and the Choice of a Career.

The Rainbow girls taking part in the service were as follows: Miss Barbara Hatch read the first Scripture less from Genesis 9:8-17. Miss Ruby Duncan read the second lesson from Ezekiel 1:26-28. Miss Helen Becklund offered the evening prayer.

The Misses Deborah Beede, Arline Blunt, June Chadwick, Doris Harvey, Ella Holmberg, Miriam Jordan, Helen Mace, Dorothy Manuel, Beth Merrihue, Helen Rickerson, Luella Ryall, Marion Salter, Jean Seaver, Doris Twigs, Elizabeth Waters and Adaline Williams made up the Rainbow Choir which sang "Somebody Did A Golden Deed" and "In The Rainbow" as special numbers.

The Misses Doris Adams, Lillian Hollis, Elizabeth Jenkins, Eleanor Kent and Ruth Newell served as ushers. Mrs. Mabelle Buddington, Mother Acheson, and other members of the Advisory Board were present.

MIDDLESEX COURT M. C. O. F. TO SHOW IRISH FILMS

A five reel film showing scenes in Ireland will be shown at Elks Hall, Centre street, Newton next Tuesday night, January 27th, at 8 o'clock, to be held by Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F. Appropriate vocal and instrumental music will be provided in conjunction with this picture.

On February 11th Middlesex Court will observe its 44th anniversary by a re-union and banquet in Elks Hall. A committee comprising the officers of the Court and headed by Miss Eleanor Mulcahy, Chief Ranger is making arrangements for this affair.

for benevolent purposes. The permanent funds of the church amount to $3,287. The loans for the recent church improvements, less unpaid pledges, amount to $20,773. Mr. Horace W. Several of the church organizations have been very active in raising money for good causes, particularly the Woman's Association, which raised $2,185 the past year.

POLICE NEWS

John N. Smith of 239 Washington street, Newton, was fined $25 in the Newton court Friday for driving an automobile after his license had expired. He was found not guilty of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Smith was driving a car of the Garden City Taxi Company on the morning of December 23rd when William Trussell, 65 of 28 Lathrop street, Newtonville, killing the aged man. Trussell was crossing Washington street opposite Crafts street when the accident occurred.

Smith testified that the street lights had gone out just before he hit the man, leaving the street in darkness and he did not see the victim until Trussell stepped in front of the taxi. There were no witnesses.

Walter Pratt of Massachusetts avenue, Lexington, was in court last Friday charged with larceny of $12.95 from Frank Stockman of Indiana court, Newton Upper Falls. Pratt called at Stockman's home last November and represented himself as a sales man for a sherry wine, wonderful in quality and conforming to the Volstead Act. After waiting futilely to receive the wine, Stockman thought it time to get his money and Pratt's arrest followed. He will be tried January 24.

Martin Daley of Newton was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon in the Newton court last Friday when found guilty of drunkenness while under the influence of liquor and driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He appealed. On the charge of drunkenness he was sent to the State Farm to serve a suspended sentence which had been imposed on him sometime ago. Daley was the driver of a car which hit and seriously injured Fred Wood, 70, of Brookside avenue, Newtonville, on December 17; the accident happened at Newtonville square.

Joseph Henebury, 14, of 217 Crafts street, Newtonville, was arrested just after midnight last Friday by Serg. Mahoney and Patrolman Kelly who found the boy walking along Washington street near Adams. Upon being questioned he confessed that he had broken into the store of Pasquale Colarullo at Newtonville square and stolen $10. He is being tried in the juvenile session of the Newton court today.

In the Newton court last Friday Orville Wyman of Westwood was fined $10 for speeding and $10 for driving without proper lights; Roswell U. Furman of Salisbury road, Newton, was fined $25 for speeding, it being his second offence; Arthur Bromlow of Newton Highlands, Howard Wakefield of Crescent street, Waltham, and Augustus Parker, Jr. of Dover, Mass., each was fined $10 for speeding; Walter E. Smith of Waltham street, West Newton, was fined $10 for driving past the traffic signal at Commonwealth avenue and Centre street when the red light was set against him. Officer Hamill was the complainant.

Y. M. C. A.

Mr. E. P. Gates, General Secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, took for his topic at the Fellowship Club, "America First" with a question mark after it.

He quickly reviewed the many things in which America leads all other countries and then showed how things which we were behind some of the countries in the world. He made a plea in closing for good citizenship and support of the Churches by attendance and contributions.

The speaker next week will be Mr. Charles G. Miller whose topic will be, "The Cost of Comfort."

After several weeks of vacation, the two public speaking classes of the Y. M. C. A. will be resumed this week, one meeting on Wednesday, and the other on Friday evening.

Physical Department Notes

The attendance at the Association on Monday evening, January 20th was the largest of the season, being well over the 200 mark. Thursday night, Jan. 30, at 8 o'clock in Elks' Hall, the second degree will be conferred on the same class. The report of the major degree committee composed of Thomas Waters, chairman, William F. Meehan, Atty. James P. Gallagher, Neil McDonald, Deputy Grand Knight Walter Connors, Thomas Foley will be made. Plans are being made for the conferring of the major degree at Waltham Council, K. of C. home, Main street, Monday night, Feb. 3, at 8 o'clock. Members of Newton Council are especially urged to attend these degrees to meet the candidates and welcome them to Newton Council.

The Membership and Finance Committees of Newton Council held meetings Monday night. John Mullen, Membership Committee chairman, outlined definite plans for the selective membership campaign.

District Deputy Charles E. Coyne will attend the testimonial banquet to Valencia Council, K. of C., at Milford Monday night, tendered to District Deputy Thomas Quirk, a member of Valencia Council.

DR. DIEFFENBACH'S ADDRESS

we do not live its life. Of all books it stands as the best example of circular truth without influence. More Bibles are sold than any other book, we are correctly informed; but few of them are read.

"The decline of the Bible's power came with the critical study of the history of the texts. The scholars found that the main things which interested the churches were not in the Bible, such as the two natures of Christ and the Trinity; and many things in the book were no longer of interest. That marked a grave crisis in the minds of the conservative church people, and we all recall the warning, 'If you do not believe all of the Bible, you can believe none of it.' The consequences of disbelief have not been so far-reaching as the Bible's ability to defend the Bible as the basis of religious study. He seeks his material in other sources.

"When the Bible no longer satisfied, at the beginning of the present century, the leading thinkers turned to philosophy, and found in Hegel, with its doctrine of the Absolute, a basis for religious belief that could and must have an experience of this perfect God. Our philosophical idealists, the Cairds in England and Royce in this country, had their way, but now their day is passing, for how many people could speak of such truth? It is the experience of the Infinite? It was too high and thin. Besides, that kind of teaching was too general. What became of the supposedly distinctive character of Christianity?

"A school under the German, Ritschl, protested that the real proof of religion in the soul was an experience of Christ. Christ the inner person was made the centre of thinking. Then thought pushed on, and, in today's rolling beliefs of advanced theologians, it is not acceptable that men shall be asked to believe phenomenal things instead of common spiritual truths. To rest religion on events which cannot be repeated means to isolate it from the daily experience of men today. This means that Christ is no longer regarded as unique, nor is Christianity superior. It is not a snobbish religion.

"When the world religions gather in conference they did in Geneva in 1928, we find less emphasis upon differences among them, and an absence of pretensions to peculiar worth and distinction by any religion, and the consequent recognition of certain universal elements in all religions. By this advance the position of Christ is really made greater than it ever was, because he has been raised upon the stature of a myth-hero. As an historic person, in time and place, he and his teachings are of secondary importance, but as the object of the creative imagination of the ages he is a colossal figure.

"But remember that the work of the human mind, the creation of the Christ myth. When we hear that we must return to the teachings of Jesus, as they are given in the simple narratives of the gospels, we reply that we shall never do anything of the kind. The church, as a matter of fact, has never followed the four gospels. The doctrine which has come to us through the ages, which have been the basis of the church's historic, continuous thought, have come from the Pauline epistles, from the early church, and in only a minor degree from the gospels, for the good reason that the gospels which have the doctrinal thought, while the epistles were written before the gospels, and from the epistles much of the gospel teaching is derived.

"Today we have our demand for a better religious foundation", concluded Dr. Dieffenbach. "What the past has had is not enough for us. We have a craving for beauty, a sense of awe, a moral urge, the love of the ideal, the need of worship, the belief in spiritual values." We need and are bound to have for our needs our own religious theology, our own Word. The Bible will not answer. We must make our own Bible, as they did who made the one we know. We must speak our vernacular, and not an ancient language. We must create our own values and project them in a new Christ. Our concept of God, now the real ideal in theology, we are changing radically. All things are becoming new because life is always new and we go forth to life."

Dr. Dieffenbach will lecture next Tuesday evening on "The Present State of Protestantism", which he said last night is in collapse. He will discuss Fundamentalists, Modernists, and Liberals. All lectures are free and are given in the parish house of the Unitarian Church at eight o'clock. They are followed by a question and answer hour.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. Albion M. Boothby, Mrs. Harry E. Moore, Mrs. Merrill C. Nutting and Mrs. Estelle E. Workman are the hostesses for an evening auction bridge party out at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill, on Wednesday evening, January 29. The card party will be followed by a buffet supper.

Among those aiding Mmes. Boothby, Moore, Nutting and Workman are Mmes. William C. Benedict and Slday B. Sargent of Newton, Ray T. Langenbach, Samuel J. Shallow of Brookline; J. H. Dowd, Walter H. Woods of Chestnut Hill, F. Russell Simpson, Waban; T. W. G. Wallace and Charles E. Young of Brighton.

The disabled veterans will benefit by this party as will also the four fatherless children of France whom the Commonwealth Country Club is aiding.

The Factory Store of the Thomas Dalby Company is now located at Morse street factory with a new Show Room where Infants' and Children's Underwear and Hosiery as well as Women's Underwear can be had at substantial savings to help the home budget. —Advertisement.

Finger-Marks Wash Right Off!

It usually happens when Sonny decides to raise the shade to look out of the window, he leaves his finger-marks. No harm is done, however, if the window shades are of du Pont TONTINE for finger-marks, smudges, dust and soil wash right off with soap, hot water and a brush, and their original beauty is restored. TONTINE shades are also waterproof, sun-proof and will not crack, "pin-hole" or fray. With a beautiful, smooth surface to which dust and dirt will not cling, and heavy in weight, they will last for years. A number of your neighbors have recently installed these truly washable window shades because they are so practical, so beautiful and so lasting.

*Phone us today and we will gladly send a man to show you samples of the New and Improved du Pont TONTINE.

ducing "The Color Box," is the manager and a director of the Capron Lighting Co., of Cambridge, specializing in dramatic and commercial lighting. He is a member of the faculty of Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, N. Y., where he is conducting courses in lighting, color, and scene construction, and is business manager of the Dramatic Department. Prior to his two years at Sarah Lawrence College he was four years with the Dramatic Department of Bradford Academy. He is the Consulting Specialist on lighting and stage construction for many of the leading schools and colleges of New England, including Wellesley, Mt. Holyoke, The Bancroft School, Dana Hall, Choate School, Beaver Country Day, Belmont Hill, The May School and many others, where in many cases equipment of his own design has been installed. One of his specialties is the lighting of "Living Pictures," and he was Lighting Director for the Pageant given at the Biennial Council Meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, at the New Ocean House in Swampscott last May. He has also been selected as chairman of Lighting for the Newton Tercentenary Pageant to be given next June.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Plans are well under way and rehearsals have been going on for some time for the four-act comedy, "Pat," which is being presented by the Newtonville Woman's Club, under the direction of the Drama committee at the High School Auditorium, on Tuesday evening, February 4th, at 8 p. m. As this is a regular Club meeting Club members will be admitted on presentation of their own tickets. Guest tickets will be sold at the usual rate, and it is hoped many will take this opportunity to entertain their friends.

RECENT EVENTS

Community Service Club of West Newton

The January meeting of the Community Service Club was held in the Unitarian Church Parish House, on Wednesday afternoon, January 15th, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Francis Carter gave a short talk upon the work of the Social Commission, ending with a plea for the support of the women of the State when the committee should end its investigations, and send its bills to the Legislature.

The speaker of the afternoon was Professor Robert E. Rogers, of the English Department of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who spoke on "Our Democratic Ideals." Because it is a characteristic of the American people to become so wrapped up in a particular program that they lose sight of the general and immediate needs, the country has become top-heavy with its specific laws and its bureaus and Federal controls, he said. With the tendency, too, to live in the past lip service is done to two ideas inherited from the signers of the Declaration of Independence, that "all men are created equal" and "there is equal opportunity for all," when it is known that because of the changes in number and kind of the population, and the proportionate decrease of available land, these two ideas are in fact far from reality. The spirit which animated Massachusetts to rebel against the tax on tea, and defied a government which interfered with the rights of a citizen, was the same spirit which prompted certain states to refuse to ratify the Constitution, until the Bill of Rights was drawn up. It is this same spirit which is causing rebellion against Federal control. Still, on reading History one can steadily follow the destruction of those same rights, so that now traditional Liberty is only another notion, and the American people really live at the mercy of the police power of the Federal Government.

With the idealistic theory of Democracy broken down, that idea that one man is as fit to govern as another, it can be understood clearly why the quality of our government must go down, for in no other business are inexperienced men placed in charge, and left in power only long enough to acquire some knowledge of their weakness, when another inexperienced man is in his place. So, until this old ideal of fitness is scrapped, and the average mind grasps that government is a highly complex business, with need of much training and experience before control is given over, one cannot look for much improvement.

We are living in a perplexing world, with problems of our forefathers could not dream, and daily it is being brought to us that the old routine of politics no longer serves. Only a learned, exceptional mind, with a large experience, can meet the problems of the day. In our public school education there must come a change, to give the superior mind a chance to receive superior advantages, and not be held down to the "mass production" which now exists, following the idea that the schools exist to promote Democracy, and, in order to make all men equal, education must be common Socialization, for we must turn out a standardized product, and to be different is a crime.

More attention must be given to the saving of that which needs to be saved, rather than so much attempting to raise the level of the lower rank, to the neglect of the best of the people. Because "Water seeks its own level" we should then have a country pleasant to live in—idealistic, but comfortable. Mr. Rogers' presentation of his ideas, as above, held the attention of his audience.

Shakespeare Club

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club met on Saturday, January 18th, despite the storm, with a full attendance, at the artistic home of Mrs. William E. Moore, of Hillsdale road, where the afternoon was occupied with "Henry the Fifth," Act III. The first three scenes of the act represent the siege of Harflew, where Henry is seen for the first time as a soldier, became a national hero, and inspired an army with his own spirit.

The Duke of Gloucester, to whom the command of the siege was given, dug three under-ground mines; these were counter-mined by the French; an ensuing "hand-to-hand" conflict occurred. A capitulation followed. The King and his train entered the town!

Interest in this strategic chapter of the drama held attention in the force and entertainment of its presentation.

West Newton Junior Women's Educational Club

The Junior members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club held their January meeting last Tuesday, January 14th, at the home of Susanne Elwell at 41 Orchard avenue, West Newton.

After the business discussion, the group in charge of the meeting conducted a popular song contest.

In carrying out their intentions to aid in Newton's philanthropic work, several members of the Junior Club read to children at the Newton Hospital for a few hours each week. They also brought mittens to be distributed through the Welfare Bureau.

With the help of Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, the Junior Club earned $71.00 for the West Newton Women's Educational Club Scholarship Fund and $51.00 for their own treasury.

Because of conflicts of classes with the hours of the meeting, the Juniors were unable to repeat their Model Meeting (given recently at the Twelfth District Conference at the West Newton Senior Club) at the Massachusetts State Federation meeting of Women's Clubs at the Hotel Statler in Boston on January 22nd, as had been planned. They expect, however, to give a demonstration at the State Federation meeting at the Dorchester Women's Club on April 5th.

The Junior Club is happy to welcome its new members: Virginia McAleer, Phoebe Giles, Thelma Valey, Bernice MacDowell and Betty Stidger.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On Monday, January 20th, from 3 until 5 p. m. the Executive Board of the Newton Centre Woman's Club entertained the new members of the Club at a tea and musicale in the parlor of the Clubhouse. The Club president, Mrs. Walter Hartstone, and the officers of the Club received, and Mrs. J. W. Briggs and members of the Hospitality committee assisted in making the new members acquainted with one another. Mrs. Vaneva Milne, Soprano, accompanied by Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, a most talented Club member, gave several delightful selections, including two songs by Ronald, three selections composed by Mrs. Gulesian: "A Heap O' Livin'", "House with the Pearls," and "The Sea Hath Its Pearls," and one by Winthrop Rogers. Mrs. Milne is well known in Clubs and sang at an affair given by Mrs. Larz Anderson in her home in Washington last year. The tea, which was greatly enjoyed, was in charge of Mrs. W. Thatcher Hollis.

Auburndale Review Club

A morning of unusual interest, well attended in spite of the storm, was enjoyed by the members and friends of the Auburndale Review Club this last Tuesday. The meeting was called a little earlier than usual, to consider the matter of next year's topic of study, informally discussed at the business meeting the preceding week. It was voted to consider literature, both older and newer, leaving to the Program committee a wise mixture of Shakespeare and of modern novels.

Next came an interesting paper by Mrs. Susan Tuttle on "Internationalizing the Monroe Doctrine," giving the history of the birth, growth and later interpretations of this important document, in relation with our dealings with other countries of both hemispheres.

Then the Club adjourned to the main body of the chapel, thrown open to the public, to enjoy a talk by Rev. William Macfarlane of the Prospect Street Congregational Church, Cambridge, on "The Fourteen Points and the League of Nations." Tracing the slow progress of peace movements from the first society in 1815, through the work done by Ladd, Burritt, Schurz, and the Hague Court in early days, the explanation of the 14 points, and their present state of realization, were dwelt upon, especially the first, the "open covenant of peace openly arrived at," with its especial bearing on the parliament now opening in London. A clear summary of the League of Nations, its members, its functions, and especially its actual working power, was briefly, but vividly, presented by the speaker.

And with a closing appeal as to our proper attitude toward this slow-moving, but very necessary progress toward world peace, the lecturer left all listeners feeling much better informed as well as much more hopeful for better days to come.

Two delightful solos by Mr. Waldo Cole, "Oh Pretty, Pretty Creature," and "The Two Grenadiers," sung before the address of the morning, added much to the enjoyment of all present.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Garden Club of the Newtonville Woman's Club met with Mrs. George E. Fisher on Thursday morning. There was a most interesting discussion of "Bulb Embargo," which seemed to point to the probability that this embargo resulted largely from the ambition of American growers to create a demand for American-grown bulbs. Several members read poems which had a special appeal to them as garden lovers. These poems, ranging from those of Kipling to Edgar Guest, proved very delightful, making the sun shine through the clouds of a very dull day of winter weather.

The Newtonville Woman's Club held an all-day meeting on Tuesday, in charge of the American Home committee. Mrs. Arthur H. Alger, chairman, was in the morning was given over to demonstrations of electrical appliances: first, the making of deserts and salads in Frigidaire and General Electric refrigerators, and, second, the uses and advantages of the Conover dish-washing machine.

A very delightful luncheon followed. The speaker of the afternoon was Dr. James Gordon Gilkey, pastor of the South Congregational Church of Springfield, and Professor of Biblical Literature at Amherst. Dr. Gilkey is a keen observer of American life, and his talk on "Debts and Credits in Modern Life" was very enlightening.

Mrs. Lillian Buxbaum was the soloist of the afternoon. Mr. Raymond W. Scribner accompanied her.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

An evening of music was enjoyed by the members and friends of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club on Monday evening, January 20th, in the hall of the Ralph Waldo Emerson School, on Pettee street.

Mr. Edward Macfingh, baritone, lived up to his title of "Singer of Songs." He was born in Dundee, Scotland, with an inherent love for music and an instinct for unaffected dramatic expression. His varied program was very well received, his radio friends being especially glad to hear him.

Miss Clara Baker's charming personality made friends for her even before she started to play, and they were not disappointed in their first impressions.

Mr. Paul Anderson as an accompanist for Miss Baker seemed almost ideal, but as a piano soloist was at his best.

Mrs. Harold T. Sprague was in charge of the arrangements for the evening.

State Federation

MID-WINTER MEETING. A partial report of the Legislative program presented by Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, chairman of this Department, at the meeting of the State Federation on Wednesday, January 22nd, is here given. Action on these measures and on resolutions will be found in this Column next week, as well as other interesting details that can not be reported with the Column going to press on Wednesday.

West Newton Women's Educational Club, celebrating its fiftieth anniversary in the Club world, was hostess for the gala day at the Hotel Statler, their president, Mrs. Joseph Otis, giving the address of welcome.

Mrs. Azel A. Packard, State President, opening the meeting, said most happily, quoting from Alice Ames Winter, ex-president of the General Federation:

"When one faces a thousand women in a room, all of them intent upon some problem of human welfare, all thinking straight and to the purpose, all self-forgetful, and when one knows that all over the country this phenomenon is repeated again and again, it is not hard to have faith like a mustard seed in the woman leadership of the future."

The first measure before the State Legislature for presentation to the Clubwomen was the proposed Revision of the Present Book Law. The affirmative side of this proposal was given by Dr. Albert C. Diefenbach, editor of the Christian Register, who gave the following reasons for favoring the change:

A committee of 200 citizens of a high degree of public spirit and civic intelligence has presented a bill which it is believed meets the exacting moral standards of the Commonwealth stating present requirements according to the opinion of leading publishers, editors, librarians, booksellers, churchmen, lawyers, social workers, and publicists.

The bill purposes first to place the legal control of books in the courts, and second, to maintain the moral welfare of the public, especially that of the youth, and yet give proper recognition to the creative work of writers, and encourage the presentation of life as it is and as it ought to be, in good literature.

There are three criteria of a good book. First, is the writer sincere? Is his intent honest? If so, the book as a whole will approve his sincerity to the judgment of the court. Second, does his book measure up to standard as a work of art? Third, does the book reveal life, does it cleanse and broaden life? This last criterion is the arch which joins the two columns of sincerity and art, and makes a book worthy of public sanction.

In such a book there may be passages which out of their context would be offensive. For example, in "All Quiet on the Western Front," we could not possibly have a true presentation of war unless the ugliness of it were given in due proportion.

The same is true of every other phase of life. The negative side was presented by Frank Chouteau Brown, director of the N. E. Watch and Ward Society, who opposed the change on the following grounds:

The present law is 40 years old. In that time it has come to be understood in all courts, and any case brought under it can be tried expeditiously and inexpensively to the State and the individual concerned.

The new law changes the phrase, "Book—containing obscene language" to "Book which—considered as a whole is obscene." Lawyers consulted say that this wording is too ambiguous to apply to many cases, no other State has a law so worded, and that the entire book would have to be read to the jury, at a great waste of time and money. Also, the first case under the new law will undoubtedly be carried to the Supreme Court, which will delay trial, and hold up all other cases brought under same act.

For three years the Boston booksellers have brought before the Legislature, the proposal for a new law, which was not successful. This year, librarians, professors, and editors, with the booksellers still in the background, are sponsoring the bill. Also in the background are individuals and organizations hoping to benefit indirectly from it, asking for more freedom of speech and for privileges that are demoralizing moral agencies.

The New England Watch and Ward Society represents the public only in a matter so unpleasant that individuals hesitate to take the odium and expense of action under the law,—and also when they would often as individuals be unable to secure a conviction, especially with many public officials indifferent to their oaths of office and their constituents. It acts only on complaints.

In the past, the Society has been glad to co-operate with the booksellers in stopping the sale of pernicious books without publicity, or delay, and with no danger of jail sentence or cost of litigation to the booksellers. In the judgment of those who have most to do with this problem, the proposed law will not secure the legitimate protection for which the bookseller is ostensibly asking. In fact, many of the more reputable are no longer supporting the proposed bill. The Watch and Ward Society is not opposed to all or any changes in the present law. It does not believe in the wording nor the apparent meaning of the present bill and therefore does not endorse it. It does not propose any bills itself. Its sole interest is to aid in the enforcement of any law representative of the will of the people, as a whole.

In actual process, there is at present no private "censor" existing, or acting in this matter, except as the judge of the court represents such "censorship." Under the present law there is nothing to prevent any publisher or bookseller from trying out in court any case where he believes in justice or hardship has been done him in what he may believe to be suppression of his book.

It is the judgment of the Society, and its more experienced advisers, that it would be dangerous to require that, in every case, it be necessary to consider it "as a whole." Would a solid chapter of "swear words" and profanity be any less profane for being surrounded by 37 chapters of properly-behaved nouns and adverbs and adjectives? Would one or two obscene stories in a collection published between two covers be any less objectionable because their companions were of the goody-goody, Sunday School variety? Would any obscene illustration become legally ineffective for suggestive evil if the other pictures in the book were exclusively sweetly sentimental and moral in tone?

Mrs. Sara R. Ehrmann, in the affirmative for the abolishment of capital punishment, stated that the law establishing capital punishment for first degree murder is impossible to enforce—since for three hundred years it has gone on in this State, and the punishment has not stopped it—and therefore it ought to be removed. She went on to cite cases in which other-wise law-abiding men have been the only ones captured and put to death, saying that the real gangsters know the ropes so well that they are never caught. Therefore, that this very lack of enforcement breeds contempt for the law, and further crimes in murder!

She brought out the "demoralizing" effect upon prisoners when a murderer is electrocuted, creating morbid sympathy for the condemned man, and bitterness against the State, and declared that heads of our Penal institutions, and students of psychology were against this "senseless procedure." She declared that for the State to use this weapon of protection is in itself violence, and that violence breeds violence and can not eradicate it, and starts an endless chain of rancor, vindictiveness and revenge, qualities inherent in human nature which react to vicious treatment. She stated that fear is what keeps this primitive method of solving a difficult problem in force, and went on to say that this fear is gross, since 24 civilized countries have abolished this form of punishment and eight States in the United States, and here it is bearing witness that murders do not increase after abolition.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

ment acted as an advertisement of murder, inciting morbid and suggestive minds to a like course. She referred, also, to the great expense of murder trials as economically unsound. She pointed out that the criminally insane are imprisoned for life, in an institute, and that this does not affect the population as a menace, nor do they begrudge the food and shelter given to them.

She ended with a plea to acknowledge a mistaken policy and to change it by taking this law from the statute books.

In defense of capital punishment, Dean Gleason L. Archer LL.D., Dean of Suffolk Law School, eminent jurist, and one of the clearest thinkers upon the side of law enforcement today; and of protection of American ideals, gave as his arguments for continuation of the death penalty for certain crimes and as showing cause why the age-old statute should be retained:

Since the beginning of recorded time, the man who kills his fellow-man has been regarded as a common enemy of society. For fifty centuries the calm judgment of mankind has been that the killer of man is too dangerous an enemy to be permitted to live. Our laws have decreed the death penalty for such, for the same reason that the surgeon cuts from a healthy body a cancerous growth that threatens its existence.

But of recent years there has grown up a formidable movement to stay the hand of the law in dealing with the murderer. We are told that if he goes about killing his fellow-man society should reform him by setting him a good example, give him a comfortable prison, feed him, care for him as a guest of the State and keep him contented, if possible. Of course, if he insists upon escape, and kills a prison guard or two while breaking out of prison, that is unfortunate and regrettable, but society has done its best.

Whereupon Dean Archer went on to prove that in this event society had not done its best—that it has a duty to the victim of the killer, and to the widow and children of the victim left to starve. In eight States of the union, whose experiences he gave in detail, during the years 1911-1919, he showed how Vermont, Colorado, Iowa, Oregon, Tennessee, Washington State, Arizona and Missouri, after the "humane" experiment of abolishing capital punishment, were obliged to restore this penalty, since conditions became worse, and it was proven that with the mind of this calibre, the only fear of the murderer was that of brute force and of death.

He described the three classes of criminals to whom the death penalty applies, describing most effectively the cold-blooded, deliberate murder; the fiendishly cruel one where torture was inflicted, and that where murder is done while committing another crime, the last being illustrated by the case of the burglar Pemberton who, while on a party, taking their jewels, and shooting three women who dared to scream from fright.

He asked what punishment could be meted out to such a murderer as Trippi, where there was no death penalty, so that he continued to live in prison, shooting, each month or so, a prison guard, for the rest of his natural life, his only punishment on the statute book, life imprisonment; until we could no longer furnish him with fresh targets, as we could not find men willing to take the dangerous position of prison guard—unless we could have a compulsory draft to furnish these privileged guests of the State with living targets.

Dean Archer reminded his audience of the time when execution was the penalty for the brute who horribly attacked a defenceless woman, and of the burglar and highwayman. Today, he declared these were comparatively safe occupations, since the death penalty had been taken from these crimes.

He ended with the plea to leave sentimental mush out of this question which protected the home and lives, and not to strike from the hands of Justice in Massachusetts the power to protect them against these three types of fiends in human form.

The Affirmative on the Anti-Steel Trap Bill was given by Howard Noble, managing director of the Anti-Steel Trap League, who said:

The so-called anti-steel trap bill, now before the Legislature on an Initiative Petition, reads as follows: "Whoever uses, sets or maintains any trap or other device for the capture of fur-bearing animals which is likely to cause continued suffering to an animal caught therein, and which is not designed to kill such animal at once or to take it alive unhurt, shall be fined fifty dollars for each offense; but this section shall not apply to traps or other devices for protection against vermin if set or maintained against vermin if set or maintained not more than fifty yards from any building or cultivated plot of land to the use of which the presence of vermin may be detrimental."

The sponsors of this measure claim that the ordinary steel trap, now universally used, comes under the ban; that an animal caught in this trap suffers excruciatingly and continuously until put out of its misery by the trapper or until it dies from pain, exhaustion, cold, hunger or thirst. The National Association of the Fur Industry, one of the largest for organizations, tacitly admits the cruelty of the steel trap by offering a reward of $10,000 for the invention of a perfect humane trap.

The bill seeks to protect farmers, gardeners, poultrymen, and all others from the depredations of vermin (fox, skunk, mink, weasel, raccoon, etc.) by permitting traps of any kind now lawful, including the steel trap, to be set in the immediate vicinity of poultry houses and other buildings, fields, gardens, cranberry bogs, etc.

Opponents of the bill claim that the steel trap is the only practical trap; that if it is banned, vermin will increase to a point which will endanger poultry-raising and the supply of game birds. But there are a number of practical humane traps on the market, traps which take alive unhurt, or kill instantly, and others will undoubtedly be invented if there is a demand for them.

If it be true that this bill will appreciably increase the number of fur-bearers, it should be welcomed by the fur trade and all true conservationists, since all the species are being rapidly depleted and some are threatened with extermination. In addition, although the fox, skunk, weasel and mink do prey somewhat upon poultry, in the long run they are more beneficial to agriculture than otherwise, since they eat many mice, rats, etc. The proposed bill is an effort to extend to wild creatures the same humane principles now universally accorded to domestic animals and the sponsors of the bill contend that this can be done without jeopardizing the agricultural or game resources of the State.

Greetings from Newton were brought by Hon. Sinclair Weeks, Mayor of Newton. He spoke in behalf of the West Newton Women's Educational Club which acted as hostess to all the other groups at this meeting, telling interesting facts concerning the work of the West Newton Club which was formed 50 years ago by twelve women who were interested in the work of the Newton Schools. He credited their efforts for much of the progress of the Newton School system.

The major part of the club's activity today, he said, deals with scholarships for girls, but the efforts of the club in the early years of its life, now so generally praised and accepted, included such activity as actually taking upon themselves the work of teaching sewing in the schools gratuitously, later petitioning for sewing instructors for the girl students in all grammar schools and having the petition granted.

Newton's first police matron, appointed 34 years ago, was secured through the activity of the Educational Club and its efforts in 1888 resulted in the appointment of a woman to the Newton school committee. Almost anything which tended to advance the cause of education such as the giving of many sets of books to the high school and the installation of bubbling fountains in school buildings, was taken up and carried through successfully by this organization which today is so highly regarded in Newton.

Newton's school system which annually expends more than a million dollars for the education and comfort of its students, was described by Mayor Weeks.

—Miss Miriam Drury will give a luncheon and bridge on Saturday, February first at 1:30 in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Prescott Warren, 638 Centre street in honor of Mrs. J. H. Holden, who will be a special guest.

—The Social Welfare Department of the Woman's Association presents Miss Mary E. Driscoll, field worker of the National Civic Federation, at a meeting of Eliot Church, Tuesday, Jan. 28th, at 3 o'clock. Miss Driscoll, who is the only Woman member of the Probation Commission of Massachusetts, will speak on the topic, "Youth and Its Environment." Members and friends are cordially invited to the meeting and to tea.

—The annual meeting of the Church Federation Sewing Circle was held at the Methodist Church, Tuesday, Jan. 21. In the afternoon an interesting talk was given by Miss Ethel M. Fletcher, a representative of the Family Welfare Society of Boston, whose work is in the Health Unit at So. Boston. By stories and illustrations she laid before her audience the aim of her organization—to help the people to help themselves. The Family Welfare Society has just celebrated its fiftieth anniversary and from the beginning its slogan has been "Not alms but a friend." The address was followed by the serving of tea by the hostess church.

—At the January Social of the Men's League of Immanuel Church, Mr. K. K. Carrick of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston was the speaker. His topic was "The Federal Reserve Bank and its Relation to the Public." It was a very clear and interesting presentation of this highly organized system. Following this there were moving pictures of Colorado, New Mexico and Southern California, through the courtesy of the Santa Fe Railroad. Refreshments completed the program.

In spite of the storm about sixty men were present. These monthly programs are in charge of special sub-committees and are of wide interest. Beverly G. Secord was chairman for this meeting.

—There was an exceptionally large number at the Annual Meeting and Supper at Immanuel Baptist Church last week, and the report of the year's work were very satisfactory. Attendance at the Morning Service has increased during the year over thirty per cent with a corresponding increase in the Church School. Under the leadership of Miss Mary L. Clark, Director of Religious Education, young people's work has more than doubled. A Church-wide Kindergarten has been added for children of parents who wish to attend church, and is in charge of an experienced leader. The church closed the year entirely free from debt and a substantial sum was added to the trust funds. All departments are effectively organized and the support given by the members is most encouraging. During the evening of program of music was given by Richard M. Hill, Bass, and Miss Dorothy G. McCall, Accompanist. Officers were elected.

BANKERS' ASSN. ELECTS OFFICERS

The Newton Bankers' Association which is composed of officers of all the Commercial, Savings and Co-operative banks in the city, the trustees and incorporators of the Savings Banks and the directors of the Commercial and co-operative banks, with an eligible membership of 209, held their second annual banquet on Thursday evening at the Brae Burn Club with 110 members present.

Mr. Seward W. Jones, retiring president, informed the gathering that there has been a gross increase in the assets of all the banks during the past year of $3,777,000, divided as follows:—Savings Banks, $1,572,000; Commercial Banks, $1,437,000 and Co-operative Banks, $568,000. The total gross assets of all the banks is now $52,212,000, equal to $870.00 for every man, woman and child in the city based on an estimated population of 60,000. The gross assets are divided as follows:—Savings Banks, $23,932,000; Commercial Banks, $20,757,000; and Co-operative Banks, $5,523,000.

The new officers elected were:—President, Wm. H. Rice (president of the Newton Centre Savings Bank); Vice President, Wm. F. Bacon (President of the Newton Savings Bank); Secretary, Roland E. Gammons (President of the West Newton Savings Bank); and Treasurer, Charles F. Mercer (President of the Newton South Co-operative Bank).

The speaker of the evening was Honorable Sinclair Weeks, Mayor of Newton, who spoke on city problems and the business relation of the city to the public. Mr. Beverly G. Secord was chairman of the evening.

PARAMOUNT—NEWTON

Beginning Sunday, January 26th, the Paramount Theatre will present Ruth Chatterton in "The Laughing Lady" with Clive Brook. Ruth Chatterton's latest success was in Madame X and Charming Sinners, and Clive Brook in many pictures of late in which Interference and The Return of Sherlock Holmes were his best—the latter will play at the Paramount the last half of the week.

On the same program Sunday to Wednesday will be seen Ed Buzzell in "Little Johnny Jones" which is a comedy. Geo. M. Cohan's comedy hits, Eddie plays the title role of the Yankee Doodle Boy in which some of the fastest racing horses and well known jockeys will be seen.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday the main feature will be Coleen Moore in "Footlights and Follies"—it's the best picture in her vast career. Clive Brook will be seen in the co-feature in "The Return of Sherlock Holmes."

Mr. Edward Allen the Paramount Organist now plays a 15 minute concert before each evening performance. Beginning at 7:30—music lovers will enjoy these musical treats as Mr. Allen has selected only the best of music for them.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Last week under "About Town" was an item referring to the bill introduced by Representative Hansen of Waltham seeking to have the Charles River dredged between Waltham and Newton Upper Falls. In this item we wrote that the Boston Manufacturing Company at Waltham possesses riparian rights on the river. Through a typographical error this item was printed so that it read "repairing rights."

The elaborate publicity regarding the Byrd expedition to the Antarctic region and the South Pole has had one good effect, among others. It has served to diminish to some degree the Lindbergh propaganda disseminated by airplane interests seeking to make this country "air-minded."

Several weeks ago a man was killed by an automobile in this city. The driver of the car stated that the street lights had been extinguished just before the accident, leaving the streets in total darkness. Persons who have had occasion to drive cars in this city between 6 and 6:30 mornings during December and early January will agree that the street lights in this city should be kept illuminated until daylight comes. They should also be lighted earlier evenings when the days are short. From 6 o'clock morning on, persons are going to work. Between 5 and 6 evenings is the peak hour of traffic. At these times streets should be well lighted.

Newton Highlands

—Mr. C. S. Hickox of Walnut street has been in Pennsylvania this week.

—The Girls' Club met in St. Paul's Parish House on Wednesday evening last.

—Dr. Parker, Sr., of Walnut street, has been visiting in Springfield the past week.

—Miss Frances Purple left recently for Florida, where she will spend a couple of months.

—Mrs. Janet Clark and Miss Jane Reilly will give a dance at the Workshop on Saturday evening.

—Mrs. A. E. Rust of Center street is convalescing at the Newton Hospital from a recent operation.

—Mrs. Arthur Williams of Hyde street is opening her home for a social afternoon on Saturday next.

—At the Evangelistic service at the Methodist Church, Sunday evening, the subject was "We Would See Jesus."

—Mrs. David E. Osborne of Boylston street has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Herbert C. Pace of Springfield, Mass.

—Mrs. William of Duncklee street gave a "bon voyage" tea in honor of Mrs. Silas Mills of Fisher avenue on Wednesday afternoon.

—The Hosford family of Newton Centre have taken the apartment on Floral Place, formerly occupied by J. W. Tapper and family.

—H. B. T. of Newton Centre and daughter, Doris, of Woodcliff road, left yesterday for Florida where they will spend the rest of the winter.

—A small bridge party was given in honor of Mr. Seward Johnson's birthday on Tuesday evening at his home on Great Plain avenue, Needham. Mr. Johnson is a former Newton Highlands resident.

—Mr. Thos. D. Ginn of Woodward street is a member of the board of directors, and the publicity committee of the Roxbury Memorial High School Alumni Association which will hold its 1930 reunion on February 26th.

The Young People's League of the Congregational Church made its first venture in the realm of biography last Sunday evening. Nancy Fowler and Helen McMullin introduced the discussion by presenting material from Gamaliel Bradford's book, "Lee, the American."

This week at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Congregational Church they finished their review of the chapter on Emerson in Prof. Bailey's book "Religious Thought in the Greater American Poets," and continued with a discussion of the chapter on Whitlitt.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the week ending January 18 there were 144 patients in the hospital. Of this number 51 paid as much as cost of care, or more, 61 paid less than cost of care, and 32, including babies were treated free of charge. 12 babies were born, 4 girls and 8 boys. 130 patients were admitted to the out-patient department, 8 to the eye clinic, 9 accident cases were admitted to the emergency ward. 7 patients were visited by the social worker, and 6 patients were transferred by the social service car.

Only two of the nine accident cases were automobile accidents; one was a man with lacerations and a severed tendon in his right hand, and the other a man with fractured ribs, and collar bone, and abrasions of his forehead and cheek. Four men were treated for other injuries; one for a splinter in his finger, one for a fractured finger received while repairing an automobile tire, one for a lacerated hand and severed tendon caused by a circular saw, and one for an abrasion of his knee caused when a heavy stone fell hitting him. One boy was brought to the hospital because he had swallowed a safety pin. One woman was treated for a fractured collar bone, received when she fell off a doorstep. One girl was treated for a laceration over her eyebrow caused when she fell while skating.

On Monday evening, January 20, the Know More Kokki Klub met at the hospital. Dr. A. C. Cummings, and Dr. W. T. O'Halloran presented the paper on "The Eye."

On Tuesday, January 23, the Trustees will hold their dinner and annual meeting at the hospital. The doctors on the regular and consulting staffs are the special guests of the Trustees. The dinner is to be at seven o'clock and the business meeting at eight.

ALDERMEN MEET

Two hearings on petitions for gasoline filling station permits were held by the Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday night. Both petitioners had been given hearings the latter part of last year but as the Licenses Committee of the 1929 Board made no recommendations on the petitions, new hearings had to be held before the 1930 Board.

The first hearing was on the petition of the Newton Cemetery Corporation for a permit to conduct a gasoline filling station at the northwest corner of Walnut and Beacon streets, Newton Centre, to store 4000 gallons of gasoline and to install four underground tanks and pumps connected therewith. H. Wilson Ross, superintendent and treasurer of the Cemetery Corporation appeared in favor of the petition. He explained that the station will be leased to an outside company. The service building will set back from the street, the grounds will be attractively landscaped, and the two old houses now on the property will be removed.

Ex-Alderman George Heathcote, appearing for Mrs. Mary O'Connor who owns property adjoining at 875 Walnut street, objected. He asked Mr. Ross if the charter of the Cemetery Corporation allows it to engage in such an activity? Mr. Ross replied that he assumes it does, as Judge Bacon, President of the Corporation, has approved of the petition. Mr. Heathcote contended that there are already enough filling stations in the locality, two being located on other corners at the intersection of the two streets and one other nearby on Beacon street. He argued that the station, if constructed, would depreciate the value of Mrs. O'Connor's property.

Louis Bacharach advocated the granting of a permit for a filling station at 1250-1260 Washington street, West Newton, to the Newton & Waterbury Realty Trust. A one-story business block now on this site will be razed and the appearance of the corner greatly improved, according to the proponents of this petition.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WELFARE BUREAU

Only 6% of the families known to the Newton Welfare Bureau during 1929 needed the assistance of the Welfare Bureau through any fault of their own. This is one of the statements made by the Secretary of the Bureau, Miss Ruth Chapin, during her report of the year's work.

The Annual Meeting was held in the rooms of the Bureau at 12 Austin street at 4:15 p. m. on Wednesday afternoon, January 23, with Mr. Elliott B. Church, President, in the Chair.

Other statements made by the Secretary were that 408 families were aided by the Bureau in one way or another during the year. She also stated that in only 11 of these 408 family situations was the problem drunkenness a complicating factor, whereas in the Annual Report of the year 1917 it was stated that in 90 families out of 390 it was a complicating factor. One of the angles of the work strongly stressed by the Secretary was the fact that in some instances the Welfare Bureau had to be careful not to use its money, which is raised by voluntary subscriptions from the community, to finance attitudes of laziness or chronic dependency—a feeling that the "world owes him a living." Surprising though it may seem, there are some people who have this attitude, but in only 6% of these families was this found to be true while the other 94% were families who found themselves in need through no fault of their own but as a result of circumstances over which they had no control.

Dr. Cecil W. Clark as Chairman of the Health Committee gave a report of the year's work of the Health Fund, which is the money raised in Newton by the sale of Christmas Seals and expended by the Bureau through this Committee. The two largest items of expense were 1: the sending of tubercular contact children to camps during last summer; 2: the giving of milk in families where there were undernourished children. Other expenditures were reported, all of them tending toward the care of tubercular or pre-tubercular residents of Newton.

Miss Esther M. Walker, Executive Secretary of the Home Service Section of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, gave the annual report of that work which covers not only Newton but also Needham. Sixty-three families were active during the year—5 in Needham and 58 in Newton.

Mrs. Fannie Coursey, Extension Secretary of the Boston Family Welfare Society, was the speaker of the afternoon and told of the publicity activities of that society. She stressed particularly the point that the right kind of publicity has an immediate return not only in dollars and cents to the society but in better understanding on the part of the community. The figures she quoted were very convincing as to the value of good publicity.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Mr. Elliott B. Church; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Bert and E. Taylor, Mr. Philip W. Carter, Mr. Leon B. Rogers, Clerk, Miss Dorothy Simpson; Treasurer, Mr. William M. Cahill.

New Directors elected for a period of three years were Mr. Charles W. Blood, Dr. Laurens MacLure, Mr. William M. Cahill, Mr. Fred H. Tucker.

Directors re-elected for a period of three years were Mrs. Henry H. Bankart, Mrs. Norman W. Bingham, Jr., Mr. Albert P. Carter, Mr. Philip W. Carter, Dr. Cecil W. Clark, Mr. R. Jackson Cram, Mr. Charles J. Diman, Dr. Arthur M. Ellis, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, Mr. James Kingman, Mrs. Louis H. Marshall, Mr. Walter L. Medoway, Mr. Leon B. Rogers, Mrs. Arthur H. Shannon, Miss Louise R. Sherman, Miss Dorothy Simpson, Miss Marion Stone, Mrs. Howard O. Winslow, Mrs. Percy E. Woodward.

Other annual reports for 1929 were given, including those of the Treasurer and Auditor.

POLICE NEWS

Ernest De Simone, 17, of 244 Adams street, Newton, was arrested on Tuesday night by Patrolman Walker on a warrant obtained by the Natick police charging him with reckless driving.

The boy had recently been paroled from the Shirley Reform School. He was suspected of being responsible for recent burglaries in the Cabot street section so when Patrolman Walker searched him and found a sapphire ring on his person, he was questioned and the ring proved to have been stolen from the home of Walter McGregor, 297 Cabot street, Newtonville. The youth's right hand was cut and this caused the police to suspect him of breaking into the home of Joseph Wenning at 75 Langdon street, Newton, where entrance had been effected by breaking a window pane, and a blood stained screw-driver had been found.

George McGormiskey of 1215 Washington street, West Newton, was fined $60 in the Waltham court yesterday for speeding in Weston, refusing to stop when ordered to do so by a policeman and failing to slow down when crossing the dangerous railroad crossing at Stony Brook. It was McGormiskey's second conviction for speeding.

to conform to the seniority rule of the Civil Service Commission. Some of these men thus employed on a three-day basis and then suspended for three days have legal rights that they must waive in order to relieve this situation and to give others relief.

"The City Solicitor will aid you in handling the legal situation as to these men and if we find that any considerable number insist on their legal rights, we may have to stop all work which has thus been brought forward, and the whole list of one hundred men will be without employment, because I am directing you to do this work to relieve a situation and all this helped must give way to the benefit of the whole number. You will pursue this course until April 1st of this year, at which time you will carry on your work in the usual manner and employ men under complete Civil Service rights."

Old Wade School To Be Razed Soon

School Committee Discusses Other Important Matters

A regular meeting of the School Committee was held Monday evening at which time a number of important subjects were discussed. Among these were the plans to have a Stadium Commission created as told in another column; the razing of the old Wade School at Upper Falls; a request from the Mayor that the American Legion, Auxiliary, and Spanish War Veterans be allowed the use of the Underwood School hall for meetings; the fence recently erected at the southwest corner of Clafin Field; and the taking of immediate steps towards the erection of a junior high school on the south side of the city.

The removal of the Wade school is contemplated in order to make room for a portable building to be moved from the Clafin School yard to relieve the congested condition at the Emerson School in Upper Falls. The Board of Aldermen authorized the removal of the portable to the Emerson School district last year but the plan was blocked because of the lack of space on the school grounds there. After some discussion the committee voted to request the Mayor to recommend the razing of the Wade school and the latter has since indicated that the Aldermen will be asked to authorize the act.

In addition to the question of providing accommodations for more pupils at the Emerson School some discussion was made on the playground facilities there. Alderman John Temperley appeared before the committee and asked that body to go further than remove the Wade school and take adjacent land to provide an adequate playground. He advocated the purchase by the city of a tract of land of about 30,000 square feet that adjoins the school property and is inaccessible from the street and of no value for building sites. The committee referred the matter to the committee on sites and playgrounds.

A plan of Mayor Weeks to save the city several hundred dollars yearly by granting the use of the Underwood school hall to the American Legion for its monthly meetings was discussed at length. The city now furnishes a small office in the City Hall Annex for the use of the Legion which holds its monthly meetings in Elks' Hall, the rent being paid by the city. The lease of the hall expires soon. The cost of this rental would be spared if the school hall could be used. City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett informed the committee that they could not turn any school hall over to the Legion for permanent quarters but could grant the organization permission to use the hall from time to time. Committeeman Lockett expressed the opinion that the practice of smoking in the hall might be a disagreeable factor connected with the use of the hall. The matter was finally referred to a special committee composed of Committeemen Church, Butts and Amesbury.

A request to use the Angier school basketball court by the Methodist Athletic Club once a week during January, February and March for practice purposes was denied. As the practice sessions would be open to members of the club only the committee rejected the request.

The committee likewise disapproved an application by the Flora M. Bosson Studio of the Spoken Word for the use of the high school auditorium on Wednesday, June 4th, for a dramatic recital. The meeting was to have been open only to relatives and friends of those taking part.

A letter from Charles J. Connick of 70 Hull street protesting against the appearance of the wire fence which has recently been erected on Hull street and Lowell avenue was read. The fence was described as "bad taste" and if it was too late to place it with another fence it might be improved by the planting of shrubbery. The editor of the Graphic, who recently wrote an editorial disapproving the fence, was asked to give his views. He said that the fence was not adequate for the purpose for which it apparently was erected—to (Continued on Page 6)

Local Persons Among Lecturers

Course on Childhood Offered by State Bureau

The Division of University Extension, State Department of Education, announces a course of eight lectures on The Psychology of Childhood and Adolescence which will begin in the Newton Technical High School in Newtonville on Thursday, February 6, at 7:30 p. m. Among the five lecturers are Dr. J. Mace Andrews, lecturer on Public Health Education, Dr. F. L. Wells of the Boston Psychopathic Hospital, and Dr. Karl M. Bowman, Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at the Harvard Medical School. All three of these men are residents of this city.

The lectures will be of great value to parents, teachers, nurses, and all who are interested in the proper training and understanding of children as each of the lecturers is an authority in his subject. Courses of this kind have been given in scores of communities in the State, and the classes have been largely attended.

Those who wish to obtain credit for the course may register as credit students and do certain outside assignments which will be assigned by Dr. Andrews, the course leader. Certificates will be awarded by the State Department of Education to those who complete the course satisfactorily.

February 6, "Importance of Mental Health of the Child," Dr. Andrews.

February 13, "The Child," Dr. Andrews.

February 20 and 27, "The Special Hygiene of the Adolescent," Dr. Wells.

March 6, "Relation of Intellect to Education," Dr. Rose S. Hardwick, Head Psychologist of the State Division of Mental Hygiene.

March 13, "Relation of Intellect to Social Adjustment," Dr. Hardwick.

March 20, "Why Child Management?" Miss Sybil Foster, Educational Secretary of the Massachusetts Society for Mental Hygiene.

March 27, "The Community and the Child," Dr. Bowman.

COUNTY WANTS NEW NEWTON COURTHOUSE

The County Commissioners of Middlesex County have filed a bill with the Legislature asking authority to borrow money to build a new district court building in this city. The bill also would give the commissioners authority to take property by right of eminent domain for the site of the proposed courthouse. For many years the Newton court has been located on the second floor of the old frame building on Washington street, West Newton, which was formerly the Pierce School. The lower floor of this building is used as police headquarters by the City of Newton. The city receives rent from the county for the part of the building used for court purposes.

MIDDLESEX COURT M. C. O. F.

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F. held a successful open meeting Tuesday night which was attended by 250 members and guests. Moving pictures depicted a trip to Ireland on the Samaria of the Cunard Line and a tour of that country were shown. A program of Irish music and dances was given by the following—piano selections, Miss Gertrude Bergin; soprano solos, Miss Margaret Earls; violin selections, Miss Mary Gannon; tap dance, Miss May Leech; Irish folk songs, Patrick Sullivan; harmonica solos, Daniel Sweeney; Irish jig dance, Mrs. Langley.

Middlesex Court will observe its 44th anniversary on Tuesday night, February 11th by a banquet and entertainment in Elks Hall.

RESCUE DOG FROM CHARLES RIVER

Patrolman Daniel Cleary of the Newton police and Hoseman Arthur Pierce of Engine 1 rescued a shepherd dog from drowning yesterday noon in the Charles River near the Watertown line at the rear of California street. Cleary and Pierce who live not far from this part of the river were informed that the dog had broken through thin ice near the open channel and was exhausted from his struggles. Obtaining an old boat, the two pushed it over the ice to open water and reached the dog. With Cleary manning the oars, Pierce pulled the animal into the boat. The dog is the property of a California street resident.

Third Lecture On Religion Given

Dr. Dieffenbach Discusses Church Degeneracy

"A Protestant leader like Henry Sloane Coffin," said Dr. Albert C. Dieffenbach in the third public lecture in a series on "What is Happening to Religion?" in the parish house of the Unitarian Church in Newton Centre last Tuesday night, "startles the community when he declares that both Modernists and Fundamentalists must unite their forces and cease their warring on each other in order to extirpate the 'scourge of Christendom, Humanism.'"

"This call to spiritual arms comes too late. Protestantism is not equal to the colossal task of withstanding the theological movement which now sweeps onward, for better or worse, over the Christian world. As everybody knows who studies the facts, the Protestant churches have been degenerating for at least one hundred and fifty years. Indeed, the whole Reformation movement conceived in a great time of need, soon became a disintegrated and divisive sectarian force in history, and the results were astoundingly disclosed in the rise of the Fundamentalist night-riding nearly a decade ago. That infamous uprising in Protestantism we must acknowledge as our own, and the Baptists were its sponsors, in its beginning, but it aroused Christians all over the world, and today everybody either is or is not a Fundamentalist."

"As a revolt against the growing liberal tendencies in Protestant churches it was significant; but the real meaning of it was the collapse of Protestantism. For the various denominations are virtually bankrupt, those fundamental religious ideas which make a church. Only yesterday at the meeting of the Congregational ministers in Pilgrim Hall, the speaker, Prof. Robert E. Rogers, asked them what they believed, and there was instant 'confusion of tongues,' because these brethren believe nothing that reaches into the metaphysical depths of spiritual life upon which the propagation of the church and the progress of civilization have always depended. It would be true of any Protestant ministry."

What does Protestantism teach today? Dr. Dieffenbach said the whole tenor of the various churches under the Protestant name is devoted to the alleged teaching of Jesus, the humanitarianism called social ethics, and in the fatuous business of church union. Of the first "futility," the speaker said that it has been found quite impossible to recover the actual doctrines of Jesus, as all scholars agree, and what we know of His supposed teachings are too "scanty, fragmentary, and contradictory to furnish the basis for any fair and decent appraisal of the actual theology and social philosophy of Jesus."

"Modernists," said the speaker, "are responsible for this deadly inversion of historical Christianity and to them is the blame, I believe, for having largely destroyed the Christian religion. In their superficial, sentimental talk about the teaching of Jesus, they have robbed their churches of the glorious truths of Christendom, and that is why, in their quest of something to keep their work going they have turned to activities of the so-called social gospel, and have reached a low level of mere good fellowship, without any 'drastic insights,' as Dwight Bradley says, into the meaning of religion."

Dr. Dieffenbach quoted as a sign of the Protestant "degeneracy" a new (teaching) from a religious journal in Pittsburgh twelve ministers wrote articles for a local paper on, "If Christ Came to Pittsburgh." "With singular unanimity," said the writer of the item, "the emphasis was laid upon his care of the poor, his delight in our hospitals, his interest in social conditions, his doubt about his church, his good will toward the different races in the city, his efforts to cleanse political conditions, and his insistence upon simple, humble, real religion." Dr. Dieffenbach analyzed the "pathetic religious poverty" of this report. It lacked everything, he said, that makes a real church. It is five times social interest, and two parts nothing in particular. "A sorry picture is this," said the lecturer, "but true of the paltry and contentless condition of the Protestant churches. Throughout the ages pure religion has been magnificent. It has been nurtured in the (Continued on Page 3)

Newton Real Estate Men Attend Banquet

Mass. Exchange Holds "Boost Boston" Affair

A number of Newton real estate men, members of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, accompanied by guests, attended the "Boost Boston Banquet" under the auspices of that organization at the Statler Hotel on January 23. Clement Hernandez of Newtonville, was a member of the reception committee, and other Newton real estate men present included John T. Burns, Thomas Burns, John T. Burns, Jr., Fred Burns, Frank Clark, George Haynes, Bertram Pennington, Wallace Odell, Andrew Schwab, and Albert T. Stuart.

The purpose of the banquet was to stimulate interest in making Boston and its environs more prosperous and retain for Massachusetts its prestige. The first speaker of the evening was Prof. Joseph H. Beale of Harvard University who told of the need of obtaining for Boston some plan which will retain for that city and its suburbs the credit for being the fourth largest community in the United States. Boston is now rated as the ninth city in population in this country and has lost considerable prestige because of this rating. Prof. Beale favors the existing municipalities retaining self government and would even return to Roxbury, Dorchester and other parts of Boston their former identities under a borough plan of government.

Mayor James M. Curley of Boston made a forceful plea for a Greater Boston. He specified the many serious losses in industry and commerce which Boston has suffered in late years, and contrasted the indifference of many Bostonians to the needs of their city with the co-operative spirit displayed by the boosters in other large cities of the country. He chided officials of surrounding cities and towns for their opposition to the Greater Boston plan and asserted that they would obtain more self-government rather than less by uniting with Boston. A Greater Boston, according to Mr. Curley, would cause the cessation of State control over public activities; the people of Greater Boston would be relieved of the unfair situation whereby money they pay in taxes is expended by direction of State commissioners and officials.

Billy B. Van, former vaudeville comedian and now a prosperous soap manufacturer, gave a humorous and inspiring account of how he overcame the ravages of tuberculosis by taking advantage of the healthy atmosphere of rural New Hampshire, obtaining the co-operation and aid of Boston friends, and having faith and optimism.

WANT NORMAN PRATT BACK ON BOARD OF ALDERMEN

Norman F. Pratt, 223 Grant avenue, Newton Centre, who retired from the Board of Aldermen the first of this year after seven years of service, is being urged by Newton Centre residents to return to that body to succeed the late Walter E. C. Worth. It is believed by those who desire Mr. Pratt to serve again that Ward 6 needs a man of his experience. The other two aldermen from the Ward are Richard Harte of Chestnut Hill, who has completed one year of service, and Sydney Holden of Newton Centre who entered the Board this year. Mr. Worth's successor will be elected by the members of the Board of Aldermen.

Contest Assured For Dist. Atty's Post

Bushnell Out—Local Man Announces Candidacy

Following the announcement early this week by District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell of Waban that he would not be a candidate for re-election in Middlesex County next fall three candidates, Kenneth C. Dunlop of Newtonville, George S. Harvey of Malden and Warren L. Bishop of Wayland, have announced that they will seek the office. While Mr. Bushnell has been silent on his plans for future political activity there has been considerable talk that he will oppose Youngman for the Republican nomination as Lieutenant-governor.

Mr. Dunlop has pledged himself to continue the aggressive enforcement of the laws which has marked the Bushnell administration. He is a well known republican, having participated as a speaker in national and State campaigns during the past 12 years. He was born in Boston in 1895 and educated at the Moses Brown School and the Suffolk Law School. He has lived in the county 25 years residing in Somerville and Winchester before moving to Newtonville. His home here is at 371 Highland street. He was admitted to the bar in 1917 and has Boston law offices. He was one of the founders of the Alumni Association of the Suffolk Law School and its president for five years.

Mr. Harvey was an assistant district attorney for four years under Nathan Tufts, resigning in 1921. While in office he was credited with solving the murder of the Wakelin girl in Melrose, the breaking up of the famous automobile ring, and the rounding up of the gang of seven which robbed and shot an Everett paymaster in 1918. In 1921 it was stated that almost half of the inmates of the Cambridge House of Correction were confined there through his activities. He was born in St. John, N. B., in 1878 and has lived in Malden since he was 10 years old. He is a graduate of Harvard and the Harvard Law School and is a member of a Boston law firm. He resides in Malden.

Mr. Bishop has served as first assistant to Mr. Bushnell for nearly eight years and in announcing his candidacy said "I pledge myself to carry on the policies of his administration with the staff and organization he has built up." Mr. Bishop was born in Wayland in 1891 and was educated in the public schools there and at Boston University, graduating from the law school in 1911. He was admitted to the bar and has engaged in the general practice of law in Boston. He was appointed assistant district attorney in 1923 and has served continuously in that office. Mr. Bishop has held various town offices and is chairman of the Wayland School Committee at the present time. He is a past commander of the American Legion post there and is a member of several organizations.

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE

Cars driven by Charles Brady of 29 Gay street, Newtonville, and Robert Chastaney of Claverly Hall, Cambridge, collided at Washington and Walnut streets, Newtonville, on Wednesday. Brady and Chastaney received slight cuts.

A car driven by Sara Vaccarello of Waltham hit James Sostillo, 9, of 332 Langley road, as the boy was crossing Beecher lane, Newton Centre, Sunday. Young Sostillo escaped with slight injuries.

Late Wm. H. Mague Makes Many Bequests

Working Boys' Home, Hospital and Others Share in Will

William H. Mague of 32 Chestnut street, West Newton, a prominent citizen of this city for nearly three score years died on Sunday of bronchial pneumonia. He was born in West Newton 50 years ago and as a young man entered the contracting business. In addition to large private jobs he was the successful bidder on many public improvements during the last quarter of the past century. For 47 years he had the contracts for collecting the garbage in the Newtons. In conjunction with the garbage collection he owned several large piggeries. Mr. Mague also was active in real estate development. He was interested in political affairs and was a member of many fraternal organizations. For many years he conducted an undertaking business at West Newton.

In his will, disposing of an estate valued at about $75,000, he made provisions for a number of relatives, friends and employees and left liberal bequests to the Working Boys' Home and the Newton Hospital. He appointed Charles E. Hatfield and John C. Madden as executors of his estate which for the most part consists of real estate holdings.

Among the bequests in Mr. Mague's will are—to his housekeeper, Mrs. Mary Reed, $3000; to his foreman, John T. Hackett, $3000; to his friend, James R. Gallagher, $2000; St. Bernard's Aid Society, West Newton, $1000; for Masses for his benefit and that of his deceased wife, Mary L. Mague, his two deceased sisters and brother, $1000; Working Boys' Home, Newton Highlands, $10,000; Newton Hospital, $5000; each of the daughters of his late brother, Thomas Mague, $500; each son of Thomas Mague, $1000; each child of his nephew, Thomas B. Mague, $250; each child of his nephew, Francis J. Mague, $50; proceeds of life insurance policies, $1000 each to his nephews, William H. Mague, Charles Mague and Albert Mague, and $2000 to be divided equally between his nieces, Emily Mague, Sophia Mague and Blanche Mague. The residue of his estate, if any, he bequeathed as follows—one third to the Working Boys' Home, one third to the Newton Hospital, one third in equal shares to the nieces and nephews above mentioned.

Mr. Mague's funeral service was held Tuesday morning at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Wm. Dwyer, assisted by Rev. William O'Brien as deacon and Rev. Michael Danahey as sub-deacon. Mr. Mague was active in the starting of St. Bernard's Parish and has been a constant attendant of the church for 59 years. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. He was a member of St. Bernard's Court, M. C. O. F.; Newton Council, Knights of Columbus; Triton Council, Royal Arcanum; Waltham Lodge of Elks; Division 53, A. O. H.

DOG BITES WOMAN

Grace O'Meara of 510 California street, Newtonville, reported to the police Wednesday that a dog owned by Thomas Vasolotti of Melville avenue had bitten her. The dog was ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle notified to examine it.

To Hold Scout Merit Badge Exposition

Armory To Be Used For Norumbega Council Affair

One of the biggest ventures of Norumbega Council is the Merit Badge Exposition which will be held at the State Armory, West Newton, on Friday, and Saturday, Feb. 7 and 8. This begins Boy Scout Week, the 20th Anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America, which runs from February 7 to February 13th. This Exposition is for the purpose of showing the people of Newton, insofar as possible, some of the Merit Badge work of the Boy Scouts. They have been allowed free play in selecting their own Merit Badges and in planning how they will show them at the Armory.

They will show everything from Aviation to Reading there.

Exposition Opens at 7:30 on Friday evening, February 7, at 7:30, with a brief formality of throwing the doors wide by President Maynard Hutchinson of the Council. The affair will be open till ten o'clock that evening and from 3 to 10 o'clock on Saturday, the 8th.

Music on Friday evening will be by the DeMolay Band of Newton.

On Saturday, music will be by the Newton High School Band and by the Girl Scout Drum and Bugle Corps.

A nominal admission charge of 25c for adults and 10 cents for children under 15 years of age will be made.

Badges to Be Shown

Troop 1, Newtonville, will display Aviation, Safety, Conservation and Insect Life; Troop 2, Auburndale, will show Photography; Troop 4A, Highlands, will display Electricity, Carpentry, Woodcarving and Printing; Troop 4B, Highlands, will display Tenderfoot and 2nd Class requirements; Troop 5, Centre, will display Conservation and Aviation and, during the Exposition, will work on a large relief map of the Nobscot Reservation, owned by Norumbega Council and located in Sudbury and Framingham, and rated as one of the finest overnight camp sites in the United States; Troop 7, West Newton, will display Photography, Woodworking, Printing and Cycling; Troop 9, Waban, will display Camping and Pioneering; Troop 10, Waban, will display Camping, Cooking, Bird Study, Firemanship and Safety; Troop 11, Newton, will display First Aid, Reading, Aviation and Signalling; Ship 13 will have a Seascout display; Troop 14, Upper Falls, will display Electricity and Forestry; Troop 15, Auburndale, will show Conservation, Photography and Chemistry; Troop 16, Upper Falls, will put on Cycling; Troop 18, Centre, will display Surveying, Cycling and Camps and Pioneering; Troop 19, Centre, will display Firemanship, Pioneering and Printing.

It will be noted that there is considerable duplication in the Merit Badges, but that is in line with the plans of the Committee, which followed the policy of allowing each Troop to pick its own display, believing that Scouts would do best in that in which they are most interested.

The Boy Scout Committee on the Exposition has invited the Newton Girl Scout Council to take part and they will have an exhibition there.

Barron's, the Official Boy Scout outfitter for Norumbega Council, will also have a display.

POLICE NEWS

Friday afternoon a complaint was made to Police Headquarters that an automobile was parked well out on Tremont street impeding traffic. An effort was made unsuccessfully to learn who owned the car. When darkness fell Motorcycle Officer Dowling had the automobile towed to the Garden City Garage. The car was later claimed by Joseph Maguire of 9 Blackstone terrace.

The second Newton policeman to be suspended within two weeks was announced Saturday, January 25th by Chief Burke when Patrolman William B. Condrin was laid off for a period of four months. Condrin had a night route at Newtonville and was charged with conduct unbecoming an officer and with neglect of duty. According to the charge against him he was found at his home under the influence of liquor by Serge. Moan and Moran on the night of January 21st when he should have been on duty. The sergeants went to investigate after Condrin had telephoned Lieut. Hughes, in charge at headquarters that he was going off duty before it was time for him to do so.

Patrolman Joseph Charlton has entered a claim against the city asking payment of $24 for medical expenses incurred when he injured a toe following a fall he received while trying a store door at 311 Centre street on the night of December 15. Patrolman William Whelan asks the city to reimburse him for $6 medical expense necessitated by an injury to his left hand caused by a fall he received while trying a shop door at 425 Lexington street, Auburndale on the night of January 2. Trying back doors of stores in the darkness of nights has resulted in a number of injuries in past years to Newton policemen.

James A. Brown, 18, of 11 Edge-cliff road, Watertown, was arrested last Friday night on Church street, Newton by Serg. Mahoney, Patrolmen Maguire and Kelly. The police had suspected the youth of bootlegging and were lying in wait for him. When they saw his car stop, he was rushed by Maguire and Kelly and found to be carrying a bottle which contained four pints of alecked whiskey. He was in court Saturday charged with illegal transportation of liquor and with keeping and exposing liquor for sale. His case was continued for a week.

Archer Smith of 2133 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, was arrested Saturday night by Patrolmen McHugh and McGrath after the automobile he was driving had collided with another car. He was in the Newton court Monday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued to February 3.

Albert Pecorari of 25 Melbourne avenue, Newtonville, was fined $100 in the Newton court yesterday on the charge of maliciously damaging a building. Pecorari did the plastering on a house at 22-24 Melbourne avenue. He did not get paid for the work. To make bad matters worse the man who held title to the house and for whom Pecorari did the plastering ceased to own the building when a mortgage on it was foreclosed. Then, to relieve his feelings, Pecorari, according to the testimony offered in court busted the windows in the house. He may have relieved his feelings, but it cost him $100.

GLEE CLUB DINES

The active members of the Highland Glee Club together with former members and invited guests enjoyed an informal dinner at the Charles River Country Club on Monday night, January 27th. Mr. George Wright, President of the Club, was master of ceremonies. About sixty-five were present including Past President, John F. Capron, and Edgar Smith, one of the charter members and the Club's first conductor, who described the original meeting of the Club in December, 1903, with thirteen members present, later including about thirty members. Mr. Smith paid tribute to Mr. James H. Turnbull, the first president of the Club, who passed on in October, and described an early concert given in January, 1910, reading the various selections which the Club sang at that time. One of these, "The Bedouin Song," will be sung in the spring concert to be given by the Club, March next.

Mr. Chas. F. Taylor, Professor of aeronautical engineering at M. I. T., was the chief speaker of the evening. Mr. Melvin Crowell, baritone of the Arlington Street Church of Boston, sang a group of songs. The Glee Club plans to hold several dinners during each season.

CHARLES RIVER COUNTRY CLUB

At the annual meeting of the Charles River Country Club held recently three new directors, Fred W. Bancroft, John Bollinger and John B. Lotz, were elected. The officers who were all re-elected are Harold Green, president; E. Ray Spearre, vice president; Albert P. Everts, treasurer; and Rogers Dow, secretary.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Wednesday evening we started at 6.15 to cross the wide area which leads from Centre avenue bridge to the corner of Washington and Channing streets. Formerly a sidewalk afforded pedestrians protection for much of this distance, but when the new house for English 1 was built the sidewalk from the bridge towards Washington street was destroyed and never replaced. When we started to cross the wide open space no automobile was near. As we got about one-third of the way across an automobile could be seen opposite Bacon street near the Paramount Theatre. Ordinarily a pedestrian would have ample time to cover the distance between where we were and the northerly sidewalk of Washington street. But the person operating this automobile was stepping on the gas. He came along so rapidly that as we reached just beyond the centre of Washington street we had to stop quite abruptly to let him whiz by us a couple of feet away. Did the driver of this car slacken his speed when he saw a person out in the centre of the street crossing in front of him? He did not. Did it occur to him that the pedestrian might be some person with defective vision who might not observe the rapidly approaching vehicle? Not so one would notice it. The number plate on the rear of the car showed it to be registered in the name of a person residing on Harvard street, Newtonville.

We mention this because it has been suggested to us that after the car tracks will have been removed from Washington street, the big water main laid, and the street repaved, safety islands for pedestrians should be built opposite Centre avenue, Richardson street, Church street, the Church of Our Lady, Crafts street, Harvard street and streets between Newtonville and West Newton where persons who attempt to cross Washington street now have to risk their lives because of speeding automobiles. It has also been suggested that police traps be set along Washington street to catch the speeders. The weather conditions will not permit the use of stop watch and a measured distance could determine at what speed reckless motorists are operating.

One of the bills introduced in the Legislature by Mayor Weeks seeks to change the method of conducting municipal elections in this city. He would abolish the present system of voting which has occasioned so much adverse criticism. It would prevent wholesale candidacies by largely increasing the number of signatures necessary to get on the ballot. Under the present system anyone obtaining 100 signatures on nomination papers can run for Mayor, while getting 50 signatures can run for Alderman-at-Large and only 25 signatures are necessary to permit some aspiring citizen to announce his candidacy as Ward Alderman.

The bill introduced by Mayor Weeks will, if passed, make it necessary to obtain 1500 signatures before one can become a mayoralty candidate. Candidates for Aldermen-at-Large will have to procure 1050 signatures; and candidates for the School Committee will have to get the same number of endorses; to run for Ward Alderman it will be necessary to get 150 signatures. Candidates obtaining a plurality will win; it will not be necessary to get a majority of votes.

The system as advocated by Mayor Weeks is similar to that used in Boston. It will tend to prevent the candidacies of persons who have little standing in the city and who have slight chances of winning. Some citizens do not enthrone over a method of conducting elections which would allow a plurality rather than a majority vote to elect. To assure a majority vote it would be necessary to hold primaries. By compelling a large number of signatures on nomination papers practically the same results may be secured and the expense of primaries avoided. And, in this city primaries bring out but a small percentage of registered voters.

Youthful Lovers Made

Victims of Unkind Fate

One of the minor executives in a large New York office and one of the secretaries had been carrying on a secret romance for some time, although no one in the establishment was aware of it.

Being an up-to-date young man, the executive, who shall be known only by his first name, Philip, to save embarrassment, carried on his courtship in a modern manner. Instead of writing her letters in the preliminary stage of his campaign he conceived the idea of waiting until the rest of the office had gone home and then speaking a few words into the dictaphone she used.

The next morning she would put on the ear phones and hear something along this line: "This is Philip, sweetheart. Don't forget I love you."

But one day the secretary was ill and could not report to work. The result was that her substitute, starting to transcribe the letters on the cylinder, heard the love message and burst into laughter.

Philip was unable to stand up under the razzing he received daily thereafter and soon found another position.—New York Sun.

Process of Leavening

Bread Is Ancient One

Leavened bread, or bread which is made from distended dough, has been made since very early times. In fact, the leavening of bread was a practice known to the ancient Egyptians. They, in order to cause the new dough to rise, used to add a portion of dough which had been allowed to become sour. This old dough was called leaven, and gave the name to this process of breadmaking. This leaven evolved carbon dioxide gas in the dough and resulted in the formation of innumerable cells within the dough. These were distended by the heat of baking and the loaves formed presented an infinite number of minute honeycombed gas pockets. The same is the case when yeast is used. At the present day, thanks to research, more scientific methods of introducing carbon dioxide to dough to make it rise have been made available. Bakers have the choice of three—1, mechanical aeration; 2, use of yeast; 3, use of baking powders.

Ladies Made Their Own Shoes

For the moment Miss Milbank is still at Seaham, still earnestly writing poetry, and as a contrast making shoes. This activity was a by-product of the French revolution. Girls were, for some reason unexplained, taught to make their own shoes, and Annabella learned like the rest—apparently under Clermont's supervision, for the magazine displays an advertisement of "Messrs. Milbanks and Clermont's superior style of cutting shoes for ladies of fashion." Shoes, it is true, were fragile affairs, made of the thinnest kid or satin. Poetry and shoemaking were part of the daily round.—From "The Life of Lady Byron," by Ethel Colburn Mayne.

Organisms of Sponge

Little is known of the life history of the commercial sponges. In some species, if not all, the sexes are distinct, the female preponderating. The young produced from the eggs are free-swimming organisms and are still of very small size when they settle and become permanently attached. This must be a critical stage in their life history, for they are so minute that a very thin stratum of silt would be sufficient to engulf and smother them. As much of the sea bottom is covered with soft or shifting deposits, the mortality at this period must be very high.

Island's Short Life

A submarine volcano may pile up a bank or form a new island. The standard example is Graham Island, 30 miles southwest of Sicily; a ship passing thereby on June 28, 1831, felt a shock as if she had struck a sandbank, and by July 10 an eruption had begun which raised a new island that was at one time 200 feet high and three miles in circumference; after the close of the eruption the island was soon swept away by the waves, and it had been worn down to sea level by October in the same year.

Others Are Also Dumb

The unsophisticated yokel looked up as we approached. "Excuse me," I said, "but could you show us exactly where we are?" And I held out the map. He took it and looked at it for a moment. Then he grinned. "This is a map of Surrey," he said, politely. "I know that," I said. "What we want to know is exactly whereabouts in Essex we are." "You're not," he said. "You're in Kent."—Border Cities Star.

Short, Short, Short Story

One time a nice woman had a perfectly adorable husband. He was tall and handsome, neat, considerate and cheerful. So he never made faces at her when they played bridge and never brought comical-looking people home to dinner and never walked on his heels when he danced with her or did anything that a nice woman's perfectly adorable husband wouldn't do. But one evening he came home and failed to notice she had gotten a new permanent wave—the big brute.—Kansas City Star.

NEWTON SPORTS

Locals At Casey Games

Several former Newton high track athletes took part in several of the collegiate relay races at the Knights of Columbus games at the Garden last Saturday night. Hamilton Kollmyer, Newton and Exeter star, ran the third leg for the Harvard freshmen against the Holy Cross yearlings. The Holy Cross team was the victor. Harold D. Rising of Newton Centre, ran the first leg for Bowdoin in their relay against Colby and the Mass. Aggies. Bowdoin was scheduled to meet Tufts but the latter could not compete owing to illness of one of its runners so the Polar Bears formed a triangular race with the other two teams. Bowdoin won the race with Colby second. Northeastern University had no difficulty at all in taking its relay with the University of Maine. Jimmie McCruden, former Newton high captain and star 1000-yarder, ran the second leg for the Huskies. The Huskies' first runner handed over a 20-yard lead to McCruden who increased it to 30 before handing over his baton to the third man. The third and fourth runners increased the lead to 70 yards before the finish. The Huskies made the third best time of the evening at the mile distance and had they been pushed might have done even better. Tom Clausen, another former Newton high captain and 1000-yard runner, ran the first leg for the B. A. team against Columbus Council, K. of C. which won the race.

Newton Swimmers Lose

The Cambridge Y swimming team defeated the Newton Y mermen Tuesday evening in the Cantabs pool, 38 to 24. Davidson of Newton was the only double winner of the meet, taking both the 40-yard freestyle and 40-yard backstroke events. Kohler of Newton won the 100-yard freestyle and placed third in the 200-yard race. McGrath of Newton took second in the dive and third in the 100-yard breaststroke. Gallagher finished second in the 200-yard freestyle and Kimball third in the 40-yard freestyle for other Newton points. The 200-yard race was the feature of the meet, the contestants swimming side by side most of the distance.

Rice Seeded First

William Rice, Jr., of the Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club, is seeded number one in the individual state squash racquets singles tournament going on at Seven of the first round matches were played Tuesday. R. C. Vose, Jr., of Country Day, and Arthur S. Roberts of the Newton Y teams were eliminated by Hall and Barker of the Lincoln's Inn team. R. C. Bray of Newton Centre defeated Trafford of Lincoln's Inn.

Ralph Sturt of Newton Centre won his first round match yesterday from Watkins of the Harvard Club.

Newton Youths Score All Points Yesterday afternoon Worcester Academy defeated Bridgton Academy, 2 to 1, in an exciting hockey game on the former's rink. Curiously all the goals of the game were scored by ex-Newton high athletes. Jimmy Brown, Newton star, caged both goals for Worcester while Everett Scheffner, former Newton football captain saved Bridgton from a shut-out.

Gleason's Shot Ties Game

Francis Gleason scored a goal for Country Day school hockey team in its game with St. Mark's school yesterday afternoon at Southboro that tied the score at one all and saved the Newton school from defeat. The tally came in the third period on a difficult angle shot that caromed into the net off the goalie's pads.

University Trims Moncton

Last Friday and Saturday the University Club hockey team played a two game series with the Moncton Athletics of New Brunswick. The Friday night contest was won by the visitors, 2 to 1. On Saturday night the college graduates came back strong to shut out the Moncton team, 7 to 0. In this game Clark Hodder, former Newton high and Harvard star, scored two of the Hub team's goals and assisted in another.

Jayvees Hold Watertown Down

The Newton high school junior varsity hockey team held the Watertown varsity six to a solitary goal on the Crystal Lake rink Monday afternoon. It was the third consecutive Watertown victory. Although the Newton Jayvees were not considered in the same class with their opponents they showed much defensive strength.

Country Day Loses

The Country Day School hockey team was beaten by the Boston Latin school six Wednesday afternoon at Crystal Lake, Newton Centre, 4 to 1. In the third period Country Day was saved from a shut out by Francis Gleason who took a pass from Angier and shot the disc into the corner of the gate.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the week ending January 25, 1930, there were 154 patients in the hospital. Of this number 58 paid as much as cost of care, or more, 61 paid less than cost of care, and 35 patients, including babies, were treated free of charge. 11 babies were born, 6 girls and 5 boys. 142 patients were treated in the outpatient department, 10 in the eye clinic. 4 patients were visited by the social worker, and 6 patients transferred by the social service car. 7 emergency cases were admitted to the accident department.

Sunday evening, Jan. 26, at the fire-side service in the living-room of the nurses' home, Dr. D. G. Wilcox, of Newton Centre, gave a talk illustrated by colored lantern slides and moving pictures, telling of his trip through the Southwest, including the Petrified forests of Arizona, the Grand Canyon, and Utah. About fifty nurses were present.

On Monday evening, January 27, the Regular Meeting of the Staff was held at the hospital.

The Staff doctors were the guests of the Trustees at dinner at 7 o'clock. The annual meeting of the Trustees followed at eight o'clock. The reports for the year were presented, including the Superintendent's, the report of the medical department, the Treasurer's report, and others.

This evening, the Student Nurses are entertaining thirty tables at Bridge. The Bridge is given to raise funds for the printing of the Scutellus, the yearly publication of the School of Nursing. Of the seven accident cases treated at the hospital during the past week none were automobile accidents. Three men were treated one for stab wounds in the abdomen, one for a laceration of the middle finger of the right hand caused by a piece of glass, and one for a fractured leg caused when he fell on the ice. Two women were treated, one for a laceration of her finger caused by a carving knife, and one for a fractured wrist caused when she fell on the ice. One girl was treated for a lacerated finger, and one boy for a laceration of his scalp caused when he struck a pole while coasting.

BREAKS LEG TOBOGANNING

H. W. Flagg of 116 Plymouth road, Newton Highlands broke his left leg Sunday afternoon at the Newton Centre playground. Flagg was coasting on the toboggan slide at the playground. While returning from the foot of the slide he slipped on the ice. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

WORK FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

Last week the Mayor, with the co-operation of the Street Commissioner, took a noteworthy step in the administration of city affairs. The first of this month one hundred city employees were laid off because of lack of work. Later a few were taken on again when needed, according to Civil Service regulations, but the majority were still without employment and faced with more or less hardship. The administration conceived the plan of beginning some of the city work planned for later in the year at once if the unemployed workers agreed to waive their seniority rights in order that all might be treated equally and within the Civil Service Law. Full time employment could not be provided for all but each could be given three days' work a week. The plan met with the approval of the unemployed laborers and they were put to work on a half-time basis this week. For the next five weeks the men thus employed will not be forced to face many hardships and inconveniences. Only the unemployed man and his family can tell what this plan means to them.

A SOUTH SIDE JUNIOR HIGH

Present plans indicate the erection of a south side junior high school to be ready for use in September of 1931. It marks another step forward in the educational opportunities presented to the children of Newton residents. Newton's schools and its school system are known by reputation all over the country and they are our proudest possessions. At present we have two and a half junior high schools on the north side of the city. The new school will practically complete the establishment of the junior high system in the city although later on it is probable that another school of this type will be necessary in a Ward 6 location. While there are many other matters for which funds must be provided, the school program should not be curtailed.

A NEW DISTRICT COURT

While it is common knowledge that more modern and more adequate facilities are needed in the district court in Newton we trust that the passage of the bill now before the Legislature for such a building here will not result in such an extravagant waste of public funds as was expended on the ornate structure in Brighton. The site of the new District Court has not as yet been determined but in all probability it will be in West Newton where transportation facilities by train, bus and automobile are of the best.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE

Under present weather conditions automobile driving at more than a moderate rate of speed is an extremely dangerous practice. A light fall of snow on an ice-covered street, is one of the most treacherous surfaces imaginable. Whether or not it is because of the fact that the motorcycle force is lessened in the winter that motorists think they can speed without detection we do not know. At any rate we have noticed many drivers operating at a rate that in the summertime would have resulted in a trip to the courthouse.

A police force is the nearest approach to a military force that any municipality has and discipline must be maintained to insure an efficient force. Recently a four months' suspension was given a member of the local force after he was found drunk when on duty. The offence cannot be condoned, as such happenings have no place on any police force. The action of Mayor Weeks and Chief Burke is highly commendable.

Amid all the present discussion regarding a Greater Boston let us not forget that all of the four million and more dollars of Newton's tax levy is now expended for service and improvements wholly within our municipal limits. If we were merged with Boston or even a Greater Boston, it is certain that part of the Newton tax levy would be used for the benefit of less wealthy municipalities and subject to the activities of undesirable politicians. We feel certain that residents of Newton will not favor the plan to change our present form of government.

Minute Men Chapter, D. A. R., recently proved itself a pioneer, because it is the first Chapter to report to the State organization, the presentation of the Girl Homemakers certificate. Mrs. Herbert Elwin Child, Regent, Newton Upper Falls, had this pleasure, the group of girls being twelve of the Needham Girl Scouts who were professed in ten of the eleven subjects as presented by the State D. A. R. chairman. So great is the enthusiasm of these scouts that a much larger group is being prepared to receive the certificates in May.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Representative Luitwieler is one of the champions of the Commission on the Necessaries of Life and this week made a strong argument for the continuation of the commission's existence at a hearing before one of his own committees, State Administration. He left the chairman's seat to speak for the commission and answer its critics. Mr. Luitwieler has a bill to extend the commission to 1932. Unless some form of legislation is passed this year the commission will automatically pass out May 1 next.

One of the first roll calls in the House this year was that on a bill "relative to the avoidance of special legislation." It would cut down the number of measures introduced by individuals for action by the State or cities and towns. The theory of the bill is that instead of a petition for special legislation a department head either in the State, county or municipality could recommend a general bill covering the same point. Unless the matter merited a general bill it would not come before the General Court. The idea meets the favor of a majority of legislators. On roll call Representatives Baker, Luitwieler and Thompson voted for the measure.

A hearing will be given March 3 by the Committee on Public Health on the bill of Leland Powers, chairman of the Citizens' Defense Committee, to make vaccination non-compulsory. The proposed measure (House 567) reads as follows:

"No person shall be required to submit to any form of vaccination or inoculation as a condition precedent to admission to any school, institution of learning or public institution, nor to the exercise of any right, performance of any duty, or enjoyment of any privilege.

"Section fifteen of chapter seventy-six and section one hundred and eighty-one to one hundred and eighty-three, inclusive, of chapter one hundred and eleven of the General Laws and all acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto are hereby repealed.

The Committee on Cities has set a hearing for March 4 on Mayor Weeks' bill (House 734) "relative to the nomination and election of Mayor, Aldermen and Members of the School Committee in the city of Newton, and for the repeal of preferential voting." The bill reads as follows:

"Section 1. The mode of nomination and election of all city officers elected by the voters of the city of Newton, after acceptance of the provisions of this act in the manner here provided, shall be as hereinafter set forth.

"Section 2. Candidates for city offices to be elected shall be nominated only by nomination papers in accordance with the provisions of chapter fifty-three of the General Laws, as amended; provided, that nomination papers for the office of mayor shall be signed by at least fifteen hundred voters, for members of the school committee and for aldermen at large by at least ten hundred and fifty voters, not less than one hundred and fifty to be from each of the seven wards, and for aldermen by wards by at least one hundred and fifty voters of the ward in which the election is to be held.

"Section 3. No ballot shall have printed thereon any party or political designation or mark and there shall not be appended to the name of any candidate any such party or political designation, mark or anything indicating his views or opinions; provided, that, however, that every nomination paper may state, in not more than eight words, the public offices which a candidate holds or has held, and, if he is an elected incumbent of an office for which he seeks re-election, that he is a candidate for such re-election; and provided, further, that against the name of any such candidate there shall be printed on the official ballot for the election the statement contained in the nomination paper placing him in nomination.

"Section 4. This act shall be submitted to the voters of the city of Newton at the next state election in the form of the following question on the official ballot:—Shall an act passed by the general court in nineteen hundred and thirty, relative to the nomination and election of mayor, aldermen and members of the school committee in the city of Newton, be accepted? And if a majority of the voters cast thereon are in the affirmative, this act shall take full effect for the regular municipal election in said city on December eighth, nineteen hundred and thirty-one, otherwise it shall be void.

"Section 5. It shall be the duty of the city clerk and of other city officials to carry out the provisions of this act relating to elections, to the end that all things may be done necessary for the election of the officers next to be elected under the provisions thereof.

All laws, ordinances and regulations in force in said city when this act takes effect therein, not inconsistent with its provisions, shall continue in full force and effect until otherwise provided by law, ordinance or vote; provided, that no primaries shall be held for the nomination of candidates for the city election; and provided, further, that the provisions of chapter two hundred and sixty-one, Special Acts of nineteen hundred and sixteen, as amended, be and are hereby repealed.

Senator Hollis voted on rollcall against substituting for an adverse report of the Joint Rules Committee an order for an investigation by a special legislative committee of the pensioning of Oliver B. Garrett, ex-member of the Boston police department. Senator Hollis voted against an investigation of the case by the Attorney General.

Representatives Baker, Luitwieler and Thompson voted in favor of the investigation of the Garrett pension case which passed the House yesterday by a vote of 176 to 46.

A TRIBUTE TO THE LATE A. H. ELDER

To the Editor of the Graphic:

May I through you attempt to pay a tribute in behalf of the people of Newton Highlands to our beloved friend and neighbor, Harry Elder, who died on January 25th last.

His life in the community, his service to the institutions of his City, his Church and his friends have been such as to command the unanimous approval and admiration of all who knew him, and no man was better known. We are all in his debt. He has worked for every one of us over many years. Almost every campaign for the benefit of the numerous charities of his City found Harry Elder leading the work in Newton Highlands. His leadership during the war years was outstanding and brought honor to his community and his city. His service in the Constabulary during the Boston Police strike was characteristic. He saw it through to a finish.

His home life was ideal, such as to make everyone who knew Mrs. Elder and Harry glad they were neighbors. The devotion of husband and wife, the loving protection of each by the other were obvious. It was characteristic of both that during the last two years of his life when both he and his wife learned privately from his physician that his health was surely failing, neither ever admitted to the other that they knew.

The Newton Highlands Congregational Church was given his faithful service in unstinted measure.

The writer who has been numbered among his friends for nearly twenty-five years, played with him and worked with him, and knowing him for what he was, endeavored with others to persuade him to take public office. This he always refused, modestly insisting that others could better take the honor but saying that when there was work to be done, he would gladly do his part.

Such a life is a blessing in any community. He has shown us all by his example how to live completely as a citizen and as a man.

Mr. Albert Henry Elder, the only son of George H. and Martha Thaxter Elder, was born in West Newton, January 2, 1873. He was educated in the Public Schools of his native city. He went to work at the age of fifteen for the Boston Belting Company of Boston and remained in its employ for many years. On October 19, 1899, he married Miss Mabel E. Morse of Foxboro, Mass., and immediately thereafter made his home on Erie avenue, Newton Highlands where he lived until the day of his death, January 25, 1930. No one ever better deserved the benediction, "Well done, Good and Faithful Servant."

F. L. RICHARDSON.

WALTER E. C. WORTH FUNERAL SERVICES

Funeral services for Alderman Walter E. C. Worth were held last Sunday afternoon in First Church, Newton Centre. The presence of several hundreds of persons and a profusion of beautiful floral tributes showed the respect in which the deceased was held. Among those present were Mayor Weeks, former Mayor Childs, the entire Board of Aldermen, city officials and delegations from Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, Newton Central Council, Men's Clubs of Trinity Church and Newton Centre Methodist Episcopal Church, Hamilton Insurance Company, Newton Centre Improvement Association. The pallbearers were Harry Chisholm, John C. DeMille, Frank M. Grant, John W. Gahan, Robert Heyer, A. Alonzo Hughes, Walter May, Bartlett M. Shaw, F. P. Wilder and Dr. Henry Waters. The ushers were Dr. E. A. Andrews, George A. Holmes, Norman F. Pratt and William H. Rice.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dwight Bracey of the First Church and the eulogy was delivered by Rev. Frank D. Taylor of the Watertown Methodist Episcopal Church. Dr. Taylor told of the intimate friendship he had enjoyed with Mr. Worth and told of the sterling qualities of the deceased. He referred to the faculty of unselfish service possessed by Mr. Worth, of his unflinching cheerfulness, his desire to be helpful to persons, his interest in civic affairs. The Pilgrim Quartet sang favorite hymns of the deceased, including "Lead Kindly Light," "Abide With Me" and "Nearer My God to Thee." Interment was in Pine Grove Cemetery, Lynn.

—Mrs. Carl Eschbach is chairman of the supper and Mrs. Gladys Kersting has charge of the play.

—Officers of the Intermediate C. E. of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church for the spring term have been elected as follows: President, Albert Brooks; vice-president, Russell Carle; secretary, Barbara Carle; treasurer, Edith Armstrong. Miss Mary Cameron was elected chairman of the Candy committee for the Service Club supper on Wednesday evening Feb. 5th.

—Mr. John McCarthy, son of Mr. Michael McCarthy of 20 Auburndale avenue, who died at his law office at 246 Walnut street, Mr. Ryan parked the car on Walnut street Monday night and when he emerged from his office after midnight, the car was missing. It was found by the police on Foster street, a short distance from where it had been parked. Mr. Ryan was advised to lock the car hereafter, when he parks it.

—The Rev. John Shade Franklin of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church will preach on "The Desire of Jesus" at the Sunday morning service which marks the first anniversary of Mr. Franklin as the pastor there. The sermon topic will be "Baptist World Brotherhood," the day having been designated as Baptist World Alliance Sunday.

—Reports of the officers of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church show that the number of new members the past year has exceeded that of any year in the history of the church except in 1895. Thirty-five persons have joined the church during Mr. Franklin's first year of ministry here. The receipts of the church have been sufficient to wipe out a deficit from last year.

—A considerable repair work and meet expenses of the present year.

—Mrs. Herbert L. Felton gave a tea at her home on Chestnut street on Wednesday afternoon in honor of Miss Katharyn Wells, whose engagement to her son, Frederick L. Felton, was announced last March. A group of twelve young women friends of Miss Wells assisted in serving under the direction of the hostess' sub-deb-tante daughter, Miss Anne Felton. The pourers were Mrs. John A. Paine, Mrs. Warner V. Taylor, Mrs. Clifton F. Leatherbee, Mrs. Margaret A. Baldwin, Mrs. Grace F. Rice, Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, Mrs. Edward H. Wiswall and Mrs. Wm. T. Glidden, Jr. Mrs. Clifford G. #### POLICE NEWS

Albert DeCicco of 460 Watertown street, Nonantum, was found guilty in the Newton court Tuesday on the charge of stealing a watch. The complainant against him was his mother and the apparent reason for her action was her opposition to the friendship the youth has for a Nonantum young woman. When Judge Bacon found young DeCicco not guilty, the mother wanted to appeal the decision to the Superior Court.

Thomas Ryan of 96 Harvard street, Newtonville, reported to the police at 1 a. m. Tuesday that his car had been stolen from in front of his law office at 246 Walnut street. Mr. Ryan parked the car on Walnut street Monday night and when he emerged from his office after midnight, the car was missing. It was found by the police on Foster street, a short distance from where it had been parked. Mr. Ryan was advised to lock the car hereafter, when he parks it.

John Herlihy, 28, of New York City was in the Newton Court Wednesday charged with making threats. Police testified that Herlihy was arrested Tuesday afternoon on complaint of Mrs. Mary Smith who recently came from New York and is residing on Watertown street. Herlihy followed her to this city and when his attentions were spurned, he wrote a letter threatening to shoot the woman. Judge Bacon found the defendant guilty and released him on condition that he vacate to New York on the first available train. Which Herlihy did under the supervision of Inspector King.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Rev. Maurice L. Bullock of Auburn, Maine was the speaker at the Assembly of the Newtonville School of Religious Education last Tuesday evening, and the Rev. Edgar R. Walker of the Universalist Church of Waltham was the speaker at the Waltham School Assembly. Evidences of the popularity and inspirational value of Prof. Warrington's lectures in both schools continue to be seen, but an equal interest is shown in the methods courses that seek definitely to improve the teaching and administration of church schools.

The District Council is interested in promoting attendance at the International Convention of Religious Education, to be held June 23-29, 1930, in Toronto, Canada. This convention comes only once in four years and is often a rare opportunity for New England to participate largely. This year the Convention is comparatively near and promises to be a high mark in the progress of religious education. An interesting feature of the Convention will be the observance of the founding of the Sunday School for this year is the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the first Sunday School founded in Gloucester, England, in 1780 by Robert Raikes.

The official call for attendance at this Convention is signed by Russell Colgate, President of the Convention, and by other nationally known business men of our country who are interested in the spread of and improvement of religious teaching in the Protestant churches of this Continent.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

The 49th anniversary of Christian Endeavor will be observed in a Birthday Rally at the Waltham Congregational Church next Sunday at 4 p. m. Rev. Miles Smith of Boston will address the young people at that time. Refreshments will be served and the meeting will adjourn in time so that all may return direct to their local societies and churches.

Next Sunday Marion Hawes, vice-president of the Newton North Congregational C. E. Society, will lead the young people of that church in the topic "How May Endeavorers Crusade with Christ?"

The annual election of officers was held last Sunday evening at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, the following young people being elected: Newton Jones, president; Helen Nickerson, vice-president; Corine Boyd, secretary; Clayton Foster, treasurer; Lillian Chandler, lookout; Dorothy Jones, prayer meeting; Babette Shafer, social; "Dare Bigger Things" was the topic which Dorothy Jones took last Sunday for her subject. Next Sunday the young people will be led by Corine Boyd.

BEGINS ITS FIFTIETH YEAR

Forty-nine years ago on February 2nd the first Christian Endeavor Society was formed. Norumbega Union will celebrate this anniversary by a Birthday Rally at the Waltham Congregational Church at 4 p. m. The late Dr. Francis E. Clark of Newton, founder of the society, had no idea that it would spread until now practically encircles the globe and although other young people's societies had been formed prior to 1881, none lasted very long. What was it that gave Christian Endeavor its long life and far reaching growth? Some have said it was well advertised but such was not the case as the movement had little funds for such purposes. Publicity was given it by the enthusiastic members. Christian Endeavor met a profound need of the church and still meets it by giving the young people the opportunity to develop initiative and spiritual life through organized activity. Christian Endeavor puts responsibility upon young people. Its pledge was a challenge. Christian Endeavor set up a standard, embodied in the pledge, for young people to strive to attain. It appealed primarily to the religious instinct, making it fundamentally a religious organization. These are a few of the reasons why the organization prospered.

Much of its success was due to its founder and leader, Dr. Clark. He was conscious throughout his life of providential leading and he never undertook anything for the society without first seeking guidance from on high.

LASELL SEMINARY

At the vesper service on Sunday, February 2, Dr. Raymond Calkins of Cambridge will address the Lasell students. The service will be held at 6:15 in the chapel.

On Wednesday evening, February 5, a musicale will be given at Bragdon Hall. One of the artists will be Miss Elizabeth Irish, a former student at Lasell.

W. C. T. U.

The Newton W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Leslie Sanderson at 56 Hartford street, Newton Highlands, on Thursday, Feb. 6th, at 2:30 o'clock. The program will be "Child Welfare in Massachusetts." Mrs. Lucy J. Lincoln will be the speaker. The initiation of the White Ribbon Recruits will be an interesting and attractive part of the meeting. The National W. C. T. U. has issued a call to prayer in every State of the Union on Saturday, Feb. 1st, at 4:30 o'clock. Prayer is requested for the President of the United States, for Congress, for law enforcement and observance.

GIRL SCOUTS

On Saturday, January 25th, Troop 14 of Waban celebrated its fifth birthday with a banquet. Mrs. James R. Warren is the captain of this very flourishing Senior Troop. Many former members of the troop were present, as well as members of the Troop Committee, so that about fifty people sat down to supper. The chief event of the evening was the presenting of two Thanks Badges, one to Mrs. A. L. Stephen, chairman of the Troop Committee, and one to Mrs. Warren, in appreciation of the work they have done for the troop.

A talk on the Health Winner Merit Badge given by the examiner, Mrs. George Hatch, of West Newton, was of great benefit to all captains who attended, as this badge is a very popular one and all were anxious to know just what was expected from the girls. Miss Freeman also spoke at this meeting, on Wednesday, January 24th, giving the requirements for the Needlewoman and Dressmaker badges; some very fine work done by the girls of Troop 21, Newton Highlands, and Troop 15, West Newton, was exhibited at this time, that instructors might see the possibilities of these badges.

The new room at Headquarters, Room 4, bears a changed aspect indeed. Through the efforts of an untiring committee composed of Mrs. Ralph Emery, Chairman, Mrs. H. H. Ballard, Mrs. W. W. Bigelow, Miss Adelaide Ball, Miss Mary Elliot, and Mrs. Eleanor Widger, what was a bare workroom has become homelike and delightful. Curtains, couch covers, chairs, a lamp and a rug have effected this miracle; there are still details to be attended to before perfection is attained, but much has certainly been accomplished.

Metropolitan Boston held a skating party at the Boston Arena on Wednesday, January 29th, for all Girl Scouts. The Divisional Conference for leaders and Council Members was held Monday, Jan. 27th, at Wellesley. Newton had 13 present.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL CONCERT

Expressions of interest and anticipation have reached the committee, headed by Mrs. Donald E. Rust and Mrs. Ellis Spear, who are arranging the annual benefit concert for the All Newton Music School to be held on Feb. 12 at 8:15 p. m. in the Auditorium of the Newton High School. Music critics place the Negro Spiritual in the class of folk songs and give generous praise to the two artists, J. Rosamond Johnson and Taylor Gordon, who have raised the Negro Spiritual to its proper place in the musical world. The programme which these two well-known negro musicians will present is as follows:

1. "Gimmie Yo' Han," "Scandalize My Name," "O My Good Lord Show De Way," "Jimmie," "My Lord Says He's Gwine to Rain Down Fire."
2. "Walk in Jerusalem Jus' Like John," "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord," "Sunday Mornin' Lam," "To See God's Bleedin' Lam," "Joshua Fit De Battle O' Jericho," "African Drum Dance."
3. "Hallelujah," "Little David Play on Yo' Harp," "Peter On De Sea, Sea, Sea, Sea," "Stan' Still Jordan."
4. "Keep De Ol' Ark A-Moverin'," "Git on Bo' Little Children," "Witness for My Lord."

The village chairmen are as follows: Auburndale, Miss Mabel Eager; West Newton, Mrs. William Lloyd Garrison; Mrs. Quincy W. Wales, Mrs. Joseph W. Lovell, Miss Elizabeth Fyffe; Waban, Mrs. Ellis Spear; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Quincy W. Wales; Newton, Mrs. Henry O. Marcy, Mrs. John T. Alden; Newtonville, Mrs. Donald E. Rust; Newton Centre, Mrs. Ellis Spear.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Professor Frederick K. Morris, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, member of the Roy Chapman Andrews expedition to Mongolia in search of ancient man, will conduct the second of his interesting discussions on the origin and development of man on this earth on Saturday, February 1, at three o'clock at the Children's Museum. Admission is free.

"Life in Other Worlds" is the subject of the Sunday afternoon talk at three-thirty by Horace Taylor, former president of the Bond Astronomical Club of Harvard University, lecturer for the Massachusetts Extension Service and for Tufts College. Lantern slides will be used for illustration. Admission is free.

The schedule of school talks for February, just announced by Miss Mildred E. Manter, Director, offers an interesting choice of topics. Grades I to IV may have "Sailing the Blue Sea," (a trip on the Mediterranean), or they may have "Pot Holes and Kettle Holes" (described as "stories in the earth around Boston") or they may choose "Windmill Land," all about Holland. For this talk, Miss Donna B. Folant, who is in charge of the schedule for these grades, wears a picturesque Volendam costume.

Grades V to VIII may hear about "Wheat and its Deadly Enemy, the Wheat Rust," the story behind a nation's food; or "The Grandeur that was Rome," or "Let's talk about the Weather," by a Boston barometer, translated by Miss Madalene B. Sawyer, who is in charge of talks for these grades.

VISIT CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

The fifth grade pupils of the Angler School of Waban and the sixth grade pupils of the Horace Mann School of Newtonville were recent visitors to the Children's Museum of Boston. They attended an illustrated lecture on "The Glory that was Greece," by Miss Madalene B. Sawyer of the Museum Staff.

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday, January 27th, at the Woodland Golf Club at 12:15, President Charles D. Ansley presiding.

Howard G. Frost, who is a member of the Rotary Club of Newton, gave a very interesting talk on "Tree and Shrub Growing." Mr. Frost is proprietor of the Brae Burn Nurseries of West Newton.

He explained to us how even the style of planting trees and shrubs about the home has changed. Fruit trees such as the plum, peach, and apple, although beautiful when in bloom and also when the fruit is ready to be picked are never used for ornamental purposes today, but evergreens and small trees with different colors of foliage that bear no flowers or fruits are being used almost entirely for beautifying the lawns. He suggested as a slogan, "America the Beautiful, Newton the Garden City."

Dr. Arthur M. Ellis and Karl W. Switzer of Newton Centre are still confined to their homes by sickness but are slowly improving.

In a letter received from John C. Brimblecom, who is spending the winter in De Land, Florida, we are pleased to know that Mr. Brimblecom's health is much improved and he is enjoying his daily game of golf and the warm climate and sunshine of the South.

CHEVROLET WORKERS FIND NO AGE BARRIERS

"A man is as old as he works," "Today" when youth is generally given the preference in industry, the attitude of the Chevrolet Motor Company toward older men and veteran employees presents an interesting view of some of the policies which have contributed to the growth and development of the Chevrolet manufacturing organization.

Man-power, the most vital factor in industry, its selection, management and productivity, has been a chief concern of Charles F. Barth, vice president and general manufacturing manager, who at 63 heads up one of the largest factory organizations in industry.

Commenting on the status of the veteran in industry, Mr. Barth declares that "age is no barrier to employment and promotion is no exception. We have drawn no age lines in our organization. If a man is physically fit and disposed to do his work in mind for him he will receive favorable consideration, regardless of his age."

In its Flint plants alone, Chevrolet is now employing 324 men over 50 years of age. Of these 131 are between the ages of 50 and 55; 98 are between the ages of 55 and 60 and 95 are more than 60 years of age.

Sentiment plays but a small part in the scheme of things, despite the company's interest in older men, Mr. Barth explains. The company is perhaps, "hardheaded" in its evaluation of their worth. We have no ribbons or buttons for our oldtimers. Each man is put on his own mettle and made to feel the responsibility we place in him. We appeal to and rely on the man in men.

The oldtimer is valuable in a large sense. Older men are the stabilizing influences so vital to industry today; they help constitute the backbone of the organization. By their balance and poise they instill confidence in beginners and, having themselves a feeling of loyalty to the organization, they inspire it in their fellow workers.

"They have that experience that money cannot buy, nor book learning provide. They are no longer theorists. They make the most of the opportunities about them rather than fondling the hope of some ideal situation that seems to show faintly in the future."

"They take pride in their good service records built up over a period of years and apply themselves diligently to preserve them."

"At the same time we are fully mindful of the great contribution that youth is making to industry. Youth supplies the power, age the experience."

FIRE RECORD

A small sedan owned by Percy Rogers of 656 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, was considerably damaged by fire Saturday evening at the gasoline filling station on Chestnut street, near Winter street, Newton Upper Falls. Gasoline was being poured into the tank on the car when some of it spilled onto the hood and dropped onto the hot manifold and ignited. Box 616 was pulled and the crew from Hose 7 were soon on the scene.

Monday morning at 8:22 Box 722 was pulled for a fire in the house at 19 Maple Park, Newton Centre, owned and occupied by Frederick McIsaac. The fire apparently started in a cold air box near the furnace and worked up to the first floor. Considerable damage to the contents of the house from smoke resulted.

Wednesday afternoon about 1:30 fire was discovered in the house at 534 Ward street, Newton Centre, occupied by Melville Smith. A telephone call brought Engine 2 and when the firemen arrived and forced entrance into the house the seriousness of the fire caused other apparatus to be summoned by pulling Box 713. The blaze started near an oil-heater and spread up through the house causing damage to the building and contents estimated at several thousands of dollars. Much of this damage was from the heavy smoke.

Box 631 at 10:53 Wednesday night was for a fire in the house at 52 Mechanic street, Newton Upper Falls, occupied by Antron Safarian and owned by William Mason. The blaze was caused by a defective stovepipe. The damage was slight.

Alaska May Be Dubbed

Original Ellis Island

It is now evident that America was originally peopled by immigrants from Asia and it is probable that Alaska was the first scene of human history on this continent. Edward M. Weyer described at New Haven the relics yielded by prehistoric villages discovered during his explorations in Alaska. "The American continents are younger with regard to human occupation than the Eastern hemisphere," according to Weyer. "The very first immigrants to them, the forerunners of the American Indians, doubtless came from Asia. Thus Alaska, which lies much closer to Asia than any other part of America, probably was the gateway through which passed these early Asiatic immigrants."

"The northwestern corner of North America, therefore, can be regarded as the first scene of human history in America. No aborigines of Arctic America, so far as is known, ever used a written language. Consequently the mute relics of material culture are the only source of historical information here. Nevertheless the buried prehistoric villages of Alaska yield secrets to the archeologist."—Pathfinder Magazine.

Famous Carnac Stones

Puzzles to Scientists

The Stones of Carnac in Brittany are one of the wonders of the age. Nobody knows when they were erected, or why. Nowhere throughout Europe can there be seen such perplexing evidence of an early race combining the most primitive simplicity with indications of a profound knowledge. Vast alignments of huge stones attract the eye, headed or terminated by circles or dolmens (table stones commonly called cromlechs) extending at intervals as far as seven miles to Locmariaquer and bulging out in all directions to Erdevyen, St. Barbe, Kernario, Kerlescan and the Quiberon. Intersected among these are tumuli, menhirs, dolmens (holed stones) and engraved stones.

To the casual visitor they are remnants of stone worship, burying places or records of conquered foes and victories past. Their strange markings are exactly similar to the thumb marks of the human hand, but done on a large scale and with wonderful accuracy. The height of the Egyptian columns and obelisks is almost exactly the same. What relation has Carnac with Egypt?

Cocoa Cause of Dispute

A Florentino who had resided in the West Indies introduced chocolate into Italy, whence its use gradually spread through Europe, though not without opposition.

Its introduction into Prussia was prohibited by Frederick the Great. A famous Paris physician, Bachot, on the other hand, proclaimed cocoa as one of the most noble of discoveries, far more worthy to be the food of the gods than nectar and ambrosia, and Linnaeus, noted Swedish botanist, who gave cocoa its scientific christening, coined a name "Theobroma" from two Greek words meaning "food for the gods," which remains its scientific name today.

Early Umbrellas Clumsy

The first fashionable sunshades imported into England were luxurious affairs, composed on the outside of bird feathers. During Queen Anne's reign a more practical odd silk came into use and umbrellas began to be used as much on rainy days as they were under the summer sun. These early English specimens were clumsy affairs made of heavy waxcloth with cane ribs. When wet, the material stuck together and opening or closing them was a job for a superman. It was not until 1852 that Samuel Fox invented the modern type.—Detroit News.

Five-Eyed Insects

All insects, with few exceptions, have five eyes. Two of these are the compound eyes, which are situated one on each side of the head. The three remaining eyes are of the ordinary kind and are found on top of the head. These are usually clustered closely together in the form of a triangle. The compound eyes are for normal vision; the three simple eyes being more light sensitive, are able to distinguish between light and darkness. This is very important, especially for the night flying insects.

Radio Tends the Baby

An eastern mother whose husband is a radio expert, makes her radio tend the baby. When she puts him in his crib upstairs she places the loud speaker near him. By turning the loud speaker into a microphone, by use of an adapter, when the baby wakes up and cries mother gets the signal by radio wherever her household duties may take her. This is done by reversing the radio set. No nursemaid was ever more watchful and unflinching.—Capper's Weekly.

For a Pie

Buddy, not quite three, is exceedingly fond of pie. One day his mother remarked that she just didn't know what to have for dinner.

"I know," said Buddy, "have pie." "Well, I don't believe I have anything to make pie with," answered mother.

"Oh, yes, mother, you have a receipt," was the response.

ERDMANN—ALDRED

Miss Doris Elizabeth Aldred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James William Aldred of 353 Woodward street, Waban, was married to Charles Z. Erdmann, son of Charles Z. Erdmann of Chillicothe, Ohio, on Saturday evening, January twenty-five, at the home of her parents. Rev. Joseph C. McDonald, pastor of the Union Church, Waban, performed the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Miss Mary E. Brackett of Milton as maid of honor, Miss Irma F. Jones of Portland, Maine, and Miss Doris E. Moores of West Newton as bridesmaids, all three of whom were classmates of the bride at the Newton Hospital Training School for Nurses. Barbara Jordan Smith of Manchester, New Hampshire, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. Ralph Spaulding of Lexington, Mass., was the best man and the ushers were William D. Aldred, a brother of the bride, and Roland Halfpenny of Boston.

A reception was held following the ceremony at which the couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Aldred and Mrs. Erdmann, Sr.

On their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Erdmann will reside at Chillicothe, Ohio.

The bride attended school in Manchester, New Hampshire, and Brooklyn, N. Y., and is a graduate of the Newton Hospital Training School for Nurses, and has been a supervisor at the Newton Hospital since her graduation. Mr. Erdmann is a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Pharmacy, Boston, and is now in business in Chillicothe, Ohio.

NIELSON—HEALD

Miss Elsie Parker Heald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Heald of Auburndale, was married to Carl Oliver Nielson of 81 Nonantum street, Brighton, on the home of her parents, 35 Devon, St. Barbe, Kernario, Kerlescan and the Quiberon. Intersected among these are tumuli, menhirs, dolmens (holed stones) and engraved stones.

Of Indian Derivation

The "Tuscarora Deep" was so named from the U. S. S. Tuscarora, the vessel under the command of Captain Belknap, which made an expedition to the Pacific for the purpose of studying the ocean bed. The maximum depth was recorded by the Tuscarora in 1874. The name itself is of Indian derivation and literally means "bump gatherers."

Tattoo No Longer Popular

Tattooing is a relic of the past. In so far as the navy is concerned, it is discarded and discredited, with no place on the holy and mind of the present-day sailor. The tattooing "parlor," which graced the vicinity of every navy yard and water front, has gone and in its place a new form of the art has appeared, that of tattoo removers.

Varying Quality of Fur

It is not definitely known why some badgers when caught have a predominance of hair and others a predominance of fur. The proportion of the different type of pelage varies in different parts of the year, likewise with the habits of certain animals, under which conditions the hair or fur may be rubbed or broken off.

Steeplechase Obstacles

The highest jumps in the British Grand National F. C. are thorn fences 5 feet high and 2 feet thick. One of the fences is 4 feet 10 inches high and has a ditch on the take-off side 6 feet wide and 4 feet deep. Becher's brook is a thorn fence 4 feet 10 inches high with a brook on the far side 8 feet wide and 4 feet deep.

Wood for Toothpicks

White birch is used most extensively for the making of toothpicks. The seat of the industry is in Maine, but some are imported from Japan and Portugal. The Portuguese toothpicks are made of orange wood and are smaller and tougher. Those from Japan are made from fine reeds.

Obnoxious Gas

George had been attracted to a house in the neighborhood by the assembled crowd. After an investigation he came to his mother saying: "I went down to Boyd's to see what was the matter. Mr. Boyd is about dead with obnoxious gas in his garage."

Danger in Bouquet

Care must be taken in smelling flowers that one does not inhale too vigorously, because tiny insects that live in the flower may thus enter the nasal passages and cause considerable inflammation.

Flags on Merchant Vessels

By an ancient rule of the sea merchant ships fly two flags. On the foremast is the flag of the port to which the ship is bound, and on the stern mast the flag of the ship's country is flown.

Marks of Inefficiency

The inefficient man usually overemphasizes the unimportant and neglects the important. He practices petty economies and neglects big opportunities.—Woman's Home Companion.

Character Formation

There cannot be any goodness unless it is a practiced goodness. Genius forms itself in solitude, but a character in struggling with the world.—George Meredith.

KIWANIS CLUB

The Newton Kiwanis Club at its meeting on Tuesday paid tribute to Past President Walter Whalin and Vice President Will White. Past President James Gallagher praised the work of Mr. Whalin for the club when he made the presentation of a Past President's emblem to that gentleman. The recipient expressed his appreciation of the gift and assured the club members that he will continue to work for the interests of the organization.

President Clem Hernandez expressed the club's regret in losing Will White who resigns from the management of Norumbega Park to become manager of a huge amusement park in Westchester County, New York. Mr. White gave freely of his time and talents in furthering the work of the Newton Kiwanis Club and was especially interested in the activities relating to underprivileged children. He was presented with a set of cuff links. In response he told of the pleasure he had derived from working for the Kiwanis projects and from his associations with his fellow members. Mr. White stated that anytime the club wants his assistance he will gladly come on from New York to co-operate in the Kiwanis work.

How Poppy Became Symbol

There is some confusion and misunderstanding in regard to the use of the poppy as a symbol, by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The poppy was first sold in this country for war relief before the armistice, when Mme. Guerin disposed of millions of them which had been made by French orphans. The Veterans of Foreign Wars bought the last of her stock. In 1920 the American Legion had a national poppy sale but in 1921 had a daisy sale. The Veterans of Foreign Wars then had a poppy drive. Later the Legion used the poppy. Both organizations now sell poppies near Memorial day for raising funds for needy veterans, and it seems that this flower has found a place in the American heart along with the red cross upon a white field.

Tit for Tat

"Ah," said the elderly tramp, giving his brimless hat a twist, "education is a wonderful thing in our line of business."
"Why whatever good is education to us?" asked the younger road walker.

"Well?"
"An' she replied with a little bacon."

Duty

An Indiana business man who is cranky about his food addressed his wife by setting his cup of coffee in the platter of butter.
"What do you mean by doing a trick like that?" inquired the wife.
"I am only carrying out an injunction of humanity. It's the duty of the strong to support the weak," replied the aggrieved husband.—Indianapolis Star.

SEVERAL NEWTON HOMES SOLD

Not far from the Brae Burn Country Club course, at No. 414 Chestnut street, Waban, is an English brick house with two-car heated garage in the basement and 25,000 square feet of land, which has been purchased for Rebecca H. Weedon of Newton. The house includes 5 bedrooms and 3 baths; also living-room, dining-room, paneled library, and kitchen on the first floor. The seller is Alice L. Mandell of Cambridge. This property is valued at $30,000. The buyer will occupy it.

The major portion of property known as the O'Driscoll Estate, located at the southern end of Thornton and Wade streets, Newton Highlands, has been conveyed by the heirs of Daniel O'Driscoll, owners of the place for almost half a century. This parcel, consisting of 4½ acres of undeveloped land, at the present time, has been surveyed and divided into house lots by the new owners, Thomas and Rocco Grasso of Needham. Present plans include putting through an excellent street and the opening up of individual lots for improvement to builders and home-seekers. The land is assessed for $4000.

Monte M. Lacy has recently sold property, No. 131 Lake avenue, Newton Centre, consisting of a 9-room, 2-bath house, 2-car garage, and about 10,000 square feet of land. This house is in the heart of the popular Crystal Lake Section of Newton. Mr. T. Lawrence Davis, dean of Boston University College of Practical Arts and Letters is the purchaser, and, after making extensive alterations and additions, will occupy in the late spring. The assessment is $9500, and the property is valued at $15,000.

An interesting Colonial house of 7 rooms and bath, together with a one-car garage and 12,000 square feet of land has been sold to Alice L. Mandell of Cambridge. The seller is Rebecca H. Weedon of Newton, and the property includes an extra lot with shade trees and gardens. The value of the whole parcel is $13,500.

Alford Bros. were the brokers in all these transactions.

The White Star Line announces another popular all-expense vacation tour of Europe sailing from Boston on the S.S. Cedric on August 31. Tour A will take 30 days and the itinerary includes London, Berlin, Munich, the Passion Play at Oberammergau, Lucerne and Paris. The cost is but $410. Tour B costing $490 and extending 38 days includes London, Berlin, Munich, Oberammergau, Lucerne, Venice, Rome, Florence, Milan, Montreux and Paris. Avoid crowded summer sailings. Make your reservations now for this late summer tour. Obtain them from the NEWTON STEAMSHIP AGENCY, Postoffice Building, Centre avenue, Newton.

Since 1512, when Ponce de Leon sailed to Nassau in quest of the legendary fountain of youth, the Bahamas have attracted pleasure, treasure and health seekers. From the tempestuous days of Blackbeard and his swarthy pirates, down through the years of strife against the marauders of the sea, the Bahamas have reached the perfect and enduring charm of a present-day coral island paradise.

In a chain 400 miles long, the 3000 coral islands, bays and rocks of the Bahamas dot the eastern margin of the Gulf Stream, beginning 40 miles off the Florida coast and extending southeast to Inagua, from which the mountains of Cuba are visible. Some twenty-five of the islands are inhabited, with a total population of about 60,000, forming one of the oldest British colonies.

Nassau, the capital city, is on New Providence Island, which is about six miles wide and twenty miles long, 135 miles from Miami. Its ideal climate has won for it the title "The Isle of June." The S.S. Munargo (12,500 tons) of the Munson Lines provides a weekly service from New York to Nassau. Reservations may be obtained from the NEWTON STEAMSHIP AGENCY, 11 Centre avenue, Newton.

Left Player Pondering

The farmer owned fields on each side of the golf links. It so happened that he was taking a short cut from one to another when the club's worst member was addressing his ball.

The worst member wagged his driver to and fro for several minutes, missed four swings, and finally managed to hit the ball about a dozen feet. Then he glanced up and saw the farmer.

"I say," he protested, "only golfers are allowed on this course, you know."

The farmer nodded.

"I do know," he replied "But I won't say nothin' if you don't."—London Answers

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

Having received so much praise for shoveling the snow from the sidewalk in front of my home I am now looking forward eagerly to the next storm. It had never occurred to me that a citizen was doing more than his plain duty when he got out with a shovel and tossed the accumulated flakes hither and thither in order to make an obstructed passage for his fellow humans. I found, however, that when I communicated my thoughts on the subject to readers of this column that they were interested enough to discuss the general idea. It was a bit flattering, I must admit.

But there are features about this shoveling stuff that still upset me. I have never failed to encounter the individual who treats my labor as a sort of joke. "The snow, yes, almost every time I shovel snow somebody comes along with, 'Well, well, I'm glad to see you working'." As it is a matter of record that I haven't been able to steal a day off since last Fall I must say that such a thrust irritates me. By the exercise of admirable power of self-control I manage to refrain from pitching a quantity of snow in the direction of the joker.

On the other hand I feel quite elated when a police officer passes by and says, "We don't have to keep after you about cleaning your sidewalk." I received that sort of praise only last week and threw my chest out. The next minute, however, I drew it in a little because the same official added, "You do it for the exercise, of course." It is disappointing to have anybody place such a construction on your display of patriotism and altruism combined. To be thought selfish about the whole business is not fair to us industrious snow-shovelers.

Now I come to the point that stirs my angry passions more than anything else. It is when I happened to have reached the scene earlier than my neighbors and get the sidewalk nice and clean. The passersby who have waded through the snow immediately seize the opportunity to clean their shoes or remove in part some of the snow that has clung to their over-shoes. They appear to think that the sidewalk has been cleaned for that purpose alone. If I may say so, I enjoy the applause of my fellows for what I have accomplished as a snow-shoveler. They may cheer me and they may clap their hands but I protest emphatically when they stamp their feet.

Have you observed how rapidly the present session of the Legislature has handled the matters before it? There has never been a year, they tell me, that the Legislature has contained so many matters. This means that the clerks of the two branches have kept continuously on the job and have indexed and docketed the various petitions and resolves so expeditiously that the legislators have had things before them for consideration much earlier than in previous sessions. Inasmuch as the clerk of the House of Representatives has about three times of much of this to do as the clerk of the Senate, the majority of bills having been filed in the House, we may praise the lower branch without hesitation.

Unostentatiously our own fellow citizen, Speaker Leverett Saltonstall, has kept a close supervision of the work of his branch in order that it may be said that there has been no unnecessary delay. With all respect to the days gone by there has always been in years past a tendency to take things pretty easy when the two branches of the Legislature. No one has ever seen fit to urge speed at the beginning of an annual session, yet it has been the custom of decades to rush like mad the last few days in order that prorogation might be reached by the last day of a given week. Speaker Saltonstall has seen the wisdom of the Legislature.

It is strange to hear many legislators protesting against keeping business moving. They think that it is an argument in favor of biennial sessions. At least they have an idea that if they don't drag a session out for months and months the public will get an idea that there isn't much work to be done. On the other hand they seem to think that if they make a lot of what is given them to do the voters will be greatly impressed and admit that it is a serious if not ponderous matter and the longer a session lasts the better for everybody.

Each year an effort is made (from the outside usually) to have biennial sessions in Massachusetts. There is always a large vote against it on the part of the solons. So one may well expect that biennial sessions will be a long time getting here if they ever do. I for one think that opposition to annual sessions would be greatly reduced if the work was cleaned up inside of three or four months. It is these extended sessions that make voters weary. Let them meet every year, but make it short and snappy.

"No person shall manufacture or keep for sale any cigarette, any part of which contains any chemical or substance which will increase its combustion or cause it to burn continuously after being discarded" and "No person shall manufacture or keep for sale any cigarette, any part of which will continue to burn in a state of combustion longer than five minutes after being discarded or thrown away by the smoker thereof."

You may not be a smoker, but still I hope you will consider the above excerpts from a law which it is proposed to place on the statute books. One doesn't need to be partial to pipe cigar or "cig" to know what is meant by continuous burning after having been discarded. I guess the firemen could tell a lot. Every time I read of an awning catching on fire I find that the theory is advanced that a lighted cigarette was dropped on it from a floor above.

New Eagle Scouts

The January Court of Honor was held at the Newton High school, in the new gymnasium, on Friday evening, January 24th. The program and carrying on of the Court of Honor were under the direction of the Eagle Circle, with Eagle Scout Richard Schroeder, ASM of Troop 4A, Highlands, in the Chair. The Court opened with a call to attention by Mr. Schroeder while the Court members marched in. Followed the Color ceremony with all at Salute.

Immediately after the color ceremony, Scout Herbert Levenson of Troop 9, Waban, with his assisting Scouts from the same Troop gave an original demonstration of first aid, which was excellent. Scout Levenson worked up the material himself and trained his assistants.

Then Mr. Clayton Ernst, editor of "The Open Road" and co-editor of "First Aid for Boys" spoke on the value of First Aid.

At the close of this part of the program, Scout Schroeder called out the details and they were presented to the awarders by Eagle Scout Alexander Pratt of Troop 11.

Second Class badges were awarded by Mr. R. B. Emery, acting Director of the Board of Scout Examinations; First Class badges were awarded by Eagle Scout Alfred Ziegler, ASM of Troop 1, Newtonville; Merit Badges, by Mr. J. M. Woodbridge, Jr., Chairman of the Court of Honor Committee and Mr. F. E. Lichtenhauser, Scoutmaster of Troop 4A, Highlands and member of the Court of Honor Committee.

Star Scout awards were made by Mr. J. C. Irwin, Honorary Commissioner of the Council; Life Scout award by Scout Commissioner John M. Bierer; Five-Year Veteran awards by Mr. J. R. Warren, Chairman of the Leadership and Training Committee. Following this, the Jamboree Troop members present, clad in the shorts, shirt and red neckerchief, the official Jamboree uniform, preceded by Mr. Harris (Uncle Pat), the Associate Scoutmaster of the Jamboree Troop, were called forward and presented with the final certificates of their attendance at the World Jamboree by Scout Executive Bruce, Scoutmaster of the Jamboree Troop, after a brief exposition of the Norumbega Council Troop and the Jamboree.

Eagle Badges Presented by President Hutchinson

At this point came the climax of the Court of Honor. After calling all present to attention, Eagle Scout Schroeder requested Scoutmaster Douglas Sloane of Troop 1, Newtonville to present Scouts Roger Maynard and Robert Irwin and Scoutmaster W. P. Harris of Troop 10, Waban, to present Scout Robert Ashley for the Eagle Badge award, scouting's highest honor.

With brief, appropriate words, president Hutchinson pinned the hard-earned Eagle Badge on these three candidates for the honor; the Scouts present gave a rousing cheer for the new Eagles and they were then greeted by the present Eagles.

After this ceremony, all stood at Parade Rest during the sounding of Retreat, at salute while the Colors, with their guard of Eagle Scouts, marched off and, after them, the Court members. Eagle Scout Schroeder then declared the Court closed.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

COMING EVENTS

Waban Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, which will be held on Monday afternoon, February 3rd, will be in charge of Mrs. Harold E. Fernald, chairman of the Legislation committee. She will present Mrs. Claude U. Gilson, the subject of whose speech will be "An Unofficial Observer of Congress." She will touch upon such interesting topics as our International Relations, with special reference to the London Naval Conference. There will also be a short musical program in charge of Mrs. Charles B. Jones, chairman of the Music committee. Mr. Ralph Talley, Baritone, member of the Harvard Church Quartet, will give a group of songs.

Tea will be served at the close of the meeting. The hostesses at the social hour will be Mrs. Herbert W. Smith and Mrs. Charles Vary.

The Open Meeting of the Education committee, Mrs. Alexander S. MacMillan, chairman, will be held at the home of Mrs. Karl Kennison, 28 Byfield road, on Wednesday morning, February 5th, at 10 o'clock. The subject of the informal discussion will be "The Later Adolescent Period."

Newton Mothers' Club

The annual Charity Meeting, a bridge party, will be held on Monday, February 3rd, at 2.30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. George Schrafft, of 885 Centre street, Newton. Mrs. H. N. Glover is chairman of the Charity committee and she hopes that the members and guests unable to play "bridge," will come for tea at 4.30 p. m.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

A Travelogue: "Jasper Park, Alberta and Alaska," is the attraction for the meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club at their meeting on Monday evening, February 3rd, at the Club rooms in the Emerson School. The pictures will be shown by Mr. C. W. Holt, who is with the passenger department of the Canadian National Railway, while the descriptions will be given by Miss A. Gertrude Osborne, a member of the Club, who took the trip to be described or part of it, in 1927.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club is presenting "Bab" a four-act comedy, on its regular Club day, Tuesday.

Miss Marjorie Comer, who plays the title role in "Bab." Although sixteen years of age, she has played the lead in such plays as "Daddy Long Legs," "The Mummy and the Mumps," and the "Florist Shop." She is an honor pupil in the senior class of the Newton High School.

February 4th. This will be given in the evening at the Newton High School Auditorium at 8 p. m. with admission on presentation of membership ticket.

The cast is made up of Mariada Comer as "Bab"; Irving E. Locke, Sidney Woodward, Winthrop Clark, Martin Kingsland, Philip Steinmetz, Henry Bates, Jr., Mabel Drew, Gertrude Hansen, Ann Judkins, and Edith Houston. There will be a special musical program by Miss Mary Puccia-relli, Violinist; Miss Doris Forte, Cellist; and Miss Beulah French, Pianist. Mrs. Claude Blackley is the soloist during the third act, and the Andres Trio will furnish the dance music.

Admission will be sold during the intermission by daughters of Club members. Mrs. Anton Fried and Mrs. Lowell Burrows have this in charge. All members are asked to donate candy or nuts for this sale, and to leave them at Mrs. Fried's, 324 Walnut street, by Monday noon, February 3rd.

The Drama committee promises a splendid production and it is hoped Club members will take this opportunity of entertaining their friends. The adventures of Bab make a most interesting story, with their special interest of modern conditions, as enjoyed by a lively, original girl. Mariada Comer, a student of Newton High, has shown a genius for acting these parts, having played leading role (Judy) in Daddy Long Legs, and in the Florist Shop, and in the Mummy and the Mumps. It will be especially interesting for Newton people to see her in this little role because of the Club's sponsorship of scholarships for the Newton High School.

(It was somewhat disconcerting to see printed in the Column last week that the play was to be the "Bat," instead of "Bab," as given on the press chairman's copy. That is a mystery story, to be sure, but the only mystery is how such accidents happen in well-regulated columns, unless it is the mystery of genius of such a young woman as Miss Comer. It is a pleasure to present her picture herewith.)

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The Art and Music committee have in store for the members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club something very new and lovely for the afternoon of February 4th, at the Congregational Parish house. Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver and Mrs. Raymond A. Simmonds, chairmen of the committees have arranged a very enjoyable entertainment, assisted by Mrs. Henry Rye, Soloist, who will sing in costume, also the Club Chorus will sing several selections.

The demand has been so urgent by the men of the community to hear Miss Eunice Avery, that an extra lecture on Current Events will be given at the Work Shop on February 5th, at 8 p. m. Tickets for this lecture may be purchased from Mrs. Frank F. Patterson, the treasurer.

Mrs. Weaver, of the Art committee, announces there will be a class in weaving on small looms; also that a class in block printing has just started on January 21st. Any member desiring to join these classes should telephone Mrs. Weaver, Centre Newton 1999.

What promises to be a delightful like is planned for Saturday afternoon, February 1st, weather permitting, and the snow holding for snow shoes, by the Public Health committee, of which Mrs. Harry Forte is chairman. If it rains the "Hike" will have to be postponed. The groups, under leaders, will start from the Work Shop at 2 o'clock. Later in the afternoon, from 4 to 6, the day will be most cheerfully rounded by Open House at the Work Shop, with coffee and cocoa served.

Auburndale Review Club

The annual Guest Night of the Review Club will take place this year on the evening of February 4th, in the Congregational Chapel, at 8 o'clock. Instead of a play, as has been the entertainment provided so many times in the past, this year a "Pageant of Shaws" will be offered, showing a variety of costumes, of incidents, and of matters of general interest. A reception will be held for the members and their guests, and refreshments served at the close of the evening's entertainment.

Social Science Club

After the business meeting of the Social Science Club, on Wednesday, February 5th, at 10 o'clock, at the Hunnewell Club House, the Legislative and Education Committees will have charge of the program.

The hostesses will be Mrs. Henry O. Marcy, Jr., and Mrs. I. S. Dillingham, Jr.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Delightful preparations are being made by Mrs. John F. Capron and Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., General chairmen for the Mid-Winter Show being put on by the Newton Centre Woman's Club, under the direction of Mr. C. Hassler Capron, on the evenings of February 7th and 8th. In addition to Mr. Ranny Weeks, another interesting artist has been engaged for one of the prominent vocal leads, Mr. E. Carl Matheson. During his college career at Pennsylvania State College, Mr. Matheson played leads in the Thespian Club, one of the outstanding dramatic organizations among Eastern Colleges. He was also a member of the Penn State Glee Club and sang in the Intercollegiate Glee Club concerts in New York City. He is now a member of professional quartets around Boston. Miss Carolyn McClellan, a graduate of Emerson College, who has sung in several past Revues, will be the leading soprano in "The Color Box."

Miss Dorothea Barton, solo dancer, well known in Newton Centre, will appear in special dances.

Frances and Narcissa Varney will appear in special numbers. Frances has done much interpretive dancing and also fancy skating. In Paris last year she gave exhibitions of ice waltzing in the Palais de Glace. Narcissa Varney is well known for her dramatic work both professionally and at Smith College.

The girls in the chorus numbers are: Eleanor Bell, Ruth Brandt, Helen Bridge, Barbara Clapp, Eleanor Colony, Harriet Dane, Virginia Davis, Helen Dearing, Betty Follett, Catherine Hayden, Elizabeth Kendall, Carol Leatherbee, Loretta Metz, Barbara Murphy, Betty Murphy, Bettina Nickerson, Gertrude O'Flaherty, Elizabeth Perry, Beatrice Ridgeway, Olive Riley, Virginia White and Martha Wright.

The men in the chorus are: Albert Jewel, Robert Jewel, Norman Jessop, Frank Taylor, Devereaux Chesterton, Devereaux Armstrong, Herbert Perry and Cushman Clapp.

The children's chorus includes: Patricia Taylor, Marion Morgan, Elizabeth Waldo, Jacquelin Proctor, George Henry, Bobby Follette, Harold Emily and Baxter Richardson.

Mrs. George H. Crosbie, chairman, and Mrs. Gilbert N. Ross, secretary (Continued on Page 11)

of the Program committee, report that a very fine commercial program is in the making. The cover design has been done by Miss Virginia Davis, a member of the Junior Woman's Club, who is also one of the Chorus in the "Color Box" Review. If it were not for the loyal advertisers, it would be impossible to put on such an elaborate performance. There will be a classified index of the advertisers to be used as a directory for future use.

On Saturday evening the Club will have as its guest Mrs. Azel A. Packard, president of the Massachusetts State Federation. On Friday evening Mrs. Phister Cowin, president of the Newton Federation will be its guest.

On Thursday, February 6th, at 10.30 a. m., Mrs. E. Raye Spear, chairman of the Literature committee, will present Dr. Henry Hallam Saunders, author and editor of the "Wayside Pulpit." He has chosen for his subject "An Interpretation of America's Greatest Educator," in which he will give his listeners a biographical portrait of Charles W. Eliot. This is the fourth in a series of lectures to which single tickets may be obtained from any member of the committee.

State Federation

CHORAL CONCERT. An unusual program will be given by the Choral Society of the State Federation at their concert at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston, Saturday evening, February 1st, when the Japanese prima donna, Hizi Koyke, will sing, in costume, a concert program of classic, romantic and modern songs. The Chorus will present a supplementary program, with George Sawyer Dunham as leader, and Mrs. Dorothy Clements Evans as accompanist. A reception will be held after the concert when the audience will have an opportunity to meet Miss Koyke informally. The Choral Society invites all musical Clubwomen to join them at their weekly rehearsals held every Friday morning at 10.30 in Room 218, Pierce Building, Copley square. Tickets for the concert may be obtained at $1.00 and $1.50 from State Headquarters, from Mrs. Robert S. Hoffman, 623 Broad street, Weymouth, Tel. Wey. 1190, or at the door of the concert room.

Both in Tokio twenty-one years ago, Hizi Koyke has had a romantic career and a swift rise to operatic and concert fame. The daughter of a prominent Japanese glass manufacturer, her parents both became Christians shortly after she was born; and he young girl was brought up in the leading mission school, being taught by American and Canadian missionaries. It was while she was singing in the choir in Tokio that her voice was noticed to be of unusual beauty; and she was sent to the United States at the age of sixteen to enter Columbia University and to study music in New York City.

Such rapid progress did the little Japanese student make at Columbia that she graduated with honors before she was twenty and shortly afterward, at a private recital in New York, a representative of the Shuberts heard her and engaged her to sing "Yum Yum" in the production of "The Mikado" in Chicago. Before she had sung this role a week she was engaged by the Cincinnati Grand Opera Company for leading roles; and has been with them several seasons, returning there next summer to sing "Madame Butterfly" and Mascagni's "Iris."

Since then she has been hailed as the greatest singer ever to come from Japan, and recently as the outstanding star of a grand opera season here in Boston.

RADIO. Next Wednesday morning, February 5th, Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, chairman of Mothercraft and Child Welfare, presents Mrs. David Robertson, who will broadcast from WNAC at 11.30 o'clock "Educated Parenthood." At 11.40 Marjorie Plunkett, contralto, with Jessie Fleming Vose at the piano, are to furnish the musical interval. Mrs. Philip H. Tirrell, director will be on the air at 11.50 with "Community Assets of the Eighth District."

COMMUNITY SERVICE CONFERENCE. The Department of Interracial Unity co-operates with the Massachusetts Library Club, and with other educational agencies, in their interesting program to be held in the auditorium of the Boston Public Library, on Friday, February 7th, at 3 o'clock. Clubwomen are cordially invited by the chairman of the State Department, Mrs. C. H. Danforth, to attend this presentation of "The Slavonic Peoples and Their Background."

Mrs. Mary L. Gayton, supervisor of Adult Alien Education, Massachusetts Division of University Extension, will discuss briefly Cooperation of Libraries and Schools in Work for the Foreign Born. Mrs. John Fiebig, librarian of the Plymouth Public Library, and a member of the Massachusetts Library Club's Committee on Work with New Americans, will briefly characterize a few books on the Slavonic peoples, with special reference to the Russians, and Dr. William J. Rose, Department of Sociology, Dartmouth College, will speak on the Slavonic Peoples, with Special Reference to the Poles. Dr. Rose is editor of the magazine "Poland." He was in Poland during the war period, and he is the only Anglo-Saxon to have received the degree of Ph. D. from the University of Krakow.

The Boston Public Library will arrange an exhibit of books illustrative of the day's program; the International Institute of the Boston Young Women's Christian Association will present ushers in national costumes; and the Department of Interracial Unity of the State Federation will have on display a collection of dolls representing the background of Massachusetts foreign-born residents.

Speaking of these DOLLS, this fascinating collection of the Department's, in Old World costumes representing the racial background of Present-day Massachusetts, is being exhibited in the public libraries of Framingham and Framingham Center, where it is attracting much attention and interest. The exhibit is sponsored by the Framingham Women's Club, under the direction of Mrs. Burr J. Merriam, chairman of the Education committee. It will be shown at the Boston Public Library during the meeting of the Massachusetts Library Club on February 7th, and from there will go to Natick, South Boston, Arlington, Watertown, Worcester and other points, returning to Boston for the Tercentenary celebration during the summer.

CLUB INSTITUTE. Clubwomen of Newton are reminded of the February Club Institute which comes next Thursday morning, the 6th, at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, from 10 a. m. to 12 noon. The topic for discussion is to be Club Finances, with special attention to be given to ways and means of raising the Foundation Fund, that all-absorbing financial topic in the Clubs today. Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, General Federation director in charge of this activity, will be on hand to answer questions.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AND MOVING PICTURE CONFERENCE.—What promises to be a most interesting and informative Conference is that arranged for Friday, February 7th, in Room A., of the Hotel Statler, Boston; opening at 10 a. m. Discussion of motion picture problems which are of vital importance to Club women, and reports on these conditions are sure to hold much that may be surprising. Luncheon tickets for this Conference—which is to be an All-Day affair—should be ordered from Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, 324 Central street, Auburndale, before February 3rd. Check for $1.00, and self-addressed stamped envelope should be sent to her.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

A larger understanding of ourselves as world citizens, the development of a greater international consciousness, and the abolishment of war, because its abolishment is really desired by the nations of the world, were the points which Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker emphasized in her lecture: "What America Means to the World," given before the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands, at the Congregational Parish House last Tuesday.

She traced the movements of mankind through the past years, when the love of substantial things, as well as the ideals which carry men beyond that lure, have been the dominating force back of all explorations and wars.

Mrs. Schoonmaker made, however the witty suggestion that as long as men and women marry, there will be wars; since men fare forth to war as an escape from the deadly monotony of home.

Mrs. Schoonmaker predicted what the future may hold, judging it by what the past has been. By the many statistics she presented, the fearful and awful cost of war was stressed, and the futility of its abrogation through means used in the past was demonstrated by her illustration that the close of every war for hundreds of years has found the generations saying "We must never have another war." Never has there been a time when there have not been men living who could remember the former great conflict.

Mrs. Schoonmaker's talk was replete with witticisms, new slants on old problems, and suggestions for the betterment of conditions. The simple recipe she offered for the annihilation of war was that each woman should talk peace for five minutes each day, and as she referred to the five Million organized women whom she represented in Europe during those crucial months at the close of the World War, her audience was brought to realize the magnitude of their power as a part of that five million who, said Mrs. Schoonmaker in closing, have it in their power to offer to the world the truth that war is obsolete, and to make America the instrument through which that truth shall be presented.

The speaker's brilliancy and charm held her audience spellbound. Mrs. Louis H. Marshall gave a short outline of the work of the Tercentenary Committee of Newton, reviewing most interestingly the history of this city. Telling the meaning of Tercentenary what it means to the State and City, she spoke of the wonderful pageant, written by Rev. Chester A. Drumm, a resident of Newton, which will be presented at the Newton Centre playground for three consecutive days, the early part of June. Mrs. Harry Forté, a member of the Club is the chairman of the dancing for this pageant.

Newton Community Club

An unusually interesting lecture was enjoyed by the Newton Community Club on Thursday, January 23rd, in Underwood School Hall when Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker spoke on "The Builders of Peace in Europe." The president, Mrs. Henry P. Curtiss presided, after which Miss Julia Tobin gave a pleasing group of three soprano solos, accompanied by Mrs. Zula Doane Sanders at the piano.

Mrs. Schoonmaker's subject is one of great interest and importance, but just now seemed especially well timed. "Peace" is the goal all nations are striving for and various efforts have been made toward that end ever since the world war. The speaker discussed the causes, customs, and results of war, through the past centuries up to the present time, contrasting the effects and results in the past and present. Formerly by glorifying war it was considered a noble and worth while practice, but during the world war the tragedies and costs had been so far-reaching and terrible that women discovered the conquerors had been conquered, as well as the conquered, so something must be done. Each step in the work of the past ten years was carefully outlined and discussed, and brought to mind the thought that the United States is not, at present, playing the important part she should. By appealing to the women of America through their clubs the effort should be made to persuade the senators to ratify President Hoover's signature, and our entrance into the World Court. Our present indifference is due largely to our sense of security, and therefore, it is hard for us to understand European slowness to accept certain measures; their suspicions and fears of invasions, which have been a part of their lives for centuries. All should care deeply for Peace, and desire to wipe out War for all time, and to gain this we must become "internationally-minded" with love and brotherly understanding.

Mrs. Schoonmaker proved a most forceful and convincing speaker, and as she has made several trips to Europe during the past ten years, with all the advantages of a press correspondent, she was well-informed and broad-minded.

Following the meeting a very successful Food Sale was held by groups 12 and 13, for the benefit of the philanthropies of the Club.

field, in her talk on "Women Who Have Won" gave an interesting and instructive outline of the status of women before the law, from an early period to the present time. She quoted from the lives of many prominent women, all of whom had done real pioneering in their chosen fields. A few intimate incidents related were most amusing. Mrs. Fall, the mother of the speaker, was the first woman lawyer in Massachusetts.

Because of the injustice of a then-existing law, she was inspired to write "The Tragedy of a Widow's Third." She also set about to have that law changed.

The many women of whom the speaker related incidents were great workers with an inspiration.

Mrs. Schofield closed her address with Angela Morgan's poem on "Work."

Miss Johnson then played a scherzo of Chopin which was much appreciated. Tea and a social hour followed.

State Federation

MID-WINTER MEETING — continued from last week. John W. Ruskin, M. D. executive secretary of the Isaak Walton League of America, in opposition to the Anti-Steel Trap legislation, gave his arguments that people advocating this measure were ignorant that if vermin, such as the weasel, mink, fox, etc., were not destroyed, our beautiful song birds would be by them in five years' time, and that a trap such as these advocates desired that would kill instantly would be dangerous to man, woman, or child.

Dr. George H. Bigelow, head of the State Board of Health, speaking on legislation for milk sanitation measures, declared that 46 per cent of the towns having between 5,000 and 25,000 population had no milk inspector; that this most important food, especially of children, and the food most susceptible to contamination, was now not safeguarded by these towns; and that while Massachusetts was spending millions for the treatment of tuberculosis, this State showed the highest proportion of tuberculous cattle. He declared this continued infection of the people must stop! And that the bills put in by his Department asking for inspectors and pasteurization should be passed.

Mr. J. C. Cort, director of the Division of Animal Husbandry of the State Department of Agriculture, in the negative, declared that a decided improvement in the quality of Massachusetts milk supplies is being made under the present laws and regulations; that what is needed is a method of education on producing clean milk rather than more legislation which would be expensive; that the dairy farmers desire to produce clean, sanitary and wholesome milk; to safeguard public health; and that they know that this will bring them the most money in the long run since it increases the demand from nearby sources. In the few cases of deliberate laxness he declares that existing laws and regulations make it possible for the State to attack and clear the situation. He pointed out that increasing competition with dairymen of northern New England, where milk can be produced more cheaply because of no regulations calling for so much expense, is putting an unjust burden upon our producers, and that severe regulations will not only result in forcing our dairymen out of business, which will leave us at the mercy of those who can not be brought under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts laws.

No action was taken by the delegates on this milk legislation, on the proposition to abolish capital punishment, on the measure to increase the school attendance age, or on the use of the steel trap.

Supervision of over-night camps and lodgings was overwhelmingly endorsed by the delegates. They endorsed the proposal to extend to December 1930 the existence of the Children's Commission, which was made by Herbert C. Parsons, State Commissioner of Probation, and for adequate appropriation to continue the work. By a counted vote of 631 in favor and 79 against, the State Federation approved the principle of censorship, with the desire that the present law relative to the publishing and selling of obscene books, be amended so that the books will be judged on their general intent rather than on isolated passages as now, voted that a record of this action be sent at once to the State House, where a hearing on the measure was being held before the Joint Committee on Legal Affairs.

This motion was made by Mrs. Frederick E. Judd, in charge of the Legislative program, in the absence of Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, who was unable to attend, because of the serious illness of her son.

One delegate, in the discussion period, asked whether the law covered (Continued on Page 13)

Many-Car Families.
Only $150,000 a Year.
Sending Slang to Sweden.
A Giant Motor.

To know that the world is small, to come to the edge of the Pacific and talk to New York friends as easily as though they were in the same room. Or call London and talk, unconscious of the fact that your voice, transformed into an electric impulse, flashes across the Atlantic Ocean in less than a sixtieth of a second through the ether.

Next, to realize that the world, this country especially, is big, explore the map on your railroad time table and look for Tucson, Arizona. You find it a couple of inches away from Los Angeles, and decide to drive there some afternoon to investigate the much praised climate, which Colonel Boyce Thompson says is the best on this or any other planet.

You discover the distance is seven hundred miles, and decide to take one of Paul Shoup's Southern Pacific trains, that makes the trip in a night.

This glorious coast from Seattle to San Diego, the land of good roads, faces a family problem less acute in other parts of the country.

The problem is "which cars shall go into the garage, which shall be parked in the driveway?" Here, the two-car, three-car and four-car family is the rule.

A family with only one car is primitive.

A lady stockholder in the Fox Film Company complains that "William Fox paid himself a salary of $150,000." If that's true, Mr. Fox, like a distinguished servant of the East India Company, must be amazed at his own moderation.

One company that he controls pays each of two managers three times $150,000. And moving picture stars hired by him get $150,000 for one picture.

Even humble newspaper employees get more than that modest $150,000 salary. It isn't what you are paid, but what you produce that counts.

Charles Chaplin has not made up his mind about the "talkies," although friends assure him that he would talk as well as he walks. He will come to the microphone in time.

Meanwhile he wants to give up comedy and play Napoleon, Hamlet and Svengali. Chaplin is a genius and would play the parts well. But to ninety-nine out of one hundred it would be Svengali, Hamlet and Napoleon playing Charles Chaplin.

Millions that are vague about Napoleon know Chaplin and would recognize him in any disguise.

The sale of radio sets tells the tale of American prosperity. Sixty thousand in 1922, 100,000 in 1923, 100,000 in 1924, 100,000 in 1925, 100,000 in 1926, 100,000 in 1927, 100,000 in 1928, 100,000 in 1929, 100,000 in 1930.

President Hoover was up before 5 o'clock in the morning to hear King George's speech.

A photograph of King George reading the speech was sent under the ocean by Western Union cable, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific over the telephone wires. And, because of difference in time, newspaper presses in California were printing the photograph several hours before the King delivered it on the same day in London.

Sweden, you are told, is becoming rapidly Americanized by American moving pictures, and especially by "talkies." American slang is heard everywhere in Stockholm, such as "Oh, Hello, Baby," and other extracts from American shorthand English.

It might be desirable to transplant a different sort of English language. But talking pictures will surely do more than Shakespeare, Milton and Gibbon combined, to spread the English language over the globe.

The English are building a speed automobile, described as "enormous and terrifying in appearance." With an engine of 4,000 horsepower, it is expected to break the world's speed record of 231.36 miles an hour.

In spite of its great length, 25 feet, the giant car, rising only three and a half feet above the ground, weighs only 11,000 pounds. It has two wide fins at the rear end, like those of a dirigible. Its twelve cylinders, cast in aluminum, are lined with a very light metal.

This is all interesting, for it means engine improvements that will be utilized in airplane construction later. They are useless on the ground.

The thing that interests the average man is to get the kind of automobile that will get him where he wants to go and bring him back, and that every man should do, rather than admit that his time is worth nothing.

Airplane travel rates drop rapidly. You fly from Los Angeles to San Francisco, 400 air miles, returning in a Southern Pacific sleeper, for $38, round trip.

The T. A. T. Maddux Air Line reports loads ninety to ninety-five per cent capacity. Eighteen planes added to the service to provide for increased business.

advertisements of motion pictures. She objected to a line advertising a picture purporting to show "din, sin and gin." Dr. Dieffenbach immediately replied that "the time is coming when motion picture outrages will be duly considered and with great solicitude by His Eminence Will Hays and Governor Milliken, who will find that the ministers of Boston are Puritan to the core. And what we tell them will be plenty."

The State Federation, reaffirming its stand on approval of prohibition and sentiment of observing the law, once more went overwhelmingly on record as for law and order in enforcement of the prohibition law, and as against the repeal of this law, either as an attempted measure in Massachusetts, or as a law of the United States.

There were present about 700 accredited delegates, while general attendance in the morning was 1,231, and in the afternoon 1,437.

Other resolutions adopted, included one stating that the State Federation had endorsed the original proposal of President Harding for the accession of the United States to the World Court, and having consistently supported each step leading to final action, now earnestly urged the Senate to ratify the Protocol when presented, in order that this imperative part of peace machinery may be completed, and the good faith of our own country toward the peace of the world stand unchallenged; one endorsing the suggestion of the Recreational Development Group of the Fifth New England Conference recommending to the Commissioner of Public Works that scars made from road building be removed, and a constructive plan be adopted for beautification of roadsides along highways, and for the elimination of advertising nuisances that menace safety and destroy beauty; and one for the further purchase by the Commissioner of Conservation of at least 50,000 acres for forestation purposes in Massachusetts, carrying forward the program, by which 96,000 acres have already been acquired.

Clubwomen were asked to sign if they wished the memorial which is to be sent to the London Peace Conference, the request being made by the General Federation and by the State committee on International Relations. 180,000 signatures of Japanese women are already on the way.

Grace Morrison Poole, in her well-named "Legislative Maze" presentation, told of the methods of bringing legislative questions before the Clubwomen; reported on the status of the billboards case as still pending, and decision, if rendered in three months, may still be taken before the Supreme Court of the United States. In her opinion taxation is the best method of dealing with bill boards, as zoning is not retroactive.

Mr. Poole mentioned various bills favored by the General Federation, one on National Forests, and one on Indian Affairs. Indian children are allowed only 20 cents for food per day, which is obviously too small a sum.

She approves of minorities and the courage it takes to stand with the minority. If a Clubwoman is to work for legislation, she must read the other side, and if she can answer all opponents' arguments, she can stand on her own feet. "If you are careful about the beginning of things, the end will take care of itself" was the Arab proverb she quoted. Therefore, she urged Clubwomen to have patience to wait for the reforms they wish, as life time is only a flash in the time necessary to bring about world movements.

An excellent report of the Recommendations of the Resolutions Committee of the Cause and Cure of War Conference was brought by Mrs. Lawrence C. Parach, who brought many contacts. Mrs. E. N. L. Walton, helped to organize the State Federation and Mrs. Geo. C. Phipps, who has been forty-eight years in the Club helped to organize the Newton Federation. The Club has been brought up on "Education." In 1903, Hon. John W. Weeks, who addressed the Club on "What Constitutes Good Citizenship" was the father of our present Mayor Sinclair Weeks, who is held in affectionate regard by our Club members.

At the close of this year, our half century of service, we turn again to our Club motto: "The Old Order Changeth, Yielding Place to New." We are seeking new interest to bring our next half century forward, gaining inspiration through retrospection.

To be the Hostess Club is a joy to us, and we hope that you may gain inspiration to go on to heights yet unattained in your own organization. We can, with the co-operation of the Federation, go on for another fifty years of service.

Governor Allen, in his talk at the afternoon session, Asked the aid of the Club women for an even more ambitious program of welfare for 1930. When introduced, he addressed the Club women and "my brave friend, Mr. Gulesian," who was sitting in the front row surrounded by women, and gained laughter when he asked him to rise and show himself, as a worthy husband of a very wonderful woman."

Miss Anna C. Witherle, General Federation Chairman of Club Institutes, was introduced, and spoke briefly; also Mrs. Esther Andrews, the first woman in Massachusetts to hold office in Governor's Council, Mrs. Packard also presented Mrs. Franklin Hobbs, president of the Women's Republican Club. All former State presidents were asked to rise; those present being Mrs. Frederick G. Smith, Mrs. Grace Poole, Mrs. Gurney and Mrs. Perkins.

Mrs. Arthur D. Potter, speaking on the Foundation Fund, told how North Dakota was raising pigs for its quota.

Much hilarity was caused at the morning session when Mrs. Azel A. Packard, State president, naively and innocently introduced Hon. Sinclair Weeks as "Mayor Weeks, of West Newton". After the laughter permitted, Mrs. Packard apologized delightedly.

Mayor Weeks, telling a story quaintly, gave the promise of what he was not going to try to do—a story of a dark, dangerous south who said they killed murderers by "electrocution."

Mrs. Horace B. Gale, director of the Twelfth District, in her Greetings, referred to the big event of the year for the hostess Club:

"There are many ways in which birthdays can be celebrated. When we are very young we usually expect to have a great deal done for us, but when we approach middle life, and realize the responsibilities which face us, we begin to think more about what we can do for others. There is a certain Club in our District whose members seem thoroughly to enjoy the fine service which they can render to Club, District, State, and Nation, and in this spirit they are now celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of their birth as a Club by inviting you all here. Although this seems a most generous act, they go further and give us valuable gifts. I refer to the most unusual and interesting book which many of you received at luncheon time. Mrs. Otis is quite too modest to tell you what an undertaking it was to get the book ready. It contains choice recipes from State presidents all over the country—to say nothing of those from Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. Roosevelt. I feel that the spirit of this gift from our oldest District Club is to turn our thoughts away from the many distractions of this age to the affairs of the home, and that with it goes the wish that we may all find great happiness in home and family life. To quote from the Year Book of this loyal Club, 'A task for each is joy for all.'"

Newton was represented in the introduction of the new Clubs, which is always a feature of each meeting of the State Federation. Newton women were glad to hear Mrs. Jessie L. Hardy, Assistant treasurer of the West Newton Savings Bank, representing the Massachusetts Association of Savings Bank Women, which has just joined the Federation, give a short report on the work of that Association.

EIGHTY-SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT

The eighty-sixth annual report of the Directors of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company was presented by President George Willard Smith to the members at the annual meeting held at the Home Office of the Company, 87 Milk street, Boston, Mass., on January 27th. The following Directors were re-elected for a term of three years: Charles B. Barnes, Alfred D. Foster, and Philip Stockton.

The business of the past year was the largest in the history of this oldest chartered life insurance company. New insurance amounted to $147,583,997, an increase of $4,285,408 over 1928. The insurance in force grew to $1,202,101,059, an increase of $88,290,496.

Forty members of the Company died in 1929 whose policies, for $130,968, had been in force fifty-five years or more. On the other hand, the story of "short durations" is even more impressive: 68 policies issued in 1928, and 30 issued in the current year matured by death, aggregating $805,000.

The growth of the Company and the economic results of its administrative policy have led the Directors to set aside $10,400,000 for distribution as dividends to policyholders in 1930, which is $900,000 more than in 1929.

NEWTON TRUST COMPANY

To the Stockholders of the Newton Trust Company:

The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Newton Trust Company will be held at the office of the company, 282 Washington street, Newton, on Wednesday, February 12, 1930, at 4 o'clock p. m., for the following purposes:

First: To consider and vote upon the question of amending Article 3 of the By-Laws relating to the Officers of the corporation.

Second: To choose Directors and other Officers for the ensuing year.

Third: To elect an Examining Committee under whose direction the annual audit of the Trust Company shall be made.

Fourth: To consider and vote upon the question of increasing the capital stock of the corporation; and in the event an increase is authorized therein to determine the terms and manner of the disposition of such increased stock, and to authorize the proper Officers to execute the necessary papers to carry said votes into effect.

Fifth: To transact any other business that may properly come before the meeting.

GEORGE L. WHITE,
Clerk of the Corporation.
Newton, Mass.
January 31, 1930.

ILLUSTRATED AND PRAISED

In the February Ladies' Home Journal, Boston and surrounding cities and towns have received a great amount of praiseworthy comment, coupled with nine sketches in color.

The original paintings may be seen at R. H. White's and The First National Bank of Boston, where they will be displayed to the public.

JOINS DANCING STUDIO

The Paparone Dancing Studio of 1108 Boylston street, Boston, has acquired the services of Arthur Atwood, a dancer of experience in the field of classical dance art, to teach the art of dancing in all forms. Mr. Atwood has temporarily relinquished his travels and engagements. He danced with the Metropolitan Opera Co., for three seasons and last winter was with the Ida Rubinstein ballet which was acclaimed as the outstanding achievement of the 1929 season. Following this engagement he toured South America last summer with the Opera Russe. His study with the most eminent masters in America and Europe have placed him in the ranks of the best teachers. Mr. Atwood is now forming classes for beginners for adults and children as well as private instruction.

Mr. Paparone, head of the Paparone studio, is one of the leading graduates of the Royal Dancing Academy of Naples, Italy. He is a member of the "inner Circle," the largest dancing society in the world. He further perfected his knowledge of dancing

The Mather Class

"The Use of Money" was the extremely interesting topic under discussion last Sunday morning by the Mather Class at its regular weekly meeting at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

The speaker was Doctor Daniel Evans of the Newton Theological Institution. In the several series of lectures which the Class is running concurrently this season, the lecture on "The Use of Money" was the second in the series, "Christianizing the State." The first lecture was on "The Use of Leisure," and both the topic and the speaker for the third lecture are yet to be announced.

Dr. Evans said that Christianity had been most effective and powerful with the individual. It had them expanded and helped the family. In fact it had done more for the family than any other power or institution has been able to accomplish. Christianity has done considerable, but still not nearly so much, in our present social relations with one another, making us decent people. The most difficult task for Christianity, and the one in which it has been least successful, has been Christianizing the State. At the beginning the State was based on force, and it still is. You are not invited to go to court. You are forced to go. The State does not persuade. It compels, and it uses physical force to accomplish its purposes. It is hard to Christianize physical force, and in all probability, this will be the last thing to be Christianized.

Christianity started in a subject colony of the Roman Empire. Political rights were not affected. It had all it could do to keep alive during the first few centuries, let alone doing anything about the State. Later the Christians grew in numbers and in power, and finally the ambition to subjugate the State resulted in making the Church supreme. This, however, simply ecclesiasticized the State, which was very far indeed from being Christianized. Thereafter the State became engaged in a rather desperate struggle to free itself from the Church, and in the process it didn't do religion any particular good. The business of the Church is to keep its hands off the State. There is apt to be a lot of friction when religion becomes a power in the State. The desire for temporal power crops out every now and then and is extremely harmful. What is needed is a free Church in a free State, with neither meddling in the affairs of the other. It is necessary to delimit the territory of one from the other.

In describing the action of Christianity, Dr. Evans compared it to a familiar sight of long ago, bread-making. Dr. Evans' mother made bread by placing flour in a pan, scooping out a hole, and then pouring in the liquid yeast. The flour turned to dough, but it took a long time for the flour out on the edge, near the circumference of the pan to be affected. So it takes Christianity a long time to permeate the great mass of humanity that makes up the State.

Another illustration is a lighted candle. The light near it is much more intense than far away. If you want to see to read, you go as close as practicable. The farther off you are, the less light you have. It is so with Christianity, which comes closest to the individual and therefore helps him most. Farther off its effect is less efficient. Distance is detrimental. The State is apt to be far off. If the State were Christian, how should we use our money? How shall we use our money in order to Christianize the State?

According to the economists the first question is the production of wealth. How do you get it? The next question is the equitable distribution of wealth, and the last is the consumption of wealth, the use of money, the spending of riches. All this raises a lot of difficult ethical problems. 52% of the wealth of the country is owned by 99% of the people. The rest of the wealth is owned by 1% of the people, and 12 men are said to control most of the wealth of America. It is quite a problem when so much is in the hands of the few and so little is in the hands of the many.

What about the ethics of the consumption of wealth? This affects the women most, for the women of America are the spenders of America. Look at papers and magazines and see how the advertisers appeal mostly to the women.

There are some ways of getting rid of your money that may be considered at the outset as misguided consumption of wealth. Some things are not worth buying. You could get along without them, and in all probability they were forced on you by other people. Fashions in clothes are another foolishness. They used to be endemic. Now they are epidemic. Styles change before our old clothes are worn out, and we have to discard them and get the latest thing. We cannot bear to be out of style. There is no sense in it. A Boston store offered the best quality shoes at a ridiculous low price, but could not sell them because they were out of style. Finally they advertised to give them away and nobody would take a pair as a gift. Men want a new automobile when a new color design comes out. The old engine may be better than the new one, but that doesn't count against some new wrinkle which has no intrinsic or vital importance.

Gum chewing wastes an enormous amount of money and looks vulgar. Dr. Evans allowed that it was correct for a cow to chew her cud, but he hated to see a human being chew his or her cud.

He didn't say much about smoking. He did not object so much to a woman smoking as to the fact that she should be such an imitative ape. Just because men smoke and for no other reason, she thinks she must do precisely the same thing. Why not be a little more original and get another vice.

Lavish and luxurious spending is excessive and unjustified. $30,000 for flowers alone for a coming-out party for a debutante is too big a price. There are plenty of better ways in which to spend that much money. $100,000 for a woman's coat is excessive luxury.

It is right to spend money to fit a man to be a better productive economic factor in the world, and at the same time we should remember the higher things in life, such as a splendid picture or a beautiful edition of a book.

The test as to whether or not an expenditure is justified is this: Does it leave you in better condition than before without involving the lives of other people so as to be injurious to them? If it genuinely benefits you, that is only half the problem. A store in Boston was once selling trousers at $5.00 a pair. They were very fine, well made trousers and normally should have sold for much more, but they were made in the sweat shops, so the labor cost was low. A friend of Dr. Evans thought he had a bargain, but simply could not wear them when he learned about the method of manufacture.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Employees of the Street Department have painted red the curbing on the northwest corner of the intersection of Washington and Centre streets at Nonantum Square. This was done to further make it less excusable for those motorists who park cars on this curve in violation of a city ordinance and who obstruct the cross walk for pedestrians.

The Boston Elevated has been sponsoring broadcasts by radio to improve relations between that corporation and the public. We happened to tune in on one of these broadcasts and heard the information that "one of the duties of conductors is to call out the names of streets." We knew that it was one of their duties in past years, but because of the comparatively few conductors who have been calling street names in recent years we had supposed this practice had become optional.

Several years ago we called attention to a disagreeable odor which had become perceptible in the subway at Copley Square; an odor that might be caused by seepage from a sewer or a drain. This odor has grown more perceptible as the years pass. Just how long will Elevated and Health officials of Boston wait before some action is taken to remove this nuisance?

What percentage of Newton High pupils who travel between the buildings on either side of Elm road walk across the street? What percentage use the $50,000 tunnel which was constructed by the city after the aldermen had been importuned for many months to build this means of communication?

The finest view in the City of Boston is that which is afforded by the open basin of the Charles River between Harvard and Longfellow bridges. It is a tremendous asset to the city and is properly appreciated by persons who are real lovers of Boston. It has been lauded as one of Boston's outstanding attractions by thousands of visitors.

For some years certain real estate promoters in Boston, an appreciable percentage of whom are not natives of the city, have been assiduous in their efforts to have a bridge built over the Charles across this basin from Dartmouth street to a point on the Cambridge side of the river. They want this bridge because they believe it will aid materially real estate developments in which they are interested. These men and their ambitions to acquire greater wealth will have vanished from this world in a comparatively few years. They should not be permitted to take from posterity one of Boston's greatest charms. If, at some future time, the people of Boston determine after careful consideration that another link between that city and Cambridge is needed to serve traffic needs between the Harvard and Longfellow bridges, a vehicular tunnel should be built under the Charles. But the Charles River Basin should not be ruined to satisfy the selfish aims of a few men.

Perhaps the killing of a little girl by an automobile at Watertown Square last week might have been prevented had the parking of automobiles in front of the bank building on Galen street not have been permitted. The parked cars extend far enough out on the street to allow just such accidents as the fatal one which resulted in the death of the child whose mother was waiting across the street for her and had the terrible experience of witnessing the violent death of her little one.

PRESENTED WITH CONSOLE SET

C. W. Pollock of 25 Washington park, Newtonville, store manager of the Temple Place store of the Thayer, McNeil Company, was presented Saturday night by his associates with a sterling silver console set. The gift was made in observance of Mr. and Mrs. Pollock's 25th wedding anniversary.

We should spend money to fit ourselves to become larger economic factors in the world, to improve our social position, and to develop our talent and personality. Children are studying more and not going to work so early and that is well. Money is well spent in preparing for one's occupation in life. Developing culture will enrich life and make it more beautiful and more worth while.

There are social and public expenditures which make the lives of others richer and nobler, like the Boston Symphony, whereby Higginson made available the finest music in the country and perhaps in the world. Splendid art galleries and churches add enormously to the enrichment of mankind.

Next Sunday Dr. Arbuckle will speak on "The Collapse of Supernaturalism," as part of the series of lectures on "Biblical Scholarship." GEORGE DEXTER FROST.

50 horsepower six cylinder engine

Not until you drive the new Chevrolet Six can you appreciate what a wonderful improvement has been made in its famous six-cylinder valve-in-head engine. With its capacity increased to 50 horsepower, it has great reserve energy for sweeping up the steepest hills—for swift acceleration —and for sustained high speeds. Its power flows evenly and smoothly. And it is extremely flexible in traffic. In fact—it does everything you could possibly want a motor to do. Yet it is remarkably economical in its use of gasoline and oil. Come in today for a demonstration.

PARAMOUNT—NEWTON

The "Show of Shows," one of the greatest extravaganzas ever made in motion pictures, is coming to the Paramount Theatre for four days beginning Sunday, Feb. 2nd. It has 77 of the best known stars from the various studios and over 1,000 in the beauty chorus. It is a gigantic revue of 17 parts, starting promptly at 7:45, and being preceded by a 15-minute organ recital by Mr. Edward Allen. On the same bill will be "So Long Letty" with Charlotte Greenwood playing opposite to Grant Withers in the leading roles. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday "The Vagabond Lover" with Rudy Vallee will be the feature picture. The rapid rise of this young star is a well-known story. The companion picture will be "The Great Divide" with Dorothy Mackaill and an all-star cast.

The week's program is one of the best the Paramount has had this season. There will be a bargain matinee on Monday afternoon to all ladies clipping the advertisement on Page 2 of this paper and presenting it at the box office. The regular price is 25 cents but with the advertisement admission will be but 10 cents.

BUILDING TRADES TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Tomorrow, Saturday, February 1st agents of the various building trades union in this vicinity will hold a conference at A. O. H. Hall, West Newton with a number of contractors and builders. The object of the meeting is to decide on the scale of wages for laborers. It is hoped to stabilize the wages this class of employee will receive.

WEST NEWTON W. C. T. U.

On Feb. 3, at 8 p. m., the West Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold an Evangelistic meeting at the home of Mrs. W. M. Lisle, 23 Perkins street, West Newton.

CELEBRATED 40TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Crosby of Washington street were pleasantly surprised on Saturday evening by a large gathering of friends on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary. Their friends presented them with two beautiful pieces of pewter, also a pair of Andriens were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morrill, Mr. Morrill having made them himself.

Several musical and vocal selections were rendered while several hands of bridge and whist were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Crosby are very well known in this section having made their home here for some time, and are members of the Perrin Memorial Church. Mr. Crosby is engaged in the carpentering and building business. The evening concluded with a buffet luncheon.
